Mission

Our mission is to deliver technology solutions that help SMBs transform the way they do business.

Overview

We are a leading provider of cloud-based solutions designed to help small- and medium-sized businesses, or SMBs, establish, manage and grow their businesses. We serve approximately 3.4 million subscribers globally with a comprehensive and integrated suite of over 150 products and services that includes initial website design and creation, email and commerce solutions as well as more advanced offerings such as scalable and on-demand computing, security, storage and bandwidth, online marketing, mobile and productivity solutions.

There are expected to be more than 76 million SMBs worldwide by the end of 2013,* of which more than 43 million will have direct access to the Internet. We believe SMBs form the backbone of the global economy and will continue to serve as an engine of innovation and growth. Since our founding in 1997, we have focused on the needs of SMBs and have demonstrated a passion for empowering our subscribers to build their businesses and navigate the rapidly changing technology landscape. Our unwavering focus on serving SMBs has enabled us to amass significant insight into the needs and aspirations of our subscribers while developing a deep understanding of the challenges of serving SMBs at scale. We believe SMBs:

- are seeking technology solutions to address fundamental business challenges and opportunities, including those presented by the emergence of the digital era;
- require guidance and support in order to deploy and operate these solutions;
- face budget constraints which limit their ability to make large capital investments in technology; and
- are difficult to identify, reach and serve effectively, given their breadth and diversity.

* The source of all data denoted with a single asterisk is Access Markets International (AMI) Partners, Inc., June 20, 2013.
 The source of all data denoted with a double asterisk is Access Markets International (AMI) Partners Inc., August 2, 2013.
We built our company to serve the needs of this vibrant, complex and fragmented SMB universe. Our approach allows us to effectively serve this expansive subscriber base at scale while driving a business model with significant growth and strong cash flow.

Technology and data form the foundation of our approach. We leverage our substantial investment in proprietary, advanced technology to offer our solutions while relentlessly seeking to reduce the cost of serving our subscribers. In addition, we are rigorously data-driven, collecting valuable information throughout our business and applying sophisticated analytics to inform our subscriber acquisition, engagement and retention strategies and product development initiatives.

Our technology platform and data assets enable us to:

Ÿ deliver an integrated and comprehensive suite of products and services that helps SMBs grow their businesses and exploit new digital opportunities;

Ÿ intelligently engage with subscribers, consistent with their needs and in a manner that encourages their adoption of our technology to support and drive the growth in their businesses;

Ÿ provide compelling and affordable solutions to our subscribers; and Ÿ efficiently acquire and serve different types of SMB subscribers through our multi-brand, multi-channel strategy.

Our ability to address the needs of SMBs, while leveraging our technology platform and data assets, has enabled us to grow rapidly, to create long term subscriber relationships and to build an attractive business model that generates substantial cash flow. During the past three years, our revenue grew from $87.8 million to $292.2 million, representing a compounded annual growth rate, or CAGR, of 82%, while our net losses increased from $44.3 million to $139.3 million. During the same period, our adjusted EBITDA grew from $25.1 million to $132.8 million, representing a CAGR of 130%, and our unlevered free cash flow grew from $26.4 million to $101.2 million, representing a CAGR of 96%. For an explanation of adjusted EBITDA and unlevered free cash flow and a reconciliation of adjusted EBITDA and unlevered free cash flow to net income (loss), the most directly comparable financial measure calculated and presented in accordance with GAAP, see “Non-GAAP Financial Measures.”

Industry Background

There are expected to be more than 76 million SMBs worldwide by the end of 2013,* of which more than 43 million will have direct access to the Internet. The number of SMBs worldwide is projected to increase by 1.1 million in 2013, of which 770,000 will have access to the Internet. Within the United States, Canada, Brazil, Russia, India, China, Indonesia and Turkey alone, there are expected be more than 25 million SMBs by the end of 2013, of which more than 15 million will have direct access to the Internet. SMBs are broad and diverse, spanning every industry and region of the world. SMBs collectively represent 99% of all private sector companies in the world and employ more than 90% of private sector, non-farm workers.*

SMBs are increasingly adopting technology to operate and grow their businesses. Those SMBs that utilize cloud services, including web, email and application hosting and data backup, generate 1.5 times more in annual revenues compared to those that do not deploy cloud-based solutions.* SMBs understand that the growth in global Internet penetration and the proliferation of mobile devices are changing the way in which consumers discover and transact with businesses. Increasingly, SMBs are seeking to take advantage of new developments in e-commerce, online marketing, social media and mobile to transform their businesses, or to build new businesses that were not possible before the advent of these tools.

As a result, SMBs are expected to spend approximately $96 billion annually on cloud-based services by 2015, representing a CAGR of 28% since 2012.* We believe that this growth is driven in large part by the need of SMBs to respond to these digital opportunities. However, approximately 75% of all SMBs do not have a website today. We believe that the opportunities presented in the digital era will further accelerate the adoption of cloud-based services as SMBs continue to recognize the importance of technology solutions to their success.

Over our 16-year operating history, we have developed a deep understanding of the diverse needs of SMBs and the challenges of serving them at scale. We believe SMBs are:

- Seeking to address fundamental business challenges and opportunities, including the emergence of the digital era. SMBs are seeking comprehensive, flexible, reliable, secure and personalized technology solutions that address challenges and unlock opportunities to succeed in the digital world. For example, SMB customers are shifting their activities online and embracing mobile technologies, social media and e-commerce, which requires SMBs to deploy technology tools, serve customers and compete for business in new and innovative ways.

- Requiring informed guidance and support. Most SMBs, particularly the one-to-five employee companies that represent the majority of our subscribers, possess limited technology expertise and resources. As a result, SMBs require informed advice and support on ways to improve their operations through technology and to take advantage of new opportunities at all stages of their lifecycles.

- Facing budget constraints limiting their ability to make large capital investments in technology. SMBs want to leverage modern technology, but are looking for cost-effective solutions that do not require large upfront investments.

- Difficult to reach and serve effectively, given their breadth and diversity. SMBs are fragmented in terms of size, geography, sophistication and type of industry. As a result, it is challenging to effectively market to, acquire and serve SMB subscribers at scale and in a cost-effective manner.

While SMBs represent the largest proportion of all businesses and are massive consumers of technology solutions in the aggregate, we believe that other providers have generally struggled to meet the diverse needs of SMBs for high-quality products, services and support in a comprehensive and profitable way.

Our Solution

Our passion for empowering diverse SMBs to navigate the rapidly changing technology landscape has led us to a solutions-based approach built on a foundation of technology, data and analytics. We address the challenges of serving this large and fragmented market at scale, in the following manner:

- We deliver an integrated and comprehensive suite of products and services. We offer a compelling platform with a wide range of products and services designed to help our diverse base of SMB subscribers establish, manage and grow their businesses. By leveraging critical insights drawn from our proprietary collection of SMB data, we develop and expand our portfolio of products and services to provide the solutions our subscribers need and the functionality and features they value. Our cloud-based offerings allow our subscribers to select a customized set of solutions from among a broad range of internally developed and validated third-party products.

We intelligently engage with subscribers, consistent with their needs. We leverage our technology and proprietary data to identify subscriber needs and opportunities. This allows us to proactively engage with them via a myriad of customer engagement channels, including phone, email, chat, dashboards, an application marketplace and web video. This ongoing engagement allows us to offer the right solutions at the right time. We believe these capabilities, in turn, lead to greater adoption and deeper entrenchment of our technology and superior subscriber experience, thereby increasing our subscriber retention rates and revenue per subscriber.

We provide affordable solutions to our subscribers in a cost-effective manner. Our cloud-based delivery model enables our subscribers to address their business needs with minimal upfront capital investment. As a result of our relentless focus on operational efficiency and lowering our cost to serve, we deliver affordable solutions to our subscribers, by operating:

- an integrated, cloud-based customer-facing technology platform which permits us to efficiently deliver our products and services and add new subscribers. This technology platform allows us to optimize our investments in infrastructure, benefit from economies of scale and integrate new products and services seamlessly; and
- proprietary and unified operating and support systems which allow us to operationalize data insights, serve our subscribers intelligently and efficiently, and optimize our internal processes and procedures. We operate these systems across our subscriber base and all of our brands, allowing us to develop an integrated view of each subscriber and enabling us to contact our subscribers through the right channels and offer them the most relevant solutions at the most opportune times.

We efficiently acquire and serve subscribers with our multi-brand, multi-channel strategy. We leverage our proprietary data to implement a multi-brand, multi-channel approach that allows us to precisely target the SMB universe, identify the best ways to reach different categories of subscribers and tailor our brands and solutions specifically toward those audiences. Although word-of-mouth referrals represent the largest source of new subscribers, we also leverage online and mobile marketing activities, as well as our network of resellers, strategic partners and referral sources, to grow our subscriber base. Our approach is designed to reach and efficiently on-board subscribers at scale while minimizing subscriber acquisition costs.

Our Model

We believe that our solution results in a strong, efficient and differentiated business model with the following attributes:

Attractive Subscription Model and Retention Rates. Our subscriptions require payment in advance, providing significant cash flow benefits and revenue visibility. Our products and services are tailored to the needs of SMB subscribers and are integral to their businesses. As a result, we benefit from high subscriber and revenue retention rates.

Strong Average Revenue Per Subscriber. Our comprehensive platform, data driven approach and proactive subscriber engagement enable us to sell relevant and useful additional products and services to existing and new subscribers, driving higher average revenue per subscriber.

- Cost-Effective Customer Acquisition. Through our multi-brand, multi-channel approach, we are able to target our marketing spend carefully and acquire subscribers cost-effectively. Due to our large base of subscribers and high customer satisfaction, we also attract a significant percentage of our new subscribers through word of mouth referrals, at no cost to us.

- Efficient Cost to Serve. We serve our subscribers in a cost-efficient manner as a result of our integrated technology platform and operating support systems which facilitate the collection, analysis and application of large amounts of data. Our cloud-based delivery model enables us to serve subscribers with minimal incremental expense and deploy new products and services quickly and efficiently. We have also developed proprietary techniques that help us to operate with highly efficient server configurations, resulting in low capital expenditures.

- Virtuous Cycle. As our business continues to grow, we enjoy even greater benefits of scale—collecting more data, improving our analytical capabilities, deriving more insight, enhancing our operational efficiency, increasing our cash flow and re-investing in the growth of our business.

Our Growth Strategy

Since our formation in 1997, we have focused on helping SMBs establish, manage and grow their businesses. To fulfill our mission, we intend to continue to increase our scale, broaden our subscriber footprint, expand our range of product and service offerings and pursue strategic acquisitions.

Grow Our Subscriber Base

We believe there is a substantial opportunity to expand our subscriber base by:

- Expanding Existing Channels. We intend to continue to invest in our multiple subscriber acquisition channels, including our resellers, strategic partners and referral sources. We also plan to continue to collaborate with resellers and strategic partners to increase the value proposition of our solutions to subscribers.

- Expanding Internationally. We have successfully entered foreign markets such as Brazil and India and believe there are significant opportunities to continue growing our global presence. We intend to expand further into international markets by leveraging our technology platform to deliver offerings customized to local markets.

Increase Sales of Our Products and Services

We intend to expand sales of our products and services to support our subscribers as they grow, by:

- Expanding Sales of Existing Products and Services. We aim to offer our subscribers the right products and services at the right time. We believe our strong subscriber relationships and our comprehensive portfolio of products and services provide us with the opportunity to drive incremental sales.

- Continuing to Add Innovative Products and Services. We plan to continue to introduce value-added products and services that address our subscribers’ needs. As we further expand our solutions, we expect that our subscribers will be more likely to purchase additional products and services from us.
Pursue Strategic Acquisitions

We may pursue future acquisitions that complement our existing business, represent a strategic fit and are consistent with our overall growth strategy. We may target acquisitions that help us access new international markets, enhance our data analytics and technology platform or add functionality and capabilities to our suite of products and services.

Recent Operating Results (preliminary and unaudited)

We are currently in the process of finalizing our financial results for the three months ended September 30, 2013. Based on preliminary unaudited information and management estimates for the three months ended September 30, 2013, and subject to the completion of our financial closing procedures:

- We expect revenue for the three months ended September 30, 2013 to be between $130.0 million and $131.0 million, representing an increase of 56% to 57% when compared to $83.4 million for the three months ended September 30, 2012.
- We expect net loss for the three months ended September 30, 2013 to be between $28.9 million and $30.0 million, representing an increase of 4% to 8% when compared to net loss of $27.7 million for the three months ended September 30, 2012.
- We expect adjusted EBITDA for the three months ended September 30, 2013 to be between $47.0 million and $48.0 million, representing an increase of 25% to 27% when compared to $37.7 million for the three months ended September 30, 2012.
- We expect unlevered free cash flow, or UFCF, for the three months ended September 30, 2013 to be between $35.0 million and $37.0 million, representing an increase of 18% to 25% when compared to $29.7 million for the three months ended September 30, 2012.

See “Non-GAAP Financial Measures” for explanations of adjusted EBITDA and UFCF and for reconciliation of adjusted EBITDA and UFCF to net income (loss), the most directly comparable financial measure calculated and presented in accordance with GAAP.

Revenue

The expected increase in revenue for the three months ended September 30, 2013 as compared to the three months ended September 30, 2012 is due to increased demand for our solutions from both new and existing subscribers, including subscribers of businesses we acquired during the three months ended September 30, 2012, as well as increases in prices paid by our subscribers at renewals or after expiration of promotional periods. Approximately 65% of the expected increase is due to revenue attributable to businesses we acquired since June 30, 2012 and approximately 20% is due to an increase in the number of subscribers not associated with our acquisitions. In addition, a portion of the expected increase results from lower revenue during the three months ended June 30, 2012 due to purchase accounting adjustments to deferred revenue.

Net Loss

The expected increase in net loss for the three months ended September 30, 2013 as compared to the three months ended September 30, 2012 is primarily attributable to an increase in interest expense associated with our increased indebtedness and to increased amortization of intangibles primarily associated with acquisitions. In addition, we recorded significantly greater income tax benefit for the three months ended September 30, 2012 than we expect to record for the three months ended September 30, 2013.
Adjusted EBITDA

The expected increase in adjusted EBITDA for the three months ended September 30, 2013 as compared to the three months ended September 30, 2012 is due to the expected increase in revenue as demand for our products and services increased and we added new subscribers, as well as our realization of synergies associated with integrating our Homestead and HostGator businesses, partially offset by increased operating expenses as we prepare to become a public company.

Unlevered Free Cash Flow

The expected increase in UFCF for the three months ended September 30, 2013 as compared to the three months ended September 30, 2012 is due to the expected increase in adjusted EBITDA, partially offset by increased capital expenditures associated with integrating our 2012 acquisitions onto a common technology infrastructure to improve operational efficiencies and enhance subscriber experience.

We have provided ranges for our preliminary results because our financial closing procedures for the three months ended September 30, 2013 are not yet complete. These estimates are not a comprehensive statement of our operating results for the three months ended September 30, 2013 and our actual results may differ materially from these estimates as a result of the completion of our financial closing procedures, final adjustments and other developments that may arise between now and the time our operating results for the three months ended September 30, 2013 are finalized. Additionally, our interim results are not indicative of results that should be expected for the full year.

The preliminary unaudited financial data for the three months ended September 30, 2013 included in this prospectus have been prepared by, and are the responsibility of, our management and have not been reviewed or audited or subject to any other procedures by our independent registered public accounting firm. Accordingly, our independent registered public accounting firm does not express an opinion or any other form of assurance with respect to the preliminary unaudited financial data. There can be no assurance that these estimates will be realized, and estimates are subject to risks and uncertainties, many of which are not within our control. See “Risk Factors” and “Cautionary Note Regarding Forward-Looking Statements.”

Risks Associated with Our Business

You should consider carefully the risks described under the “Risk Factors” section beginning on page 16 and elsewhere in this prospectus. These risks, which include the following, could materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition, operating results and cash flow, which could cause the trading price of our common stock to decline and could result in a partial or total loss of your investment:

- Our quarterly and annual operating results may be adversely affected due to a variety of factors, which could make our future results difficult to predict.
- The rate of growth of the SMB market for our solutions could be significantly lower than our estimates.
- Our business and operations have experienced rapid growth and organizational change in recent periods, which has placed, and will continue to place, significant demands on our management and infrastructure, especially our billing systems.
- We may not be able to continue to add new subscribers or increase sales to our existing subscribers.
We have a risk of system and Internet failures and have not yet implemented a complete disaster recovery plan.

We face significant competition for our solutions in the SMB market and may not be able to maintain or improve our competitive position or market share.

If we lose our ability to accept credit card payments from subscribers, it would have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and operating results.

We have a history of losses and may not be able to achieve or maintain profitability.

Our business depends on establishing and maintaining strong brands.

Our success depends in part on our strategic relationships and alliances with third parties.

Our recent or potential future acquisitions could be difficult to execute and integrate, divert the attention of key personnel, disrupt our business, dilute stockholder value and impair our financial results.

The international nature of our business and our continued international expansion expose us to business risks.

We rely on a limited number of co-located data centers to deliver most of our services.

Security and privacy breaches may harm our business.

Our substantial level of indebtedness could materially and adversely affect our financial condition.

Insiders will continue to have substantial control over us after this offering, which could limit your ability to influence the outcome of key transactions, including a change of control.

Implications of Being an Emerging Growth Company

We qualify as an “emerging growth company” as defined in the Jumpstart Our Business Startups Act of 2012, or the JOBS Act. As an emerging growth company, we may take advantage of specified reduced disclosure and other requirements that are otherwise applicable generally to public companies, including:

Ÿ reduced disclosure about our executive compensation arrangements;
Ÿ no non-binding advisory votes on executive compensation or golden parachute arrangements; and Ÿ exemption from the auditor attestation requirement in the assessment of our internal controls over financial reporting.

We may take advantage of these exemptions up until the last day of the fiscal year following the fifth anniversary of this offering or earlier if we are no longer an emerging growth company. We would cease to be an emerging growth company if we have more than $1 billion in annual revenue, we have more than $700 million in market value of our stock held by non-affiliates (and we have been a public company for at least 12 months and have filed one annual report on Form 10-K) or we issue more than $1 billion of non-convertible debt securities over a three-year period. We may choose to take advantage of some, but not all, of the available exemptions. We have taken advantage of certain reduced reporting obligations in this prospectus. Accordingly, the information contained herein may be different than the information you receive from other public companies in which you hold stock.

In addition, the JOBS Act provides that an emerging growth company can take advantage of an extended transition period for complying with new or revised accounting standards. This allows an emerging growth company to delay the adoption of certain accounting standards until those standards would otherwise apply to private companies. We have elected to avail ourselves of this exemption from new or revised accounting standards and, therefore, we will not be subject to new or revised accounting standards that are applicable to other public companies that are not emerging growth companies.

Conflicts of Interest

Certain of the underwriters and their respective affiliates have, from time to time, performed, and may in the future perform, various financial advisory, investment banking, commercial banking and other services for us for which they received or will receive customary fees and expenses. See “Underwriting (Conflicts of Interest).”

Goldman Sachs, together with its affiliates, indirectly owns in excess of 10% of our issued and outstanding common stock, and is therefore deemed to be one of our “affiliates” and have a “conflict of interest” within the meaning of Rule 5121 of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority, Inc., or FINRA. In addition, we expect that more than 5% of the net proceeds of this offering may be received by certain other underwriters in this offering or their affiliates that are lenders under our credit facilities as the result of our use of a portion of our net proceeds to repay indebtedness under such credit facilities. As a result, Goldman Sachs will be deemed to have a “conflict of interest” under Rule 5121, as administered by FINRA and this offering will be made in compliance with the applicable provisions of Rule 5121. Rule 5121 requires that no sale be made to discretionary accounts by underwriters having a conflict of interest without the prior written approval of the account holder and that a “qualified independent underwriter,” as defined in the rule, has participated in the preparation of the registration statement and prospectus and exercised the usual standards of due diligence with respect thereto. Credit Suisse Securities (USA) LLC is assuming the responsibilities of acting as the “qualified independent underwriter” in this offering. Credit Suisse Securities (USA) LLC will not receive any additional compensation for acting as a qualified independent underwriter. We have agreed to indemnify Credit Suisse Securities (USA) LLC against liabilities incurred in connection with acting as a “qualified independent underwriter,” including liabilities under the Securities Act, or contribute to payments that the underwriters may be required to make in that respect.

We recorded no stock-based compensation expense to operating expense in 2010.

⁽²⁾ The pro forma as adjusted balance sheet data give effect to (a) our issuance and sale of shares of common stock in this offering at an assumed initial public offering price of $15.00 per share, which is the midpoint of the price range set forth on the cover page of this prospectus, after deducting the estimated underwriting discounts and commissions and estimated offering expenses payable by us and (b) our use of a portion of our net proceeds from this offering to repay $286.3 million of our indebtedness outstanding under our second lien term loan facility (including prepayment penalty and accrued interest).

(1) We define total subscribers as those that, as of the end of a period, are subscribing directly to our solutions on a paid basis. In calculating total subscribers, we include the number of end-of-period subscribers we added through business acquisitions as if those subscribers had subscribed with us since the beginning of the period presented. We do not include in total subscribers parties that access our solutions via resellers or purchase only domain names from us. Subscribers of more than one brand are counted as separate subscribers.

(2) Average revenue per subscriber, or ARPS, is a non-GAAP financial measure that we calculate monthly as the amount of revenue we recognize from subscribers in a month divided by the average of the number of total subscribers at the beginning of the month and at the end of the month. For any period, ARPS is calculated as the average of ARPS for each month in that period. In calculating ARPS, we exclude the impact of any fair value adjustments to deferred revenue resulting from acquisitions. We also adjust the amount of revenue to include the revenue generated from subscribers we added through business acquisitions as if those acquired subscribers had been our subscribers since the beginning of the period presented. For more information regarding ARPS and a reconciliation of ARPS to average revenue per subscriber calculated on a GAAP basis, see "Non-GAAP Financial Measures."

(3) We calculate our monthly recurring revenue, or MRR, retention rate at the end of a period by taking the retained recurring value of subscription revenue of all active subscribers at the end of the prior period and dividing it into the retained recurring value of subscription revenue for those same subscribers at the end of the reported period.

(4) Adjusted net income is a non-GAAP financial measure that we calculate as net income (loss) plus changes in deferred revenue inclusive of purchase accounting adjustments related to acquisitions, stock-based compensation expense, severance, expenses related to restrukturings or integration of acquisitions, any dividend-related payments accounted for as compensation expense, costs associated with litigation matters and preparation for this offering and the estimated tax effects of the foregoing adjustments. For more information regarding adjusted net income and a reconciliation of adjusted net income to net loss, the most directly comparable financial measure calculated and presented in accordance with GAAP, see "Non-GAAP Financial Measures."

(5) Adjusted EBITDA is a non-GAAP financial measure that we calculate as adjusted net income plus interest expense, depreciation, amortization and change in deferred taxes. For more information regarding adjusted EBITDA and a reconciliation of adjusted EBITDA to net loss, the most directly comparable financial measure calculated and presented in accordance with GAAP, see "Non-GAAP Financial Measures."

(6) Unlevered free cash flow, or UFCF, is a non-GAAP financial measure that we calculate as adjusted EBITDA plus change in operating assets and liabilities (other than deferred revenue) net of acquisitions less capital expenditures. For more information regarding UFCF and a reconciliation of UFCF to net loss, the most directly comparable financial measure calculated and presented in accordance with GAAP, see "Non-GAAP Financial Measures."
RISK FACTORS

Investing in our common stock involves a high degree of risk. You should carefully consider the risks and uncertainties described below, together with all of the other information included in this prospectus, including our financial statements and the related notes appearing at the end of this prospectus, before deciding to invest in our common stock. Our business, financial condition, results of operations and future growth prospects could be materially and adversely affected by any of these risks or uncertainties. In that case, the trading price of our common stock could decline, and you may lose all or part of your investment.

Risks Related to Our Business and Our Industry

Our quarterly and annual operating results may be adversely affected due to a variety of factors, which could make our future results difficult to predict and could cause our operating results to fall below investor or analyst expectations.

Our quarterly and annual operating results may be adversely affected due to a variety of factors that could affect our revenue or our expenses in any particular period. You should not rely on quarter-to-quarter comparisons of our operating results as an indication of future performance. Factors that may adversely affect our quarterly and annual operating results may include:

- our ability to attract new subscribers and retain existing subscribers;
- our ability to acquire subscribers in a cost-effective way;
- our ability to maintain a high level of subscriber satisfaction;
- competition in the market for our products and services;
- rapid technological change, frequent new product and service introductions, and evolving industry standards;
- difficulties in integrating technologies, products and employees from companies we acquire or in migrating acquired subscribers from an acquired company's platforms to our platforms, including difficulties in integrating technologies, products and employees of Directi;
- systems, data center and Internet failures and service interruptions;
- shortcomings in, or misinterpretations of, our metrics and data which cause us to fail to anticipate or identify trends in our market;
- terminations of, disputes with, or material changes to our relationships with third-party partners, including referral sources, product partners and payment processors;
- a shift in subscriber demand to lower margin solutions, which could increase our cost of revenue;
- reductions in the selling prices for our solutions;
- costs associated with any acquisitions that we may make, including costs associated with our proposed acquisition of Directi;
- changes in legislation that affect our collection of sales and use taxes;
- changes in regulation or to regulatory bodies, such as the Internet Corporation for Assigned Names and Numbers, or ICANN, that could affect our business and our industry; and
- loss of key employees.
It is possible that in one or more future quarters, due to any of the factors listed above, a combination of those factors or other reasons, our operating results may be below our expectations and the expectations of research analysts and investors. In that event, our stock price could decline substantially.

The rate of growth of the small- and medium-sized business, or SMB, market for our solutions could be significantly lower than our estimates. If demand for our products and services does not meet expectations, our ability to generate revenue and meet our financial targets could be adversely affected.

Although we expect continued demand in the SMB market for our cloud-based solutions, it is possible that the rate of growth may not meet our expectations, or the market may not grow at all, either of which would adversely affect our business. Our expectations for future revenue growth are based in part on assumptions reflecting our industry knowledge and experience serving SMBs, as well as our assumptions regarding demographic shifts, growth in the availability and capacity of Internet infrastructure internationally and the general economic climate. If any of these assumptions proves to be inaccurate, then our actual revenue growth could be significantly lower than our expected revenue growth.

Our ability to compete successfully depends on our ability to offer an integrated and comprehensive suite of products and services that enable our diverse base of subscribers to establish, manage and grow their businesses. Our web presence and commerce offerings are predicated on the assumption that an online presence is, and will continue to be, an important factor in our subscribers’ abilities to establish, expand, manage and monetize their online presence quickly, easily and affordably. If we are incorrect in this assumption, for example due to the introduction of a new technology or industry standard that supersedes the importance of an online presence or renders our existing or future solutions obsolete, then our ability to retain existing subscribers and attract new subscribers could be adversely affected, which could harm our ability to generate revenue and meet our financial targets.

In addition, we estimate that approximately 20% of our subscribers use our cloud-based solutions primarily for personal, group or not-for-profit use. We do not offer a complete suite of products and services that are tailored to the specific needs of these types of subscribers. As a result, we may not be able to increase revenue per subscriber for these subscribers at the same rate as for our other subscribers, which could negatively affect our growth and have an adverse effect on our operating results.

Our business and operations have experienced rapid growth and organizational change in recent periods, which has placed, and will continue to place, significant demands on our management and infrastructure, especially our billing systems. If we fail to manage our growth effectively, we may be unable to execute our business plan, maintain high levels of service, produce accurate financial statements on a timely basis or address competitive challenges adequately.

As a result of acquisitions and internal growth, we increased our number of employees from 517 as of December 31, 2010, to 787 as of December 31, 2011, to 2,157 as of December 31, 2012 and to 2,580 as of June 30, 2013. Our revenue increased from $87.8 million in 2010, to $190.3 million in 2011, to $292.2 million in 2012 and to $251.0 million in the six months ended June 30, 2013. The revenue for 2011 set forth in this paragraph consists of the revenue for the 2011 predecessor and successor periods.

Our growth has placed, and will continue to place, a significant strain on our managerial, engineering, network operations, sales and support, marketing, legal, finance and other resources. In particular, our growth has placed, and will continue to place, a significant strain on our ability to build and maintain effective internal financial and accounting controls and procedures. For example, as a result of our acquisitions, we have acquired multiple billing systems that we are in the process of integrating. Any delays or other challenges associated with this build-out or integration could lead to inaccurate disclosure, which could prevent us from producing accurate financial statements on a timely basis and harm our operating results, our ability to operate our business and our investors’ view of us.

In addition, we intend to further expand our overall business, subscriber base, data center infrastructure, headcount and operations, both domestically and internationally, with no assurance that our business or revenue will continue to grow. Creating an organization with expanded U.S. and overseas operations and managing a geographically dispersed workforce will require substantial management effort, the allocation of management resources and significant additional investment in our infrastructure. We will be required to continue to improve our operational, financial and management controls and our reporting procedures, and we may not be able to do so. As such, we may be unable to manage our expenses effectively in the future, which may adversely affect our gross margins or operating expenses in any particular quarter. If we fail to manage our anticipated growth and organizational change in a manner that preserves the key aspects of our corporate culture, the quality of our solutions may suffer or fail to keep up with changes in the industry or technological developments, which could adversely affect our brands and reputation and harm our ability to retain and attract subscribers.

If we are unable to maintain a high level of subscriber satisfaction, demand for our solutions could suffer.

We believe that our future revenue growth depends on our ability to provide subscribers with quality service that meets our stated commitments and also meets or exceeds our subscribers’ expectations. We are not always able to provide our subscribers with this level of service, and our subscribers occasionally encounter interruptions in service and other technical challenges and pursue billing disputes. If we are unable to provide subscribers with quality service, this may result in subscriber dissatisfaction, and we could face damage to our reputation, claims of loss, negative publicity, decreased overall demand for our solutions and loss of revenue, any of which could have a negative effect on our business, financial condition and operating results.

In addition, we may from time to time fail to meet the needs of specific subscribers in order to best meet the service expectations of our overall subscriber base. For example, we may suspend a subscriber’s website when it is harming other subscribers’ websites or disrupting servers supporting those websites, such as when a hacker installs malware on a subscriber’s website without that subscriber’s authorization or knowledge. Although such service interruptions are not uncommon in a cloud-based environment, we risk subscriber dissatisfaction by interrupting one subscriber’s service to prevent further attacks on or data breaches for other subscribers, and this could damage our reputation and have an adverse effect on our business.

We may not be able to continue to add new subscribers or increase sales to our existing subscribers, which could adversely affect our operating results.

Our growth is dependent on our ability to continue to attract new subscribers while retaining and expanding our products and services to existing subscribers. Growth in the demand for our products and services may be inhibited, and we may be unable to sustain growth in our subscriber base, for a number of reasons, including, but not limited to:

Ý our failure to develop or offer new or additional products and services in a timely manner that keeps pace with new technologies and the evolving needs of our subscribers;
our inability to market our solutions in a cost-effective manner to new subscribers and to increase our sales to existing subscribers, including due to changes in regulation, or to changes in the enforcement of existing regulation, that would impair our marketing practices, require us to change our sign-up processes or to increase disclosure designed to provide greater transparency as to how we bill and deliver our services;

our inability to offer solutions that are adequately integrated and customizable to meet the needs of our highly diverse and fragmented subscriber base; changes in search engine ranking algorithms which may have the effect of increasing our marketing costs to offset lower search engine rankings;

failure of our third-party development partners, on which we rely to provide a majority of our offerings, to continue to support existing products and to develop and support new products;

the inability of our subscribers to differentiate our solutions from those of our competitors or our inability to effectively communicate such distinctions;

our inability to maintain, or strengthen awareness of, our brands;

our inability to maintain a consistent user experience and timely and consistent product upgrade schedule for all of our subscribers due to the fact that not all of our brands, products, or services operate from the same control panel or other systems;

our inability to penetrate, or adapt to requirements of, international markets;

our inability to enter into automatically renewing contracts with our subscribers or increase subscription prices;

the decisions by our subscribers to move the hosting of their Internet sites and web infrastructure to their own IT systems, into co-location facilities or to our competitors if we are unable to effectively market the scalability of our solutions; subscriber dissatisfaction causing our existing subscribers to stop referring prospective subscribers to us; and perceived or actual security, integrity, reliability, quality or compatibility problems with our solutions, including related to unscheduled downtime, or outages.

A substantial amount of our revenue growth historically has been derived from increased sales of additional products and services to existing subscribers. Our costs associated with increasing revenue from existing subscribers are generally lower than costs associated with generating revenue from new subscribers. Therefore, a reduction in the rate of revenue increase from our existing subscribers, even if offset by an increase in revenue from new subscribers, could reduce our operating margins, and any failure by us to continue to attract new subscribers or increase our revenue from existing subscribers could have a material adverse effect on our operating results.

We have a risk of system and Internet failures and have not yet implemented a complete disaster recovery plan, and any interruptions could harm our reputation, cause our subscribers to seek reimbursement for services paid for and not received, and cause our subscribers to seek to replace us as a provider of their cloud-based solutions.

We must be able to operate our applications and systems without interruption. Since our ability to retain and attract subscribers depends on our ability to provide highly reliable service, even minor interruptions in our service or losses of data could harm our reputation. Our applications, systems, power supplies, customer support centers and co-located data centers are subject to various points of failure, including:

human error or accidents;

power loss;
equipment failure;
Ÿ Internet connectivity downtime;
Ÿ improper building maintenance by the landlords of the buildings in which our co-located data centers are located;
Ÿ physical or electronic security breaches;
Ÿ computer viruses;
Ÿ fire, hurricane, flood, earthquake, tornado and other natural disasters;
Ÿ water damage;
Ÿ terrorism;
Ÿ intentional bad acts, such as sabotage and vandalism; Ÿ pandemics; and
Ÿ failure by us or our vendors to provide adequate service to our equipment.

We have experienced system failures and delays and periodic interruptions in service in the past, including due to accidental or intentional actions of Internet users, current and former employees and others, and we will likely experience future system failures or outages that disrupt the operation of our solutions and harm our business. Our systems are not fully redundant, and we have not yet implemented a complete disaster recovery plan or business continuity plan.

For example, in August 2013, while we were performing network infrastructure maintenance in our largest data center, we experienced an equipment failure which caused issues within our network, resulting in unscheduled downtime, or an outage, that affected many subscribers of our HostGator, Bluehost, JustHost and HostMonster brands. At certain times during the outage, we estimate that between one third and one half of our subscribers were not able to access our services, including their websites and email. While our subscribers' individual servers were not affected, their ability, and their customers' ability, to access their websites and the data stored on their servers were affected for up to 12 hours. This outage also affected our internal support and phone systems, intermittently impairing the ability of many subscribers to contact us. Immediately following the outage, we experienced an increase in subscriber cancellations, which have since returned to historical levels, and in the weeks following the outage, we experienced a decrease in our Net Promoter Scores, a customer satisfaction metric developed by Bain & Company. We anticipate that we may experience a related decrease in word-of-mouth subscriber referrals and an increase in the number of existing subscribers that fail to renew subscriptions at the end of their current terms, although we do not anticipate that this would have a material adverse effect on our business.

Although the redundancies we do have in place will permit us to respond, at least to some degree, to failures of applications and systems, our co-located data centers are vulnerable in the event of failure. A significant majority of our subscribers are hosted in one of our six U.S.-based co-located data centers, which are located in Boston, Massachusetts; Dallas, Texas; Houston, Texas; Provo, Utah; San Jose, California; and Waltham, Massachusetts. Accordingly, any failure or downtime in any one of these six co-located data center facilities would affect a significant percentage of our subscribers. We do not yet have adequate structures or systems in place to recover from a data center’s severe impairment or total destruction, and recovery from the total destruction or severe impairment of any of these six co-located data centers would be extremely difficult and may not be possible at all. Closing any one of these six co-located data centers without adequate notice could result in lengthy, if not permanent, interruptions in the availability of our solutions and loss of vast amounts of subscriber data.
Our co-located data centers are also susceptible to impairment resulting from electrical power outages due to the amount of power and cooling they require to operate. Since we rely on third parties to provide our co-located data centers with power sufficient to meet our needs, we cannot control whether our co-located data centers will have an adequate amount of electrical resources necessary to meet our subscriber requirements. We attempt to limit exposure to system downtime due to power outages by using backup generators and power supplies. However, these protections may not limit our exposure to power shortages or outages entirely.

Our customer support centers are also vulnerable in the event of failure caused by total destruction or severe impairment. When calling our customer support services, most of our subscribers reach our customer support teams located in one of our six U.S.-based call centers, which are located in Austin, Texas; Englewood, Colorado; Houston, Texas; Orem, Utah; Tempe, Arizona; and Vancouver, Washington. Our teams in each call center are trained to provide support services for a discrete subset of our brands, and they do not currently have complete capability to route calls from one call center to another call center. Accordingly, if any one of these call centers became non-operational due to severe impairment or total destruction, our ability to re-route calls to operational call centers or to provide customer support services to any subscribers of the brand or brands that the non-operational call center had formerly managed would be compromised. A significant portion of our email and chat-based customer support is provided by our India-based support team, which is currently employed by a third-party service provider. Although our email and chat-based customer support can be re-routed to our own centers more easily than calls can be, a disruption at our India customer support center could adversely affect our business.

Any of these events could materially increase our expenses or reduce our revenue, damage our reputation and cause us to lose current and potential subscribers, which would have a material adverse effect on our operating results and financial condition. Moreover, the property and business interruption insurance we carry may not have coverage adequate to compensate us fully for losses that may occur.

We face significant competition for our solutions in the SMB market, which we expect will continue to intensify and which could require us to reduce our selling prices. As a result of such competitive pressures, we may not be able to maintain or improve our competitive position or market share.

The SMB market for cloud-based technologies is highly competitive and constantly evolving. We expect competition to increase from existing competitors as well as potential new market entrants. Most of our existing competitors are expanding the variety of solution-based services that they offer to SMBs. We also may face significant competition from new entrants into the markets we serve. Our competitors include providers of:

- web presence and commerce offerings, such as domain name registrars, shared hosting providers, website creation and management companies and e-commerce service providers;
- computing resources and security offerings, such as on-demand computing resources and online security offerings;
- marketing solutions, such as search engine marketing (SEM) companies, search engine optimization (SEO) companies, local directory listing companies and online and offline business directories; and
- productivity tools, such as business-class email, calendaring and file-sharing.

Some of these competitors may have greater resources, more brand recognition and consumer awareness, greater international scope and larger subscriber bases than we do. As a result, we may not be able to compete successfully against them. If these companies decide to devote greater resources to the development, promotion and sale of their products and services, greater numbers of SMBs may choose to use these competitors for creating an online presence and as a general platform for running online business operations.

There are relatively few barriers to entry in this market, especially for providers of niche services, which often have low capital and operating expenses and the ability to quickly bring products to market that meet specific subscriber needs. Accordingly, as this market continues to develop, we expect the number of competitors to increase. The continued entry of competitors into the cloud-based technologies market, and the rapid growth of some competitors that have already entered the market, may make it difficult for us to maintain our market position.

In addition, in an attempt to gain market share, competitors may offer aggressive price discounts or alternative pricing models, such as so-called “freemium” pricing in which a basic offering is provided for free with advanced features provided for a fee, on the services they offer, or increase commissions paid to their referral sources. These pricing pressures may require us to match these discounts and commissions in order to remain competitive, which would reduce our margins or cause us to fail to attract new subscribers that decide to purchase the discounted service offerings of our competitors. As a result of these factors, it is difficult to predict whether we will be able to maintain our average selling prices, pricing models and commissions paid to our referral sources. If we reduce our selling prices, alter our pricing models or increase commissions paid to our referral sources, it may become increasingly difficult for us to compete successfully, our profitability may be harmed and our operating results could be adversely affected.

We must keep up with rapid and ongoing technological change to remain competitive in a rapidly evolving industry.

The cloud-based technology industry is characterized by rapid and ongoing technological change, frequent new product and service introductions, and evolving industry standards. Our future success will depend on our ability to adapt quickly to rapidly changing technologies, to adapt our solutions to evolving industry standards and to improve the performance and reliability of our applications and services. To achieve market acceptance for our applications and services, we must anticipate subscriber need and offer solutions that meet changing subscriber demands quickly and effectively. Subscribers may require features and functionality that our current applications and services do not have or that our platforms are not able to support. If we fail to develop solutions that satisfy subscriber preferences in a timely and cost-effective manner, our ability to renew our agreements with existing subscribers and our ability to increase demand for our solutions will be harmed.

In addition, the manner in which we market to our subscribers must keep pace with technological change. For example, application marketplaces, mobile platforms and new search engines and search methods are changing the way in which consumers find, purchase and use our solutions. If we are not able to take advantage of such technologies or if existing technologies or systems, such as the domain name system, become obsolete, we may be unable to continue to attract new subscribers or sell additional solutions to our existing subscribers.

Third parties provide a majority of our product and service offerings. Our future success will depend on our ability to continue to identify and partner with third parties who offer and are able to adapt to new technologies and to develop compelling and innovative solutions that can be quickly integrated with our platform and brought to market. If we or our third-party partners are unable to adapt to rapidly changing technologies and develop solutions that meet subscriber requirements, our revenue and operating results will be adversely affected.
If we do not maintain a low rate of credit card chargebacks and protect against breach of the credit card information we store, we will face the prospect of financial penalties and could lose our ability to accept credit card payments from subscribers, which would have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and operating results.

A majority of our revenue is processed through credit card transactions. Under current credit card industry practices, we are liable for fraudulent and disputed credit card transactions because we do not obtain the cardholder's signature at the time of the transaction, even though the financial institution issuing the credit card may have authorized the transaction. Although we focus on keeping our rate of credit card refunds and chargebacks low, if our refunds or chargebacks increase, our credit card processors could require us to increase reserves or terminate their contracts with us, which would have an adverse effect on our financial condition. Our failure to limit fraudulent transactions conducted on our websites, such as through the use of stolen credit card numbers, could also subject us to liability.

We could also incur significant fines or lose our ability to give subscribers the option of using credit cards to fund their payments or pay their fees to us if we fail to follow payment card industry data security standards, even if there is no compromise of subscriber information. Although we strive to be in compliance with such payment card industry data security standards, and we do not believe that there has been a compromise of subscriber information, we are not currently in full compliance with these standards. Accordingly, we could be fined, or our services could be suspended, for such failure to comply with payment card industry data security standards, which would cause us to not be able to process payments using credit cards. If we are unable to accept credit card payments, our financial condition, results of operation and cash flows would be adversely affected.

Under credit card association rules, penalties may be imposed at the discretion of the association. Any such potential penalties would be imposed on our credit card processor by the association. Under our contract with our processor, we are required to reimburse our processor for such penalties. Our current level of fraud protection, based on our fraudulent and disputed credit card transaction history, is within the guidelines established by the credit card associations. However, we face the risk that we may fail to maintain an adequate level of fraud protection or that one or more credit card associations may, at any time, assess penalties against us or terminate our ability to accept credit card payments from subscribers, which would have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and operating results.

In addition, we could be liable if there is a breach of the credit card information we store. Online commerce and communications depend on the secure transmission of confidential information over public networks. We rely on encryption and authentication technology that we have developed internally, as well as technology that we license from third parties, to provide security and authentication for the transmission of confidential information, including subscriber credit card numbers. However, we cannot ensure that this technology can prevent breaches of the systems that we use to protect subscriber credit card data. Although we maintain network security insurance, we cannot be certain that coverage will be adequate for liabilities actually incurred or that insurance will continue to be available to us on reasonable terms, or at all. In addition, some of our third-party partners also collect information from transactions with our customers, and we may be subject to litigation or our reputation may be harmed if our partners fail to protect our subscribers' information or if they use it in a manner that is inconsistent with our practices.

Data breaches can also occur as a result of non-technical issues. Under our contracts with our card processors, if there is unauthorized access to, or disclosure of, credit card information that we store, we could be liable to the credit card issuing banks for their cost of issuing new cards and related expenses.
We have a history of losses and may not be able to achieve or maintain profitability.

We have had a net loss in each year since inception. We had net losses of $44.3 million, $78.3 million and $139.3 million for 2010, 2011 and 2012, respectively, and $39.0 million and $64.7 million for the six months ended June 30, 2012 and 2013, respectively. Net loss for 2011 set forth in this paragraph consists of the sum of the net loss for the 2011 predecessor and successor periods. In connection with our acquisitions, we have recorded at fair value, long-lived assets. We record amortization expense in each reporting period related to the long-lived assets, which have increased the amount of net loss we have recorded in each reporting period.

We cannot predict if we will achieve profitability in the near future or at all. We expect to make significant future expenditures to develop and expand our business, including by investing in our support organization and our co-located data centers. In addition, as a public company, we will incur significant legal, accounting and other expenses that we did not incur as a private company. These increased expenditures will make it harder for us to achieve and maintain future profitability. Our recent growth in revenue and number of subscribers may not be sustainable, and our revenue may be insufficient to achieve or maintain profitability. We may incur significant losses in the future for a number of reasons, including principal and interest expense related to our substantial indebtedness, and the other risks described in this prospectus, and we may encounter unforeseen expenses, difficulties, complications and delays and other unknown events. Accordingly, we may not be able to achieve or maintain profitability.

We may need additional equity, debt or other financing in the future, which we may not be able to obtain on acceptable terms, or at all, and any additional financing may result in restrictions on our operations or substantial dilution to our stockholders.

We may need to raise funds in the future, for example, to develop new technologies, expand our business, respond to competitive pressures, acquire complementary businesses, satisfy our funding obligations relating to our proposed acquisition of Directi or respond to unanticipated situations. We may try to raise additional funds through public or private financings, strategic relationships or other arrangements. Although our credit agreements limit our ability to incur additional indebtedness, these restrictions are subject to a number of qualifications and exceptions, or amendments with the consent of our lenders and, under certain circumstances, we may incur substantial additional debt in compliance with these restrictions or with the consent of our lenders. In addition, our credit agreements do not prevent us from incurring certain obligations that do not constitute indebtedness.

Our ability to obtain additional funding will depend on a number of factors, including market conditions, interest rates, our operating performance and investor interest. Additional funding may not be available to us on acceptable terms or at all. If adequate funds are not available, we may be required to reduce expenditures, including curtailing our growth strategies, foregoing acquisitions or reducing our product development efforts. If we succeed in raising additional funds through the issuance of equity or convertible securities, then the issuance could result in substantial dilution to existing stockholders. If we raise additional funds through the issuance of debt securities or preferred stock, these new securities would have rights, preferences and privileges senior to those of the holders of our common stock. In addition, any preferred equity issuance or debt financing that we may obtain in the future could have restrictive covenants relating to our capital raising activities and other financial and operational matters, which may make it more difficult for us to obtain additional capital and to pursue business opportunities, including potential acquisitions. Further, to the extent that we incur additional indebtedness or such other obligations, the risks associated with our substantial leverage described elsewhere in this prospectus, including our possible inability to service our debt, would increase.
Table of Contents

Our business depends on establishing and maintaining strong brands. If we are not able to effectively promote our brands, our ability to expand our subscriber base will be impaired and our business and operating results will be harmed.

We market our solutions through various brands, including Bluehost, Domain.com, FatCow, Homestead, HostGator, iPage and iPower. We believe that by cultivating many different brands, we are better able to target our marketing efforts to the specific needs and preferences of a highly diverse and highly fragmented SMB market than if we relied on one brand or a few brands. We also believe that establishing and maintaining our brands is critical to our efforts to attract and expand our subscriber base due to the highly competitive nature of our industry, including the likelihood that we may face competition from new entrants with new or well-established brands seeking to market to SMBs, the growing number of Internet sites and companies and corresponding proliferation of brands, and the low barriers to entry for companies offering cloud-based technologies to SMBs, especially providers of niche services, such as mobile application developers, which are often able to operate with low capital and operating expenses.

If we do not continue to build awareness of our brands, we could be placed at a competitive disadvantage to companies whose brands are, or become, more recognizable than ours. To attract and retain subscribers and to promote and maintain our brands in response to competitive pressures, we may have to substantially increase our financial commitment to creating and maintaining distinct brand loyalty among subscribers or eliminate certain of our brands. Because we have multiple brands, our financial commitment to creating and maintaining distinct brand loyalty among subscribers may be higher than for our competitors which typically market their products through fewer brands. If subscribers, as well as our third-party referral marketing, distribution and reseller partners, do not perceive our existing solutions to be of high quality, or if we introduce new services or enter into new business ventures that are not favorably received by such parties, the value of our brands could be diminished, thereby decreasing the attractiveness of our solutions to such parties. As a result, our operating results may be adversely affected by decreased brand recognition and harm to our reputation.

Our success depends in part on our strategic relationships and alliances with third parties.

In order to expand our business, we plan to continue to rely on third-party relationships and alliances, such as with referrers and promoters of our brands and solutions, as well as with our providers of solutions and services that we offer to subscribers.

We are accredited by ICANN and various other registries as a domain name registrar. We are dependent on these relationships to offer our domain name services to our subscribers. Identifying, negotiating, documenting and managing relationships with third parties requires significant time and resources, and it is possible that we may not be able to devote the time and resources we expect to such relationships. Integrating and customizing third parties' solutions with our platforms also requires us to expend significant time and resources to ensure that each respective solution works with our platforms, as well as with our other products and services. If we fail to comply with domain name registry requirements, we could lose our accreditation, which would have a material adverse effect on our business.

If third-party partners fail to promote our brands or to refer new subscribers to us, fail to comply with regulations or are forced to change their marketing efforts due to new regulations or cease to be viewed as credible sources of information by our potential subscribers, we may face decreased demand for our solutions and loss of revenue. In some cases, we rely on third-party partners to purchase our solutions and resell them to their customer bases. These partners have the direct contractual relationships with our ultimate subscribers and, therefore, we risk the loss of both our third-party partners and their customers if our services fail to meet expectations or if our partners fail to perform their obligations or deliver the level of service to the ultimate subscriber that we expect.

We also rely on our relationships with our product partners whose solutions, including site builders, shopping carts and security tools, we offer to our subscribers. A majority of our offerings are provided by third parties. We may be unable to continue our relationship with any of these partners if, for example, they decline to continue to work with us or are acquired by third parties. In such an event, we may not be able to continue to offer these third-party tools to our subscribers or we may be forced to find an alternative that may be inferior to the solution that we had previously offered, which could harm our business and our operating results.

In order to offer our solutions to our subscribers, we also rely on software licensed from or hosted by third parties. In addition, we may need to obtain future licenses from third parties to use intellectual property associated with the development of our solutions, which might not be available to us on acceptable terms, or at all. Any loss of the right to use any software or other intellectual property required for the development and maintenance of our solutions could result in delays in the provision of our solutions until equivalent technology is either developed by us, or, if available, is identified, obtained and integrated. Any errors or defects in third-party software could result in errors or a failure of our solutions which could harm our business and operating results. Further, we cannot be certain that the owners’ rights in their technologies will not be challenged, invalidated or circumvented.

If any of the third parties on which we rely fails to perform as expected, breaches or terminates their agreement with us, or becomes engaged in a dispute with us, our reputation could be adversely affected and our business could be harmed.

Our recent or potential future acquisitions could be difficult to execute and integrate, divert the attention of key personnel, disrupt our business, dilute stockholder value and impair our financial results. We may not realize anticipated benefits from our acquisitions that we have completed or may complete in the future.

We have in the past acquired, and may in the future acquire, businesses and assets to increase our growth, enhance our ability to compete in our core markets or allow us to enter new markets. We have completed many such acquisitions since our founding. Most recently, in August 2013, we agreed to acquire Directi, subject to the satisfaction or waiver of specified customary closing conditions.

Acquisitions involve numerous risks, any of which could harm our business, including:

- difficulties in integrating the technologies, products, operations, billing systems, personnel or operations of an acquired business and realizing the anticipated benefits of the combined businesses;
- difficulties in supporting and transitioning acquired subscribers, if any, to our platform, causing potential loss of such subscribers and damage to our reputation;
- disruption of our ongoing business and diversion of financial, management, operations and customer support resources from existing operations;
- to the extent an acquired company has a corporate culture or compensation arrangement different from ours, difficulty assimilating or integrating the acquired organization and its talent, which could lead to morale issues, increased turnover and lower productivity than anticipated, and could also adversely affect the culture of our existing organization;
- the price we pay, or other resources that we devote, may exceed the value we realize, or the value we could have realized if we had allocated the purchase price or other resources to another opportunity or unanticipated costs associated with pursuing acquisitions; potential loss of an acquired business' strategic alliances and key employees, including those employees who depart prior to transferring to us, or otherwise documenting, knowledge and information that are important to the efficient operation of the acquired business; potential deployment by an acquired company of its top talent to other of its business units prior to our acquisition if we do not acquire the entirety of an acquired company's stock or assets; disruption of our business due to sellers, former employees, contractors or third-party service providers of an acquired company or business misappropriating our intellectual property, violating non-competition agreements, or otherwise causing harm to our company; integration and support of redundant solutions or solutions that are outside of our core capabilities;

the incurrence of additional debt in order to fund an acquisition, or assumption of debt or other liabilities, including litigation risk or risks associated with other unforeseen or undisclosed liabilities, of the acquired company;

adverse tax consequences, including exposure to substantial penalties and fees if an acquired company failed to comply with relevant tax rules and regulations prior to our acquisition or due to substantial depreciation or deferred compensation charges; and accounting effects, including potential impairment charges related to long-lived assets and requirements that we record deferred revenue at fair value.

We rely heavily on the representations and warranties provided to us by the sellers in our acquisitions, including as they relate to creation, ownership and rights in intellectual property, existence of open source software and compliance with laws and contractual requirements. If any of these representations and warranties are inaccurate or breached, we might pursue costly litigation and assessment of liability for which there may not be adequate recourse against such sellers, in part due to contractual time limitations and limitations of liability. Moreover, acquisitions frequently result in the recording of goodwill and other intangible assets which are subject to potential impairments in the future that could harm our financial results. We may also incur expenses related to completing acquisitions, or in evaluating potential acquisitions or technologies, which may adversely affect our profitability. In addition, if we finance acquisitions by issuing equity securities, our existing stockholders may be diluted.

If we fail to properly evaluate acquisitions or investments, we may not achieve the anticipated benefits of any such acquisitions and we may incur costs in excess of what we anticipate. The failure to successfully evaluate and execute acquisitions or investments or otherwise adequately address these risks could materially harm our business and financial results.

The international nature of our business and our continued international expansion expose us to business risks that could limit the effectiveness of our growth strategy and cause our operating results to suffer.

We currently maintain offices, conduct operations and/or have sales and other personnel in the United States, Brazil and India, and we intend to expand our international operations. For example, in August 2013, we agreed to acquire Directi, subject to the satisfaction or waiver of specified customary closing conditions, and we may in the future seek to make other acquisitions that help us access new international markets, enhance our data analytics and technology platform or add functionality and capabilities to our suite of products and services.
Any international expansion efforts that we undertake may not be successful. In addition, conducting operations in international markets subjects us to new risks that we have not generally faced in the United States. These risks include:

- Localization of the marketing and deployment of our solutions, including translation into foreign languages and adaptation for local practices and regulatory requirements;
- Longer than expected lead times for, or the failure of, an SMB market for our solutions to develop in the countries and regions in which we are opening offices and conducting operations;
- Our inability to effectively market our solutions to SMBs due to our failure to adapt to local cultural norms, technology standards, billing and collection standards or pricing models;
- Lack of familiarity with, and burdens of, complying with foreign laws, legal standards, regulatory requirements, tariffs and other barriers, including laws related to employment or labor, or laws regarding liability of online service providers for activities of subscribers, such as infringement or illegal activities, and more stringent laws in foreign jurisdictions relating to defamation or the privacy and protection of third-party data;
- Difficulties in identifying and managing local staff, systems integrators, technology partners, and other third-party vendors and service providers;
- Differing technology practices and needs that we are not able to meet, including an increased demand from our international subscribers that our cloud-based solutions be easily accessible and operational on smartphones and tablets;
- Longer accounts receivable payment cycles and difficulties in collecting accounts receivable;
- Management, communication and integration problems resulting from cultural or language differences and geographic dispersion;
- Diversion of our management’s attention and resources to explore, negotiate, or close acquisitions and to integrate, staff and manage geographically remote operations and employees;
- Sufficiency of qualified labor pools in various international markets;
- Competition from companies with international operations, including large international competitors and entrenched local companies;
- Changes in global currency systems or fluctuations in exchange rates that may increase the volatility of or adversely affect our foreign-based revenue;
- Compliance with the Foreign Corrupt Practices Act, economic sanction laws and regulations, export controls and other U.S. laws and regulations regarding international business operations;
- Potentially adverse tax consequences, including the complexities of foreign value added tax (or other tax) systems, our inadvertent failure to comply with all relevant foreign tax rules and regulations due to our lack of familiarity with the jurisdiction’s tax laws, and restrictions and withholdings on the repatriation of earnings;
- Uncertain political and economic climates; and
- Reduced or varied protection for intellectual property rights in some countries.

These factors may cause our international costs of doing business to exceed our comparable domestic costs. Any negative impact from our international business efforts could adversely affect our business, operating results and financial condition as a whole.
In addition, our ability to expand internationally and attract and retain non-U.S. SMB subscribers may be adversely affected by concerns about the extent to which U.S. governmental and law enforcement agencies may obtain data under the Foreign Intelligence Surveillance Act and Patriot Act and similar laws and regulations. Such non-U.S. SMB subscribers may decide that the privacy risks of storing data with a U.S.-based company may outweigh the benefits and opt to seek solutions from a company based outside of the United States.

Our growing operations in India and use of an India-based service provider may expose us to risks that could have an adverse effect on our costs of operations and harm our business.

We currently use India-based third-party service providers to provide certain outsourced services to support our U.S.-based operations, including email- and chat-based customer and technical support, billing support, network monitoring and engineering and development services, as well as to staff and operate our HostGator India business. See "Related Person Transactions." As our operations grow, we may increase our use of these and other India-based outsourced service providers. Although there are cost advantages to operating in India, significant growth in the technology sector in India has increased competition to attract and retain skilled employees and has led to a commensurate increase in compensation costs. In the future, we or our third-party service providers may not be able to hire and retain such personnel at compensation levels consistent with our existing compensation and salary structure in India. In addition, upon the completion of our proposed acquisition of Directi, we will also employ an India-based workforce. Our use of a workforce in India exposes us to disruptions in the business, political and economic environment in that region. Our operations in India require us to comply with local laws and regulatory requirements, which are complex and of which we may not always be aware, and expose us to foreign currency exchange rate risk. Our Indian operations may also subject us to trade restrictions, reduced or inadequate protection for intellectual property rights, security breaches and other factors that may adversely affect our business. Negative developments in any of these areas could increase our costs of operations or otherwise harm our business.

We rely on a limited number of co-located data centers to deliver most of our services. If we are unable to renew our data center agreements on favorable terms, or at all, our operating margins and profitability could be adversely affected and our business could be harmed.

We do not own our data centers. Rather, we occupy them pursuant to co-location service agreements with third-party data center facilities which have built and maintain the co-located data centers for us and other parties. We currently serve most of our subscribers from six co-located data center facilities located in Massachusetts (two), Texas (two), Utah and California. Although we own the servers in these co-located data centers, except in the case of our Dallas, Texas facility, and engineer and architect the systems upon which our platforms run, we do not control the operation of these facilities.

The terms of our existing co-located data center agreements vary in length and expire over a period ranging from 2014 through 2020. The owners of these or our other co-located data centers have no obligation to continue such arrangements beyond their current terms, nor are they obligated to renew their agreements with us on terms acceptable to us, or at all.

Our existing co-located data center agreements may not provide us with adequate time to transfer operations to a new facility in the event of early termination or if we were unable to negotiate a short-term transition arrangement or renew these agreements on terms acceptable to us. If we were required to move our equipment to a new facility without adequate time to plan and prepare for such migration, we would face significant challenges due to the technical complexity, risk and high costs of the relocation. Any such migration would result in significant costs for us and significant downtime for large numbers of our subscribers. This could damage our reputation and cause us to lose current and potential subscribers, which would harm our operating results and financial condition.
Even if we are able to renew the agreements on our existing co-located data center facilities, we expect that the lease rates will be higher than those we pay under our existing agreements. If we fail to increase our revenue by amounts sufficient to offset any increases in lease rates for these facilities, our operating results may be materially and adversely affected.

We currently intend to continue to contract with third-party data center operators, but we could be forced to re-evaluate those plans depending on the availability and cost of data center facilities, the ability to influence and control certain design aspects of the data center, and economic conditions affecting the data center operator’s ability to add additional facilities.

If our solutions and software contain serious errors or defects, then we may lose revenue and market acceptance and may incur costs to defend or settle claims.

Complex technology platforms, software applications and systems such as ours often contain errors or defects, such as errors in computer code or other systems errors, particularly when first introduced or when new versions or enhancements are released. Because we also rely on third parties to develop many of our solutions, our products and services may contain additional errors or defects as a result of the integration of the third party's product. Despite quality assurance measures, internal testing and beta testing by our subscribers, we cannot guarantee that our current and future solutions will not be free of serious defects, which could result in lost revenue or a delay in market acceptance.

Since our subscribers use our solutions to maintain an online presence for their business, errors, defects or other performance problems could result in damage to our subscribers and their businesses. They could elect not to renew their agreements, delay or withhold payments to us, or seek significant compensation from us for the losses they or their businesses suffer. Although our subscriber agreements typically contain provisions designed to limit our exposure to certain claims, existing or future laws or unfavorable judicial decisions could negate or diminish these limitations. Even if not successful, a claim brought against us could be time-consuming and costly and could seriously damage our reputation in the marketplace, making it harder for us to acquire and retain subscribers.

Because we are required to recognize revenue for our subscription-based services over the term of the applicable subscriber agreement, changes in our sales may not be immediately reflected in our operating results. The requirement that we prepay domain registries for domain names may also lead to fluctuations in our liquidity that are not immediately reflected in our operating results. In addition, we may not have adequate reserves in the event that our historical levels of refunds increase, which could adversely affect our liquidity and profitability.

We recognize revenue from our subscribers ratably over the respective terms of their agreements with us. These contracts are generally for service periods of up to 36 months. Accordingly, increases in sales during a particular period do not translate into corresponding increases in revenue during that same period, and a substantial portion of the revenue that we recognize during a quarter is derived from deferred revenue from our agreements with subscribers that we entered into during previous quarters. As a result, we may not generate net earnings despite substantial sales activity during a particular period, since we are not allowed under applicable accounting rules to recognize all of the revenue from these sales immediately, and because we are required to record a significant portion of our related operating expenses during that period. Conversely, the existence of substantial deferred revenue may prevent deteriorating sales activity from becoming immediately apparent in our reported operating results.

In addition, we may not be able to adjust spending in a timely manner to compensate for any unexpected revenue shortfall, and any significant shortfall in revenue relative to planned expenditures could adversely affect our business and operating results.
In connection with our domain registration services, as a registrar, we are required under our agreements with domain registries to prepay the domain registry for the term for which a domain is registered. We recognize this prepayment as an asset on our consolidated balance sheet and record domain revenue and the domain registration expense ratably over the term that a domain is registered. This cash payment to the domain registry may lead to fluctuations in our liquidity that is not immediately reflected in our operating results.

In addition, our standard terms of service permit our subscribers to seek refunds from us in certain instances, and we maintain reserves to provide such refunds. The amount of such reserves is based on the amount of refunds that we have provided in the past. If our actual level of refund claims exceeds our estimates and our refund reserves are not adequate to cover such claims, our liquidity or profitability could be adversely affected.

We depend on the experience and expertise of our senior management team, and the loss of any member of our senior management team could have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition and operating results.

Our success and future performance depends in significant part upon the continued service of our senior management team, particularly Hari Ravichandran, our founder, president and chief executive officer. The members of our senior management team are not contractually obligated to remain employed by us. Accordingly, and in spite of our efforts to retain our senior management team with long-term equity incentives, any member of our senior management team could terminate his or her employment with us at any time and go to work for one of our competitors after the expiration of his or her non-compete period. The replacement of members of our senior management team likely would involve significant time and expense, and the loss of one or more members of our senior management team could significantly delay, prevent the achievement of or make it more difficult for us to pursue and execute on our business objectives, and could have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition and operating results.

Our growth will be adversely affected if we cannot continue to successfully retain, hire, train and manage our key employees.

Our ability to successfully pursue our growth strategy will depend on our ability to attract, retain and motivate key employees across our business. In particular, we are dependent on our platform engineers and those who manage our customer sales and service employees. We face intense competition for these and other employees from numerous technology, software and manufacturing companies, and we cannot ensure that we will be able to attract, integrate or retain additional qualified employees in the future. For example, our competitors may be able to attract and retain more qualified platform engineering, product development, software engineering and marketing employees and customer sales and service managers by offering more competitive compensation packages. If we are unable to attract new employees and retain our current employees, we may not be able to develop and maintain our services at the same levels as our competitors and we may, therefore, lose subscribers and market share. Our failure to attract and retain qualified individuals could have an adverse effect on our ability to execute on our business objectives and, as a result, our ability to compete could decrease, our operating results could suffer and our revenue could decrease.

We are subject to governmental regulation and other legal obligations, particularly related to privacy, data protection and information security, and our actual or perceived failure to comply with such obligations could harm our business. Compliance with such laws could also impair our efforts to maintain and expand our subscriber base, and thereby decrease our revenue.

We are subject to a variety of laws and regulations, including regulation by various government agencies, including the U.S. Federal Trade Commission, or FTC, and various state and local agencies.
We collect personally identifiable information and other data from our subscribers and prospective subscribers. We use this information to provide services to our subscribers, to support, expand and improve our business and, subject to each subscriber’s or prospective subscriber’s right to decline, or opt-out, we may use this information to market other products and services to them. We may also share subscribers’ personally identifiable information with third parties as authorized by the subscriber or as described in the applicable privacy policy.

The U.S. federal and various state and foreign governments have adopted or proposed limitations on the collection, distribution, use and storage of personal information of individuals, and the FTC and many state attorneys general are applying federal and state consumer protection laws as imposing standards for the online collection, use and dissemination of data. However, these obligations may be interpreted and applied in a manner that is inconsistent from one jurisdiction to another and may conflict with other requirements or our practices. Any failure or perceived failure by us to comply with privacy or security laws, policies, legal obligations or industry standards or any security incident that results in the unauthorized release or transfer of personally identifiable information or other subscriber data may result in governmental enforcement actions, litigation, fines and penalties and/or adverse publicity and could cause our subscribers to lose trust in us, which could have an adverse effect on our reputation and business.

Some proposed laws or regulations concerning privacy, data protection and information security are in their early stages, and we cannot yet determine the impact these laws and regulations, if implemented, may have on our business. Future laws or regulations could impair our ability to collect and/or use user information that we use to provide targeted advertising to our users, thereby impairing our ability to maintain and grow our subscriber base and increase revenue. Future restrictions on the collection, use, sharing or disclosure of our subscribers’ data or additional requirements for express or implied consent of subscribers for the use and disclosure of such information could require us to modify our solutions and features, possibly in a material manner, and could limit our ability to develop new services and features.

In addition, several foreign countries and governmental bodies, including the European Union and Canada, have regulations dealing with the collection and use of personal information obtained from their residents, which are often more restrictive than those in the United States. Laws and regulations in these jurisdictions apply broadly to the collection, use, storage, disclosure and security of personal information that identifies or may be used to identify an individual, such as names, email addresses, and in some jurisdictions, Internet Protocol, or IP, addresses. Although we are working to comply with those regulations that apply to us, such regulations and laws may be modified and new laws may be enacted in the future. Within the European Union, legislators are currently considering a revision to the 1995 European Union Data Protection Directive that may include more stringent operational requirements for processors and controllers of personal information and that would impose significant penalties for non-compliance. If our privacy or data security measures fail to comply with current or future laws and regulations, we may be subject to litigation, regulatory investigations, fines or other liabilities, as well as negative publicity and a potential loss of business. Moreover, if future laws and regulations limit our subscribers’ ability to use and share personal information or our ability to store, process and share personal information, demand for our solutions could decrease, our costs could increase, and our business, results of operations and financial condition could be harmed.

In recent years, U.S. and European lawmakers and regulators have expressed concern over the use of third-party cookies or web beacons for online behavioral advertising, and legislation adopted recently in the European Union requires informed consent for the placement of a cookie on a user’s device. Although we are working to comply with this legislation, we are not yet in full compliance. Regulation of cookies and web beacons may lead to broader restrictions on our research activities, including efforts to understand users’ Internet usage. Such regulations may have a chilling effect on businesses, such as ours, that collect and use online usage information and may increase the cost of maintaining a business that collects or uses online usage information, increase regulatory scrutiny and increase the potential for civil liability under consumer protection laws. In response to marketplace concerns about the usage of third-party cookies and web beacons to track user behaviors, providers of major browsers have included features that allow users to limit the collection of certain data in general or from specified websites. These developments could impair our ability to collect user information that helps us provide more targeted advertising to our users.

In addition, in connection with the marketing and advertisement of our products and services, we could be the target of claims relating to false or deceptive advertising, including under the auspices of the FTC and the consumer protection statutes of some states.

New interpretations of existing laws, regulations or standards could require us to incur additional costs and restrict our business operations, and any failure by us to comply with applicable requirements may result in governmental enforcement actions, litigation, fines and penalties or adverse publicity, which could have an adverse effect on our reputation and business.

Security and privacy breaches may harm our business.

Due to the fact that our solutions are cloud-based, we store and transmit large amounts of sensitive, confidential, personal and proprietary information over public communications networks. Any security breach, virus, accident, employee error, criminal activity or malfeasance, fraudulent service plan order, impersonation scam perpetrated against us, intentional misconduct by computer hackers or similar breach or disruption could result in unauthorized access, usage or disclosure, or loss of, confidential information, as well as interruptions, delays or cessation of service to our subscribers, each of which may cause damage to our reputation and result in increased security costs, litigation, regulatory investigations or other liabilities. For example, in February 2012, prior to our acquisition of HostGator, a HostGator employee obtained unauthorized access to systems running HostGator subscribers’ websites, which would have permitted the employee to access private and confidential information stored on those websites. Although HostGator implemented system fixes and took other steps to prevent such security breaches prior to our acquisition of that company in July 2012, similar security breaches of subscriber information on our systems may occur in the future. The risk that these types of events could seriously harm our business is likely to increase as we expand the number of technology solutions and services that we offer and expand our operations in foreign countries.

In addition, many states in which we have subscribers have enacted regulations requiring us to notify subscribers in the event that certain subscriber information is accessed, or believed to have been accessed, without authorization, and in some cases also develop proscriptive policies to protect against such unauthorized access. Such notifications can result in private causes of action being filed against us. Should we experience a loss of protected data, efforts to enhance controls, assure compliance and address penalties imposed by such regulatory regimes could increase our costs.

Organizations generally, and Internet-based organizations in particular, remain vulnerable to highly targeted attacks aimed at exploiting network-specific applications or weaknesses. Techniques used to obtain unauthorized access to, or to sabotage, systems often are not recognized until launched against a target. Hackers are increasingly using powerful new tactics including evasive applications, proxies, tunneling, encryption techniques, vulnerability exploits, buffer overflows, denial of service attacks, or DDoS attacks, botnets and port scans. For example, from time to time, we and many other Internet-based businesses are the targets of DDoS attacks in which attackers attempt to block subscribers’ access to our websites. If we are unable to avert a DDoS or other attack for any significant period, we could sustain substantial revenue loss from lost sales and subscriber dissatisfaction. We may not have the resources or technical sophistication to anticipate or prevent rapidly evolving types of Moreover, we may not be able to immediately detect that such an attack has been launched, if, for example, unauthorized access to our systems was obtained without our knowledge in preparation for an attack contemplated to commence in the future. Cyber-attacks may target us, our subscribers, our partners, banks, credit card processors, delivery services, e-commerce in general or the communication infrastructure on which we depend.

Our subscribers may also use weak passwords, accidentally disclose their passwords or store them on a mobile device that is lost or stolen, or otherwise compromise the security of their data, creating the perception that our systems are not secure against third-party access. In addition, if third parties with which we work, such as vendors or developers, violate applicable laws or our policies, such violations may also put our subscribers’ information at risk and could in turn have an adverse effect on our business.

If an actual or perceived security breach occurs, the market's perception of our security measures could be harmed and we could lose sales and current and potential subscribers. Any significant violations of data privacy could result in the loss of business, litigation and regulatory investigations and penalties that could damage our reputation and adversely affect our operating results and financial condition. Furthermore, if a high profile security breach occurs with respect to another provider of cloud-based technologies, our subscribers and potential subscribers may lose trust in the security of these business models generally, which could harm our ability to retain existing subscribers or attract new ones.

Failure to adequately protect and enforce our intellectual property rights could substantially harm our business and operating results.

We have devoted substantial resources to the development of our intellectual property, proprietary technologies and related processes. In order to protect our intellectual property, proprietary technologies and processes, we rely upon a combination of trademark, patent and trade secret law, as well as confidentiality procedures and contractual restrictions. These afford only limited protection, may not prevent disclosure of confidential information, may not provide an adequate remedy in the event of misappropriation or unauthorized disclosure, and may not now or in the future provide us with a competitive advantage. Despite our efforts to protect our intellectual property rights, unauthorized parties, including employees, subscribers and third parties, may make unauthorized or infringing use of our products, services, software and other functionality, in whole or in part, or obtain and use information that we consider proprietary.

Policing our proprietary rights and protecting our brands and domain names is difficult and costly and may not always be effective. In addition, we may need to enforce our rights under the laws of countries that do not protect proprietary rights to as great an extent as do the laws of the United States and any changes in, or unexpected interpretations of, the intellectual property laws in any country in which we operate may compromise our ability to enforce our intellectual property rights.

We have registered, or applied to register, the trademarks associated with several of our leading brands in the United States and in certain other countries. Competitors may have adopted, and in the future may adopt, service or product names similar to ours, which could impede our ability to build our brands’ identities and possibly lead to confusion. In addition, there could be potential trade name or trademark infringement claims brought by owners of other registered trademarks or trademarks that incorporate variations of the terms or designs of one of our trademarks.

Litigation or proceedings before the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office or other governmental authorities and administrative bodies in the United States and abroad may be necessary to enforce our intellectual property rights or to defend against claims of infringement or invalidity. Such litigation or proceedings could be costly, time-consuming and distracting to our management, result in a diversion of resources, the impairment or loss of portions of our intellectual property, and have a material adverse effect on our business and operating results. There can be no assurance that our efforts to enforce or protect our proprietary rights will be adequate or that our competitors will not independently develop similar technology. In addition, the legal standards relating to the validity, enforceability and scope of protection of intellectual property rights on the Internet are uncertain and still evolving. Our failure to meaningfully establish and protect our intellectual property could result in substantial costs and diversion of resources and could substantially harm our business and operating results.

We could incur substantial costs as a result of any claim of infringement of another party's intellectual property rights.

In recent years, there has been significant litigation in the United States and abroad involving patents and other intellectual property rights. Companies providing Internet-based products and services are increasingly bringing and becoming subject to suits alleging infringement of proprietary rights, particularly patent rights, and to the extent we face increasing competition and become increasingly visible as a publicly-traded company, or if we become more successful, the possibility of intellectual property infringement claims may increase. In addition, our exposure to risks associated with the use of intellectual property may increase as a result of acquisitions that we make or our use of software licensed from or hosted by third parties, as we have less visibility into the development process with respect to such technology or the care taken to safeguard against infringement risks. Third parties may make infringement and similar or related claims after we have acquired or licensed technology that had not been asserted prior to our acquisition or license. To the extent we expand our international activities, our exposure to unauthorized copying and use of our products and proprietary information may increase.

Many companies are devoting significant resources to obtaining patents that could affect many aspects of our business. Since we do not have a significant patent portfolio, this may prevent us from deterring patent infringement claims, and our competitors and others may now and in the future have significantly larger and more mature patent portfolios than we have.

We have filed several patent applications in the United States and foreign counterpart filings for some of those applications. We cannot assure you that any patents will issue from any such patent applications, that patents that issue from such applications will give us the protection that we seek, or that any such patents will not be challenged, invalidated or circumvented. Any patents that may issue in the future from our pending or future patent applications may not provide sufficiently broad protection and may not be enforceable in actions against alleged infringers.

The risk of patent litigation has been amplified by the increase in certain third parties, so-called “non-practicing entities,” whose sole business is to assert patent claims and against which our own intellectual property portfolio may provide little deterrent value. We could incur substantial costs in prosecuting or defending any intellectual property litigation. If we sue to enforce our rights or are sued by a third party that claims that our solutions infringe its rights, the litigation could be expensive and could divert our management's time and attention. Even a threat of litigation could result in substantial expense and time. For example, on September 24, 2013, our subsidiary Bluehost was sued by Ziplink, Inc. in a patent-infringement case (Ziplink, Inc. v. Bluehost, Inc., Civil Action No. 3:13-cv-1396) (U.S. District Court for the District of Connecticut). The complaint alleges that we have infringed U.S. Patent Nos. 7,676,998 and 8,271,596, both entitled “Apparatus and Methods for Controlling the Transmission of Messages.” Ziplink, Inc. is seeking damages and an injunction. At this time, we are unable to form a judgment regarding a range of potential loss for the claim. While we do not believe that this litigation will have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, or operating results, we cannot assure you that this will be the case.
Furthermore, because of the substantial amount of discovery required in connection with intellectual property litigation, there is a risk that some of our confidential information could be compromised by disclosure. In addition, during the course of any such litigation, there could be public announcements of the results of hearings, motions or other interim proceedings or developments. If securities analysts or investors perceive these results to be negative, it could have a substantial adverse effect on the price of our common stock.

Any intellectual property litigation to which we might become a party, or for which we are required to provide indemnification, may require us to do one or more of the following:

- Cease selling or using solutions that incorporate the intellectual property that our solutions allegedly infringe;
- Make substantial payments for legal fees, settlement payments or other costs or damages;
- Obtain a license, which may not be available on reasonable terms or at all, to sell or use the relevant technology; or
- Redesign the allegedly infringing solutions to avoid infringement, which could be costly, time-consuming or impossible.

If we are required to make substantial payments or undertake any of the other actions noted above as a result of any intellectual property infringement claims against us, our business or operating results could be harmed.

Our use of “open source” software could adversely affect our ability to sell our services and subject us to possible litigation.

We use open source software, such as OpenStack, in providing a substantial portion of our solutions, and we may incorporate additional open source software in the future. Such open source software is generally licensed by its authors or other third parties under open source licenses. If we fail to comply with these licenses, we may be subject to certain conditions, including requirements that we offer our solutions that incorporate the open source software for no cost; that we make available source code for modifications or derivative works we create based upon, incorporating or using the open source software; and/or that we license such modifications or derivative works under the terms of the particular open source license. In addition, if a third-party software provider has incorporated open source software into software that we license from such provider, we could be required to disclose any of our source code that incorporates or is a modification of such licensed software. If an author or other third party that distributes such open source software were to allege that we had not complied with the conditions of one or more of these licenses, we could be required to incur significant legal expenses defending such allegations and could be subject to significant damages, enjoined from the sale of our solutions that contained the open source software, and required to comply with the foregoing conditions, which could disrupt the distribution and sale of some of our solutions. In addition, there have been claims challenging the ownership of open source software against companies that incorporate open source software into their products. As a result, we could be subject to suits by parties claiming ownership of what we believe to be open source software. Such litigation could be costly for us to defend, have a negative effect on our operating results and financial condition or require us to devote additional research and development resources to change our products.

We could face liability, or our reputation might be harmed, as a result of the activities of our subscribers, the content of their websites or the data they store on our servers.

Our role as a provider of cloud-based solutions, including website hosting services and domain registration services, may subject us to potential liability for the activities of our subscribers on or in connection with their websites or domain names or for the data they store on our servers. Although our subscriber terms of use prohibit illegal use of our services by our subscribers and permit us to take down websites or take other appropriate actions for illegal use, subscribers may nonetheless engage in prohibited activities or upload or store content with us in violation of applicable law or the subscriber's own policies, which could subject us to liability.

Several U.S. federal statutes may apply to us with respect to various subscriber activities:

Ÿ The Digital Millennium Copyright Act of 1998, or DMCA, provides recourse for owners of copyrighted material who believe that their rights under U.S. copyright law have been infringed on the Internet. Under the DMCA, based on our current business activity as an Internet service provider that does not own or control website content posted by our subscribers, we generally are not liable for infringing content posted by our subscribers or other third parties, provided that we follow the procedures for handling copyright infringement claims set forth in the DMCA. Generally, if we receive a proper notice from, or on behalf, of a copyright owner alleging infringement of copyrighted material located on websites we host, and we fail to expeditiously remove or disable access to the allegedly infringing material or otherwise fail to meet the requirements of the safe harbor provided by the DMCA, the copyright owner may seek to impose liability on us. Technical mistakes in complying with the detailed DMCA take-down procedures could subject us to liability for copyright infringement.

Ÿ The Communications Decency Act of 1996, or CDA, generally protects online service providers, such as us, from liability for certain activities of their customers, such as the posting of defamatory or obscene content, unless the online service provider is participating in the unlawful conduct. Under the CDA, we are generally not responsible for the subscriber-created content hosted on our servers. Consequently, we do not monitor hosted websites or prescreen the content placed by our subscribers on their sites. However, the CDA does not apply in foreign jurisdictions and we may nonetheless be brought into disputes between our subscribers and third parties which would require us to devote management time and resources to resolve such matters and any publicity from such matters could also have an adverse effect on our reputation and therefore our business.

Ÿ In addition to the CDA, the Securing the Protection of our Enduring and Established Constitutional Heritage Act, or the SPEECH Act, provides a statutory exception to the enforcement by a U.S. court of a foreign judgment for defamation under certain circumstances. Generally, the exception applies if the defamation law applied in the foreign court did not provide at least as much protection for freedom of speech and press as would be provided by the First Amendment of the U.S. Constitution or by the constitution and law of the state in which the U.S. court is located, or if no finding of defamation would be supported under the First Amendment of the U.S. Constitution or under the constitution and law of the state in which the U.S. court is located. Although the SPEECH Act may protect us from the enforcement of foreign judgments in the United States, it does not affect the enforceability of the judgment in the foreign country that issued the judgment. Given our international presence, we may therefore, nonetheless, have to defend against or comply with any foreign judgments made against us, which could take up substantial management time and resources and damage our reputation.

Although these statutes and case law in the United States have generally shielded us from liability for subscriber activities to date, court rulings in pending or future litigation may narrow the scope of protection afforded us under these laws. In addition, laws governing these activities are unsettled in many international jurisdictions, or may prove difficult or impossible for us to comply with in some international jurisdictions. Also, notwithstanding the exculpatory language of these bodies of law, we may be embroiled in complaints and lawsuits which, even if ultimately resolved in our favor, add cost to our doing business and may divert management's time and attention. Finally, other existing bodies of law, including the criminal laws of various states, may be deemed to apply or new statutes or regulations may be adopted in the future, any of which could expose us to further liability and increase our costs of doing business.

We may face liability for, or become involved in disputes over, ownership or control of subscriber accounts, websites or domain names.

As a provider of cloud-based solutions, including as a registrar of domain names and related services, we from time to time become aware of disputes over ownership or control of subscriber accounts, websites or domain names. For example, disputes may arise as a result of a subscriber's engaging a webmaster or other third party to help set up a web hosting account, register or renew a domain name, build a website, upload content, or set up email or other services.

We could face potential tort law liability for our failure to renew a subscriber’s domain, and we have faced such liability in the past. We could also face potential tort law liability for our role in the wrongful transfer of control or ownership of accounts, websites or domain names. The safeguards and procedures we have adopted may not be successful in insulating us against liability from such claims in the future. In addition, we face potential liability for other forms of account, website or domain name “hijacking,” including misappropriation by third parties of our network of subscriber accounts, websites or domain names and attempts by third parties to operate accounts, websites or domain names or to extort the subscriber whose accounts, websites or domain names were misappropriated. Furthermore, our risk of incurring liability for a security breach on or in connection with a subscriber account, website or domain name would increase if the security breach were to occur following our sale to a subscriber of an SSL certificate that proved ineffectual in preventing it. Finally, we are exposed to potential liability as a result of our domain privacy service, wherein the identity and contact details for the domain name registrant are masked. Although our terms of service reserve the right to provide the underlying WHOIS information and/or to cancel privacy services on domain names giving rise to domain name disputes, including when we receive reasonable evidence of an actionable harm, the safeguards we have in place may not be sufficient to avoid liability, which could increase our costs of doing business.

Occasionally a subscriber may register a domain name that is identical or similar to another party’s trademark or the name of a living person. Disputes involving registration or control of domain names are often resolved through the Uniform Domain Name Dispute Resolution Policy, or UDRP, ICANN’s administrative process for domain name dispute resolution, or less frequently through litigation under the Anticybersquatting Consumer Protection Act, or ACPA, or under general theories of trademark infringement or dilution. The UDRP generally does not impose liability on registrars, and the ACPA provides that registrars may not be held liable for registering or maintaining a domain name absent a showing of bad faith, intent to profit or reckless disregard of a court order by the registrar. However, we may face liability if we fail to comply in a timely manner with procedural requirements under these rules. In addition, these processes typically require at least limited involvement by us and, therefore, increase our cost of doing business. The volume of domain name registration disputes may increase in the future as the overall number of registered domain names increases.

We are subject to governmental export controls and economic sanctions laws that could impair our ability to compete in international markets and subject us to liability if we are not in full compliance with applicable laws.

Our business activities are subject to various restrictions under U.S. export controls and trade and economic sanctions laws, including the U.S. Commerce Department's Export Administration Regulations and economic and trade sanctions regulations maintained by the U.S. Treasury Department's Office of Foreign Assets Control. If we fail to comply with these laws and regulations, we and certain of our employees could be subject to civil or criminal penalties and reputational harm. In addition, if our third-party resellers fail to comply with these laws and regulations in their dealings, we could face potential liability or penalties for violations. Obtaining the necessary authorizations, including any required license, for a particular transaction may be time-consuming, is not guaranteed, and may result in the delay or loss of sales opportunities. Furthermore, U.S. export control laws and economic sanctions laws prohibit certain transactions with U.S. embargoed or sanctioned countries, governments, persons and entities. Although we take precautions to prevent transactions with U.S. sanction targets, we have in the past inadvertently provided our solutions to persons prohibited by U.S. sanctions, and there is some risk that in the future we or our resellers could provide our solutions to such targets despite such precautions. This could result in negative consequences to us, including government investigations, penalties and reputational harm.

Changes in our solutions or changes in export and import regulations may create delays in the introduction and sale of our solutions in international markets, prevent our subscribers with international operations from deploying our solutions or, in some cases, prevent the export or import of our solutions to certain countries, governments or persons altogether. Any change in export or import regulations, shift in the enforcement or scope of existing regulations, or change in the countries, governments, persons or technologies targeted by such regulations, could result in decreased use of our solutions or decreased ability to export or sell our solutions to existing or potential subscribers with international operations. Any decreased use of our solutions or limitation on our ability to export or sell our solutions would likely adversely affect our business, financial condition and operating results.

Adverse economic conditions in the United States and international economies could harm our operating results.

Unfavorable general economic conditions, such as a recession or economic slowdown in the United States or in one or more of our other major markets, could adversely affect the affordability of, and demand for, our solutions. The recent national and global economic downturn affected many sectors of the economy and resulted in, among other things, declines in overall economic growth, consumer and corporate confidence and spending; increases in unemployment rates; and uncertainty about economic stability. These uncertainties may affect our business in a number of ways, making it difficult to accurately forecast and plan our future business activities. In particular, SMB spending patterns are difficult to predict and are sensitive to the general economic climate, the economic outlook specific to the SMB industry, the SMB’s level of profitability and debt and overall consumer confidence. Although the economy has shown signs of stabilization, there is no guarantee as to when or if overall SMB or consumer spending will return to pre-recession levels. Our solutions may be considered discretionary by many of our current and potential subscribers and be dependent upon levels of consumer spending. As a result, resellers and consumers considering whether to purchase our solutions may be influenced by macroeconomic factors that affect SMB and consumer spending such as unemployment, continuing increases in fuel costs, conditions in the real estate and mortgage markets and access to credit.

To the extent conditions in the economy deteriorate, our business could be harmed as subscribers may reduce or postpone spending and choose to discontinue our solutions, decrease their service level, delay subscribing for our solutions or stop purchasing our solutions all together. In addition, our efforts to attract new subscribers may be adversely affected. Weakening economic conditions may also adversely affect third parties with which we have entered into relationships and upon which we depend in order to grow our business, which could detract from the quality or timeliness of the products or services such parties provide to us and could adversely affect our reputation and relationships with our subscribers. In uncertain and adverse economic conditions, decreased consumer spending is likely to result in a variety of negative effects such as reduction in revenue, increased costs, lower gross margin percentages, increased allowances for doubtful accounts and write-offs of accounts receivable and recognition of impairments of assets, including goodwill and other intangible assets. Uncertainty and adverse economic conditions may also lead to a decreased ability to collect payment for our solutions and services due primarily to a decline in the ability of our subscribers to use or access credit, including through credit cards, which is how most of our subscribers pay for our services. We also expect to continue to experience volatility in foreign exchange rates, which could adversely affect the amount of expenses we incur and the revenue we record in future periods. If any of the above risks are realized, we may experience a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and operating results.

Impairment of goodwill and other intangible assets would result in a decrease in earnings.

Current accounting rules provide that goodwill and other intangible assets with indefinite useful lives may not be amortized, but instead must be tested for impairment at least annually. These rules also require that intangible assets with definite useful lives be amortized over their respective estimated useful lives to their estimated residual values, and reviewed for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of such assets may not be recoverable. We have substantial goodwill and other intangible assets, and we would be required to record a significant charge to earnings in our financial statements during the period in which any impairment of our goodwill or intangible assets is determined. Any impairment charges or changes to the estimated amortization periods could have a material adverse effect on our financial results.

Risks Related to Our Substantial Indebtedness

Our substantial level of indebtedness could materially and adversely affect our financial condition and prevent us from fulfilling our obligations under our credit agreements and with respect to our other indebtedness.

We now have, and expect to continue to have, significant indebtedness that could result in a material and adverse effect on our business. As of June 30, 2013, we had approximately $1,134.0 million of aggregate indebtedness. In August 2013, we borrowed additional amounts, net of repayments, of approximately $53.0 million, as described in “Description of Indebtedness.” This high level of debt could have important consequences, including:

- increasing our vulnerability to general adverse economic and industry conditions;
- requiring us to dedicate a substantial portion of our cash flow from operations to payments on our indebtedness, thereby reducing the availability of our cash flow to fund working capital, capital expenditures, acquisitions, research and development efforts and other general corporate purposes;
- limiting our flexibility in planning for, or reacting to, changes in our business and the industry in which we operate;
- placing us at a competitive disadvantage if any of our competitors has less debt;
- restricting our ability to pay dividends on our capital stock or redeem, repurchase or retire our capital stock or indebtedness;
- limiting our ability to borrow additional funds;
- exposing us to the risk of increased interest rates as certain of our borrowings are, and may in the future be, at variable interest rates; and
- making it more difficult for us to satisfy our obligations with respect to our debt, including our obligation to repay amounts borrowed under our credit facilities under certain circumstances.
The occurrence of any one of these events could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations and ability to satisfy our obligations under our outstanding credit agreements.

The terms of our credit agreements impose restrictions on our business, reducing our operational flexibility and creating default risks. Failure to comply with these restrictions, or other events, could result in default under these agreements that could trigger an acceleration of our indebtedness that we may not be able to repay.

Our credit agreements require compliance with a set of financial and non-financial covenants. These covenants contain numerous restrictions on our ability to incur additional debt, make restricted payments (including any dividends or other distributions in respect of our capital stock), sell assets, enter into affiliate transactions and take other actions. For a more detailed description of our indebtedness, see “Description of Indebtedness.” As a result, we may be restricted from engaging in business activities that may otherwise improve our business or from financing future operations or capital needs. Failure to comply with the covenants, if not cured or waived, could result in an event of default that could trigger acceleration of our indebtedness, which would require us to repay all amounts owing under the credit agreements and could have a material adverse impact on our business. Our credit agreements also contain provisions that trigger repayment obligations or an event of default upon a change of control, as well as various representations and warranties which, if breached, could lead to an event of default. We cannot be certain that our future operating results will be sufficient to ensure compliance with the covenants in our credit agreements or to remedy any defaults under our credit agreements. In addition, in the event of any default and related acceleration, we may not have or be able to obtain sufficient funds to make any accelerated payments.

To service our indebtedness, we will require a significant amount of cash. Our ability to generate cash depends on many factors beyond our control.

As of June 30, 2013, we had approximately $1,134.0 million of aggregate indebtedness, consisting of $796.0 million outstanding under our first lien term loan facility, $315.0 million outstanding under our second lien term loan facility and $23.0 million outstanding under our revolving credit facility. In August 2013, we borrowed an additional $90.0 million under our first lien term loan facility and repaid $37.0 million, which was the total amount then outstanding, under our revolving credit facility. Under our first lien term loan facility, we are required to repay approximately $2.2 million of principal at the end of each quarter and are required to pay accrued interest upon the maturity of each interest accrual period. Under our second lien term loan facility, we are not required to make any periodic repayments but are required to pay accrued interest upon the maturity of each interest accrual period. Interest accrual periods under each loan facility are typically three months in duration. The actual amounts of our debt servicing payments vary based on the amounts of indebtedness outstanding, the applicable interest accrual periods and the applicable interest rates, which vary based on prescribed formulas.

We expect to obtain the necessary funds to pay our expenses and the amounts due under our credit agreements from this offering and thereafter from our operations. Our ability to pay our expenses and make these payments therefore depends on our future performance, which will be affected by financial, business, economic and other factors, many of which are beyond our control. Our business may not generate sufficient cash flow from operations in the future, which could result in our being unable to repay indebtedness, including the obligations under our credit agreements, or to fund other liquidity needs. If we do not have sufficient funds, we may be required to sell assets or incur additional indebtedness. We may need to refinance all or a portion of our indebtedness, including one or both of our credit agreements, at or before maturity. We may not be able to accomplish any of these alternatives on terms acceptable to us, or at all. In addition, the terms of existing or future credit agreements may restrict us from adopting any of these alternatives. The failure to generate sufficient cash flow or to achieve any of these alternatives could materially adversely affect our ability to pay the amounts due under our credit agreements.

EIG Investors, the borrower under our credit agreements, is a holding company, and therefore its ability to make any required payment on our credit agreements depends upon the ability of its subsidiaries to pay it dividends or to advance it funds.

EIG Investors, the borrower under our credit agreements, has no direct operations and no significant assets other than the stock of its subsidiaries. Because it conducts its operations through its operating subsidiaries, EIG Investors depends on those entities to generate the funds necessary to meet its financial obligations, including its required obligations under our credit agreements. The ability of our subsidiaries to make transfers and other distributions to EIG Investors will be subject to, among other things, the terms of any debt instruments of such subsidiaries then in effect and applicable law. If transfers or other distributions from our subsidiaries to EIG Investors were eliminated, delayed, reduced or otherwise impaired, our ability to make payments on the obligations under our credit agreements would be substantially impaired.

Risks Related to this Offering and Ownership of Our Common Stock

An active trading market for our common stock may not develop, and you may not be able to resell your shares of our common stock at or above the initial offering price.

Before this offering, there was no public trading market for our common stock. If a market for our common stock does not develop or is not sustained, it may be difficult for you to sell your shares of common stock at an attractive price, at the time that you would like to sell them, or at all. The initial public offering price of our common stock will be determined through negotiations between us and the underwriters. This initial public offering price may not be indicative of the market price of our common stock after the offering. We cannot predict the prices at which our common stock will trade. It is possible that in one or more future periods our results of operations may be below the expectations of public market analysts and investors and, as a result of these and other factors, the price of our common stock may fall.

The market price of our common stock may be volatile, which could result in substantial losses for investors purchasing shares in this offering.

The market price of our common stock could be subject to significant fluctuations after this offering, and it may decline below the initial public offering price. Some of the factors that may cause the market price of our common stock to fluctuate include:

- price and volume fluctuations in the overall stock market from time to time;
- significant volatility in the market price and trading volume of comparable companies;
- actual or anticipated changes in our earnings or fluctuations in our operating results or in the expectations of securities analysts;
- announcements of technological innovations, new products, strategic alliances, or significant agreements by us or by our competitors;
- litigation involving us;
- investors’ general perception of us;
- changes in general economic, industry and market conditions and trends; and
- recruitment or departure of key personnel.
In the past, following periods of volatility in the market price of a company's securities, securities class action litigation has often been brought against that company. Because of the potential volatility of our stock price, we may become the target of securities litigation in the future. Securities litigation could result in substantial costs and divert management's attention and resources from our business.

Because a substantial portion of our proceeds from this offering will be used to repay outstanding indebtedness, only a portion of our proceeds from this offering may be used to further invest in our business. We will have broad discretion in the use of the remaining proceeds and may not use them effectively.

Our management will have broad discretion to use our net proceeds from this offering, and you will be relying on the judgment of our management regarding the application of these proceeds. We expect to use a portion of the approximately $324.5 million of our net proceeds from this offering, assuming an initial public offering price of $15.00 per share (the midpoint of the price range set forth on the cover page of this prospectus), to repay $286.3 million of indebtedness outstanding under our second lien term loan facility (including prepayment penalty and accrued interest) and to satisfy all or a portion of our payment obligations at the closing of our proposed acquisition of Directi, with the balance, if any, to be used for working capital and other general corporate purposes. As a result, a significant portion of our net proceeds of this offering will not be invested in our business, and therefore the value of your investment may not be increased. Because we will have broad discretion in the application of the net proceeds from this offering, our management may fail to apply these funds effectively, which could adversely affect our ability to operate and grow our business. You will not have the opportunity to influence our decisions on how to use our net proceeds from this offering.

If securities or industry analysts do not publish, or cease publishing, research or reports about us, our business or our market, or if they publish negative evaluations of our stock, the price of our stock and trading volume could decline.

The trading market for our common stock will be influenced by the research and reports that industry or securities analysts may publish about us, our business, our market or our competitors. We do not currently have and may never obtain research coverage by industry or financial analysts. If no or few analysts commence coverage of us, the trading price of our stock would likely decrease. Even if we do obtain analyst coverage, if one or more of the analysts covering our business downgrade their evaluations of our stock, the price of our stock could decline. If one or more of these analysts cease to cover our stock, we could lose visibility in the market for our stock, which in turn could cause our stock price to decline.

A significant portion of our total outstanding shares may be sold into the public market in the near future, which could cause the market price of our common stock to drop significantly, even if our business is doing well.

Sales of a substantial number of shares of our common stock in the public market could occur at any time after the expiration of the lock-up agreements described in the "Underwriting (Conflicts of Interest)" section of this prospectus. These sales, or the market perception that the holders of a large number of shares intend to sell shares, could reduce the market price of our common stock. After this offering, we will have 128,577,363 shares of common stock outstanding based on the number of shares outstanding as of June 30, 2013 and based on an assumed initial public offering price of $15.00 per share (the midpoint of the price range set forth on the cover page of this prospectus). This includes the 23,390,000 shares that we are selling in this offering, which may be resold in the public market immediately. Of our remaining shares, 105,187,363 shares, or 81.8% of our outstanding shares after this offering (plus any shares of our common stock that are issued to Directi Web Technologies Holdings, Inc., or Directi Holdings, in connection with the Directi acquisition), are or will be restricted as a result of securities laws or lock-up agreements but, following expiration or waiver of the restrictions under applicable lock-up agreements, will be able to be sold, subject to any applicable volume limitations under federal securities laws with respect to affiliate sales, in the near future as set forth below.

In addition, after this offering, holders of an aggregate of 105,187,363 shares of our common stock as of June 30, 2013, will have rights, subject to some conditions, to require us to file registration statements covering their shares or to include their shares in registration statements that we may file for ourselves or other stockholders. We also intend to register all shares of common stock that we may issue under our employee benefit plans. Once we register these shares, subject to any contractual lock-ups, they can be freely sold in the public market upon issuance, subject to the lock-up agreements and the restrictions imposed on our affiliates under Rule 144.

We are party to a stockholders agreement with certain holders of our common stock, including investment funds and entities affiliated with either Warburg Pincus or Goldman Sachs, which we refer to as our stockholders agreement.

Under our stockholders agreement, investment funds and entities affiliated with either Warburg Pincus or Goldman Sachs are subject to additional contractual restrictions on the transfer of shares of our common stock. Those restrictions, however, may be waived at any time by the mutual agreement of certain investment funds and entities affiliated with either Warburg Pincus or Goldman Sachs.

Insiders will continue to have substantial control over us after this offering, which could limit your ability to influence the outcome of key transactions, including a change of control.

After this offering and based on an assumed initial public offering price of $15.00 per share (the midpoint of the price range set forth on the cover page of this prospectus), our directors and executive officers and their affiliates will beneficially own, in the aggregate, 92.5% of our outstanding common stock, assuming no exercise of the underwriters’ option to purchase additional shares of our common stock in this offering. Specifically, investment funds and entities affiliated with Warburg Pincus will own, in the aggregate, 50.0% of our outstanding common stock, and investment funds and entities affiliated with Goldman Sachs will own, in the aggregate, approximately 16.1% of our outstanding common stock, after this offering, assuming no exercise of the underwriters’ option to purchase additional shares of our common stock in this offering. As a result, these stockholders, if they act together, could have significant influence over the outcome of matters submitted to our stockholders for approval. Our stockholders agreement contains agreements among the parties with respect to certain matters, including the election of directors, and certain restrictions on our ability to effect specified corporate transactions. If these stockholders were to act together, they could have significant influence over the management and affairs of our company. This concentration of ownership may have the effect of delaying or preventing a change in control of our company and might affect the market price of our common stock. In particular, the significant ownership interest of investment funds and entities affiliated with either Warburg Pincus or Goldman Sachs in our common stock could adversely affect investors' perceptions of our corporate governance practices.

Some of these persons or entities may have interests different than yours. For example, because many of these stockholders purchased their shares at prices substantially below the price at which shares are being sold in this offering and have held their shares for a longer period, they may be more interested in selling our company to an acquirer than other investors or may want us to pursue strategies that deviate from the interests of other stockholders.

Although we do not expect to rely on the “controlled company” exemption, if we are a “controlled company” within the meaning of the NASDAQ Listing Rules upon completion of this offering, we will qualify for exemptions from certain corporate governance requirements.

Under the NASDAQ Listing Rules, a company of which more than 50% of the voting power is held by another person or group of persons acting together is a “controlled company” and may elect not to comply with certain NASDAQ Listing Rules regarding corporate governance, including:

- the requirement that a majority of our board of directors consist of independent directors;
- the requirement that our nominating and corporate governance committee be composed entirely of independent directors with a written charter addressing the committee's purpose and responsibilities; and
- the requirement that our compensation committee be composed entirely of independent directors with a written charter addressing the committee's purpose and responsibilities.

These requirements will not apply to us as long as we remain a “controlled company.” Although we may qualify as a “controlled company” upon completion of this offering, we do not expect to rely on this exemption and we intend to fully comply with all corporate governance requirements under the NASDAQ Listing Rules. However, if we were to qualify as a “controlled company” and utilize some or all of these exemptions, you may not have the same protections afforded to stockholders of companies that are subject to all of the NASDAQ Listing Rules regarding corporate governance.

We are an “emerging growth company,” and the reduced disclosure requirements applicable to emerging growth companies may make our common stock less attractive to investors.

We are an “emerging growth company,” as defined in the Jumpstart Our Business Startups Act of 2012, or the JOBS Act, and may remain an emerging growth company until the last day of our fiscal year following the fifth anniversary of this offering subject to specified conditions. For so long as we remain an emerging growth company, we are permitted, and intend, to rely on exemptions from certain disclosure requirements that are applicable to other public companies that are not emerging growth companies. These exemptions include not being required to comply with the auditor attestation requirements of Section 404 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002, not being required to comply with any requirement that may be adopted by the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board regarding mandatory audit firm rotation or a supplement to the auditor's report providing additional information about the audit and the financial statements, reduced disclosure obligations regarding executive compensation and exemptions from the requirements of holding a non-binding advisory vote on executive compensation and stockholder approval of any golden parachute payments not previously approved. In this prospectus, we have not included all of the executive compensation related information that would be required if we were not an emerging growth company. We cannot predict whether investors will find our common stock less attractive if we rely on these exemptions. If some investors find our common stock less attractive as a result, there may be a less active trading market for our common stock and our stock price may be more volatile.
In addition, the JOBS Act provides that an emerging growth company can take advantage of an extended transition period for complying with new or revised accounting standards. This allows an emerging growth company to delay the adoption of certain accounting standards until those standards would otherwise apply to private companies. We have elected to avail ourselves of this exemption from new or revised accounting standards and, therefore, we will not be subject to new or revised accounting standards that are applicable to other public companies that are not emerging growth companies.

Anti-takeover provisions in our restated certificate of incorporation, our amended and restated bylaws and our stockholders agreement, as well as provisions of Delaware law, might discourage, delay or prevent a change in control of our company or changes in our management and, therefore, depress the trading price of our common stock.

Our restated certificate of incorporation, our amended and restated bylaws, our stockholders agreement and Delaware law contain provisions that may discourage, delay or prevent a merger, acquisition, or other change in control that stockholders may consider favorable, including transactions in which you might otherwise receive a premium for your shares of our common stock. These provisions may also prevent or frustrate attempts by our stockholders to replace or remove our management. Our corporate governance documents include provisions:

- authorizing blank check preferred stock, which could be issued without stockholder approval and with voting, liquidation, dividend and other rights superior to our common stock;
- limiting the liability of, and providing indemnification to, our directors and officers;
- limiting the ability of our stockholders to call and bring business before special meetings; provided that for so long as investment funds and entities affiliated with either Warburg Pincus or Goldman Sachs, collectively, own a majority of our outstanding capital stock, special meetings of our stockholders may be called by the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of our outstanding voting stock;
- providing that any action required or permitted to be taken by our stockholders must be taken at a duly called annual or special meeting of such stockholders and may not be taken by any consent in writing by such stockholders; provided that for so long as investment funds and entities affiliated with either Warburg Pincus or Goldman Sachs, collectively, own a majority of our outstanding capital stock, a meeting and vote of stockholders may be dispensed with, and the action may be taken without prior notice and without such meeting and vote if a written consent is signed by the holders of outstanding stock having not less than the minimum number of votes that would be necessary to authorize or take such action at the meeting of stockholders;
- requiring advance notice of stockholder proposals for business to be conducted at meetings of our stockholders and for nominations of candidates for election to our board of directors; provided that no advance notice shall be required for nominations of candidates for election to our board of directors pursuant to our stockholders agreement;
- controlling the procedures for the conduct and scheduling of board of directors and stockholder meetings;
- providing our board of directors with the express power to postpone previously scheduled annual meetings and to cancel previously scheduled special meetings;
- establishing a classified board of directors so that not all members of our board are elected at one time;
- establishing Delaware as the exclusive jurisdiction for specified types of stockholder litigation involving us or our directors;
- providing that for so long as investment funds and entities affiliated with Warburg Pincus have the right to designate at least three directors for election to our board of directors, certain actions required or permitted to be taken by our stockholders, including amendments to our restated certificate of incorporation or amended and restated bylaws and certain specified corporate transactions, may be effected only with the affirmative vote of 75% of our board of directors, in addition to any other vote required by applicable law;

Ÿ providing that for so long as investment funds and entities affiliated with Warburg Pincus have the right to designate at least one director for election to our board of directors and for so long as investment funds and entities affiliated with Goldman Sachs have the right to designate one director for election to our board of directors, in each case, a quorum of our board of directors will not exist without at least one director designee of each of Warburg Pincus and Goldman Sachs present at such meeting; provided that if a meeting of our board of directors fails to achieve a quorum due to the absence of a director designee of Warburg Pincus or Goldman Sachs, as applicable, the presence of a director designee of Warburg Pincus or Goldman Sachs, as applicable, will not be required in order for a quorum to exist at the next meeting of our board of directors;

Ÿ limiting the determination of the number of directors on our board of directors and the filling of vacancies or newly created seats on the board to our board of directors then in office; provided that for so long as investment funds and entities affiliated with either Warburg Pincus or Goldman Sachs have the right to designate at least one director for election to our board of directors, any vacancies will be filled in accordance with the designation provisions set forth in our stockholders agreement; and

Ÿ providing that directors may be removed by stockholders only for cause by the affirmative vote of the holders of at least 75% of the votes that all our stockholders would be entitled to cast in an annual election of directors; provided that any director designated by investment funds and entities affiliated with either Warburg Pincus or Goldman Sachs may be removed with or without cause only by Warburg Pincus or Goldman Sachs, respectively, and for so long as investment funds and entities affiliated with either Warburg Pincus or Goldman Sachs, collectively, hold at least a majority of our outstanding capital stock, our directors, other than a director designated by investment funds and entities affiliated with either Warburg Pincus or Goldman Sachs, respectively, may be removed with or without cause by the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of our outstanding capital stock.

As a Delaware corporation, we are also subject to provisions of Delaware law, including Section 203 of the Delaware General Corporation Law, which prevents some stockholders holding more than 15% of our outstanding common stock from engaging in certain business combinations without approval of the holders of substantially all of our outstanding common stock. Since the investment funds and entities affiliated with Warburg Pincus and Goldman Sachs became holders of more than 15% of our outstanding common stock in a transaction that was approved by our Board of Directors, the restrictions of Section 203 of the Delaware General Corporation law would not apply to a business combination transaction with any investment funds or entities affiliated with either Warburg Pincus or Goldman Sachs. In addition, our restated certificate of incorporation expressly exempts investment funds and entities affiliated with either Warburg Pincus or Goldman Sachs from the applicability of Section 203 of the Delaware General Corporation Law. Any provision of our restated certificate of incorporation or amended and restated bylaws or Delaware law that has the effect of delaying or deterring a change in control could limit the opportunity for our stockholders to receive a premium for their shares of our common stock and could also affect the price that some investors are willing to pay for our common stock.

The existence of the foregoing provisions and anti-takeover measures could limit the price that investors might be willing to pay in the future for shares of our common stock. They could also deter potential acquirers of our company, thereby reducing the likelihood that you could receive a premium for your common stock in an acquisition.
We will incur increased costs as a result of operating as a public company, and our management will be required to devote substantial time to compliance with our public company responsibilities and corporate governance practices. We will also need to ensure that we have adequate internal financial and accounting controls and procedures in place so that we can produce accurate financial statements on a timely basis. Failure to maintain proper and effective internal controls could impair our ability to produce accurate and timely financial statements, which could harm our operating results, our ability to operate our business, and our investors' view of us.

As a public company, and particularly after we are no longer an “emerging growth company,” we will incur significant legal, accounting and other expenses that we did not incur as a private company. The Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002, the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act, the listing requirements of The NASDAQ Global Market and other applicable securities rules and regulations impose various requirements on public companies. Our management and other personnel will need to devote a substantial amount of time to compliance with these requirements. Moreover, these rules and regulations will increase our legal and financial compliance costs and will make some activities more time-consuming and costly. For example, we expect that these rules and regulations may make it more difficult and more expensive for us to obtain director and officer liability insurance, which could make it more difficult for us to attract and retain qualified members of our board of directors. We cannot predict or estimate the amount of additional costs we will incur as a public company or the timing of such costs.

One aspect of complying with these rules and regulations as a public company is that we will be required to ensure that we have adequate financial and accounting controls and procedures in place. Our internal control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. This is a costly and time-consuming effort that needs to be re-evaluated periodically.

We have begun the process of documenting, reviewing and improving our internal controls and procedures for compliance with Section 404 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002, or Section 404, which will require that we evaluate, test and document our internal controls and, as a part of that evaluation, documentation and testing, identify areas for further attention and improvement. We have begun recruiting additional finance and accounting personnel, as well as outside consultants, and we will need to continue to dedicate internal resources, and potentially engage additional outside consultants, to adopt a detailed work plan to assess and document the adequacy of internal control over financial reporting, continue steps to improve control processes as appropriate, validate through testing that controls are functioning as documented and implement a continuous reporting and improvement process for internal control over financial reporting. Implementing any appropriate changes to our internal controls may distract our officers and employees, entail substantial costs to modify our existing processes and take significant time to complete. These changes may not, however, be effective in maintaining the adequacy of our internal controls. Thus, despite our efforts, there is a risk that we will not be able to conclude, within the prescribed timeframe or at all, that our internal control over financial reporting is effective as required by Section 404. Any failure to maintain the adequacy of our internal controls, consequent inability to produce accurate financial statements on a timely basis, or identification of one or more material weaknesses could result in an adverse reaction in the financial markets due to a loss of confidence in the reliability of our financial statements and make it more difficult for us to market and sell our solutions to new and existing subscribers.

In addition, pursuant to Section 404, we will be required to furnish an annual report by our management on their assessment of the effectiveness of our internal control over financial reporting. The requirement that management attest to the effectiveness of our internal control over financial... reporting begins with our second filing of an Annual Report on Form 10-K with the Securities and Exchange Commission after we become a public company, which we estimate to be the Form 10-K for the year ending December 31, 2014. However, unlike other public companies, while we remain an emerging growth company, we will not be required to include an attestation report on internal control over financial reporting issued by our independent registered accounting firm.

Certain of our stockholders have the right to engage or invest in the same or similar businesses as us.

Investment funds and entities affiliated with either Warburg Pincus or Goldman Sachs, together, hold a controlling interest in our company. Warburg Pincus, Goldman Sachs and their respective affiliates have other investments and business activities in addition to its ownership of our company. Warburg Pincus, Goldman Sachs and their respective affiliates have the right, and have no duty to abstain from exercising the right, to engage or invest in the same or similar businesses as us. To the fullest extent permitted by law, we have, on behalf of ourselves, our subsidiaries and our and their respective stockholders, renounced any interest or expectancy in, or in being offered an opportunity to participate in, and business opportunity that may be presented to Warburg Pincus, Goldman Sachs or any of their respective affiliates, partners, principals, directors, officers, members, managers, employees or other representatives, and no such person has any duty to communicate or offer such business opportunity to us or any of our subsidiaries or shall be liable to us or any of our subsidiaries or any of our or its stockholders for breach of any duty, as a director or officer or otherwise, by reason of the fact that such person pursues or acquires such business opportunity, directs such business opportunity to another person or fails to present such business opportunity, or information regarding such business opportunity, to us or our subsidiaries, unless, in the case of any such person who is a director or officer of ours, such business opportunity is expressly offered to such director or officer in writing solely in his or her capacity as a director or officer of ours.

Because we do not expect to pay any dividends on our common stock for the foreseeable future, investors in this offering may never receive a return on their investment.

You should not rely on an investment in our common stock to provide dividend income. We do not anticipate that we will pay any cash dividends to holders of our common stock in the foreseeable future. Instead, we plan to retain any earnings to maintain and expand our existing operations. In addition, our ability to pay cash dividends is currently limited by the terms of our credit agreements, and any future credit agreements may contain terms prohibiting or limiting the amount of dividends that may be declared or paid on our common stock. Accordingly, investors must rely on sales of their common stock after price appreciation, which may never occur, as the only way to realize any return on their investment. As a result, investors seeking cash dividends should not purchase our common stock.

Entities affiliated with Goldman Sachs, the lead underwriter in this offering, own in excess of 10% of our issued and outstanding common stock. Goldman Sachs is therefore deemed to be one of our “affiliates” and have a “conflict of interest” within the meaning of FINRA Rule 5121, which could expose us to risks associated with Goldman Sachs’ conflict of interest.

Goldman Sachs, together with certain of its affiliates, indirectly owns in excess of 10% of our issued and outstanding common stock, and is therefore deemed to be one of our “affiliates” and have a “conflict of interest” within the meaning of FINRA Rule 5121. Specifically, and based on an assumed initial public offering price of $15.00 per share (the midpoint of the price range set forth on the cover page of this prospectus), (i) 8,966,082 shares of our common stock are held directly by GS Capital Partners VI Fund, L.P.; (ii) 7,457,671 shares of our common stock are held directly by GS Capital Partners VI Offshore Fund, L.P.; (iii) 2,465,519 shares of our common stock are held directly by GS Capital Partners VI Parallel, L.P.; (iv) 318,654 shares of our common stock are held directly by GS

In addition, we expect that more than 5% of the net proceeds of this offering may be received by certain other underwriters in this offering or their affiliates that are lenders under our credit facilities as the result of our use of a portion of our net proceeds to repay indebtedness under such credit facilities. Goldman Sachs is therefore deemed to be one of our “affiliates” and to have a “conflict of interest” within the meaning of FINRA Rule 5121. FINRA Rule 5121 requires that no sale be made to discretionary accounts by underwriters having a conflict of interest without the prior written approval of the account holder and that a “qualified independent underwriter,” as defined in the rule, has participated in the preparation of the registration statement and prospectus and exercised the usual standards of due diligence with respect thereto.

Pursuant to FINRA Rule 5121, Credit Suisse Securities (USA) LLC is serving as the “qualified independent underwriter,” as defined by FINRA. Although Credit Suisse Securities (USA) LLC has, in its capacity as qualified independent underwriter, performed due diligence investigations and reviewed and participated in the preparation of the registration statement of which this prospectus forms a part, we cannot assure you that this will adequately address any potential conflicts of interest. See “Underwriting (Conflicts of Interest).” In addition, we have agreed to indemnify Credit Suisse Securities (USA) LLC for acting as qualified independent underwriter against certain liabilities, including liabilities under the Securities Act, and to contribute to payments that Credit Suisse Securities (USA) LLC may be required to make for those liabilities.
CAUTIONARY NOTE REGARDING FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

This prospectus contains forward-looking statements. All statements other than statements of historical fact contained in this prospectus, including statements regarding our future results of operations and financial position, business strategy and plans and objectives of management for future operations, are forward-looking statements. These statements involve known and unknown risks, uncertainties and other important factors that may cause our actual results, performance or achievements to be materially different from any future results, performance or achievements expressed or implied by the forward-looking statements.

In some cases, you can identify forward-looking statements by terms such as “may,” “should,” “expects,” “plans,” “anticipates,” “could,” “intends,” “target,” “projects,” “contemplates,” “believes,” “estimates,” “predicts,” “potential” or “continue” or the negative of these terms or other similar expressions. The forward-looking statements in this prospectus are only predictions. We have based these forward-looking statements largely on our current expectations and projections about future events and financial trends that we believe may affect our business, financial condition and results of operations. These forward-looking statements speak only as of the date of this prospectus and are subject to a number of risks, uncertainties and assumptions described in the “Risk Factors” section and elsewhere in this prospectus. Because forward-looking statements are inherently subject to risks and uncertainties, some of which cannot be predicted or quantified, you should not rely on these forward-looking statements as predictions of future events. The events and circumstances reflected in our forward-looking statements may not be achieved or occur and actual results could differ materially from those projected in the forward-looking statements. Some of the key factors that could cause actual results to differ from our expectations include:

- the rate of growth of the SMB market for our solutions;
- our inability to maintain a high level of subscriber satisfaction;
- our inability to continue to add new subscribers and increase sales to our existing subscribers;
- system or Internet failures;
- our dependence on establishing and maintaining strong brands;
- our inability to maintain or improve our competitive position or market share;
- the loss of strategic relationships or alliances with third parties;
- our inability to integrate recent or potential future acquisitions;
- the business risks of international operations;
- the loss or unavailability of any of our co-located data centers;
- our recognition of revenue for subscription-based services over the term of the applicable subscriber agreement;
- the occurrence of security or privacy breaches; and
- adverse consequences of our substantial level of indebtedness.

Except as required by applicable law, we do not plan to publicly update or revise any forward-looking statements contained herein until after we distribute this prospectus, whether as a result of any new information, future events or otherwise.
INDUSTRY AND OTHER DATA

Unless otherwise indicated, information contained in this prospectus concerning our industry and the markets in which we operate, including our general expectations and market position, is based on information from independent industry analysts and third-party sources and management estimates. Management estimates are derived from publicly available information released by independent industry analysts and third-party sources, as well as data from our internal research, and are based on assumptions, which we believe to be reasonable, made by us based on such data, as well as our knowledge of our industry, subscribers and products. Projections, assumptions and estimates of our future performance and the future performance of the industries in which we operate are necessarily subject to a high degree of uncertainty and risk due to a variety of factors, including those described in “Risk Factors” and elsewhere in this prospectus. These and other factors could cause results to differ materially from those expressed in the estimates made by the independent parties and by us.

This prospectus presents market and industry data from Access Markets International (AMI) Partners Inc., June 20, 2013, August 2, 2013 and September 24, 2013 and Parallels IP Holdings GmbH, “Parallels Global SMB Cloud Insights,” February 5, 2013. This data is published as part of syndicated subscription services by the respective publishers of these reports. These reports are based on the research, analysis and viewpoints of the respective publishers thereof and speak as of their respective original publication dates (and not as of the date of this prospectus).
USE OF PROCEEDS

We estimate that the net proceeds from the sale of our common stock in this offering will be approximately $324.5 million, assuming an initial public offering price of $15.00 per share, which is the midpoint of the price range set forth on the cover page of this prospectus, and after deducting the estimated underwriting discounts and commissions and estimated offering expenses payable by us. If the underwriters exercise their over-allotment option in full, we estimate that our net proceeds will be approximately $374.3 million.

A $1.00 increase (decrease) in the assumed initial public offering price of $15.00 per share would increase (decrease) our net proceeds from this offering by approximately $22.1 million, assuming that the number of shares offered by us, as set forth on the cover page of this prospectus, remains the same and after deducting estimated underwriting discounts and commissions and estimated offering expenses payable by us.

We intend to use a portion of our net proceeds of this offering to repay $286.3 million of indebtedness under our second lien term loan facility (including prepayment penalty and accrued interest). The second lien term loan facility matures on May 9, 2020, and as of June 30, 2013, the interest rate on the second lien term loan facility was 10.25%. This facility was originally entered into on July 13, 2012, for the purpose of providing funding for our acquisition of HostGator, and it was amended on November 9, 2012 in connection with a dividend payment. See “Description of Indebtedness.” Affiliates of certain of the underwriters are lenders under our credit facilities and, accordingly, will receive a portion of the net proceeds of this offering. See “Underwriting (Conflicts of Interest).”

Subject to the satisfaction or waiver of specified customary closing conditions, we intend to use a portion of our net proceeds of this offering to satisfy all or a portion of our payment obligations at the closing of our proposed acquisition of Directi. See “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations—Directi Acquisition.”

We intend to use the balance of the net proceeds of this offering, if any, for working capital and other general corporate purposes. In addition, we believe that opportunities may exist from time to time to expand our current business through acquisitions of or investments in complementary products, technologies or businesses, and we may use a portion of our net proceeds for these purposes. We have no current agreements, commitments or understandings for any material specific acquisitions at this time, other than the Directi transactions described in this prospectus.

Pending use of the proceeds as described above, we intend to invest the proceeds in short-term, interest-bearing, investment-grade securities.
DIVIDEND POLICY

We intend to retain future earnings, if any, to finance the operation and expansion of our business and do not anticipate paying any cash dividends in the foreseeable future. Any future determination to declare dividends will be subject to the discretion of our board of directors and applicable law and will depend on various factors, including our results of operations, financial condition, prospects and any other factors deemed relevant by our board of directors. Our credit agreements limit our ability to pay cash dividends on our common stock, and the terms of any future loan agreement into which we may enter or any additional debt securities we may issue are likely to contain similar restrictions on the payment of dividends. See “Description of Indebtedness—Covenant Restrictions and Compliance.”

On April 20, 2012, we paid a $6.0 million accrued dividend in connection with the redemption of preferred shares of a subsidiary. On November 9, 2012, we paid a dividend in the aggregate amount of $300.0 million, including $194.3 million and $62.6 million paid to investment funds and entities affiliated with either Warburg Pincus or Goldman Sachs, respectively.

We do not currently intend to declare or pay any similar special dividends in the foreseeable future.
CAPITALIZATION

The following table sets forth our cash and cash equivalents and capitalization as of June 30, 2013, as follows:

Ÿ on an actual basis;

Ÿ on a pro forma basis to give effect to the completion of our corporate reorganization prior to the completion of this offering (see “Corporation Reorganization”); and

Ÿ on a pro forma as adjusted basis to give effect to (1) our issuance and sale of 23,390,000 shares of common stock in this offering at an assumed initial public offering price of $15.00 per share, the midpoint of the price range set forth on the cover page of this prospectus, after deducting the estimated underwriting discounts and commissions and estimated offering expenses payable by us and (2) our use of a portion of the proceeds of this offering to repay $286.3 million of our indebtedness outstanding under our second lien term loan facility (including prepayment penalty and accrued interest).

You should read this information in conjunction with our consolidated financial statements and the related notes appearing at the end of this prospectus and the “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations” section and other financial information contained in this prospectus.

A $1.00 increase (decrease) in the assumed initial public offering price of $15.00 per share, which is the midpoint of the price range set forth on the cover page of this prospectus, would increase (decrease) the pro forma as adjusted amount of each of cash and cash equivalents, total stockholders’ equity and total cash and cash equivalents and capitalization by approximately $44.2 million, assuming that the number of shares offered by us, as set forth on the cover page of this prospectus, remains the same and after deducting estimated underwriting discounts and commissions and estimated offering expenses payable by us.

The table above is illustrative only and does not include up to 3.33 million shares of our common stock issuable in connection with our proposed acquisition of Directi based on an assumed initial public offering price of $15.00 per share, the midpoint of the price range set forth on the cover page of this prospectus or reflect other payment obligations in connection with that acquisition. It also excludes 18,562,581 shares of common stock available for future issuance under our equity compensation plans (including options to purchase 5,623,671 shares of our common stock at an exercise price equal to the initial public offering price set forth on the cover page of this prospectus, 1,044,204 shares subject to restricted stock unit awards and 741,150 shares of restricted stock, which we expect our board of directors or our compensation committee will grant to employees, including executive officers, and certain of our directors, concurrently with the execution of the underwriting agreement for this offering). Upon the closing of this offering, we will make cash payments totaling $20.5 million to Mr. Ravichandran and an aggregate of approximately $5.0 million in cash payments consisting of one-time cash bonuses to certain other employees and an earn-out payment related to a prior acquisition. See “Executive Compensation—Employment Agreements, Severance and Change in Control Arrangements—Employment Agreement with Mr. Ravichandran—Additional Payments,” “Executive Compensation—Stock Option and Other Compensation Plans—IPO-Related Payments to Certain Employees” and Note 3 to our consolidated financial statements under “Acquisition—2013—Business Combination.” In addition, upon the closing of this offering, we will recognize approximately $1.4 million of stock-based compensation expense associated with the vesting of class B-2 units in respect of which shares of common stock will be issued in our corporate reorganization, approximately $2.4 million of stock-based compensation expense associated with the acceleration of vesting of class B-1 units in respect of which shares of common stock will be issued in our corporate reorganization, and approximately $3.5 million of stock-based compensation expense, based on an assumed initial public offering price of $15.00 per share (the midpoint of the price range set forth on the cover page of this prospectus), associated with the grant of restricted stock units to Mr. Ravichandran that will be partially vested at grant. See “Corporate Reorganization,” “Executive Compensation—Employment Agreements, Severance and Change of Control Arrangements—Employment Agreement with Mr. Ravichandran—Equity Interests.” We also expect to recognize approximately $5.5 million of expense associated with a prepayment penalty related to our repayment of indebtedness.

If you invest in our common stock in this offering, your ownership interest will be immediately diluted to the extent of the difference between the initial public offering price per share and the pro forma net tangible book value per share of our common stock after this offering. Our net tangible book value as of June 30, 2013 was negative $1,367.2 million or $(13.00) per share of our common stock. Net tangible book value per share represents our total tangible assets reduced by the amount of our total liabilities, divided by the total number of shares of our common stock outstanding.

After giving effect to our corporate reorganization and the sale of 23,390,000 shares of common stock that we are offering at an assumed initial public offering price of $15.00 per share, which is the midpoint of the price range set forth on the cover page of this prospectus, and after deducting the estimated underwriting discounts and commissions and estimated offering expenses payable by us, our pro forma net tangible book value as of June 30, 2013 would have been approximately negative $1,041.8 million, or approximately $(8.10) per share. This amount represents an immediate increase in net tangible book value of $3.09 per share to our existing stockholders and an immediate dilution in net tangible book value of approximately $23.10 per share to new investors purchasing shares of common stock in this offering. We determine dilution by subtracting the pro forma net tangible book value per share after this offering from the amount of cash that a new investor paid for a share of common stock. The following table illustrates this dilution:

A $1.00 increase (decrease) in the assumed initial public offering price of $15.00 per share, which is the midpoint of the price range set forth on the cover page of this prospectus, would increase (decrease) the pro forma net tangible book value per share after this offering by approximately $8.28, and dilution in net tangible book value per share to new investors by approximately $(7.28), assuming that the number of shares offered by us, as set forth on the cover page of this prospectus, remains the same and after deducting estimated underwriting discounts and commissions and estimated offering expenses payable by us.

If the underwriters exercise their option to purchase additional shares of our common stock in full in this offering, the pro forma net tangible book value after the offering would be $0.57 per share, the increase in net tangible book value per share to existing stockholders would be $13.57 and the dilution per share to new investors would be $14.43 per share, in each case assuming an initial public offering price of $15.00 per share, which is the midpoint of the price range set forth on the cover page of this prospectus.
The following table summarizes, as of June 30, 2013, the differences between the number of shares purchased from us, the total consideration paid to us in cash and the average price per share that existing stockholders and new investors paid. The calculation below is based on an assumed initial public offering price of $15.00 per share, which is the midpoint of the price range set forth on the cover page of this prospectus, before deducting the estimated underwriting discounts and commissions and estimated offering expenses payable by us.

The foregoing tables and calculations are based on the number of shares of our common stock outstanding as of June 30, 2013, and excludes 18,562,581 shares of common stock available for future issuance under our equity compensation plans and up to 3.33 million shares of common stock issuable in connection with our proposed acquisition of Directi based on an assumed initial public offering price of $15.00 per share, which is the midpoint of the price range set forth on the cover page of this prospectus.

If the underwriters exercise their over-allotment option in full:
- the percentage of shares of common stock held by existing stockholders will decrease to approximately 79.6% of the total number of shares of our common stock outstanding after this offering; and
- the number of shares held by new investors will increase to 26,898,500, or approximately 20.4% of the total number of shares of our common stock outstanding after this offering.

We may choose to raise additional capital due to market conditions or strategic considerations even if we believe we have sufficient funds for our current or future operating plans. To the extent that additional capital is raised through the sale of equity or securities convertible into equity, the issuance of these securities may result in further dilution to our stockholders.

(5) Pro forma weighted-average shares include those shares of common stock to be issued in this offering necessary to pay down $275 million principal amount outstanding under the second lien term loan based on an assumed initial public offering price of $15.00 per share (the midpoint of the price range set forth on the cover page of this prospectus). Such shares are assumed to have been issued as of the date such indebtedness was incurred for the year ended December 31, 2012 and as of the beginning of the six months ended June 30, 2013.

(1) We define total subscribers as those that, as of the end of a period, are subscribing directly to our solutions on a paid basis. In calculating total subscribers, we include the number of end-of-period subscribers we added through business acquisitions as if those subscribers had subscribed with us since the beginning of the period presented. We do not include in total subscribers parties that access our solutions via resellers or purchase only domain names from us. Subscribers of more than one brand are counted as separate subscribers.

(2) Average revenue per subscriber, or ARPS, is a non-GAAP financial measure that we calculate monthly as the amount of revenue we recognize from subscribers in a month divided by the average of the number of total subscribers at the beginning of the month and at the end of the month. For any period presented, ARPS is calculated as the average of ARPS for each month in that period. In calculating ARPS, we exclude the impact of any fair value adjustments to deferred revenue resulting from acquisitions. We also adjust the amount of revenue to include the revenue generated from subscribers we added through business acquisitions as if those acquired subscribers had been our subscribers since the beginning of the period presented. For more information regarding ARPS and a reconciliation of ARPS to average revenue per subscriber calculated on a GAAP basis, see "Non-GAAP Financial Measures."

(3) We calculate our monthly recurring revenue, or MRR, retention rate at the end of a period by taking the retained recurring value of subscription revenue of all active subscribers at the end of the prior period and dividing it into the retained recurring value of subscription revenue for those same subscribers at the end of the reported period.

(4) Adjusted net income is a non-GAAP financial measure that we calculate as net income (loss) plus changes in deferred revenue inclusive of purchase accounting adjustments related to acquisitions, stock-based compensation expense, severance, expenses related to restructurings or integration of acquisitions, any dividend-related payments accounted for as compensation expense, costs associated with litigation matters and preparation for this offering and the estimated tax effects of the foregoing adjustments. For more information regarding adjusted net income and a reconciliation of adjusted net income to net income (loss), the most directly comparable financial measure calculated and presented in accordance with GAAP, see "Non-GAAP Financial Measures."

(5) Adjusted EBITDA is a non-GAAP financial measure that we calculate as adjusted net income plus interest expense, depreciation, amortization and change in deferred taxes. For more information regarding adjusted EBITDA and a reconciliation of adjusted EBITDA to net loss, the most directly comparable financial measure calculated and presented in accordance with GAAP, see "Non-GAAP Financial Measures."

(6) Unlevered free cash flow, or UFCF, is a non-GAAP financial measure that we calculate as adjusted EBITDA plus change in operating assets and liabilities (other than deferred revenue) net of acquisitions less capital expenditures. For more information regarding UFCF and a reconciliation of UFCF to net income (loss), the most directly comparable financial measure calculated and presented in accordance with GAAP, see "Non-GAAP Financial Measures."
NON-GAAP FINANCIAL MEASURES

In addition to our financial information presented in accordance with GAAP, we use certain “non-GAAP financial measures” to clarify and enhance our understanding of past performance and future prospects. Generally, a non-GAAP financial measure is a numerical measure of a company's operating performance, financial position or cash flow that includes or excludes amounts that are included or excluded from the most directly comparable measure calculated and presented in accordance with GAAP. We monitor the non-GAAP financial measures described below, and we believe they are helpful to investors, because we believe they reflect the operating performance of our business and help management and investors gauge our ability to generate cash flow, excluding some recurring and non-recurring expenses that are included in the most directly comparable measures calculated and presented in accordance with GAAP.

Our non-GAAP financial measures may not provide information that is directly comparable to that provided by other companies in our industry, as other companies in our industry may calculate non-GAAP financial results differently, particularly related to adjustments for integration and restructuring expenses. In addition, there are limitations in using non-GAAP financial measures because they are not prepared in accordance with GAAP; may be different from non-GAAP financial measures used by other companies and exclude expenses that may have a material impact on our reported financial results. Further, interest expense, which is excluded from some of our non-GAAP measures, has been and will continue to be for the foreseeable future a significant recurring expense in our business. The presentation of non-GAAP financial information is not meant to be considered in isolation or as a substitute for the directly comparable financial measures prepared in accordance with GAAP. We urge you to review the reconciliations of our non-GAAP financial measures to the comparable GAAP financial measures included below, and not to rely on any single financial measure to evaluate our business.

Average Revenue per Subscriber

Average revenue per subscriber, or ARPS, is a non-GAAP financial measure that we calculate monthly as the amount of revenue we recognize from subscribers in a month divided by the average of the number of total subscribers at the beginning of the month and at the end of the month. For any period presented, ARPS is calculated as the average of ARPS for each month in that period. In calculating ARPS, we exclude the impact of any fair value adjustments to deferred revenue resulting from acquisitions. We also adjust the amount of revenue to include the revenue generated from subscribers we added through business acquisitions as if those acquired subscribers had been our subscribers since the beginning of the period presented. We believe including revenue from acquired subscribers in this manner provides a useful comparison of the average revenue generated per subscriber from period to period. We believe ARPS is an indicator of our ability to optimize our product and service mix and pricing, and to sell products and services to new and existing subscribers.

The following table reflects the reconciliation of ARPS to revenue calculated in accordance with GAAP (all data in thousands, except ARPS data):

Adjusted Net Income

Adjusted net income is a non-GAAP financial measure that we calculate as net income (loss) plus changes in deferred revenue inclusive of purchase accounting adjustments related to acquisitions, stock-based compensation expense, severance, expenses related to restructurings or integration of acquisitions, any dividend-related payments accounted for as compensation expense, costs associated with litigation matters and preparation for this offering and the estimated tax effects of the foregoing adjustments. Due to our history of acquisitions and financings, we have incurred accounting charges and expenses that obscure the operating performance of our business. We believe that adjusting for these items and the use of adjusted net income is useful to investors in evaluating the performance of our company.

Adjusted EBITDA

Adjusted EBITDA is a non-GAAP financial measure that we calculate as net income (loss) plus changes in deferred revenue inclusive of purchase accounting adjustments related to acquisitions, stock-based compensation expense, severance, expenses related to restructurings or integration of acquisitions, any dividend-related payments accounted for as compensation expense, costs associated with litigation matters and preparation for this offering, interest expense, depreciation, amortization and change in deferred taxes. We manage our business based on the cash collected from our subscribers and the cash required to acquire and service those subscribers. We believe highlighting cash collected and cash spent in a given period is valuable insight for an investor to gauge the overall health of our business. Under GAAP, although subscription fees are paid in advance, we recognize the associated revenue over the subscription term, which does not fully reflect short-term trends in our operating results.

Unlevered Free Cash Flow

Unlevered free cash flow, or UFCF, is a non-GAAP financial measure that we calculate as net income (loss) plus changes in deferred revenue inclusive of purchase accounting adjustments related to acquisitions, stock-based compensation expense, severance, expenses related to restructurings or integration of acquisitions, any dividend-related payments accounted for as compensation expense, costs associated with litigation matters and preparation for this offering, interest expense, depreciation, amortization, change in deferred taxes and change in operating assets and liabilities (other than deferred revenue) net of acquisitions less capital expenditures. We believe the most useful indicator of our operating performance is the cash generating potential of our company prior to the impact of our capital structure and prior to any accounting charges related to our acquisitions. As a result of the Sponsor Acquisition, we have substantial indebtedness and have made substantial dividend payments. We also believe that because our business has meaningful data center and related infrastructure requirements, the level of capital expenditures required to run our business are an important factor for investors. We believe UFCF is a useful measure that captures the effects of these issues.
The following table reflects the reconciliation of adjusted net income, adjusted EBITDA and unlevered free cash flow to net loss calculated in accordance with GAAP (all data in thousands).

Overview

Our mission is to deliver technology solutions that help small- and medium-sized business, or SMBs, transform the way they do business. We are a leading provider of cloud-based solutions designed to help SMBs establish, manage and grow their businesses. We serve approximately 3.4 million subscribers globally with a comprehensive and integrated suite of over 150 products and services that includes initial website design and creation, email and commerce solutions as well as more advanced offerings such as scalable and on-demand computing, security, storage and bandwidth, online marketing, mobile and productivity solutions. Our 16-year history of commitment to SMBs has enabled us to amass significant insight into the needs and aspirations of our subscribers, and we have developed a deep understanding of the challenges of serving SMBs at scale.

We generate revenue by charging our subscribers for the products and services that they buy from us. A significant majority of our revenue is generated on a subscription basis, and our subscribers typically pay for our solutions in advance through our direct billing relationships.

We were founded in 1997 and initially offered shared web hosting services on a free, advertising-based model. In 2001, we adjusted our business model to provide paid, subscription-based web presence solutions to SMBs, including web hosting and domain name registration services. In addition to our organic growth initiatives, we have acquired companies and assets to enhance our core competencies, add to our portfolio of brands and products and services and expand our international reach. In 2007, we acquired iPower and began introducing additional solutions, such as virtual private server hosting, as well as e-commerce, website analytics, website building, search engine optimization, security and email marketing tools. In 2010, we acquired Bluehost and became an accredited domain name registrar. In 2012, we acquired HostGator and Homestead, and we began to offer dedicated server hosting, enhanced our product portfolio and expanded our international reach to Brazil and India. In December 2011, investment funds and entities affiliated with either Warburg Pincus or Goldman Sachs acquired a controlling interest in our company. In August 2013, we agreed to acquire Directi, subject to the satisfaction or waiver of specified customary closing conditions. See “—Directi Acquisition.”

Our revenue for 2010, 2011 and 2012 was $87.8 million, $190.3 million and $292.2 million, respectively, and our revenue for the six months ended June 30, 2012 and 2013 was $91.8 million and $251.0 million, respectively. Our organic revenue grew from $339.2 million in 2010 to $414.9 million in 2011 and to $474.1 million in 2012, representing a compounded annual growth rate, or CAGR, of 18%. During this period, our subscriber base grew from 2.5 million to 3.2 million subscribers, accounting for approximately 75% of our revenue growth, with the remaining revenue growth attributable to increases in average revenue per subscriber. Our organic revenue increased 12% from $228.7 million for the six months ended June 30, 2012 to $257.0 million for the six months ended June 30, 2013. During this period, our subscriber base increased from 3.1 million to 3.4 million, to which approximately 80% of our revenue growth was attributable, with the remainder due to increases in average revenue per subscriber. We calculate our organic revenue by adding back the revenue from our acquisitions completed in 2010, 2011, 2012 and the six months ended June 30, 2013, as though we had owned those businesses since the beginning of the period presented. We expect increases in subscribers will be a significant factor affecting our future growth as we continue to expand our subscriber base and broaden our platform.

We had net losses of $44.3 million, $73.9 million, $4.4 million and $139.3 million in 2010, predecessor 2011, successor 2011 and 2012, respectively, and $39.0 million and $64.7 million in the six months ended June 30, 2012 and 2013, respectively.

Our adjusted EBITDA during 2010, 2011 and 2012 was $25.1 million, $93.9 million and $132.8 million, respectively, and adjusted EBITDA during the six months ended June 30, 2012 and 2013 was $63.4 million and $110.7 million, respectively. Between 2010 and 2012, adjusted EBITDA grew at a CAGR of 130%, as we increased the size of our business through organic growth and through acquisitions, and as we achieved scale benefits by realizing synergies from our acquisitions. We also expect adjusted EBITDA to grow consistent with, to moderately above, revenue growth in future periods as we continue to invest in expanding our base of subscribers, products and services while achieving greater scale benefits.

Our unlevered free cash flow, or UFCF, during 2010, 2011 and 2012 was $26.4 million, $76.7 million and $101.2 million, respectively. Between 2010 and 2012, UFCF grew at a CAGR of 96%. Our UFCF during the six months ended June 30, 2012 and 2013 was $45.1 million and $85.9 million, respectively. Changes to our UFCF are driven by changes in our adjusted EBITDA, working capital and capital expenditures. We plan to continue to invest in our network infrastructure, technology platforms and facilities to improve our solutions-based sales approach and our ability to offer compelling products and services to our subscribers. Consequently, we expect our capital expenditures to continue to increase in absolute dollars but to decrease as a percentage of revenues, and our UFCF to increase consistent with increases in adjusted EBITDA in future years.

Adjusted EBITDA and UFCF are non-GAAP financial measures. For more information regarding adjusted EBITDA and UFCF and a reconciliation of adjusted EBITDA and UFCF to net loss, the most directly comparable financial measure calculated and presented in accordance with GAAP, see “Non-GAAP Financial Measures.”

Factors Affecting our Performance

We believe that our performance and future success depend on a number of factors that present significant opportunities for us but also pose significant risks and challenges, including those discussed below and in “Risk Factors.”

Our ability to retain and expand our subscriber base. Our business success depends on our ability to retain existing and attract new subscribers. We have successfully created a multi-channel, multi-brand approach to attract subscribers to our solutions. Our subscriber acquisition channels include resellers and partners. We also benefit from a substantial number of referrals from our existing subscribers. We have created multiple brands to target different types of SMBs that are attracted to specific attributes or solutions. We plan to continue to invest in these channels and brands to acquire and retain subscribers cost-effectively. However, we have limited control over subscriber acquisition costs as they are largely market determined. Depending on the level of competition for subscribers, our marketing costs could change materially. Furthermore, because we rely in part on referrals from existing subscribers, our ability to provide consistent, predictable and effective products and services in a manner acceptable to our subscribers is important to ensuring our subscribers are satisfied with our solutions and willing to recommend us to others who may be seeking similar solutions. Any set of circumstances that harms subscriber satisfaction could increase our marketing costs or adversely affect our ability to onboard new subscribers.

- Our ability to enhance and expand our product and service offerings. Our ability to consistently innovate and bring to market new products and services that create compelling solutions for our subscribers is critical to our success. We plan to continue to introduce value-added products and services that address our subscribers’ needs. Our model allows us to rapidly deploy new products and services that further strengthen our offerings and improve our subscribers’ experience. As we continue to expand our solutions, we expect that our subscribers will be more likely to purchase additional products and services from us. We must ensure availability of relevant and in-demand products and services and either develop these products and services in-house or obtain them from third parties. We must also continue to invest in our network infrastructure in order to effectively and reliably deploy increasingly large numbers of products and services.

- Our ability to manage and invest in our infrastructure. We rely on our integrated technology platform to collect and analyze data, create compelling solutions and deliver these solutions in a seamless and cost-effective manner. We invest capital in purchasing data center equipment and in acquiring third-party software solutions, in addition to developing our own software solutions, to manage our infrastructure efficiently and analyze the data we collect. We do not own our data centers and instead co-locate equipment to reduce our cost to serve our subscribers. We plan to continue to manage the costs associated with serving our subscribers efficiently through our co-location model while providing subscribers with leading service levels consistent with our current practices. However, because we rely on third parties for data center services, we enter into periodic service contracts with data center providers. As a result, our data center costs and service levels are affected by market demand for data center services, which may affect the pricing and service levels we can offer our subscribers.

- Our ability to derive value from potential future acquisitions. From time to time, we have acquired businesses that have complemented or provided additional avenues to expand our then-existing business. In the future, we may pursue additional acquisitions that complement our existing business, represent a strategic fit and are consistent with our overall growth strategy. Most recently, in August 2013, we agreed to acquire Directi, subject to the satisfaction or waiver of specified customary closing conditions, and we may target additional acquisitions in the future that help us access new international markets, enhance our data analytics and technology platform or add functionality and capabilities to our suite of products and services. Our future success depends in part on our ability to derive value from acquisitions, including the successful on-boarding of subscribers from acquired businesses.

- Our ability to manage growth in our business. Our business and operations have experienced rapid growth and organizational change in recent periods, which has placed, and will continue to place, significant demands on our management and infrastructure. We expect to continue to grow. Our future success depends in part on our ability to manage our anticipated growth and organizational change in a manner that preserves the key aspects of our corporate culture and the quality of our solutions while keeping up with changes in the industry and technological developments.

- Our ability to keep up with rapid and ongoing technological change to remain competitive in a rapidly evolving industry. The cloud-based technology industry is characterized by rapid and ongoing technological change, frequent new product and service introductions and evolving industry standards. As a provider of cloud-based solutions to SMBs, our future success depends on our ability to adapt quickly to rapidly changing technologies, to change our solutions to evolving industry standards and to improve the performance and reliability of our products and services. To ensure our continued success, we need to continue to evolve our business to meet the changing needs of our subscribers and maintain our company culture of subscriber-centric innovation and rapid technology deployment. We plan to continue to foster strategic relationships, expand our ecosystem of partners and bring to market new ways in which subscribers can easily access our products and solutions across a range of devices. This plan will require us to continue to invest in our engineering and development efforts and expand our network infrastructure to enable delivery of these new products and services to our subscribers.

- Our ability to foster strategic relationships and alliances with third parties. To expand our business by adding subscribers, we plan to continue to rely on third party relationships and alliances, in addition to our own sales and marketing approaches. Third parties also provide a majority of the products and services we offer our subscribers and are an important factor in our ability to provide relevant, compelling and timely solutions to our subscribers. While we have several strategic relationships and alliances in place and continue to work with partners around the world to expand the number of products and services we offer our subscribers, many of our partnerships are on a non-exclusive basis and in some instances are subject to renewal.

- Our ability to access capital markets to fund our growth. We currently have, and expect to continue to have, substantial indebtedness. Over the past several years, we have relied on the debt markets for capital to fund our growth. By becoming a public company, we will also be able to access the public capital markets. In addition to our internally generated cash flows, access to these markets provides us with the necessary liquidity to expand our international presence, add more products and services and increase our customer acquisition channels. Limited access to capital markets would adversely affect our growth prospects.

- Our ability to retain, hire, train and manage our key employees. Our ability to successfully pursue our growth strategy will depend on our ability to attract, retain and motivate key employees across our business. In particular, we are dependent on our platform engineers and those who manage our customer sales and service employees. We face intense competition for these and other employees from numerous technology, software and manufacturing companies.

Key Metrics

We use a number of metrics, including the following key metrics, to evaluate the operating and financial performance of our business, identify trends affecting our business, develop projections and make strategic business decisions:

- total subscribers;
- average revenue per subscriber;
- monthly recurring revenue retention rate;
- adjusted net income;
- adjusted EBITDA; and
- unlevered free cash flow.
The following table summarizes these metrics for the periods presented (all data in thousands, except average revenue per subscriber and monthly recurring revenue retention rate):

Total Subscribers

We define total subscribers as those that, as of the end of a period, are subscribing directly to our solutions on a paid basis. In calculating total subscribers, we include the number of end-of-period subscribers we added through business acquisitions as if those subscribers had subscribed with us since the beginning of the period presented. We believe including acquired subscribers in this manner provides a useful measure of the number of subscribers we added during a period. We do not include in total subscribers parties that access our solutions via resellers or purchase only domain names from us. Subscribers of more than one brand are counted as separate subscribers. We believe total subscribers is an indicator of the scale of our platform and our ability to expand our subscriber base, and is a critical factor in our ability to monetize the opportunity we have identified in serving the SMB market. As of December 31, 2010, 2011 and 2012, we had 2.5 million, 2.9 million and 3.2 million total subscribers, respectively. We believe we added subscribers over these periods by refining our customer acquisition approach, expanding our portfolio of brands and offering compelling products and services. Total subscribers increased from 3.1 million as of June 30, 2012 to 3.4 million as of June 30, 2013, primarily as a result of expanding our sales and our support organizations and training them to better utilize our data and analytical capabilities.

Average Revenue per Subscriber

Average revenue per subscriber, or ARPS, is a non-GAAP financial measure that we calculate as the amount of revenue we recognize from subscribers in a period divided by the average of the number of total subscribers at the beginning of the period and at the end of the period. In calculating ARPS, we exclude the impact of any fair value adjustments to deferred revenue resulting from acquisitions. We adjust the amount of revenue to include the revenue generated from subscribers we added through business acquisitions as if those acquired subscribers had been our subscribers since the beginning of the period presented. We believe including revenue from acquired subscribers in this manner provides a useful comparison of the average revenue generated per subscriber from period to period. We believe ARPS is an indicator of our ability to optimize our mix of products and services and pricing, and sell products and services to new and existing subscribers. ARPS increased from $12.36 during 2010 to $12.84 during 2011, as demand for our solutions from both new and existing subscribers increased, and increased to $12.92 during 2012 as we on-boarded subscribers from our acquisitions of HostGator and Homestead. For the six months ended June 30, 2012 and 2013, ARPS increased from $12.78 to $12.96 as we on-boarded HostGator and Homestead subscribers to our integrated technology platform. We expect ARPS to increase in 2013 and beyond as we sell more products and services to existing subscribers. For more information regarding ARPS and a reconciliation of ARPS to average revenue per subscriber calculated on a GAAP basis, see “Non-GAAP Financial Measures.”
Monthly Recurring Revenue Retention Rate

We believe that our ability to retain revenue from our subscribers is an indicator of the long-term value of our subscriber relationships and the stability of our revenue base. To assess our performance in this area, we measure our monthly recurring revenue, or MRR, retention rate. We calculate MRR retention rate at the end of a period by taking the retained recurring value of subscription revenue of all active subscribers at the end of the prior period and dividing it into the retained recurring value of subscription revenue for those same subscribers at the end of the period presented. We believe MRR retention rate is an indicator of our ability to retain existing subscribers, sell products and services and maintain subscriber satisfaction.

Our MRR retention rate was 99% for all periods presented.

Adjusted Net Income

Adjusted net income is a non-GAAP financial measure that we calculate as net income (loss) plus changes in deferred revenue inclusive of purchase accounting adjustments related to acquisitions, stock-based compensation expense, severance, expenses related to restructurings or integration of acquisitions, any dividend-related payments accounted for as compensation expense, costs associated with litigation matters and preparation for this offering and the estimated tax effects of the foregoing adjustments. From 2010 to 2011, our adjusted net income increased from $9.1 million to $61.9 million as we expanded our business and achieved greater scale benefits. In 2012, we had adjusted net income of $27.7 million due to impacts from acquisitions and an increase in our interest payments due to increased borrowings. Our adjusted net income increased from $25.5 million for the six months ended June 30, 2012 to $58.0 million for the six months ended June 30, 2013, primarily as a result of expanding our business and achieving greater scale benefits, partially offset by increased interest expense and impact from acquisitions. For more information regarding adjusted net income and a reconciliation of adjusted net income to net loss, the most directly comparable financial measure calculated and presented in accordance with GAAP, see “Non-GAAP Financial Measures.”

Adjusted EBITDA

Adjusted EBITDA is a non-GAAP financial measure that we calculate as adjusted net income plus interest expense, depreciation, amortization and change in deferred taxes. In 2010, 2011 and 2012, adjusted EBITDA was $25.1 million, $93.9 million and $132.8 million, respectively. This increase was primarily attributable to increases in the size of our business and achieving greater scale benefits. Adjusted EBITDA increased from $63.4 million for the six months ended June 30, 2012 to $110.7 million for the six months ended June 30, 2013, primarily as a result of increases in the size of our business and achieving greater scale benefits. For more information regarding adjusted EBITDA and a reconciliation of adjusted EBITDA to net loss, the most directly comparable financial measure calculated and presented in accordance with GAAP, see “Non-GAAP Financial Measures.”

Unlevered Free Cash Flow

Unlevered free cash flow, or UFCF, is a non-GAAP financial measure that we calculate as adjusted EBITDA plus change in operating assets and liabilities (other than deferred revenue) net of acquisitions less capital expenditures. UFCF increased from $26.4 million in 2010 to $76.7 million in 2011 and increased further to $101.2 million in 2012. These increases resulted primarily from our ability to increase revenue generated from our subscribers and to manage our costs. UFCF increased from $45.1 million for the six months ended June 30, 2012 to $85.9 million for the six months ended June 30, 2013, resulting primarily from our efforts to increase revenue and manage costs, partially offset by significant capital expenditures in 2013 related to our consolidation of HostGator data center operations into our platform, which we expect to result in substantial cost savings once complete. For more information regarding UFCF and a reconciliation of UFCF to net loss, the most directly comparable financial measure calculated and presented in accordance with GAAP, see “Non-GAAP Financial Measures.”
Directi Acquisition

In August 2013, we entered into a master share purchase agreement to acquire all of the outstanding capital stock of Directi from Directi Holdings, the seller, for an amount we estimate will be between $100 million and $110 million in cash or, at the election of the seller, a combination of cash, shares of our common stock and/or a promissory note, subject to the satisfaction or waiver of specified customary closing conditions and the achievement of specified financial targets. Directi provides web presence solutions to SMBs in various countries, including India, the United States, Turkey, China, Russia, and Indonesia. We expect to close the acquisition during the fourth quarter of 2013. In connection with entering into the agreement, we paid $5 million to Directi Holdings, which will be credited against the purchase price and will be refunded if the acquisition does not close for specified reasons.

Under the agreement, we will be obligated at the closing of the acquisition to make a cash payment of approximately 50% of the aggregate purchase price, less the $5 million we paid at signing, to Directi Holdings and to issue a promissory note to Directi Holdings in an original principal amount equal to approximately 50% of the aggregate purchase price. The note will mature on April 15, 2014. At maturity, we will be obligated to pay an amount equal to the greater of the original principal amount of the promissory note or the annualized revenues associated with the Directi business for specified periods, in each case, without interest. If the acquisition closes after the completion of this offering or a change in control of us, in lieu of our issuing the promissory note, Directi Holdings may elect to have us pay all amounts payable at closing in cash. If the acquisition closes after the completion of this offering, Directi Holdings may also elect to have us pay up to 50% of the aggregate estimated purchase price at the date of closing of the acquisition by issuing shares of our common stock to Directi Holdings based on the initial public offering price. If Directi Holdings makes such an election in full, based on the midpoint of the price range set forth on the cover page of this prospectus, we would be obligated to issue 3.33 million shares of our common stock.

In addition, in connection with our proposed acquisition of Directi, we entered into agreements with entities affiliated with Directi Holdings related to participation in the auction of new top level domain extensions and domain monetization activities, pursuant to which, among other things, we may be obligated to make aggregate cash payments of up to a maximum of approximately $62 million, subject to specified terms, conditions and operational contingencies.

Components of Operating Results

Revenue

We generate revenue from selling subscriptions to our cloud-based products and services ranging from initial website design and creation, to commerce solutions, and to more complex services such as scalable and on demand computing, security, online marketing solutions, mobile applications and productivity tools. The subscriptions we offer are similar across all of our brands and are provided under contracts pursuant to which we have ongoing obligations to support the subscriber. These contracts are generally for service periods of up to 36 months and typically require payment in advance. We sell more subscriptions with annual terms than with any other term length. We also earn revenue from domain name registrations and the sale of non-term based products and services, such as online security products, professional technical services, website design and search engine optimization services, as well as through referral fees and commissions.

Cost of Revenue

Cost of revenue includes costs of operating our customer support organization, fees we pay to register domain names for our subscribers, costs of leasing and operating data center infrastructure, including personnel costs for our network operations, fees we pay to third-party product and service providers, and merchant fees we pay as part of our billing processes. We also allocate to cost of revenue the depreciation and amortization related to these activities and the intangible assets we have acquired, as well as a portion of our overhead costs attributable to our employees engaged in customer support activities. In addition, cost of revenue includes stock-based compensation expense for employees engaged in support and network operations. We expect cost of revenue to increase in absolute dollars in future periods as we expand our subscriber base, increase our levels of customer support, expand our domain name business and add data center capacity. Cost of revenue may increase or decrease as a percentage of revenue in a given period, depending on our ability to manage our infrastructure costs, in particular with respect to data centers and support, and as a result of our amortization expense.

Gross Profit

Gross profit is the difference between revenue and cost of revenue. Gross profit has fluctuated from period to period in large part as a result of revenue and cost of revenue adjustments from purchase accounting impacts related to acquisitions, including the Sponsor Acquisition, as well as revenue and cost of revenue impacts from growth in our business. The application of purchase accounting requires us to record purchase accounting adjustments for acquired deferred revenue, which reduces the revenue recorded from acquisitions. The application of purchase accounting requires us to defer domain registration costs (which reduces cost of revenue) and record long-lived assets at fair value (which increases cost of revenue) through an increase in amortization expense over the estimated useful life of the long-lived assets. In addition, our revenue and our cost of revenue have increased in recent years as our subscriber base has expanded. For a new subscriber that we bring on to our platform, we typically recognize revenue over the term of the subscription, even though we collect the subscription fee at the initial billing. As a result, our gross profit may be affected by the prices we charge for our subscriptions, as well as by the number of new subscribers and the terms of their subscriptions. We expect our gross profit to increase in absolute dollars in future periods while our gross profit margin may increase or decrease.

Operating Expense

We classify our operating expense into three categories: sales and marketing, engineering and development, and general and administrative.

Sales and Marketing. Sales and marketing expense primarily consists of costs associated with payments to our network of partners, search engine marketing and search engine optimization, general awareness and brand building activities, and the cost of employees engaged in sales and marketing activities. Sales and marketing expense includes stock-based compensation expense for employees engaged in sales and marketing activities. We expect sales and marketing expense to increase in absolute dollars in future periods as we continue to expand our business and increase our sales efforts. We also expect sales and marketing expense to be our largest category of operating expense for the foreseeable future. Sales and marketing expense as a percentage of revenue may increase or decrease in a given period, depending on the cost of attracting new subscribers to our solutions, changes in how we approach search engine marketing and search engine optimization and the extent of general awareness and brand building activities we may undertake as well as the efficiency of our sales force.

Engineering and Development. Engineering and development expense includes the cost of employees engaged in enhancing our systems, developing and expanding product and service offerings, and integrating technology capabilities from our acquisitions. Engineering and development expense includes stock-based compensation expense for employees engaged in engineering and development activities. We expect engineering and development expense to increase in absolute dollars in future periods as we continue to enhance existing solutions and develop new solutions, but to decrease marginally as a percentage of revenue in future periods.
General and Administrative. General and administrative expense includes the cost of employees engaged in corporate functions, such as finance, human resources, legal affairs and general management. General and administrative expense also includes all facility and related overhead costs not allocated to cost of revenue, as well as insurance premiums and professional service fees. We are incurring additional expenses in preparing for our initial public offering, and will continue to incur additional expenses associated with being a publicly traded company, including increased legal, corporate insurance and accounting expenses, and the additional costs of achieving and maintaining compliance with Section 404 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act and other regulations. General and administrative expense includes stock-based compensation expense for employees engaged in general and administrative activities. We expect that general and administrative expense will continue to increase in absolute dollars and may increase as a percentage of revenue as we further expand our operations and operate as a public company.

Net Interest Income (Expense)
Interest expense consists primarily of costs related to, and interest paid on, our indebtedness. We include the cash cost of interest payments and loan financing fees, the amortization of deferred financing costs and the amortization of the net present value adjustment which we may apply to some deferred consideration payments related to our acquisitions in our calculation of interest expense. Interest income consists primarily of interest income earned on our cash and cash equivalents balances. We expect net interest expense to decrease in future periods as we reduce our indebtedness, provided that interest rates remain similar to those currently in place.

Income Tax Expense (Benefit)
We estimate our income taxes in accordance with the asset and liability method, under which deferred tax assets and liabilities are recognized based on temporary differences between the assets and liabilities in our consolidated financial statements and the financial statements that are prepared in accordance with tax regulations for the purpose of filing our income tax returns, using statutory tax rates. This methodology requires us to record a valuation allowance against net deferred tax assets if, based upon the available evidence, it is more likely than not that some or all of the deferred tax assets will not be realized. For the years ended December 31, 2011 and 2012, we were in a net deferred tax liability position and therefore did not record a valuation allowance.

Critical Accounting Policies and Estimates
We prepare our consolidated financial statements in accordance with GAAP. The preparation of our consolidated financial statements requires us to make estimates, judgments and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the consolidated financial statements and the reported amounts of revenue and expense during the reported periods. We base our estimates, judgments and assumptions on historical experience and on various other assumptions that we believe to be reasonable under the circumstances, the results of which form the basis for making judgments about the carrying values of assets and liabilities that are not readily apparent from other sources. Our actual results may differ from the estimates, judgments and assumptions made by our management. To the extent that there are differences between our estimates, judgments and assumptions and our actual results, our future financial statement presentation, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows may be affected. We believe that the following significant accounting policies, which are more fully described in the notes to our consolidated financial statements included elsewhere in this prospectus, involve a greater degree of judgment and complexity. Accordingly, these are the policies we believe are the most critical to aid in fully understanding and evaluating our financial condition and results of operations.
Revenue Recognition

We generate revenue from selling subscriptions to our cloud-based products and services. The subscriptions we offer are similar across all of our brands and provided under contracts pursuant to which we have ongoing obligations to support the subscriber. These contracts are generally for service periods of up to 36 months and typically require payment in advance. We recognize the associated revenue ratably over the service period, whether the associated revenue is derived from a direct subscriber or through a reseller. Deferred revenue represents the liability to subscribers for advance billings for services not yet provided and the fair value of the assumed liability outstanding for subscriber relationships purchased in an acquisition.

We sell domain name registrations that provide a subscriber with the exclusive use of a domain name. These domains are obtained either by one of our registrars on the subscriber’s behalf, or by us from third-party registrars on the subscriber’s behalf. Domain registration fees are non-refundable.

Revenue from the sale of a domain name registration by one of our registrars is recognized ratably over the subscriber’s service period as we have the obligation to provide support over the domain term. Revenue from the sale of a domain name registration purchased by us from a third-party registrar is recognized when the subscriber is billed on a gross basis as we have no remaining obligations once the sale to the subscriber occurs, and we have full discretion on the sales price and bear all credit risk.

We also earn revenue from the sale of non-term based products and services, such as online security products, professional technical services, website design and search engine optimization services, referral fees and commissions. We recognize such revenue when the product is purchased, the service is provided or the referral fee or commission is earned.

A substantial amount of our revenue is generated from transactions that are multiple-element service arrangements that may include hosting plans, domain name registrations, and cloud-based products and services. Prior to January 1, 2011, when we entered into such arrangements, each element was accounted for separately over its respective service period, provided that such element had value to the subscriber on a stand-alone basis and there was objective and reliable evidence of fair value for such element. If these criteria could not be objectively met or determined, the total value of the bundled services was generally recognized ratably over the entire service period of the hosting plan.

In October 2009, the Financial Accounting Standards Board issued Accounting Standards Update (ASU) No. 2009-13, Revenue Recognition (Topic 605), Multiple-Deliverable Revenue Arrangements—a consensus of the FASB Emerging Issues Task Force, which amended the previous accounting guidance for multiple-element arrangements. Under this new guidance, objective and reliable evidence of fair value of the undelivered elements is no longer required to account for deliverables in a multiple-element service arrangement separately. Instead, the total transaction amount of the multiple-element service arrangement is allocated to each deliverable based on their relative selling price. This guidance eliminates the use of the residual method under the previous guidance. Effective January 1, 2011, we adopted this new accounting guidance on a prospective basis and have applied it to those multiple-element arrangements entered into on or after January 1, 2011. The adoption of this accounting guidance did not have a material impact on our financial condition, results of operations or cash flows.

Under the new accounting guidance, to treat deliverables in a multiple-element service arrangement as separate units of accounting, the deliverables must have standalone value upon delivery. If the deliverables have standalone value upon delivery, we account for each deliverable separately. Hosting services, domain name registrations, cloud-based products and services have standalone value and are often sold separately.
When multiple deliverables included in a multiple-element service arrangement are separated into different units of accounting, the total transaction amount is allocated to the identified separate units based on a relative selling price hierarchy. We determine the relative selling price for a deliverable based on vendor specific objective evidence, or VSOE, of fair value, if available, or best estimate of selling price, or BESP, if VSOE is not available. We have determined that third-party evidence of selling price, or TPE, is not a practical alternative due to differences in our multi-brand offerings compared to competitors and the availability of relevant third-party pricing information. We have not established VSOE for our offerings due to lack of pricing consistency, the introduction of new products, services and other factors. Accordingly, we generally allocate revenue to the deliverables in the arrangement based on the BESP. We determine BESP by considering our relative selling prices, competitive prices in the marketplace and management judgment; these selling prices, however, may vary depending upon the particular facts and circumstances related to each deliverable. We plan to analyze the selling prices used in our allocation of transaction amount, at a minimum, on a quarterly basis. Selling prices will be analyzed on a more frequent basis if a significant change in our business necessitates a more timely analysis.

Goodwill

Goodwill relates to amounts that arose in connection with our various acquisitions and represents the difference between the purchase price and the fair value of the identifiable intangible and tangible net assets when accounted for using the acquisition method of accounting. Goodwill is not amortized, but is subject to periodic review for impairment. Events that would indicate impairment and trigger an interim impairment assessment include, but are not limited to, current economic and market conditions, a decline in the equity value of the business, a significant adverse change in certain agreements that would materially affect reported operating results, business climate or operational performance of the business and an adverse action or assessment by a regulator.

In accordance with ASU No. 2011-08, Intangibles—Goodwill and Other (Topic 350) Testing Goodwill for Impairment, we are required to review goodwill by reporting unit for impairment at least annually or more often if there are indicators of impairment present. We have determined our entire business represents one reporting unit. Historically, we have performed our annual impairment analysis during the fourth quarter of each year. The provisions of ASC 350 require us to perform a two-step impairment test for goodwill. In the first step, we compare the fair value of each reporting unit to which goodwill has been allocated to its carrying value. If the fair value of the reporting unit exceeds the carrying value of the net assets assigned to that reporting unit, goodwill is considered not impaired and we are not required to perform further testing. If the carrying value of the net assets assigned to the reporting unit exceeds the fair value of the reporting unit, then we must perform the second step of the impairment test to determine the implied fair value of the reporting unit’s goodwill. If the carrying value of a reporting unit’s goodwill exceeds its implied fair value, then we record an impairment loss equal to the difference. Due to the timing of the Sponsor Acquisition on December 22, 2011, and the absence of indicators of impairment through the year ended December 31, 2011, we recorded no impairment of goodwill for the 2011 successor period ended December 31, 2011. As of December 31, 2012, the fair value of our reporting unit exceeded the carrying value of the reporting unit’s net assets by more than 600% and, therefore, no impairment existed as of that date.

Determining the fair value of a reporting unit, if applicable, requires us to make judgments and involves the use of significant estimates and assumptions. These estimates and assumptions relate to, among other things, revenue growth rates and operating margins used to calculate projected future cash flow, risk-adjusted discount rates, future economic and market conditions and appropriate market comparables. We base fair value estimates on assumptions we believe to be reasonable but that are unpredictable and inherently uncertain. Actual future results may differ from those estimates.
As of December 31, 2012, we had goodwill of $936.7 million and have recorded no impairment charges.

Long-Lived Assets

Our long-lived assets consist primarily of intangible assets, including acquired subscriber relationships, trade names, intellectual property, developed technology, in-process research and development. We also have long-lived tangible assets, primarily consisting of property and equipment. The majority of our intangible assets have been recorded in connection with our acquisitions, including the Sponsor Acquisition. We record intangible assets at fair value at the time of their acquisition. We amortize intangible assets over their estimated useful lives.

Our determination of the estimated useful lives of the individual categories of intangible assets is based on the nature of the applicable intangible asset and the expected future cash flow to be derived from the intangible asset. We amortize intangible assets with finite lives in accordance with their estimated projected cash flows.

We evaluate long-lived intangible and tangible assets whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of an asset may not be recoverable. If indicators of impairment are present and undiscounted future cash flow is less than the carrying amount, then we determine the fair value of the assets and compare it to the carrying value. If the fair value is less than the carrying value, then we reduce the carrying value to the estimated fair value and record an impairment in the period it is identified. We did not recognize any impairments of long-lived intangible and tangible assets in the years ended December 31, 2011 or 2012.

Depreciation and Amortization

We purchase or build the servers we place in the data centers that we lease. We also purchase the computer equipment that is used by our support and sales teams and employees in our offices. We capitalize the build-out of our facilities as leasehold improvements. Cost of revenue includes depreciation on data center equipment and support infrastructure. We also include depreciation in general and administrative expense, which includes depreciation on office equipment and leasehold improvements.

Amortization expense consists of expense related to the amortization of intangible long-lived assets. In connection with our acquisitions, we allocate fair value to acquired long-lived intangible assets, which include subscriber relationships, trademarks and developed technology. We use estimates and valuation techniques to determine the estimated useful lives of our intangible assets and amortize them to cost of revenue.

Income Taxes

We provide for income taxes in accordance with ASC 740, Accounting for Income Taxes. We recognize deferred tax assets and liabilities for the future tax consequences attributable to differences between the financial statement carrying amounts of existing assets and liabilities and their respective tax bases and operating loss and tax credit carry-forwards. We measure deferred tax assets and liabilities using enacted tax rates that we expect to apply to taxable income in the years in which we expect those temporary differences to be recovered or settled. We recognize the effect of changes in tax rates on deferred tax assets and liabilities in the period that includes the enactment date. We account for uncertain tax positions following the provisions of ASC 740. ASC 740 clarifies the accounting for income taxes, by prescribing a minimum recognition threshold that a tax position is required to meet before being recognized in the financial statements. We recognize the effect of income tax positions only if those positions are more likely than not of being sustained. We measure recognized income tax positions at the largest amount that is more likely than not to be realized. We reflect changes in recognition or measurement in the period in which the change in judgment occurs.

We record interest related to unrecognized tax benefits in interest expense and penalties in operating expense. We did not recognize any interest or penalties related to unrecognized tax benefits during 2011 or 2012.

Stock-Based Compensation Arrangements

Prior to this offering and since the Sponsor Acquisition, our stock-based awards have consisted of awards of class B units in WP Expedition Topco, which was our ultimate parent company prior to our corporate reorganization.

In connection with the Sponsor Acquisition, which occurred on December 22, 2011, our equity structure was reorganized to consist of class A units and class B units of WP Expedition Topco. Since then, we have made stock-based awards to employees in the form of “profits interests” with respect to class B units in WP Expedition Topco. Each profits interest is granted with a “threshold amount,” meaning that the recipient of the profits interest only participates in the value of WP Expedition Topco to the extent that the entity appreciates in value from and after the date of grant of the profits interest (with the value of the entity as of the grant date being the “threshold amount”). For this purpose, the U.S. federal income tax rules allow taxpayers to set the threshold amount based on the liquidation value of the entity as of the date of grant (without the need to take into account the future potential value of the entity). Thus, each award of class B units granted by WP Expedition Topco had a threshold amount based on the liquidation value of the entity as of the grant date of the award.

As a result of these thresholds, the economics of a class B unit is effectively similar to an option, in that the class B unit shares only in the increase in value of our company that results after the class B unit was issued.

Assuming an estimated initial public offering price of $15.00 per share (the midpoint of the price range set forth on the cover page of this prospectus), we expect that an aggregate of 105,187,363 shares of common stock will be distributed in respect of an aggregate of 573,933,985 class A units and class B units in our corporate reorganization, in accordance with the various preferences and threshold amounts associated with such units. For more information on our corporate reorganization, see “Corporate Reorganization.”

As required for financial statement reporting purposes, we recognize stock-based compensation expense for awards of class B units based on the estimated “fair value” of the class B units on a straight-line basis over the requisite service period for those awards subject to time vesting and when it is probable a performance target will be met for those awards with vesting subject to the achievement of performance targets. Unless otherwise determined by our board of directors, awards of class B units are allocated 50% to class B-1 units, which generally vest over a four-year period, and 50% to class B-2 units, which vest depending on the achievement of specified performance targets.

In accordance with the guidelines outlined in the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants Practice Aid, “Valuation of Privately-Held-Company Equity Securities Issued as Compensation,” for financial statement reporting purposes, the “fair value” of our equity was determined by management. Because, at the time the class B units were granted, we were a private company with no active market for our equity securities, in connection with preparing our 2012 financial statements, in May 2013, we retrospectively assessed the fair value of our class B units for the 2012 and January 2013 grants for financial statement reporting purposes, as described below. In doing so, valuation analyses were prepared and were used by our management to assist in determining the fair value.
value of our class B units. The assumptions used in the valuation models were based on future expectations combined with management's judgment. In the absence of a public trading market, our management exercised significant judgment and considered numerous objective and subjective factors to determine the fair value of the class B units as of the date of each award grant. These factors included:

- contemporaneous or retrospective valuations for our company and our securities;
- the rights, preferences, and privileges of the class B-1 and class B-2 units relative to each other as well as to the class A units;
- lack of marketability of our equity securities;
- historical operating and financial performance;
- our stage of development;
- current business conditions and projections;
- hiring of key personnel and the experience of our management team;
- risks inherent to the development of our products and services and delivery of our solutions;
- trends and developments in our industry;
- the threshold amount for the class B units and the values at which the class B-2 units would vest;
- the market performance of comparable publicly traded companies;
- likelihood of achieving a liquidity event, such as an initial public offering or a merger or acquisition of our company given prevailing market conditions; and
- U.S. and global economic and capital market conditions.

For purposes of preparing these valuations, our enterprise value was first determined and then adjusted for the level of our indebtedness to determine the fair value of equity of our company. This fair value of equity was then allocated among the securities that comprise our capital structure using the option-pricing method. The option-pricing method treats equity securities as call options on the total fair value of equity of the company, with exercise prices based on the value thresholds at which the allocation among the various holders of our securities changes. The option-pricing method is based on the Black-Scholes option-pricing model. Black-Scholes assumes an option is exercisable only at expiration and incorporates five fundamental inputs: stock price, exercise price, term, risk-free rate and volatility. Dividend yield may be incorporated as an adjustment if there is an expected dividend. The assumptions for volatility, expected life, risk-free rate, expected dividend yield and lack of marketability for our grants of class B units since January 1, 2012 were as follows:

To apply the option-pricing method, the rights and preferences of the various securities that comprise the capital structure of our company were first determined. Next the various fair values of equity (referred to under the option-pricing model as the "exercise prices") at which the sharing percentages would change among our securities were calculated. These exercise prices were based on liquidation preferences of preferred securities, the threshold values of the class B units and values...

at which the class B-2 units would vest. The values of the options associated with each exercise price were calculated using the Black-Scholes option-pricing model. The option value bands were allocated to the various security holders who would share in the equity if the value of our company was between the two corresponding exercise prices. The volatility of our company’s fair value of equity was estimated by examining the standard deviation of stock returns of several comparable companies. The term input was established based on management’s expectations of timing to a liquidity event, and the risk-free rate corresponds to the expected term. Following the equity allocation, a discount for lack of marketability was applied to the class B-1 units and class B-2 units to reflect the increased risk arising from the inability to readily sell the units.

The following table summarizes class B units outstanding as a result of grants made since January 1, 2012 (per unit values presented include the applicable marketability discount):

Significant factors contributing to the fair value of the class B-1 units and class B-2 units at the date of each grant and changes in fair value between grant dates were as follows:

February and May 2012. We granted 45,839,080 class B units on February 22, 2012 and 400,000 class B units on May 17, 2012, allocated on each date equally between class B-1 units and class B-2 units. In connection with our corporate reorganization, and based on an estimated initial public offering price of $15.00 per share (the midpoint of the price range set forth on the cover page of this prospectus), we expect to distribute an aggregate of 6,926,308 shares of common stock, of which 5,379,342 will be vested and 1,546,966 will be unvested, in respect of the outstanding class B units granted on February 22, 2012 and May 17, 2012.

Our board of directors, with input from management, concluded there had been no material changes in our business between the Sponsor Acquisition in December 2011 and February 2012. As a result, our board of directors granted the class B units on February 22, 2012 with a threshold amount equal to $508.4 million, which is equal to the invested equity by holders of class A units as of the date of the Sponsor Acquisition. For purposes of determining the “fair value” of the class B units for financial statement reporting purposes, management, after considering numerous objective and subjective factors, determined that the company had a fair value of equity of $480.2 million at February 22, 2012. This fair value of equity was determined by taking the $975.0 million implied enterprise value of the company (which includes both invested equity and debt) as of the date of the Sponsor Acquisition and adjusting this amount for cash and indebtedness of the company as of February 22, 2012. The resulting fair value of equity at February 22, 2012 was then allocated among the securities that comprised our capital structure using the option-pricing model.

Other key inputs into the option-pricing method included an expected volatility of 45%, a term of 2.75 years based on the expected holding period until a major liquidity event (meaning an initial public offering or change of control transaction) and a risk-free rate of 0.4% corresponding to the expected term. The aggregate value of the units derived from the option-pricing method was then divided by the number of units outstanding to arrive at the per unit values. A 28.4% discount for lack of marketability was applied to the class B-1 units and class B-2 units to reflect the increased risk arising from the inability to readily sell the units. The class B-1 units and class B-2 units were valued as part of the same option-pricing method, but their fair values depended on their vesting requirements. The class B-1 units were assumed to be fully vested at the time of a future liquidity event as the class B-1 units vest based on a service condition and only participate in equity distributions on a pro rata basis following the complete return of contributed capital to the class A units (i.e., the threshold amount for such class B units). The class B-2 units vest in the event specified equity return targets or thresholds have been met with respect to the class A units. Therefore, the pro rata equity distribution in respect of class B-2 units is contingent upon the total future value at the time of a liquidity event and, to the extent vested, the class B-2 units only participate in equity distributions on a pro rata basis following the complete return of contributed capital to the class A units (i.e., the threshold amount for such class B units is satisfied). This market condition is reflected in the fair value estimate of the class B-2 units.

Our board of directors, with input from management, and after considering numerous other objective and subjective factors, concluded that there had been no material changes in our business between February 22, 2012 and May 17, 2012. As a result, both the threshold amount and the fair value determined as of February 22, 2012 were used for purposes of the class B units awarded on May 17, 2012.

November 2012. We granted 13,864,358 class B-1 units on November 7, 2012. In connection with our corporate reorganization, and based an estimated initial public offering price of $15.00 per share (the midpoint of the price range set forth on the cover page of this prospectus), we expect to distribute an aggregate of 1,842,293 shares of common stock, all of which will be vested, in respect of the outstanding class B units granted on November 7, 2012.

Our board of directors determined the threshold amount for the November 7, 2012 grants to be equal to $735.6 million. This threshold amount was based on the valuation analysis described below, adding back the $300.0 million pending dividend payment. In determining the fair value of the class B-1 units granted on November 7, 2012 for financial statement reporting purposes, we undertook a valuation analysis as of October 31, 2012 to give effect on a pro forma basis to our 2012 acquisitions of HostGator and Homestead, which took into consideration the debt refinancing and $300.0 million dividend payment transaction that was in process and closed on November 9, 2012. Our management after considering numerous objective and subjective factors, concluded that there were no material changes in our business from October 31, 2012 through November 7, 2012, other than those considered in the pro forma adjustments described above. Our management therefore determined that no additional adjustments were necessary. The valuation then involved a two-step process. First, the $1,618.2 million enterprise value of our company was established using generally accepted valuation methodologies, including discounted cash flow analysis, comparable public company analysis and comparable acquisitions analysis. Each methodology was considered and equally weighted in the final enterprise value estimate. After determining the enterprise value, this amount was adjusted for our cash and indebtedness to determine the total fair value of equity of the company, which amounted to $435.6 million. Second, the fair value of equity was allocated among the equity securities that comprised our capital structure using the option-pricing method. Other key inputs into the option-pricing method included an expected volatility of 40%, a term of 2.0 years based on the expected holding period until a liquidity event and a risk-free rate of 0.3% corresponding to the expected term.

The aggregate value of the units derived from the option-pricing method was then divided by the number of units outstanding to arrive at the per unit values. A 21.9% discount for lack of marketability was applied to the class B-1 units and class B-2 units to reflect the increased risk arising from the inability to readily sell the units. As discussed above, the class B-1 units were assumed to be fully vested upon a future liquidity event and receive pro rata equity distributions once the threshold amount with respect to such units has been achieved. The class B-2 units contain a market condition such that vesting is contingent upon future total equity value targets and, solely to the extent vested, the class B-2 units participate in equity distributions on a pro rata basis once the threshold amount with respect to such units has been achieved. The fair value of the class B-2 units reflected their specific targets.

December 2012 and January 2013. We granted 2,570,234 class B units on December 17, 2012 and 3,072,774 class B units on January 8, 2013, allocated on each date equally between class B-1 units and class B-2 units. In connection with our corporate reorganization, and based an estimated initial public offering price of $15.00 per share (the midpoint of the price range set forth on the cover page of this prospectus), we expect to distribute an aggregate of 688,049 shares of common stock, of which 88,578 will be vested and 599,471 will be unvested, in respect of the outstanding class B units granted on December 17, 2012 and January 8, 2013.

Our board of directors, with input from management, concluded that there had been no material changes in our business between October 31, 2012 and January 2013. Our board of directors therefore determined the threshold amount for these grants to be $516.0 million. This threshold amount was determined by starting with the post-dividend enterprise value determined in the November 2012 valuation analysis and adding the amount of cash on hand. For purposes of determining the fair value of the class B units for financial statement reporting purposes, management, after considering numerous objective and subjective factors, determined that the company had a fair value of equity of $427.3 million at December 17, 2012. The fair value of equity of the company at December 17, 2012 was derived by taking the $1,618.2 million enterprise value of the company determined at the October 31, 2012 valuation analysis and adjusting this amount for cash and indebtedness of the company as of December 17, 2012.

The resulting $427.3 million fair value of equity at December 17, 2012 was then allocated among the securities that comprised our capital structure using the option-pricing method. Other key inputs into the option-pricing method included an expected volatility of 40%, a term of 1.88 years based on the expected holding period until a liquidity event and a risk-free rate of 0.2% corresponding to the expected term. The aggregate value of the units derived from the option-pricing method was then divided by the number of units outstanding to arrive at the per unit values. A 21.3% discount for lack of marketability was applied to the class B-1 units and class B-2 units to reflect the increased risk arising from the inability to readily sell the units. As discussed above, the class B-1 units were assumed to be fully vested upon a future liquidity event and receive pro rata equity distributions once the threshold amount with respect to such units has been achieved. The class B-2 units contain a market condition such that vesting is contingent upon future total equity value targets and, solely to the extent vested, the class B-2 units participate in equity distributions on a pro rata basis once the threshold amount with respect to such units has been achieved. The fair value of the class B-2 units reflected their specific targets.

Our board of directors, with input from management, and after considering numerous other objective and subjective factors, concluded that there had been no material changes in our business between December 17, 2012 and January 8, 2013. As a result, the fair value determined as of December 17, 2012 was used to value the class B units awarded on January 8, 2013.

Equity Value Underlying Option Value. As described above, the class B units are economically similar to an option. Accordingly, the value of the class B units reflected in our consolidated financial statements is the option value, rather than the underlying equity value. To make a proper comparison of the value of our underlying equity at the time of the grant of the class B units, the underlying equity value must be derived from the class B unit valuation. Effectively, this underlying equity value would be used in the Black-Scholes option pricing model to determine the value of a class B unit. In addition, the class B-2 units are further discounted to take into account the probability that the performance target will never be reached. On this basis, and based on an estimated initial public offering price of $15.00 (the midpoint of the price range set forth on the cover page of this prospectus), the valuation for the January 8, 2013 grant date is as follows:

After giving effect to our corporate reorganization, an aggregate of 379,521 shares of common stock will have been issued in respect of the class B-1 units and class B-2 units granted on January 8, 2013.

The assumed initial public offering price of $15.00 per share (the midpoint of the price range set forth on the cover page of this prospectus) reflects an increase in total equity value of our company from $427.3 million as of the November 2012 valuation used for the January 8, 2013 grant to $1,955.4 million. We believe the difference between (1) the historical fair value of our common stock for the January 2013 grants (after giving effect to our corporate reorganization) as determined for financial statement reporting purposes, and (2) the midpoint of the initial public offering price range is a result of the following factors, including improvements in our business as a result of acquisitions and the impact of external market conditions.

Impact of Capital Structure on Equity Valuation: the Leverage Effect. In determining the estimated price range for this offering, the underwriters have performed valuation analyses based on a comparable public company analysis. Under this analysis, our company is valued by reference to cash flow multiples, such as adjusted EBITDA and unlevered free cash flow. Applying multiples of cash flow metrics translates to an enterprise value for our company. In previous valuations for determining class B unit grants, we have used similar cash flow multiples and discounted cash flow analysis based methodologies which determine an enterprise value for our company. Regardless of the methodology used on a particular date to determine enterprise value, equity value is determined by subtracting net indebtedness from enterprise value. As a result, our significant indebtedness has a material effect on our equity value. Under similar levels of net indebtedness since January 8, 2013, absolute increases in our enterprise value resulted in a nearly equivalent absolute increase in our equity value; however, given our indebtedness, percentage increases in our equity value are much higher than percentage increases in our enterprise value. Further, our capital structure provides additional leverage in allocating the value among the classes of equity, as discussed above.

Increases in Comparable Company Multiples. Since January 2013, we have nearly doubled our size. Our revenues have increased from $292 million in 2012 to over $500 million expected in 2013, per our current estimates. We have added new products and services and added significantly more subscribers. Accordingly, we have expanded the group of public comparable companies used to derive adjusted EBITDA and unlevered free cash flow multiples that are used in our valuation methodologies.

Compared to the peer group used in the comparable companies valuation underlying the January 2013 grants, the comparable companies analysis used to determine the estimated price range for the offering includes a broader set of relevant public company peers that operate similar web hosting, SMB-focused and subscription-based business models and exhibit comparable growth and margin profiles. This is due in part to the expansion of our business, and in part to our progress toward an initial public offering, in that time. In January 2013, the peer group consisted of Constant Contact, Equinix, InterXion, NetSuite, Rackspace, Telecity, United Internet, VistaPrint and Web.com. The more recent analysis consisted of Angie’s List, Constant Contact, Demandware, HomeAway, InterXion, Intuit, NetSuite, Open Table, Rackspace, ReachLocal, RealPage, SolarWinds, Telecity, Trulia, United Internet, VistaPrint, Web.com, Yelp and Zillow.

In addition, the valuation analysis for the January 2013 grant adjusted the forward EBITDA multiples for the comparable companies to reflect differences in growth and risk profile. This is not the case for the more recent comparable companies analysis, however, as our growth in adjusted EBITDA and risk profile are now considered to be generally in-line with the defined peer group as we mature as a business and prepare to operate as a public company.

Further, from the January 2013 grant to September 26, 2013, the overall stock market has performed well, with the S&P 500 rising 16.6% from 1,457.2 to 1,698.7 and the NASDAQ up 22.5% from 3,091.8 to 3,787.4. During the same time, the peers in the comparable companies analysis grew equity value by approximately 23.9%, while their forward-looking adjusted EBITDA also increased.

Improvements in Our Business as a Result of Acquisitions. The valuation analysis underlying the January 2013 grants used a forward-looking adjusted EBITDA of $171.5 million for the comparable companies analysis. We completed our acquisition of HostGator in July 2012 and our acquisition of Homestead in September 2012. At the time of the valuation analysis used for the January 8, 2013 grants, we had limited data and visibility into the synergy potential of these acquisitions and how they might contribute to our revenues, long-term adjusted EBITDA and UFCF. As we have integrated the HostGator and Homestead businesses and subscribers into our existing business and operations, we have found additional ways to create and take advantage of synergies for the combined operations and increase revenues for the HostGator and Homestead brands, thereby increasing our revenue, adjusted EBITDA and UFCF. As a result, our expectations for projected revenue, adjusted EBITDA and UFCF, as well as their respective growth rates in future periods, have increased relative to our expectations as of January 2013. The comparable companies analysis used to determine the estimated price range for this offering is based on forward-looking adjusted EBITDA of greater than $200 million.

Acceleration and Modification of Vesting of Class B Units. In connection with the corporate reorganization, and effective at or prior to the closing of the offering, we will accelerate the vesting of approximately 2,339,344 shares issued in respect of class B-1 units and modify the vesting of shares issued in respect of class B-2 units, so that approximately 2,733,915 shares issued in respect of class B-2 units will be fully vested and approximately 883,458 shares issued in respect of class B-2 units will follow the same vesting schedule as the shares issued in respect of class B-1 units that were granted on the same date.

Accounting Treatment of Proposed Transactions. As discussed above, in the corporate reorganization, we will distribute shares of common stock among the holders of class A units and class B units in accordance with a waterfall based on the existing preferences of such units and by reference to the value of such shares of common stock as measured by the initial public offering price. No additional value through distribution of additional shares will be conveyed to any individual class A or class B unit holder in excess of what would be distributed, as a consequence of distributing shares in accordance with the waterfall. The value of the common stock distributed will therefore be the same immediately prior to and upon distribution of such stock and as such the distribution itself not give rise to an amount that would require us to record additional stock compensation cost.

Modification to Vesting of Class B-2 Units. As described above, we have determined that upon the completion of the offering, the performance thresholds associated with the class B-2 units will have been met in full, which means that all class B-2 units would be fully vested. However, in connection with the corporate reorganization, and effective at or prior to the closing of the offering, we will modify the vesting of the class B-2 units from performance- to time-based vesting so that approximately 18.3 million class B-2 units will be fully vested and approximately 7.6 million class B-2 units will be unvested. The shares of common stock issued in respect of the unvested units will follow the same vesting schedule as the outstanding class B-1 units. An additional modification to the class B-2 units will remove any restriction on the sale of vested class B-2 units.

Accelerated Vesting of Class B-1 Units. As described above, we have determined that upon the completion of the offering we will accelerate the vesting of approximately 16.5 million class B-1 units.

Accounting Impact of the Change in Vesting Terms. As a result of the modification of the vesting terms of the class B-2 units, we have concluded that vesting of the class B-2 units will be probable at the date of the modification. In accordance with the Financial Accounting Standards Board Accounting Standards Codification No. 718, Compensation—Stock Compensation, we will recognize the unrecognized stock-based compensation expense related to the class B-2 unit grants based on the original grant date fair value of approximately $1.7 million. Stock-based compensation expense of approximately $1.4 million will be recognized upon the closing of the offering for the class B-2 units that will be vested at closing and for which shares of common stock will be distributed, and stock-based compensation expense of approximately $0.3 million will be recognized ratably over the remaining vesting schedule for the class B-2 units that will be unvested at closing and for which shares of common stock will be distributed. We will determine whether there is any incremental fair value of the modified class B-2 units at the time of modification, and the incremental fair value, if any, will be recorded immediately for the class B-2 units that will be vested at closing and ratably over the remaining vesting schedule for the class B-2 units that will be unvested at closing.

In connection with the acceleration of vesting of a portion of the class B-1 units, we expect to incur approximately $2.4 million of compensation expense at the date of the modification for previously unvested class B-1 units.

Impact of Sponsor Acquisition

On December 22, 2011, investment funds and entities affiliated with either Warburg Pincus or Goldman Sachs acquired a controlling interest in our company. As a result, our consolidated financial statements present our operating results and cash flows separately for periods prior to and after the Sponsor Acquisition. Our company is referred to as the “predecessor” for all periods prior to the Sponsor Acquisition and is referred to as the “successor” for all periods after the Sponsor Acquisition. Accordingly, our operating results and cash flows for calendar year 2011 consist of the operating results and cash flows of the predecessor for the period January 1 through December 21, 2011 and the operating results and cash flows of the successor for the period December 22 through December 31, 2011. The tables below summarize our operating results for all periods presented in our consolidated financial statements. Because the successor had only ten days of operations in calendar year 2011, the discussion below of our 2011 operating results is based solely on the results of the predecessor for the period January 1 through December 21, 2011. For additional information about the Sponsor Acquisition, see Note 1 to our consolidated financial statements included elsewhere in this prospectus.

Our predecessor financial statements were not affected by the application of purchase accounting related to the Sponsor Acquisition. The application of purchase accounting required us to record all acquired assets and liabilities, including deferred revenue, deferred costs and long-lived assets, at fair value, which in some cases was different than their book values. As a result, our consolidated statements of operations for periods subsequent to December 22, 2011 will not be directly comparable to our consolidated statements of operations for periods prior to December 22, 2011. The total impact of the purchase accounting treatment on our loss from operations resulting from the Sponsor Acquisition in the 2011 successor period and in 2012 was $2.0 million and $47.1 million, respectively, and the impact in the six months ended June 30, 2012 and 2013 was $29.9 million and $13.5 million, respectively. These impacts consisted of the following components:

Impact on Revenue. We assessed the fair value of acquired deferred revenue to be $57.5 million, representing a decrease of $73.2 million from its $130.7 million book value. The effect of recording deferred revenue to fair value was to reduce revenue in successor periods. The impact to revenue in the 2011 successor period and in 2012 was $1.9 million and $47.2 million, respectively, and the impact in the six months ended June 30, 2012 and 2013 was $33.6 million and $4.1 million, respectively.

Impact on Cost of Revenue. In conjunction with recording deferred revenue at fair value, we recorded related deferred domain registration costs at fair value, resulting in a $13.6 million decrease in deferred costs in successor periods. The impact on cost of revenue from deferring domain registration costs in the 2011 successor period and in 2012 was $0.1 million and $11.9 million, respectively, and the impact in the six months ended June 30, 2012 and 2013 was $8.0 million and $0.6 million, respectively. In our assessment of fair value of acquired long-lived assets, we recorded the fair value of our developed technology at $167.0 million, representing an increase of $160.1 million from a book value of $6.9 million. This increase is being amortized on a straight-line basis over ten years. In addition, we recorded the fair value of our subscriber relationships and trademarks at $221.4 million, representing an increase of $104.2 million from a book value of $117.2 million. This increase is being amortized over ten to 15 years. The effect of recording long-lived assets at fair value was an increase in amortization expense to be recognized in successor periods. The impact on cost of revenue from amortizing the changes to acquired long lived assets in the 2011 successor period and in 2012 was $0.2 million and $11.8 million, respectively, and the impact in the six months ended June 30, 2012 and 2013 was $4.3 million and $9.9 million, respectively.

Comparison of Six Months Ended June 30, 2012 and 2013

Revenue

Revenue increased by $159.2 million, or 173%, from $91.8 million for the six months ended June 30, 2012 to $251.0 million for the six months ended June 30, 2013, due to increased demand for our solutions from both new and existing subscribers, including subscribers of businesses we acquired, as well as increases in prices paid by our subscribers at renewals or after expiration of promotional periods. Of this revenue increase, $107.7 million resulted from revenue attributable to businesses we acquired since June 30, 2012. $29.5 million was a result of lower revenue in the six months ended June 30, 2012 due to purchase accounting adjustments to deferred revenue, and $22.0 million was primarily attributable to an increase in the number of subscribers not associated with our acquisitions.

Cost of revenue increased by $94.6 million, or 117%, from $80.6 million for the six months ended June 30, 2012 to $175.2 million for the six months ended June 30, 2013. Of this increase, $79.0 million was due to cost of revenue attributable to businesses we acquired since June 30, 2012, and $12.4 million was attributable to growth in the business offset by a $9.9 million decrease in amortization expense. The $12.4 million from growth in the business was primarily due to a $4.7 million increase in depreciation expense as we expanded our data center infrastructure, a $3.8 million increase in domain registration costs, a $1.8 million increase in costs attributable to third party services as our business expanded and $2.1 million of payroll and benefits associated with increased headcount as we enhanced our support infrastructure to serve our expanding subscriber base. The impact of the purchase accounting adjustments related to amortization and domain registration costs was $13.1 million.

Sales and marketing. Sales and marketing expense increased by $21.7 million, or 59%, from $36.6 million for the six months ended June 30, 2012 to $58.3 million for the six months ended June 30, 2013. Of this increase, $16.4 million was attributable to sales and marketing expense incurred by businesses we acquired during 2012, and the remaining $5.3 million was primarily due to higher payroll and benefits associated with increased headcount as we expanded our sales and marketing organization.

Engineering and development. Engineering and development expense increased by $8.2 million, or 206%, from $4.0 million for the six months ended June 30, 2012 to $12.2 million for the six months ended June 30, 2013. This increase was primarily due to our focus on integrating technology capabilities from acquisitions, enhancing our systems, expanding our product and service offerings and engineering and development headcount increases associated with our acquisitions since June 30, 2012. Engineering and development headcount increased from 67 employees as of June 30, 2012 to 174 employees as of June 30, 2013.

General and administrative expense increased by $16.1 million, or 132%, from $12.2 million for the six months ended June 30, 2012 to $28.4 million for the six months ended June 30, 2013. Of this increase, $7.3 million consisted of general and administrative expense incurred by businesses we acquired since June 30, 2012, and the remaining $8.8 million increase was primarily due to increased expense associated with acquisitions, our preparation for becoming a public company and increased spending to support the growth in our business.

Revenue increased by $104.8 million, or 56%, from $187.3 million for the 2011 predecessor period to $292.2 million for 2012, due to increased demand for our solutions from both new and existing subscribers, including subscribers of businesses we acquired, as well as increases in prices paid by our subscribers at renewals or after expiration of promotional periods. Of this revenue increase, $75.6 million resulted from revenue attributable to businesses we acquired during the three months ended September 30, 2012 and $76.4 million was primarily attributable to an increase in the number of subscribers not associated with our 2012 acquisitions. Purchase accounting adjustments reduced 2012 revenue by $47.2 million.
Cost of Revenue

Cost of revenue increased by $103.8 million, or 78%, from $133.4 million for the 2011 predecessor period to $237.2 million for 2012. Of this increase, $64.8 million was attributable to businesses we acquired in 2012, $33.3 million was attributable to growth in the business and $5.7 million was attributable to integration costs. The $33.3 million from growth in the business was primarily attributable to $20.7 million of increased domain registration costs, $4.6 million of increased third party costs and $4.3 million of payroll and benefits associated with increased headcount as we enhanced our support infrastructure to serve our larger subscriber base. Purchase accounting adjustments related to amortization of increased costs in 2012 by $11.8 million, offset by purchase accounting adjustments related to domain registration costs that reduced costs in 2012 by $11.9 million.

Gross Profit

Gross profit increased by $1.0 million, or 2%, from $53.9 million for the 2011 predecessor period to $55.0 million for 2012. Of this increase, $43.0 million was attributable to increases in our subscriber base unrelated to business acquisitions and $10.8 million was attributable to increases in our subscriber base as a result of the HostGator and Homestead businesses we acquired subsequent to June 30, 2012, offset by $47.1 million due to the impact of purchase accounting adjustments related to the Sponsor Acquisition, consisting of recording the fair value of acquired deferred revenue and related deferred domain registration costs and the amortization expense arising from recording the fair value of our acquired long-lived assets, and by $5.7 million due to integration costs.

Engineering and Development. Engineering and development expense increased by $8.3 million, or 149%, from $5.5 million in the 2011 predecessor period to $13.8 million in 2012. This increase was primarily due to our focus on expanding our product and service offerings, integrating technology capabilities and engineering and development headcount increases associated with our acquisitions during 2012. Engineering and development headcount increased from 51 employees as of December 31, 2011 to 164 employees as of December 31, 2012.

General and Administrative. General and administrative expense increased by $31.5 million, or 186%, from $16.9 million in the 2011 predecessor period to $48.4 million in 2012. The benefit for income taxes for 2012 increased by $77.3 million compared to the 2011 predecessor period. The increase was primarily due to an increase in losses in 2012, partially offset by nondeductible compensation. In 2011, the benefit related primarily to the losses generated in the successor period. In 2011, as a result of purchase accounting, we recorded deferred tax liabilities primarily related to intangibles and deferred revenue, and we also released our valuation allowance.

We had a full valuation allowance in the 2011 predecessor period and recognized only minimum current state taxes.

Factors affecting our quarterly results include the following:

- Seasonality. Our quarterly results include some seasonality in the sale of our products and services. Historically, we have experienced increased sales in the first quarter, which positively affects total revenue in that quarter and the first quarter of subsequent years. Because the majority of our sales are on a subscription basis, however, the revenue impact from seasonal differences is mitigated because we ratably recognize related revenue throughout the year. Corresponding seasonality in marketing expense can result in fluctuations from one quarter to another as we record marketing expense in the quarter the cost is incurred.

- Acquisitions. Our quarterly results reflect the impact of acquisitions. We acquired HostGator and A Small Orange in July 2012, which contributed to the increase in revenue and expense for the third quarter of 2012. We acquired Homestead in September 2012, which contributed to the increase in revenue and expense for the fourth quarter of 2012. We acquired HostGator Brazil in February 2013, which provided a small contribution to the increase in revenue and expense for the first quarter of 2013. The amortization arising from the fair value ascribed to acquired intangible assets related to the HostGator and Homestead acquisitions was a significant contributor to the increase in cost of revenue in the third and fourth quarters of 2012.
Headcount. Our headcount and associated payroll and benefits increased sequentially for each of the periods presented above as we made investments in executive talent and additional personnel across all functions. This increase was related to growth in our business, the on-boarding of personnel from acquired companies, and preparations for becoming a public company. From March 31, 2012 to June 30, 2013, our total headcount increased from 860 to 2,580, or by 200%.

A brief discussion of our quarterly results since January 1, 2012 follows:

Revenue. Our quarterly revenue increased sequentially for each of the periods presented above, reflecting increased sales of our products and services from new and existing subscribers, as well as the effects of seasonality and acquisitions, as described above. We expect sequential revenue growth to continue as we add new subscribers and increase our sales of products and services to our existing subscribers. The rate of sequential growth may change from our historical rates of growth, particularly because our historical growth includes the impact of acquisitions.

Cost of revenue. Our quarterly cost of revenue increased sequentially for each of the periods presented above, primarily due to the amortization of intangible assets and other costs assumed with our acquisitions. Cost of revenue also increased as a result of servicing our expanding subscriber base and increasing sales of our products and services to our subscribers. This additional expense was primarily from payroll and benefits associated with increased headcount as we enhanced our support infrastructure to serve our growing subscriber base. We expect our cost of revenue to continue to increase in absolute dollars as we expand our subscriber base and increase our sales of products and services to our subscribers. Our cost of revenue may increase or decrease as a percentage of sales in future periods depending on our ability to manage our infrastructure costs, in particular with respect to data centers and support.

Operating expense. Total operating expense has increased sequentially for each of the periods presented above, primarily due to acquisitions and increases in headcount across all functions. Sales and marketing expense in the first quarter of 2013 was higher than in the fourth quarter in 2012 due to increased marketing expense and increases in sales headcount. Engineering and development expense increased for each of the periods presented above due to increasing headcount as we expanded our engineering and development expertise to create more compelling products and services, enhance our systems and further develop our analytics capabilities. General and administrative expense increased sequentially in 2012 and decreased in the first quarter of 2013. The sequential increases during 2012 were from increased professional service fees to support the growth in our business, as well as expenses related to acquisitions. In the second quarter of 2012, we incurred expenses in connection with the redemption of preferred shares of a subsidiary, as well as financing fees. In the third quarter of 2012, we incurred transaction fees primarily in connection with the HostGator and Homestead acquisitions and related financing fees. We also incurred professional fees in connection with international expansion, which continued through the first quarter of 2013. The increase in the fourth quarter and subsequent decrease in the first quarter of 2013 was due to dividend payments accounted for as compensation expense and the expense of deferred bonus payments in connection with the HostGator acquisition. In the first quarter of 2013, we incurred increased expense in preparation for becoming a public company.

Interest income (expense). Our quarterly increase in interest expense reflects the increase in our total indebtedness as we completed financings in the second, third and fourth quarters of 2012 partially offset by reductions in interest rates. In the fourth quarter of 2012, we recorded as expense all fees paid to or on behalf of the lenders and wrote off all deferred financing fees arising from prior financings, in accordance with GAAP debt extinguishment rules. This reduced the amortization of financing fees for the first quarter of 2013.
Income tax benefit. Our quarterly tax benefit increased sequentially in 2012 and decreased in the first quarter of 2013. The changes in the tax benefit primarily relate to changes in our deferred taxes. The increase in the tax benefit in the third quarter over the first and second quarters of 2012 was primarily due to acquisitions closed during the third quarter. The increase in tax benefit in the fourth quarter of 2012 was due to increased losses in the quarter, primarily from increased interest expense associated with the increase in our indebtedness. The decrease in the first quarter of 2013 was due to a decrease in our losses as compared to the previous quarter.

Liquidity and Capital Resources
We have funded our operations since inception primarily with borrowings under credit facilities, cash flow generated by operations and, to a lesser extent, from the sale of equity securities. As of June 30, 2013, we had cash and cash equivalents totaling $17.0 million and negative working capital of $261.4 million. As of June 30, 2013, we had approximately $1,134.0 million of aggregate indebtedness, consisting of $796.0 million outstanding under our first lien term loan facility, $315.0 million outstanding under our second lien term loan facility and $23.0 million outstanding under our $85.0 million revolving credit facility. In August 2013, we borrowed an additional $90.0 million under our first lien term loan facility and repaid $37.0 million, which was the total amount then outstanding, under our revolving credit facility. As of August 31, 2013, there were no amounts outstanding under our $85.0 million revolving credit facility.

Cash and Cash Equivalents
As of June 30, 2013, our cash and cash equivalents were held for working capital purposes and for required principal and interest payments under our indebtedness. A majority of our cash and cash equivalents was held in operating accounts. We intend to increase our capital expenditures to support the growth in our business and operations. Our future capital requirements will depend on many factors including our growth rate, the continued expansion of sales and marketing activities, the introduction of new and enhanced products and services, market acceptance of our solutions, and engineering and development efforts. We believe that our cash and cash equivalents, together with our ability to borrow under our revolving credit facility and cash generated from operations, will be sufficient to meet our anticipated cash needs for at least the next 12 months, including satisfying our remaining obligations in connection with the Directi acquisition.

Capital Expenditures
Our capital expenditures for the purchase of property and equipment in 2010, predecessor period 2011 and 2012 were $1.5 million, $6.6 million and $28.2 million, respectively, representing 1.7%, 3.5% and 9.6% of revenue. Our level of capital expenditures reflect, in part, our extensive use of software to manage server density, our ability to co-locate our data center requirements with third-party data center service providers and our management of data center equipment and individual employee capital purchases. In 2011 and 2012, we increased our capital expenditures in connection with purchases of property and equipment, including leasehold improvements associated with new operating leases we entered into for larger premises to house our growing employee base and customer support teams, including in Arizona and Utah, and our new headquarters in Burlington, Massachusetts. Our total capital expenditures for the six months ended June 30, 2012 and 2013 were $6.4 million and $17.9 million, respectively. This increase was primarily due to a significant one-time investment in data center infrastructure to support the migration of subscribers from HostGator to our systems. We expect our total capital expenditures to increase in absolute dollars as we expand our business, but to decrease as a percentage of revenue.

Depreciation

Our depreciation expense for 2010, predecessor period 2011, successor period 2011 and 2012 was $3.1 million, $3.5 million, $0.1 million and $6.9 million, respectively. Our depreciation expense for the six months ended June 30, 2012 and 2013 was $2.4 million and $8.3 million, respectively. We depreciate the cost of new assets on a straight-line basis over a fixed number of years, which we believe best represents our view of the estimated useful lives of the various types of assets. For depreciation of leasehold improvements, we consider the length of the remaining term of the lease. We also acquire tangible assets through the acquisition of various businesses, which we record at fair value. We evaluate the estimated remaining useful lives of the acquired assets and depreciate on a straight-line basis from the date of acquisition over the evaluated remaining lives.

Amortization

Our amortization expense for 2010, predecessor period 2011, successor period 2011 and 2012 was $30.5 million, $74.2 million, $1.8 million and $132.6 million, respectively, and included amortization of other intangible assets, amortization of deferred financing costs and amortization of net present value of deferred consideration. Our amortization expense for the six months ended June 30, 2012 and 2013 was $33.6 million and $53.6 million, respectively. Our amortization of other intangible assets for 2010, predecessor period 2011, successor period 2011 and 2012 was $29.6 million, $50.4 million, $1.7 million and $88.1 million, respectively. Our amortization of other intangible assets for the six months ended June 30, 2012 and 2013 was $31.5 million and $53.6 million, respectively. In connection with our acquisitions, we have historically acquired identifiable intangible assets, including subscriber relationships and trade names and, sometimes, developed technology and in-process research and development. We ascribe fair values to each class of intangible asset, through various methodologies that can be broadly described as being based on the nature of the applicable intangible asset and the expected future cash flow to be derived from the intangible asset. Amortization of the various intangible assets with finite lives is recognized in accordance with their estimated projected cash flow and recorded as an operating expense.

Our amortization of deferred financing costs for 2010, predecessor period 2011, successor period 2011 and 2012 was $0.9 million, $23.8 million, $0.1 million and $43.4 million, respectively. Our amortization of deferred financing costs for the six months ended June 30, 2012 and 2013 was $2.1 million and $0.1 million, respectively. We fund our investing activities through cash from operations and financing activities. We capitalize certain financing-related fees and amortize over the term of the related loans. In the past, we have repaid certain indebtedness in advance of maturity and accelerated the amortization of any related and unamortized deferred financing fees. We record the amortization amount as interest expense.

Our amortization expense of net present value of deferred consideration for 2012 and the six months ended June 30, 2013 was $1.1 million and $1.2 million, respectively, as a result of our acquisition of HostGator in July 2012. We did not have any equivalent amortization expense in 2011 and 2010. Pursuant to the terms of our acquisition of HostGator, we were required to make an additional payment of $52.3 million in July 2013 and will be required to make an additional payment of $26.2 million in January 2014. Because these payments are required to be made 12 and 18 months after the date of the acquisition, respectively, we amortize the net present value of the payments over such 12- and 18-month periods as interest expense.

Operating Activities

As we add subscribers to our platform, we typically collect subscription fees at the time of initial billing and recognize revenue over the terms of the subscriptions. Accordingly, we generate operating cash flows as we collect cash from our subscribers in advance of delivering the related products and services, and we maintain a significant deferred revenue balance. As we add subscribers and sell additional products and services, our deferred revenue balance increases.

Net cash provided by operating activities was $22.0 million in the six months ended June 30, 2013, as a result of net loss of $64.7 million, which included depreciation, amortization, stock-based compensation expense and other non-cash charges of $59.9 million, and a net change of $26.8 million in our operating assets and liabilities. The increase in our operating assets and liabilities was primarily attributable to a $33.6 million increase in deferred revenue, partially offset by a $7.2 million increase in prepaid expenses and other current assets. The increase in deferred revenue was primarily due to the addition of new subscribers to our platform and increased sales of products and services. The increase in prepaid expenses and other current assets was primarily due to increased registration fees resulting from increased sales of domain names.

Net cash provided by operating activities was $55.3 million in 2012, as a result of net loss of $139.3 million, which included depreciation, amortization, stock-based compensation expense and other non-cash charges of $64.7 million, a net change of $100.7 million in our operating assets and liabilities and $29.3 million of financing costs. The increase in our operating assets and liabilities was primarily attributable to a $104.1 million increase in deferred revenue, partially offset by a $19.7 million increase in prepaid expenses and other current assets and an $11.4 million increase in accrued interest resulting from our increased borrowings. The increase in deferred revenue was primarily due to the addition of new subscribers to our platform and increased sales of products and services. The increase in prepaid expenses and other current assets was primarily due to increased registration fees resulting from increased sales of domain names.

Net cash provided by operating activities was $47.2 million in the predecessor period of 2011, as a result of net loss of $73.9 million, which included depreciation, amortization, stock-based compensation expense and other non-cash charges of $78.7 million, and a net change of $42.4 million in our operating assets and liabilities. The increase in our operating assets and liabilities was primarily attributable to a $52.5 million increase in deferred revenue, partially offset by a $13.2 million increase in prepaid expenses and other current assets. The increase in deferred revenue was primarily due to the addition of new subscribers to our platform and increased sales of products and services. The increase in prepaid expenses and other current assets was primarily due to increased registration fees resulting from increased sales of domain names.

Net cash provided by operating activities was $15.5 million in 2010, as a result of net loss of $44.3 million, which included depreciation, amortization, stock-based compensation expense and other non-cash charges of $33.6 million, and a net change of $26.2 million in our operating assets and liabilities. The increase in our operating assets and liabilities was primarily attributable to a $22.9 million decrease in prepaid expenses and other current assets.

million increase in deferred revenue, partially offset by a $1.1 million increase accrued interest resulting from our increased borrowings. The increase in deferred revenue was primarily due to the addition of new subscribers to our platform and increased sales of products and services.

Investing Activities

Cash flow from investing activities consists primarily of purchase of property and equipment, acquisition consideration payments, minority investments and changes in restricted cash balances.

We used $32.1 million of cash in investing activities during the six months ended June 30, 2013, consisting primarily of $17.9 million for the purchase of property and equipment, $8.8 million to acquire a minority interest in a company based in the United Kingdom, $2.4 million paid related to an acquisition, net of cash acquired, and $3.3 million paid as deferred consideration obligations for 2012 acquisitions, partially offset by a $0.3 million return of restricted cash held by a payment processor.

We used $330.7 million of cash in investing activities during 2012, consisting primarily of $299.2 million paid for acquisitions, $28.2 million for the purchase of property and equipment and $7.2 million paid as deferred consideration obligations for previous acquisitions, partially offset by a $3.9 million release of restricted cash collateral. Pursuant to the terms of our acquisition of HostGator, we will be required to make additional payments of $52.3 million and $26.2 million in July 2013 and January 2014, respectively, which we intend to fund with cash from operations and borrowings under our revolving credit facility.

We used $569.9 million of cash in investing activities during 2011, consisting primarily of $472.2 million paid to our former stockholders in connection with the Sponsor Acquisition, $55.1 million paid for an acquisition, $35.0 million paid as deferred consideration obligations for previous acquisitions, $6.6 million for the purchase of property and equipment, and $1.0 million increase in restricted cash related to funds held by a payment processor.

We used $151.0 million of cash in investing activities during 2010, consisting primarily of $150.1 million paid for acquisitions, and $1.5 million for the purchase of property and equipment, partially offset by a $0.7 million return of restricted cash related to cash held by a payment processor.

Financing Activities

Cash flow from financing activities consists primarily of the net change in our overall indebtedness, payment of associated financing costs, the issuance or repurchase of equity and dividend payments.

During the six months ended June 30, 2013, we drew $34.0 million from our revolving credit facility and repaid $26.0 million under that facility, as well as $4.0 million under our first lien term loan facility.

In 2012, cash flow from financing activities net of repayments was $281.7 million, primarily as a result of increasing the amount of our first lien term loan facility by $450.0 million, borrowing $315.0 million under our new second lien term loan facility and borrowing $15.0 million under our $85.0 million revolving credit facility. We used $52.9 million of the proceeds to pay financing costs. We also paid $289.5 million in dividends on our common stock, $150.0 million to redeem preferred stock and $6.0 million in accrued preferred stock dividends.

In 2011, we received net financing proceeds of $530.3 million from the incurrence of additional net debt of $107.6 million and the issuance of equity securities for proceeds of $422.7 million. In December 2011, we borrowed $350.0 million under a new first lien term loan facility to repay a prior $305.0 million term loan facility. In October 2011, we borrowed $305.0 million under a term loan facility and repaid $193.8 million due under a prior term loan facility, as well as $8.0 million under a revolving credit facility. On December 22, 2011, we received proceeds of $452.2 million from the issuance of common stock in the Sponsor Acquisition and used $0.4 million to pay costs related to the issuance of preferred stock. During 2011, we received proceeds of $38.0 million from the issuance of preferred stock, repurchased preferred stock for $58.9 million plus dividends of $6.9 million and made a return of capital payment of $1.3 million. In 2011, we incurred an aggregate of $40.6 million in financing costs in connection with financing transactions.

In 2010, we received net financing proceeds of $139.1 million from the incurrence of additional net debt of $115.2 million and the issuance of equity securities for proceeds of $23.9 million. In October 2010, we borrowed $117.0 million under a term loan facility to repay a prior term loan facility of $1.7 million, and during 2010 we borrowed a net of $2.9 million under our revolving credit facility. During 2010, we received proceeds of $20.9 million from the issuance of preferred stock and received a capital contribution of $3.0 million. In 2010, we incurred an aggregate of $3.0 million in financing costs in connection with financing transactions.

Credit Facility Borrowings

On November 9, 2012, we entered into an $85.0 million revolving credit facility, a new first lien term loan facility in the original principal amount of $800.0 million and a new second lien term loan facility in the original principal amount of $315.0 million. As of December 31, 2012, $800.0 million was outstanding under our first lien term loan facility, $315.0 million was outstanding under our second lien term loan facility and $15.0 million was outstanding under our revolving credit facility. As of June 30, 2013, $796.0 million was outstanding under our first lien term loan facility, $315.0 million was outstanding under our second lien term loan facility, $23.0 million was outstanding under our revolving credit facility and $62.0 million was available under our revolving credit facility. In August 2013, we borrowed an additional $90.0 million under our first lien term loan facility and repaid $37.0 million, which was the total amount then outstanding, under our revolving credit facility. As of August 31, 2013, there were no amounts outstanding under our $85.0 million revolving credit facility.

Our first lien term loan facility and second lien term loan facility mature on November 9, 2019 and May 9, 2020, respectively. Our revolving credit facility matures on December 22, 2016. Under our first lien term loan facility, beginning on March 31, 2013, we were required to make quarterly principal payments of $2.0 million, and beginning on September 30, 2013, we are required to make quarterly principal payments of approximately $2.2 million.

As of June 30, 2013, the LIBOR-based interest rates on our first lien term loan facility, second lien term loan facility and revolving credit facility were 6.25%, 10.25% and 7.75%, respectively, and the alternate base rate on the revolving credit facility was 8.50%. See “Description of Indebtedness.”

Net Operating Loss Carry-Forwards

As of December 31, 2012, we had net operating loss carry-forwards available to offset future U.S. federal taxable income of approximately $145.3 million and future state taxable income by approximately $149.6 million. These net operating loss carry-forwards expire on various dates from 2014 through 2032.

Our ability to use these net operating loss carry-forwards will be subject to an annual limitation due to the ownership percentage change limitations. Ownership changes can limit the amount of net operating loss and other tax attributes that a company can use each year to offset future taxable income and taxes payable. As a result of the Sponsor Acquisition, we analyzed changes in our ownership and determined that our ability to use our net operating loss carry-forwards is limited to approximately $77.1 million per year beginning in 2012.

Backlog

We define our backlog as the total committed value of our contracts which have not been recognized as revenue at the end of a period. Since we require prepayments for all our products and services, our backlog is equal to our deferred revenue balance. Our backlog as of December 31, 2011 and 2012 was $63.1 million and $187.4 million, respectively. Accordingly, our backlog as of June 30, 2013 was $221.6 million. Because revenue for any period is a function of revenue recognized from deferred revenue under contracts in existence at the beginning of the period, as well as contract renewals and new customer contracts during the period, backlog at the beginning of any period is not necessarily indicative of future performance. Our presentation of backlog may differ from other companies in our industry.

Contractual Obligations and Commitments

Our principal commitments consist of obligations under our outstanding debt facilities, which includes a quarterly principal repayment against our first lien term loan facility of $2.0 million per quarter, interest payments on our term loan facilities, which are typically three-month LIBOR loans, non-cancelable leases for our office space, deferred payment obligations related to acquisitions, and purchase obligations under material contracts. The following table summarizes these contractual obligations as of December 31, 2012 (all data in thousands):

(1) Term loan facility interest rate is based on adjusted LIBOR plus 500 basis points for the first lien term loan facility and adjusted LIBOR plus 900 basis points for the second lien term loan facility, in each case subject to a LIBOR floor of 1.25%. As of June 30, 2013, the interest rates on our first lien term loan facility and second lien term loan facility and revolving credit facility were 6.25%, 10.25%, 7.75% and 8.50%.

(2) Consists of deferred payment obligations related to acquisitions. Does not include $1.4 million in contingent payment obligations related to an acquisition.

During the six months ended June 30, 2013, we repaid $4.0 million of principal on the first lien term loan facility and paid $47.3 million of interest on the term loan facilities and $3.3 million in deferred consideration. As of June 30, 2013, we had $23.0 million outstanding under our revolving credit facility.

Under our master share purchase agreement with Directi, subject to specified adjustments, we will be obligated at the closing of the acquisition to make a cash payment of approximately 50% of the aggregate purchase price, less the $5 million we paid at signing, to Directi Holdings, the seller, and to issue a promissory note to Directi Holdings in an original principal amount equal to approximately 50% of the aggregate purchase price. The note will mature on April 15, 2014. At maturity, we will be obligated to pay an amount equal to the greater of the original principal amount of the promissory note or the annualized revenues associated with the Directi business for specified periods, in each case without interest. If the acquisition closes after the completion of this offering or a change in control of us, in lieu of us issuing the promissory note, Directi Holdings may elect to have us pay all amounts payable at closing in cash. If the acquisition closes after the completion of this offering, Directi Holdings may also elect to have us pay up to 50% of the aggregate estimated purchase price at the closing of the acquisition by issuing shares of our common stock to Directi Holdings based on the initial public offering price. In connection with our proposed acquisition of Directi, we entered into agreements with entities affiliated with Directi Holdings related to participation in the auction of new top level domain extensions and domain monetization activities, pursuant to which, among other things, we may be obligated to make aggregate cash payments of up to a maximum of approximately $62 million, subject to specified terms, conditions and operational contingencies. See "—Directi Acquisition."

In August 2013, we borrowed an additional $90.0 million under our first lien term loan facility and repaid $37.0 million, which was the total amount then outstanding, under our revolving credit facility. Beginning on September 30, 2013, our quarterly principal repayment against our first lien term loan facility will increase by approximately $0.2 million to approximately $2.2 million per quarter. As of August 31, 2013, there were no amounts outstanding under our $85.0 million revolving credit facility.

Recently Issued Accounting Pronouncements

In July 2012, the Financial Accounting Standards Board issued ASU No. 2012-02, Intangibles—Goodwill and Other (Topic 350)—Testing Indefinite-lived Intangible Assets for Impairment, to allow entities to use a qualitative approach to test indefinite-lived intangible assets for impairment. This guidance permits an entity to first perform a qualitative assessment to determine whether it is more likely than not that the fair value of an indefinite-lived intangible asset is less than its carrying value. If it is concluded that this is the case, it is necessary to perform the currently prescribed quantitative impairment test by comparing the fair value of the indefinite-lived intangible asset with its carrying value.
Otherwise, the quantitative impairment test is not required. ASU 2012-02 is effective for fiscal years beginning after September 15, 2012. We do not believe that the adoption of this ASU will have a material effect on our consolidated financial statements.

The JOBS Act provides that an emerging growth company can take advantage of an extended transition period for complying with new or revised accounting standards. This allows an emerging growth company to delay the adoption of certain accounting standards until those standards would otherwise apply to private companies. We have elected to avail ourselves of this exemption from new or revised accounting standards and, therefore, we will not be subject to new or revised accounting standards that are applicable to other public companies that are not emerging growth companies.

Off-Balance Sheet Arrangements

During the years ended December 31, 2010, 2011 and 2012 and the six months ended June 30, 2012 and 2013, we did not have any relationships with unconsolidated entities or financial partnerships, such as entities often referred to as structured finance or special purpose entities, that would have been established for the purpose of facilitating off-balance sheet arrangements or other contractually narrow or limited purposes.

Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosure About Market Risk

Foreign Currency Exchange Risk

A significant majority of our subscription agreements and our expenses are denominated in US dollars. We do, however, have sales in a number of foreign currencies as well as business operations in Brazil and India and are subject to the impacts of currency fluctuations in those markets. The impact of these currency fluctuations is insignificant relative to the overall financial results of our company.
Interest Rate Sensitivity

As of June 30, 2013, we had approximately $1,134.0 million of aggregate indebtedness, consisting of $796.0 million outstanding under our first lien term loan facility, $315.0 million outstanding under our second lien term loan facility and $23.0 million outstanding under our $85.0 million revolving credit facility. In August 2013, we borrowed an additional $90.0 million under our first lien term loan facility and repaid $37.0 million, which was the amount then outstanding, under our revolving credit facility. As of August 31, 2013, there were no amounts outstanding under our $85.0 million revolving credit facility. The borrowings under our first lien credit facilities and second lien term loan facility bear interest at a rate per annum equal to an applicable credit spread plus, at our option, (a) adjusted LIBOR or (b) an alternate base rate determined by reference to the greater of (i) the prime rate, (ii) the federal funds effective rate plus one-half of 1.00% and (iii) one-month adjusted LIBOR plus 1.00%.

Under our first lien credit facilities, the LIBOR reference rate is subject to a floor of 1.50% per annum for revolving credit loans and 1.25% per annum for term loans. For term loans and revolving credit loans bearing interest based on adjusted LIBOR, the applicable credit spread is 5.00% and 6.25%, respectively. We are also required to pay a commitment fee of 0.50% per annum to the lenders under the revolving credit facility, based on the average daily unused amount of the revolving commitments. Under our second lien term loan facility, the LIBOR reference rate is subject to a floor of 1.25% per annum. For term loans bearing interest based on adjusted LIBOR, the applicable credit spread is 9.00%.

As of June 30, 2013, the LIBOR-based interest rates on our first lien term loan facility, second lien term loan facility and revolving credit facility were 6.25%, 10.25% and 7.75%, respectively, and the alternate base rate on our revolving credit facility was 8.5%. We made $70.2 million in aggregate interest payments in 2012 and $47.3 million in aggregate interest payments in the six months ended June 30, 2013. Changes in adjusted LIBOR could positively or negatively affect the amounts of the interest payments we are required to make under our indebtedness. Based on our aggregate indebtedness as of June 30, 2013, a 100-basis-point increase in the adjusted LIBOR rate above the LIBOR floor would result in an $11.2 million increase in our aggregate interest payments over a 12-month period, and a 100-basis-point decrease at the current LIBOR rate would not result in a decrease in our interest payments.

Inflation Risk

We do not believe that inflation has a material effect on our business, financial condition or results of operations. If our costs were to become subject to significant inflationary pressures, we may not be able to fully offset such higher costs through price increases. Our inability to do so could harm our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Industry Background

There are expected to be more than 76 million SMBs worldwide by the end of 2013,* of which more than 43 million will have direct access to the Internet. The number of SMBs worldwide is projected to increase by 1.1 million in 2013, of which 770,000 will have access to the Internet. These businesses are broad and diverse, spanning every industry and region of the world. SMBs are increasingly adopting technology to operate and grow their businesses. Those SMBs that utilize cloud services, including web, email and application hosting and data backup, generate 1.5 times more in annual revenues compared to those that do not deploy cloud-based solutions.* SMBs understand that the growth in global Internet penetration and the proliferation of mobile devices are changing the way in which consumers discover and transact with businesses. Increasingly, SMBs are seeking to take advantage of new developments in e-commerce, online marketing, social media and mobile to transform their businesses, or to build new businesses that were not possible before the advent of these tools.

As a result, SMBs are expected to spend approximately $96 billion annually on cloud-based services by 2015, representing a CAGR of 28% since 2012.* This growth is driven in large part by SMBs need to respond to these digital opportunities. However, approximately 75% of all SMBs do not have a website today. We believe that the opportunities presented in the digital era will further accelerate the adoption of cloud services as SMBs continue to recognize the importance of Internet-based solutions to their success.

Over our 16-year operating history, we have developed a deep understanding of the diverse needs of SMBs and the challenges of serving them at scale. We believe SMBs are:

Seeking to address fundamental business challenges and opportunities, including the emergence of the digital era. One of the most significant opportunities and challenges confronting SMBs today is capturing the benefits of an increasingly digital world. By seeking comprehensive, flexible, reliable, secure and personalized technology solutions that address challenges and unlock opportunities, SMBs are attempting to succeed in the digital world. For example, SMB customers are shifting their activities online and embracing mobile technologies, social media and e-commerce, which requires SMBs to deploy technology tools, serve customers and compete for business in new and innovative ways.

Requiring informed guidance and support. Most SMBs, particularly the one-to-five employee companies that represent the majority of our subscribers, possess limited technology expertise and resources. As a result, SMBs require informed advice and support on ways to improve their operations through technology and to take advantage of new opportunities at all stages of their lifecycles.

Facing budget constraints limiting their ability to make large capital investments in technology. SMBs want to leverage modern technology, but are looking for cost-effective solutions that do not require large upfront investments.

Difficult to reach and serve effectively, given their breadth and diversity. SMBs are fragmented in terms of size, geography, sophistication and type of industry. As a result, it is challenging to effectively market to, acquire and serve SMB subscribers at scale and in a cost-effective manner.

While SMBs represent the largest proportion of all businesses and are massive consumers of technology solutions in the aggregate, we believe that other providers have generally struggled to meet the diverse needs of SMBs for high-quality products, services and support in a comprehensive and profitable way.

Our Solution
Our passion for empowering diverse SMBs to navigate the rapidly changing technology landscape has led us to a solutions–based approach built on a foundation of technology, data and analytics. We address the challenges of serving this large and fragmented market at scale, in the following manner:

We deliver an integrated and comprehensive suite of products and services. We offer a compelling platform with a wide range of products and services designed to help our diverse base of SMB subscribers establish, manage and grow their businesses. By leveraging critical insights drawn from our proprietary collection of SMB data, we develop and expand our portfolio of products and services to provide the solutions our subscribers need and the functionality and features they value. We have placed particular emphasis on products that enable our subscribers to acquire and manage customers through online, social media and mobile channels. Our cloud-based offerings allow our subscribers to select a customized set of solutions from among a broad range of internally developed and validated third-party products. We supply these solutions to subscribers on demand in an integrated manner through the cloud, simply and effectively.

We intelligently engage with subscribers, consistent with their needs. We leverage our technology and proprietary data to identify subscriber needs and opportunities. This allows us to proactively engage with them via a myriad of customer engagement channels, including phone, email, chat, dashboards, an application marketplace and web video. This ongoing engagement allows us to offer the right solutions at the right time. We believe these capabilities, in turn, lead to greater adoption and deeper entrenchment of our technology and superior subscriber experience, thereby increasing our subscriber retention rates and revenue per subscriber. As of December 31, 2010, 2011 and 2012 and June 30, 2013, each of our subscribers had purchased an average of 2.3, 2.8, 3.3 and 3.7 add-on products from us, respectively, in addition to an initial web presence subscription. The number of subscribers paying $500 or more per year for our products and services as of December 31, 2010, 2011 and 2012 was approximately 61,000, 73,000 and 81,000, respectively, and increased to approximately 88,000 as of June 30, 2013.

We provide affordable solutions to our subscribers in a cost-effective manner. Our cloud-based delivery model enables our subscribers to address their business needs with minimal upfront capital investment. As a result of our relentless focus on operational efficiency and lowering our cost to serve, we deliver affordable solutions to our subscribers, by operating:

- an integrated, cloud-based customer-facing technology platform which permits us to efficiently deliver our products and services and add new subscribers. This technology platform allows us to optimize our investments in infrastructure, benefit from economies of scale and integrate new products and services seamlessly; and
- proprietary and unified operating and support systems which allow us to operationalize data insights, serve our subscribers intelligently and efficiently, and optimize our internal processes and procedures. These systems also allow us to on-board, serve and track our subscribers throughout their lifecycle and feed a subscriber data repository which is tightly linked with our billing, CRM and fulfillment systems. We operate these systems across our subscriber base and all of our brands, allowing us to develop an integrated view of each subscriber, enabling us to contact our subscribers through the right channels and offer them the most relevant solutions at the most opportune times.

We efficiently acquire and serve subscribers with our multi-brand, multi-channel strategy. The SMB market is broad and diverse in terms of geography, industry, size and degree of technology sophistication. As a consequence, we leverage our proprietary data to implement a multi-brand, multi-channel approach that allows us to precisely target the SMB universe, identify the best ways to reach different categories of subscribers and tailor our brands and service offerings specifically toward those audiences. Although word-of-mouth referrals represent the largest source of new subscribers, we also leverage online and mobile marketing activities, as well as our network of resellers, strategic partners and referral sources, to grow our subscriber base. Our approach is designed to reach and efficiently on-board subscribers at scale while minimizing subscriber acquisition costs.

Our Model

We believe that our solution results in a strong, efficient and differentiated business model with the following attributes:

- Attractive Subscription Model and Retention Rates. Our subscriptions require payment in advance and typically range up to 36 months, providing significant cash flow benefits and revenue visibility. Our products and services are tailored to the needs of SMB subscribers and are integral to their businesses. As a result, we benefit from high subscriber and revenue retention rates.

- Strong Average Revenue Per Subscriber. Our comprehensive platform, data driven approach and proactive subscriber engagement enable us to sell relevant and useful additional products and services to existing and new subscribers, driving higher average revenue per subscriber.

- Cost-Effective Customer Acquisition. Through our multi-brand, multi-channel approach, we are able to target our marketing spend carefully and acquire subscribers cost-effectively. Due to our large base of subscribers and high customer satisfaction, we also attract a significant percentage of our new subscribers through word of mouth referrals, at no cost to us.

- Efficient Cost to Serve. We serve our subscribers in a cost-efficient manner as a result of our integrated technology platform and operating support systems which facilitate the collection, analysis and application of large amounts of data. Our cloud-based delivery model enables us to serve subscribers with minimal incremental expense and deploy new products and services quickly and efficiently. We have also developed proprietary techniques that help us to operate with highly-efficient server configurations, resulting in low capital expenditures.
Virtuous Cycle. As our business continues to grow, we enjoy even greater benefits of scale—collecting more data, improving our analytical capabilities, deriving more insight, enhancing our operational efficiency, increasing our cash flow and re-investing in the growth of our business.

Our Growth Strategy

Since our formation in 1997, we have focused on helping SMBs establish, manage and grow their businesses. To fulfill our mission, we intend to continue to increase our scale, broaden our subscriber footprint, expand our range of product and service offerings and pursue strategic acquisitions.

Grow Our Subscriber Base

We believe there is a substantial opportunity to expand our subscriber base, by:

- Expanding Existing Channels. We intend to continue to invest in our multiple subscriber acquisition channels, including our resellers, strategic partners and referral sources. For example, we have a relationship with Google, including a collaboration with respect to Google’s “Get Your Business Online” initiative in the United States and India, which we expect will enable us to better reach and serve SMBs located in those countries. We also plan to continue to collaborate with resellers and strategic partners to increase the value proposition of our solutions to subscribers.

- Expanding Internationally. For the six months ended June 30, 2013, approximately 30% of our total billings were invoiced to subscribers located in foreign countries, reflecting global demand for our solutions. We have successfully entered foreign markets such as Brazil and India and believe there are significant opportunities to continue growing our global presence. We intend to expand further into international markets by leveraging our technology platform to deliver offerings customized to local markets.

Increase Sales of Our Products and Services

We intend to expand sales of our products and services to support our subscribers as they grow, by:

- Expanding Sales of Existing Products and Services. We aim to offer our subscribers the right products and services at the right time. We believe our strong subscriber relationships and our comprehensive portfolio of products and services provide us with the opportunity to drive incremental sales.

- Continuing to Add Innovative Products and Services. We plan to continue to introduce value-added products and services that address our subscribers’ needs. Our model allows us to rapidly deploy new products and services that further strengthen our offerings and improve our subscribers’ experience. As we further expand our solutions, we expect that our subscribers will be more likely to purchase additional products and services from us.

Pursue Strategic Acquisitions

We may pursue future acquisitions that complement our existing business, represent a strategic fit and are consistent with our overall growth strategy. We may target acquisitions that help us access new international markets, enhance our data analytics and technology platform or add functionality and capabilities to our suite of products and services.

Ltd. from Directi Web Technologies Holdings, Inc., the seller, for an amount we estimate will be between $100 million and $110 million in cash or, at the election of the seller, a combination of cash, shares of our common stock and/or a promissory note, subject to the satisfaction or waiver of specified customary closing conditions and the achievement of specified financial targets. Directi provides web presence solutions to SMBs located in various countries, including India, the United States, Turkey, China, Russia, and Indonesia. Sales and Marketing

Our sales and marketing efforts focus on cost-effectively acquiring subscribers at scale, and selling additional products and services to existing subscribers, through a multi-brand and multi-channel approach that primarily utilizes online indirect and direct channels.
Multi-Brand Approach

Our multi-brand approach allows us to target SMBs based on their specific needs and offer the products, services and support they require. Using our technology and data, we have identified different types of SMBs that are attracted to our brands, and we tailor our marketing, delivery and support strategies accordingly. For example, our Bluehost brand targets SMBs with greater technical expertise and a desire to build their own solutions, our iPage brand targets SMBs with less technology experience and our HostGator brand targets SMBs who value significant amounts of support. As a result, we seek to attract Bluehost subscribers by participating in technical user groups, such as open source forums, and placing targeted content on technical websites or blogs, we reach potential iPage subscribers through referrals, search engine channels and strategic partnerships, and we attract HostGator subscribers through our reputation for outstanding support.

Multi-Channel Approach

We acquire subscribers, and sell products and services to our existing subscribers, through multiple channels. We are able to identify the best ways to reach diverse types of SMBs through a multi-channel data-driven approach that consists of the following:

Indirect Channels

- Referrals. A significant portion of our new subscribers are referred to us, many at no additional cost and others involving a referral fee. We believe the success of our unpaid referral business correlates to our favorable subscriber satisfaction rates as measured by our Net Promoter Scores, a customer satisfaction metric developed by Bain & Company.

- Resellers. Our network of resellers promotes and sells our services to their customers, which drives new business to us.

- Partnerships. We partner with leading U.S. and international companies, including search engines and telecommunications service providers that market our solutions either directly or through co-branded offerings to their customers. These relationships help us attract additional subscribers across multiple geographies, particularly in emerging international markets.

Direct Channels

We use a variety of direct online channels to acquire new subscribers, including pay-per-click, search engine optimization and content marketing. We actively promote our brands by optimizing our brand websites to achieve a prominent ranking in search engines. From time to time, we use direct marketing channels, such as print advertising, to target potential subscribers. We believe that our approach for targeting and reaching subscribers enables us to convert potential subscribers more cost-effectively than through the use of traditional offline advertising, such as television.

We sell products and services to subscribers directly through consultative engagement and targeted campaigns. In addition, through our application marketplace, subscribers can access services, tools and other widgets, and numerous paid offerings from our growing community of approved web designers, resellers, developers and service providers.

Service and Support

Our sales and support agents assist our subscribers in a proactive, consultative manner, engaging with an average of more than 50,000 subscribers per day via phone, email and chat. We leverage our proprietary data and subscriber management software to deliver differentiated support, which we believe enables us to deepen relationships with our subscribers and help them succeed as they grow. Our support personnel not only assist subscribers with technical issues, but also focus on understanding the business goals of each subscriber to help identify the right products and services to achieve those goals. We believe this contributes to subscriber retention and our ability to sell more products and services. Our U.S. support organization is located in Arizona, Colorado, Texas, Utah and Washington. Centers supporting our international operations are located in Brazil and India. Our Brazil-based center supports our HostGator Brazil business. Our India-based center, which is staffed by employees of third-party outsourced service providers, provides email- and chat-based support to customers of our U.S.-based operations and a full range of support services to customers of our HostGator India business.

Technology Platform

Over the past 16 years, we have invested significant resources to develop and enhance our technology platform and collect a vast amount of proprietary data. We use a data-driven approach to design business processes that allow us to innovate, develop and deploy solutions that meet the demands of SMBs and provide a superior experience for our subscribers. Our technology platform leverages common services for the benefit of all of our brands and the ability to optimize the specific requirements of any individual brand.

Integrated Platform

We have developed an integrated technology platform for our cloud-based solutions that combines open source and proprietary software designed to grow with the needs of our subscribers. Our innovative shared services architecture allows us to operate at a high level of service, with a high degree of customization for each subscriber’s web presence and with a large number of subscribers per server. In addition, we have built customized subscriber relationship management, billing and subscriber service support systems to on-board, serve and track our subscribers at scale, and to enable subscribers to manage their own service experience. Our subscriber service support systems also help us predict which applications a subscriber may need based on our experience with similar subscribers, enabling our support personnel to have more informed subscriber interactions.

Data Analytics and Business Intelligence

Our proprietary data analytics technology enables us to deliver our products and services in a highly personalized manner and to improve our operational efficiency. We have a dedicated team of software engineers focused on refining and further developing our proprietary analytics systems. Our use of analytics and continued investment in developing predictive capabilities allow us to design and deliver the right solutions to our subscribers at the right time. We believe our analytics capabilities and technology are also key contributors to our ability to target new subscribers and retain existing subscribers.

Applications

We offer an integrated and comprehensive suite of products and services through proprietary applications as well as third-party technology partners who have integrated their offerings into our technology platform. Through a combination of common services, platforms, application program interfaces and processes, we can rapidly develop and deploy new applications across our brands. A significant portion of our over 150 products and services have been internally developed. We regularly retire offerings that are underperforming and add offerings that we believe will be in high demand based on our data insights.

Infrastructure

We employ various techniques to enhance the stability of our systems and preserve the security of information contained on them. We utilize monitoring systems and a variety of software components to monitor and protect our infrastructure against attempts to attack or gain unauthorized entry to our internal systems and subscriber websites. In addition, we focus engineering and development efforts on reducing the computational costs required to provide and maintain quality subscriber services, which enables us to rely in large part on increasingly economical industry-standard hardware. These efforts help us achieve performance capabilities such as high levels of server density and reduce overall capital expenditures and costs to serve our subscribers.

Engineering and Development

Our engineering and development activity is focused on enhancing our systems, developing and expanding product and service offerings, and integrating technology capabilities from our acquisitions. Our engineering and development expense was $2.7 million during 2010, $5.6 million during 2011, $13.8 million during 2012 and $12.2 million during the six months ended June 30, 2013. Engineering and development headcount has increased from 37 employees as of December 31, 2010 to 174 employees as of June 30, 2013.

Subscribers

As of June 30, 2013, we had approximately 3.4 million subscribers. Approximately 80% of our subscribers are SMBs, and the majority of our SMB subscribers are one-to-five employee companies. We estimate that approximately 20% of our subscribers are not SMBs and use our cloud-based solutions primarily for personal, group or not-for-profit use. We do not offer a complete suite of products and services that are tailored to the specific needs of these types of subscribers.

For the years ended December 31, 2010, 2011 and 2012 and the six months ended June 30, 2013, approximately 70% of our total billings were invoiced to subscribers located in the United States. The remaining amount was invoiced to subscribers around the world, primarily in Canada, the United Kingdom, Australia and India. It is impracticable for us to provide revenue information by geography for the foregoing periods due to the unavailability of geographic information for some subscribers acquired as part of previous acquisitions as well as limitations in certain accounting systems we currently use.

The industries in which our subscribers operate are very diverse, including retail, merchandising, media, recreation, education, construction, medical, dental and arts and entertainment. No subscriber industry represented more than 20% of our subscribers during 2012.

Competition

The global cloud-based services market for SMBs is highly competitive and constantly evolving. We expect competition to increase from existing competitors as well as potential new market entrants. Our competitors include providers of:

- web presence and commerce offerings, such as domain name registrars, shared hosting providers, website creation and management companies and e-commerce service providers;
- computing resources and security offerings, such as on-demand computing resources and online security offerings;
- marketing solutions, such as search engine marketing companies, search engine optimization companies, local directory listing companies and online and offline business directories; and
- productivity tools, such as business-class email, calendaring and file-sharing.

We believe the principal competitive factors in the cloud-based services market for SMBs are:

- cost-effective customer acquisition;
- scope, scalability, flexibility and compatibility of product and service offerings;
- quality of subscriber support and subscriber engagement;
brand names, reputation and subscriber satisfaction;
Ÿ ease of implementation, use and maintenance; and Ÿ reliability and security.

We believe that we compete favorably with respect to each of these factors. In addition, we believe that our data-driven approach, integrated technology platform and focus on serving as a trusted partner to our subscribers help differentiate us from competitors. In some instances, we have commercial partnerships with cloud-based services providers in the SMB market with whom we otherwise compete.

Intellectual Property and Proprietary Rights

Our intellectual property and proprietary rights are important to our business. We rely on a combination of trademark, patent, copyright and trade secret laws, confidentiality and access-related procedures and safeguards and contractual provisions to protect our proprietary technologies, confidential information, brands and other intellectual property.

We use open source technologies pursuant to applicable licenses as the basis for our technology platform. We have also developed, acquired or licensed proprietary technologies for use in our business. As of June 30, 2013, we have 28 pending U.S. patent applications and several pending foreign counterpart applications relating to aspects of our technology platform and offerings, including our shared services architecture, predictive analytics methods, virtualization technologies, subscriber migration technologies and web presence improvement technologies.

We have non-disclosure, confidentiality and license agreements with employees, contractors, subscribers and other third parties, which limit access to and use of our proprietary information. Though we rely in part upon these legal and contractual protections, as well as various procedural safeguards, we believe that the skill and ingenuity of our employees, the functionality and frequent enhancements to our solutions and our ability to introduce new products and features that meet the needs of our subscribers are more important to maintaining our competitive position in the marketplace.

We have an ongoing trademark and service mark registration program pursuant to which we register our brand names and product names, taglines and logos in the United States and other countries to the extent we determine appropriate and cost-effective. We also have common law rights in some unregistered trademarks that were established over years of use. In addition, we have a trademark and service mark enforcement program pursuant to which we monitor applications filed by third parties to register trademarks and service marks that may be confusingly similar to ours, as well as the use of our major brand names in social media, domain names and other Internet sites.

Despite our efforts to preserve and protect our intellectual property, unauthorized third parties may attempt to copy, reverse engineer or otherwise obtain access to our proprietary information. Though we rely in part upon these legal and contractual protections, as well as various procedural safeguards, we believe that the skill and ingenuity of our employees, the functionality and frequent enhancements to our solutions and our ability to introduce new products and features that meet the needs of our subscribers are more important to maintaining our competitive position in the marketplace.

Third-party infringement claims are also possible in our industry, especially as functionality and features expand, evolve and overlap across industries. Third parties, including non-practicing patent holders, have from time to time claimed, and could claim in the future, that our processes, technologies or websites infringe patents they now hold or might obtain or be issued in the future. See “Risk Factors—We could incur substantial costs as a result of any claim of infringement of another party’s intellectual property rights.”
Employees
As of June 30, 2013, we had 2,580 employees, including 1,816 in support and network operations, 472 in sales and marketing, 174 in engineering and development and 118 in general and administrative. Most of our employees are based in the United States. None of our employees is represented by a labor union or covered by a collective bargaining agreement. We have never experienced a strike or similar work stoppage, and we consider our relations with our employees to be good.

Properties
As of June 30, 2013, we provided our solutions through various offices and co-located data centers, all of which are leased to us, including:
- approximately 38,000 square feet of office space located in Burlington, Massachusetts, which serves as our corporate headquarters, under a lease that expires in March 2024;
- approximately 350,000 square feet of additional office space located primarily in Arizona, California, Colorado, Texas, Utah and Washington; and
- approximately 17,000 square feet of data center space located primarily in California, Massachusetts, Texas and Utah.

We believe that our facilities are adequate for our current needs and that suitable additional or substitute space will be available as needed to accommodate planned expansion of our operations.

Legal Proceedings
From time to time we are involved in legal proceedings or subject to claims arising in the ordinary course of our business. For example, on September 24, 2013, our subsidiary Bluehost was sued by Ziplink, Inc. in a patent-infringement case (Ziplink, Inc. v. Bluehost, Inc., Civil Action No. 3:13-cv-1396) (U.S. District Court for the District of Connecticut). The complaint alleges that we have infringed U.S. Patent Nos. 7,676,998 and 8,271,596, both entitled “Apparatus and Methods for Controlling the Transmission of Messages.” Ziplink, Inc. is seeking damages and an injunction. At this time, we are unable to form a judgment regarding a range of potential loss for the claim. Although the results of litigation and claims cannot be predicted with certainty, we are not presently involved in any legal proceeding that in the opinion of our management, if determined adversely to us, would have a material adverse effect on our business, operating results or financial condition. Regardless of the outcome, litigation can have an adverse impact on us because of defense and settlement costs, diversion of management resources and other factors.

Composition of the Board of Directors

Our board of directors currently consists of nine members. The current members of our board of directors were elected in compliance with the provisions of a stockholders agreement among our company and certain holders of our common stock. See “Related Person Transactions—Stockholders Agreement.” In particular, investment funds and entities affiliated with Warburg Pincus designated Messrs. Neary, Reedy and Sadrian, and may designate up to one additional director, for election to our board of directors, and investment funds and entities affiliated with Goldman Sachs, an underwriter in this offering, designated Mr. DiSabato, an employee of Goldman Sachs, for election to our board of directors. Our directors hold office until their successors have been elected and qualified or until the earlier of their resignation or removal.
In accordance with the terms of our restated certificate of incorporation and amended and restated bylaws, each of which will become effective upon the closing of this offering, our board of directors will be divided into three classes, each of whose members will serve for staggered three year terms. Upon the closing of this offering, the members of the classes will be divided as follows:

- the class I directors will be Messrs. Reedy, Hayford and Perrone, and their term will expire at the first annual meeting of stockholders held after the closing of this offering;
- the class II directors will be Messrs. Sadrian, Crandall and Gorny, and their term will expire at the second annual meeting of stockholders held after the closing of this offering; and
- the class III directors will be Messrs. Neary, DiSabato and Ravichandran, and their term will expire at the third annual meeting of stockholders held after the closing of this offering.

Our stockholders agreement provides that investment funds and entities affiliated with Warburg Pincus will be entitled to designate up to:

- four directors for election to our board of directors for so long as certain investment funds and entities affiliated with Warburg Pincus hold 50% or more of the shares of our common stock that they held immediately following the closing of this offering;
- three directors for election to our board of directors for so long as certain investment funds and entities affiliated with Warburg Pincus hold 25% or more of the shares of our common stock that they held immediately following the closing of this offering; and
- one director for election to our board of directors for so long as certain investment funds and entities affiliated with Warburg Pincus hold 12.5% or more of the shares of our common stock that they held immediately following the closing of this offering.

In addition, our stockholders agreement provides that investment funds and entities affiliated with Goldman Sachs will be entitled to designate one director to our board of directors for so long as investment funds and entities affiliated with Goldman Sachs hold 25% or more of the shares of our common stock that they held immediately following the closing of this offering.

Our restated certificate of incorporation that will become effective upon the closing of this offering provides that the authorized number of directors may be changed only by our board of directors, subject to the rights of any holders of any series of our preferred stock; provided that the authorized number of directors may not exceed ten as long as investment funds and entities affiliated with either Warburg Pincus or Goldman Sachs are entitled to designate at least one director. Any additional directorships resulting from an increase in the number of directors will be distributed among the three classes so that, as nearly as possible, each class will consist of one-third of the directors. This classification of our board of directors may have the effect of delaying or preventing changes in our control or management.

Our stockholders agreement provides that any director designated by investment funds and entities affiliated with either Warburg Pincus or Goldman Sachs may be removed with or without cause only by investment funds and entities affiliated with either Warburg Pincus or Goldman Sachs, respectively. In addition, our restated certificate of incorporation and our amended and restated bylaws provide that our directors may be removed only for cause by the affirmative vote of the holders of at least 75% of the votes that all our stockholders would be entitled to cast in an annual election of directors; provided that for so long as investment funds and entities affiliated with either Warburg Pincus or Goldman Sachs, collectively, hold at least a majority of our outstanding capital stock, our directors, other than a director designated by investment funds and entities affiliated with either Warburg Pincus or Goldman Sachs, may be removed with or without cause by the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of our outstanding capital stock.
Upon the expiration of the term of a class of directors, directors in that class will be eligible to be elected for a new three-year term at the annual meeting stockholders in the year in which their term expires. An election of our directors by our stockholders will be determined by a plurality of the votes cast by the stockholders entitled to vote on the election.

Director Independence

Rule 5605 of the NASDAQ Listing Rules requires a majority of a listed company’s board of directors to be comprised of independent directors within one year of listing. In addition, the NASDAQ Listing Rules require that, subject to specified exceptions, each member of a listed company's audit, compensation and nominating and corporate governance committees be independent and that audit committee members also satisfy independence criteria set forth in Rule 10A-3 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, or the Exchange Act. Under Rule 5605(a)(2), a director will only qualify as an “independent director” if, in the opinion of our board of directors, that person does not have a relationship that would interfere with the exercise of independent judgment in carrying out the responsibilities of a director. In order to be considered independent for purposes of Rule 10A-3, a member of an audit committee of a listed company may not, other than in his or her capacity as a member of the audit committee, the board of directors, or any other board committee, accept, directly or indirectly, any consulting, advisory or other compensatory fee from the listed company or any of its subsidiaries or otherwise be an affiliated person of the listed company or any of its subsidiaries.

If we qualify as a “controlled company” as that term is set forth in the NASDAQ Listing Rules upon completion of this offering and would therefore be eligible to rely on certain corporate governance exemptions, we do not expect to rely upon these exemptions. Under the NASDAQ Listing Rules, a company of which more than 50% of the voting power is held by another person or group of persons acting together is a “controlled company” and may elect not to comply with certain corporate governance requirements, including: (1) the requirement that a majority of our board of directors consist of independent directors, (2) the requirement that our nominating and corporate governance committee be composed entirely of independent directors with a written charter addressing the committee’s purpose and responsibilities and (3) the requirement that our compensation committee be composed entirely of independent directors with a written charter addressing the committee’s purpose and responsibilities. To the extent that more than 50% of our voting power is held by investment funds and entities affiliated with Warburg Pincus upon completion of this offering, we will be a “controlled company” as defined under the NASDAQ Listing Rules. Even if we qualify as a “controlled company” upon completion of this offering, we must comply with the rules applicable to audit committees set forth in the NASDAQ Listing Rules.

The phase-in periods with respect to director independence under the NASDAQ Listing Rules allow us to have only one independent member on each of the audit committee, nominating and corporate governance committee and compensation committee upon the listing date of our common stock, a majority of independent members on each of these committees and our audit committee within 90 days of the listing date and fully independent committees and a majority of independent directors on our board within one year of the listing date.

In 2013, our board of directors undertook a review of the composition of our board of directors and its committees and the independence of each director. Based upon information requested from and provided by each director concerning his background, employment and affiliations, including family relationships, our board of directors has determined that each of our directors, with the exception of Messrs. Ravichandran and Gorny, is an “independent director” as defined under Rule 5605(a)(2) of the NASDAQ Listing Rules. Our board of directors also determined that Messrs. Crandall, Hayford and Perrone, who are members of our audit committee, Messrs. Neary, DiSabato and Sadrian, who comprise our compensation committee, and Messrs. Neary, DiSabato and Reedy, who comprise our nominating and corporate governance committee, satisfy the independence standards for such committees established by the Securities and Exchange Commission and the NASDAQ Listing Rules, as applicable. In making such determinations, our board of directors considered the relationships that each such non-employee director has with our company and all other facts and circumstances our board of directors deemed relevant in determining independence, including the beneficial ownership of our capital stock by each non-employee director. Our board of directors determined that Mr. Reedy, who is a member of our audit committee, does not satisfy applicable independence standards for audit committee membership because of the equity ownership in our company held by investment funds and entities affiliated with Warburg Pincus, of which Mr. Reedy is a principal, but determined that Mr. Reedy will be permitted to remain on the audit committee for a period of up to one year after this offering in accordance with the phase-in period under the NASDAQ Listing Rules.

Board Leadership Structure

Our corporate governance guidelines provide that the roles of chairman of the board and chief executive officer may be separated or combined. Our board of directors has considered its leadership structure and determined that at this time the roles of chairman of the board and chief executive officer should be separate. Separating the chairman and the chief executive officer positions allows our chief executive officer to focus on running the business, while allowing the chairman of our board of directors to lead the board in its fundamental role of providing advice to and oversight of management. Mr. Neary has been an integral part of the leadership of our company and our board of directors since December 2011, and his strategic vision has guided our growth and performance. Our board believes that Mr. Neary is best situated to ensure that the board’s attention and efforts are focused on the most critical matters. Mr. Ravichandran has served as our president and chief executive officer since March 2011. As our board has determined that each of our directors other than Messrs. Ravichandran and Gorny is independent, our board believes that the independent directors provide effective oversight of management. Our board believes that its leadership structure is appropriate because it strikes an effective balance between strategy development and independent leadership and management oversight in the board process.

Board Committees

Our board of directors has established audit, compensation, and nominating and corporate governance committees, each of which operates under a charter that has been approved by our board. Following this offering, a copy of each committee’s charter will be posted on the corporate governance section of our website, www.endurance.com.

Employment Agreements, Severance and Change in Control Arrangements

Employment Agreement with Mr. Ravichandran

On September 30, 2013, we entered into a new employment agreement with Mr. Ravichandran. Mr. Ravichandran’s employment agreement has an initial term of three years and then automatically renews for successive one-year terms, unless either we or Mr. Ravichandran provide written notice of non-renewal to the other party at least 90 days prior to the expiration of the then-current term, or if it is terminated earlier in accordance with its terms. The material terms of Mr. Ravichandran’s employment agreement are summarized below.

Base Salary and Bonuses

Mr. Ravichandran is entitled to receive an annual base salary of $750,000, which is reviewed annually and subject to increase by our board of directors. Mr. Ravichandran is also eligible to earn an annual bonus with a target opportunity of 75% of his base salary, with such target increased to 100% beginning with the 2014 fiscal year. Although the actual annual bonus may be higher or lower than 75% (100% beginning in 2014) of his base salary, as determined by the board, the employment agreement provides that it may, in no event, be more than 125% of his base salary (200% beginning in 2014). In addition, for 2013, Mr. Ravichandran is eligible to receive quarterly bonuses, with the target amount of each quarterly bonus being 6.25% of his annual base salary. Annual and quarterly bonuses are payable upon achievement of a combination of individual and company performance goals established by the board, provided that, in each case, Mr. Ravichandran remains employed by us through the end of the applicable year or quarter. Beginning in 2014, Mr. Ravichandran will no longer be eligible to receive quarterly bonuses.

Equity Interests

Mr. Ravichandran received a grant of class B limited partnership interests in WP Expedition Topco on each of February 22, 2012 and November 9, 2012. To the extent not already vested, all such units will become fully vested upon the completion of this offering. In connection with our corporate reorganization concurrently with, or prior to the completion of this offering, and based on an assumed initial public offering price of $15.00 per share (the midpoint of the range set forth on the cover page of this prospectus), 105,187,363 shares of our common stock will be issued in respect of these limited partnership interests.

In addition, effective prior to, but conditioned upon, the completion of this offering, Mr. Ravichandran will be granted the right to receive 3,747,946 additional Class B-1 Units in WP Expedition Topco. The number of units in this grant is based upon a prior understanding with Warburg Pincus and Goldman Sachs. In connection with our corporate reorganization concurrently with, or prior to the completion of this offering, and based on an assumed initial public offering price of $15.00 per share (the midpoint of the range set forth on the cover page of this prospectus), these limited partnership interests will entitle Mr. Ravichandran to receive 562,581 shares of our common stock in the form of a restricted stock unit award. Approximately 42% of this restricted stock unit award will be vested at grant and the remaining 58% will vest monthly following the grant until February 2016. In the event that Mr. Ravichandran’s employment is terminated without cause or he resigns for good reason within the one-year period following a change in control of our company (as each such term is defined in Mr. Ravichandran’s employment agreement), the remaining unvested portion of this restricted stock unit award will vest in full.

Effective prior to, but conditioned upon, the completion of this offering, we will grant to Mr. Ravichandran an option to acquire 2,729,188 shares of our common stock with an exercise price.
equal to the initial public offering price. In addition, effective prior to, but conditioned upon, the completion of this offering, we will grant to Mr. Ravichandran a restricted stock unit award with respect to 481,623 shares of common stock. Each of these awards vests monthly beginning with the one-month anniversary of the date of grant and ending on the fourth anniversary of the date of grant. In the event that Mr. Ravichandran's employment is terminated without cause or he resigns for good reason within the one-year period following a change in control of our company, the remaining unvested portion of these awards will vest in full.

Additional Payments
Pursuant to a letter agreement between Mr. Ravichandran, EIG Investors Corp. and WP Expedition Topco dated as of November 9, 2012, we will make to Mr. Ravichandran, upon the completion of this offering, a cash payment of $5,453,765 that is intended to compensate
Mr. Ravichandran for the increase in the threshold amount applicable to Class B Units granted to him on November 9, 2012 as compared to the Class B Units granted to him on February 22, 2012. Mr. Ravichandran will also receive a cash payment of $15,000,000 upon the closing of this offering that is intended to assist Mr. Ravichandran with certain tax planning he is undertaking in connection with this offering.

severance payments:

Ý continued payment of his base salary for a period of 24 months;

a change in control of our company, an amount equal to the greater of the prior year's annual bonus or his target annual bonus);
Ý a lump sum payment in an amount that, after applicable taxes, is equal to the monthly COBRA premium that Mr. Ravichandran would be required to pay to continue group health insurance coverage for a period of 18 months following his termination; and unvested equity awards held by Mr. Ravichandran.

In order to receive these severance payments, Mr. Ravichandran must sign a general release in favor of us and our affiliates and abide by specified restrictive covenants, including two-year non-competition and non-solicitation covenants, as well as confidentiality and non-for at-will employment and include initial base salaries and initial bonus eligibility.

Mr. LaSalvia's offer letter provides for an initial base salary of $220,000 per year. He was initially eligible for a quarterly bonus of up to 59.1% of his base salary for the quarter, up to a maximum of $130,000 per year. For 2012, his bonus program was modified to provide for a quarterly target bonus of $29,000. For 2013, his base salary was increased to $400,000 per year effective April 1, 2013, with an annual bonus target set at 50% of his base salary for the year. Mr. LaSalvia's bonus payouts are payable quarterly and determined based on a combination of company financial metrics, incremental sales generated and operational metrics, as well as Mr. Ravichandran's subjective assessment of his performance. Actual bonus payouts may be either lower or higher than the applicable target.

Mr. Mone's offer letter provides for an initial base salary of $200,000 per year, which was subsequently increased to $260,000 per year effective August 16, 2011. Mr. Mone was initially eligible for a quarterly bonus of up to 10% of his base salary for the quarter, up to a maximum of $20,000 per year, based on performance goals established by management. For 2012, his bonus program was modified to provide for a quarterly target bonus of $10,000. For 2013, his base salary was increased to $300,000 per year effective April 1, 2013, with an annual bonus target set at 40% of his base salary for the year. Mr. Mone’s bonus payouts are payable quarterly and determined based on a combination of company financial metrics and operational metrics, as well as Mr. Ravichandran’s subjective assessment of his performance. Actual bonus payouts may be either lower or higher than the applicable target.

In addition, under the terms of the limited partnership agreement of WP Expedition Topco, if we or our affiliates terminate the employment of Mr. LaSalvia or Mr. Mone without cause, or if they resign for good reason, in either case within one year after the completion of a change in majority ownership as defined in that agreement, all unvested Class B-1 partnership units then held by Mr. LaSalvia or Mr. Mone, as applicable, will vest as of the date of termination.

Messrs. LaSalvia and Mone are bound by specified restrictive covenants, including non-competition, non-solicitation and confidentiality obligations.

Director Compensation

None of our directors was paid any compensation for service as a director for the year ended December 31, 2012. We paid Steven K. Sydness, who was one of our directors during 2012, $120,000 for services to us as an executive advisor during the year ended December 31, 2012. See “Related Person Transactions.”

Each member of our board of directors is entitled to reimbursement for, and will continue to be entitled to reimbursement for, reasonable travel and other expenses incurred in connection with attending board meetings and meetings for any committee on which such director serves.

Concurrently with the execution of the underwriting agreement for this offering, we also expect our board of directors or our compensation committee to grant 22,222 shares of restricted stock to Mr. Gorny in recognition of his past services to our company and an option to purchase 78,250 shares of our common stock to each of Messrs. Crandall, Gorny, Hayford and Perrone as described under “—Stock Option and Other Compensation Plans—2013 Stock Incentive Plan.”

Stock Option and Other Compensation Plans

2013 Stock Incentive Plan

We expect our board of directors to adopt and our stockholders to approve our 2013 Stock Incentive Plan, which we refer to as our 2013 Plan and which will become effective immediately prior to the closing of this offering. The 2013 Plan provides for the grant of incentive stock options, non-statutory stock options, stock appreciation rights, which we refer to as SARs, awards of restricted stock, restricted stock units, which we refer to as RSUs, and other stock-based awards. Upon effectiveness of the plan, 18,000,000 shares of our common stock will be reserved for issuance under the plan.

Our employees, officers, directors, consultants and advisors are eligible to receive awards under the 2013 Plan; incentive stock options, however, may only be granted to our employees.

In accordance with the terms of the 2013 Plan, our board of directors has authorized our compensation committee to administer the plan. Pursuant to the terms of the 2013 Plan, our compensation committee will select the recipients of awards and determine:

1. the number of shares of our common stock covered by options and the dates upon which the options become exercisable;
the exercise price of options, which may not be less than 100% of the per share fair market value of our common stock on the date of grant;

the duration of options, which may not be in excess of ten years; and the number of shares of our common stock subject to any SAR, award of restricted stock, RSU or other stock-based awards and the terms and conditions of such awards, including conditions for repurchase, issue price and repurchase price.

If our board of directors delegates authority to an executive officer to grant awards under the 2013 Plan, the executive officer has the power to make awards to all of our employees, except executive officers. Our board of directors will fix the terms of the awards to be granted by such executive officer, including the exercise price of such awards (or a formula for establishing the exercise price), and the maximum number of shares subject to awards that such executive officer may make.

If our board of directors delegates authority to an executive officer to grant awards under the 2013 Plan, the executive officer has the power to make awards to all of our employees, except executive officers. Our board of directors will fix the terms of the awards to be granted by such executive officer, including the exercise price of such awards (or a formula for establishing the exercise price), and the maximum number of shares subject to awards that such executive officer may make.

Upon a merger or other reorganization event, our board of directors may, in its sole discretion, take any one or more of the following actions pursuant to the 2013 Plan as to some or all outstanding awards other than restricted stock (except to the extent specifically provided otherwise in an applicable award agreement or another agreement between us and a plan participant):

provide that all outstanding awards shall be assumed or substantially equivalent awards shall be substituted by the successor corporation (or an affiliate thereof);

upon written notice to a participant, provide that all of the participant’s unexercised awards will terminate immediately prior to the consummation of such reorganization event unless exercised by the participant to the extent then exercisable;

provide that outstanding awards shall become exercisable, realizable or deliverable, or restrictions applicable to an award will lapse, in whole or in part, prior to or upon the reorganization event;

in the event of a reorganization event pursuant to which holders of shares of our common stock will receive a cash payment for each share surrendered in the reorganization event, make or provide for a cash payment to the participants with respect to each award held by a participant equal to (a) the number of shares of common stock subject to the vested portion of the award (after giving effect to any acceleration of vesting that occurs upon or immediately prior to such reorganization event) multiplied by (b) the excess, if any, of (i) the cash payment for each share surrendered in the reorganization event over (ii) the exercise, measurement or purchase price of such award and any applicable tax withholdings, in exchange for the termination of such award; and/or provide that, in connection with a liquidation or dissolution, awards convert into the right to receive liquidation proceeds.

Our board of directors does not need to take the same action with respect to all awards, all awards held by a participant or all awards of the same type.

In the case of restricted stock units that are subject to Section 409A of the Code, additional provisions are set forth in the 2013 Plan in connection with mergers or reorganization events.

Upon the occurrence of a reorganization event other than a liquidation or dissolution, the repurchase and other rights with respect to outstanding restricted stock shall continue for the benefit of the successor company and shall, unless the board of directors may otherwise determine, apply to the cash, securities or other property into which shares of our common stock are converted or exchanged pursuant to the reorganization event; provided that our board of directors may provide for termination or deemed satisfaction of such repurchase or other rights under the instrument evidencing any restricted stock or any other agreement between us and a plan participant. Upon the occurrence of a reorganization event involving a liquidation or dissolution, all restrictions and conditions on each outstanding award of restricted stock will automatically be deemed terminated or satisfied, unless otherwise provided in the agreement evidencing the restricted stock award or any other agreement between us and the participant.

Pursuant to the forms of option agreement and restricted stock agreement, each under the 2013 Plan, in the event that we undergo a change in control and the employment or other service of the award holder is terminated without cause by us within the one-year period following the change in control, any remaining unvested portion of the award will vest in full as of the date of termination of service of the award holder.

At any time, our board of directors may, in its sole discretion, provide that any award under the 2013 Plan will become immediately exercisable in full or in part, free of some or all restrictions or conditions, or otherwise realizable in full or in part.

No award may be granted under the 2013 Plan on or after October 1, 2023. Our board of directors may amend, suspend or terminate the 2013 Plan at any time, except that stockholder approval will be required to comply with applicable law or stock market requirements.

Concurrently with the execution of the underwriting agreement for this offering, we expect our board of directors or our compensation committee will grant options to purchase 5,623,671 shares of our common stock at an exercise price equal to the initial public offering price set forth on the cover page of this prospectus and 718,928 shares of restricted stock to employees, including executive officers, and certain of our directors, including the following awards:

- an option to purchase 221,739 shares of our common stock and 39,131 shares of restricted stock to Mr. LaSalvia;
- an option to purchase 172,464 shares of our common stock and 30,435 shares of restricted stock to Mr. Mone;
- an option to purchase 78,250 shares of our common stock to each of Messrs. Crandall, Gorny, Hayford and Perrone;
- 22,222 shares of restricted stock to Mr. Gorny in recognition of his past services to our company; and
- options to purchase an aggregate of 517,391 shares of common stock, and an aggregate of 91,305 shares of restricted stock to our other executive officers other than Mr. Ravichandran.

2013 Management Incentive Plan

We maintain a 2013 management incentive plan pursuant to which eligible employees, including our executive officers other than Mr. Ravichandran, are eligible for quarterly cash bonuses, determined based on a combination of financial and operational metrics, as well as the subjective assessment of the eligible employee's direct manager of such employee's performance.

IPO-Related Payments to Certain Employees

Upon the closing of this offering, we also expect to make an aggregate of approximately $3.0 million in one-time cash payments to certain of our employees, including a total of $1.05 million to our executive officers (other than Mr. Ravichandran).
401(k) Retirement Plan

We maintain a 401(k) retirement plan that is intended to be a tax-qualified defined contribution plan under Section 401(k) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, or the Code. In general, all of our employees are eligible to participate, beginning on the first day of the month following commencement of their employment. The 401(k) plan includes a salary deferral arrangement pursuant to which participants may elect to reduce their current compensation by up to the statutorily prescribed limit, equal to $17,500 in 2013, and have the amount of the reduction contributed to the 401(k) plan. Currently, we match 100% of employee contributions up to 3% of the employee’s salary and then 50% of employee contributions up to an additional 2% of the employee’s salary. The match immediately vests 100%.

We also maintain separate 401(k) plans that we assumed in connection with our acquisitions of Dotster, Inc. in July 2011 and HostGator.com LLC in July 2012. Under the former, we match 100% of employee contributions up to 3% of the employee’s salary and then 50% of employee contributions up to an additional 2% of the employee’s salary. The match immediately vests 100%. Under the latter, we match 25% of employee contributions up to 4% of the employee’s salary, vesting 100% after three years of service.

Limitation of Liability and Indemnification

Our restated certificate of incorporation, which will become effective upon the closing of this offering, limits the personal liability of directors for breach of fiduciary duty to the maximum extent permitted by the Delaware General Corporation Law and provides that no director will have personal liability to us or to our stockholders for monetary damages for breach of fiduciary duty or other duty as a director. However, these provisions do not eliminate or limit the liability of any of our directors:

Ÿ for any breach of the director’s duty of loyalty to us or our stockholders;
Ÿ for acts or omissions not in good faith or which involve intentional misconduct or a knowing violation of law;
Ÿ for voting or assenting to unlawful payments of dividends, stock repurchases or other distributions; or Ÿ for any transaction from which the director derived an improper personal benefit.

Any amendment to or repeal of these provisions will not eliminate or reduce the effect of these provisions in respect of any act, omission or claim that occurred or arose prior to such amendment or repeal. If the Delaware General Corporation Law is amended to provide for further limitations on the personal liability of directors of corporations, then the personal liability of our directors will be further limited to the greatest extent permitted by the Delaware General Corporation Law.

In addition, our restated certificate of incorporation, which will become effective upon the closing of this offering, provides that we must indemnify our directors and officers and we must advance expenses, including attorneys’ fees, to our directors and officers in connection with legal proceedings, subject to very limited exceptions. Our employment agreements with Mr. Ravichandran and Mr. Ellawala also require us to indemnify them to the fullest extent permitted by applicable law, other than in connection with their gross negligence or willful misconduct, for liability with regard to their activities on our behalf.

We maintain a general liability insurance policy that covers certain liabilities of our directors and officers arising out of claims based on acts or omissions in their capacities as directors or officers. In addition, we have entered into indemnification agreements with certain of our directors, and we intend to enter into indemnification agreements with all of our directors and executive officers. These indemnification agreements may require us, among other things, to indemnify each such director and executive officer for some expenses, including attorneys’ fees, judgments, fines and settlement amounts incurred by him in any action or proceeding arising out of his service as one of our directors.

Certain of our non-employee directors may, through their relationships with their employers, be insured and/or indemnified against certain liabilities incurred in their capacity as members of our board of directors. We have agreed that we will be the indemnitor of “first resort,” however, with respect to any claims against these directors for indemnification claims that are indemnifiable by both us and their employers. Accordingly, to the extent that indemnification is permissible under applicable law, we will have full liability for such claims (including for the advancement of any expenses) and we have waived all related rights of contribution, subrogation or other recovery that we might otherwise have against these directors’ employers.

Rule 10b5-1 Sales Plans

Our directors and executive officers may adopt written plans, known as Rule 10b5-1 plans, in which they will contract with a broker to buy or sell shares of our common stock on a periodic basis. Under a Rule 10b5-1 plan, a broker executes trades pursuant to parameters established by the director or officer when entering into the plan, without further direction from them. The director or officer may amend or terminate the plan in some circumstances. Our directors and executive officers may also buy or sell additional shares outside of a Rule 10b5-1 plan when they are not in possession of material, nonpublic information.

In May 2010, we loaned $500,000 to Hari Ravichandran, our president and chief executive officer. The loan accrued interest at a rate of 2.87% per annum, compounded annually. The loan was secured by the equity interest purchased with the proceeds of the loan. Mr. Ravichandran paid $22,074 in accrued interest on this loan in November 2011. In December 2011, the indebtedness and remaining accrued interest under the loan, totaling $501,454.66, was repaid and the pledge was terminated.

In September 2012, we loaned $300,000 to David C. Bryson, our chief legal officer. The loan accrued interest at a rate of 0.21% per annum, compounded annually. The loan was secured by any equity interest in our company then or later owned by Mr. Bryson. We waived Mr. Bryson’s obligation to repay this loan that otherwise would have been required in connection with our November 2012 dividend. Mr. Bryson repaid this loan in full in July 2013.

In September 2011, we loaned $200,000 to John Mone, our chief information officer. The loan accrued interest at a rate of 0.26% per annum, compounded annually. The loan was secured by any equity interests in our company then or later owned by Mr. Mone. Mr. Mone repaid this loan in full in September 2013.

Registration Rights Agreement

We have entered into a second amended and restated registration rights agreement, or registration rights agreement, with certain holders of our common stock, including our principal stockholders, pursuant to which we have agreed to register the sale of shares of our common stock under specified circumstances, and a copy of which has been filed as an exhibit to the registration statement of which this prospectus forms a part. After the closing of this offering, holders of a total of 105,187,363 shares of our common stock will have the right to require us to register these shares under the Securities Act under specified circumstances. After registration pursuant to these rights, these shares will become freely tradable without restriction under the Securities Act.

Beginning on the first date after our initial public offering on which investment funds and entities affiliated with either Warburg Pincus or Goldman Sachs are no longer subject to any underwriter’s lock-up or other similar contractual restrictions on the sale of our shares, we may be required by investment funds and entities affiliated with either Warburg Pincus or Goldman Sachs to register all or part of their shares of common stock in accordance with the Securities Act and the registration rights agreement. See “Shares Eligible for Future Sale—Lock-Up Agreements.”

The net aggregate offering price of shares that investment funds and entities affiliated with either Warburg Pincus or Goldman Sachs propose to sell in any demand registration must be at least $50,000,000, or such holder must propose to sell all of such holder’s shares if the net aggregate offering price of such shares is less than $50,000,000. We are not obligated to effect more than three demand registrations at the request of investment funds and entities affiliated with either Warburg Pincus or Goldman Sachs. There is no limitation on the number of unmarketed underwritten offerings that we may be obligated to effect at the request of investment funds and entities affiliated with either Warburg Pincus or Goldman Sachs. We have specified rights to delay the filing or initial effectiveness of, or suspend the use of, any registration statement filed or to be filed in connection with an exercise of a holder’s demand registration rights.

In addition, if we propose to file a registration statement under the Securities Act with respect to specified offerings of shares of our common stock, we must allow holders of registration rights to include their shares in that registration, subject to specified conditions and limitations.

These registration rights are subject to specified conditions and limitations, including the right of the underwriters to limit the number of shares to be included in a registration and our right to delay a registration statement under specified circumstances. Pursuant to the registration rights agreement, we are required to pay all registration expenses and indemnify each participating holder with respect to each registration of registrable shares that is effected.

Stockholders Agreement

We have entered into a stockholders agreement with certain holders of our common stock, including investment funds and entities affiliated with either Warburg Pincus or Goldman Sachs, which will become effective upon the closing of this offering. Our stockholders agreement contains agreements among the parties with respect to the election of our directors, certain restrictions on the issuance and transfer of shares and certain corporate governance matters. The material terms of our stockholders agreement, a copy of which has been filed as an exhibit to the registration statement of which this prospectus forms a part, are described below.

Director Designees; Chairman

Each of our current directors was elected pursuant to the terms of agreements among our stockholders that will terminate in our corporate reorganization and be replaced by our stockholders agreement. Under the terms of our stockholders agreement, investment funds and entities affiliated with Warburg Pincus will be entitled to designate up to:

- four directors for election to our board of directors for so long as certain investment funds and entities affiliated with Warburg Pincus hold 50% or more of the shares of our common stock that they hold immediately following the closing of this offering;
- three directors for election to our board of directors for so long as certain investment funds and entities affiliated with Warburg Pincus hold 25% or more of the shares of our common stock that they hold immediately following the closing of this offering; and directors for so long as investment funds and entities affiliated with Goldman Sachs hold 25% or more of the shares of our common stock that they held immediately following the closing of this offering.

For so long as investment funds and entities affiliated with Warburg Pincus will be entitled to designate at least three directors to our board of directors, the directors designated by investment funds and entities affiliated with Warburg Pincus will be entitled to designate the chairman of our board of directors.

Removal of Directors

Any director designated by investment funds and entities affiliated with either Warburg Pincus or Goldman Sachs may be removed with or without cause only by investment funds and entities affiliated with either Warburg Pincus or Goldman Sachs, respectively.

Quorum

For so long as investment funds and entities affiliated with Warburg Pincus have the right to designate at least one director for election to our board of directors and for so long as investment funds and entities affiliated with Goldman Sachs have the right to designate at least one director for election to our board of directors, in each case, a quorum of our board of directors will not exist without at least one director designee of each of Warburg Pincus and Goldman Sachs present at such meeting; provided that if a meeting of our board of directors fails to achieve a quorum due to the absence of a director designee of Warburg Pincus or Goldman Sachs, as applicable, the presence of at least one director designee of Warburg Pincus or Goldman Sachs, as applicable, will not be required in order for a quorum to exist at the next meeting of our board of directors.
Transfer Restrictions

Until December 22, 2016, and except for transfers to permitted transferees, any transfer of our shares of common stock by investment funds and entities affiliated with either Warburg Pincus or Goldman Sachs will require the prior written consent of each of the investment funds and entities affiliated with either Warburg Pincus or Goldman Sachs that have the right to designate at least one director for election to our board of directors.

Approval Rights

For so long as investment funds and entities affiliated with Warburg Pincus have the right to designate at least three directors for election to our board of directors, in addition to any other vote required by applicable law, certain actions required or permitted to be taken by our stockholders and certain specified corporate transactions may be effected only with the affirmative vote of 75% of our board of directors, including:

- acquisitions or business combination transactions involving any other entity with an enterprise value in excess of $200 million in the aggregate;
- mergers or other business combinations or other transactions involving a sale of all or substantially all of our and our subsidiaries’ assets or a “change in control” under our indebtedness documents;
- dispositions of our or our subsidiaries’ assets with a value in excess of $200 million, other than sales of inventory or products in the ordinary course of business;
- any change in the size of our board of directors;
- any amendment to our restated certificate of incorporation or our amended and restated bylaws;
- any change in the composition of any committee of our board of directors;

- issuance of additional shares of our or our subsidiaries’ capital stock, subject to certain limited exceptions; and
- incurrence of indebtedness that exceeds consolidated EBITDA, as defined in our credit agreement, for the preceding 12 months, except for borrowings under the previously approved credit agreement.

For so long as investment funds and entities affiliated with Goldman Sachs have the right to designate one director for election to our board of directors, the approval of the director designated by investment funds and entities affiliated with Goldman Sachs will be required for amendments to certain agreements with us if such amendments are disproportionately favorable to investment funds and entities affiliated with Warburg Pincus as compared to investment funds and entities affiliated with Goldman Sachs.

Corporate Opportunities

To the fullest extent permitted by law, we have, on behalf of ourselves, our subsidiaries and our and their respective stockholders, renounced any interest or expectancy in, or in being offered an opportunity to participate in, and business opportunity that may be presented to Warburg Pincus, Goldman Sachs or any of their respective affiliates, partners, principals, directors, officers, members, managers, employees or other representatives, and no such person has any duty to communicate or offer such business opportunity to us or any of our subsidiaries or shall be liable to us or any of our subsidiaries or any of our or its stockholders for breach of any duty, as a director or officer or otherwise, by reason of the fact that such person pursues or acquires such business opportunity, directs such business opportunity to another person or fails to present such business opportunity, or information regarding such business opportunity, to us or our subsidiaries, unless, in the case of any such person who is a director or officer of ours, such business opportunity is expressly offered to such director or officer in writing solely in his or her capacity as a director or officer of ours.

Indemnification Agreements

Our restated certificate of incorporation provides that we will indemnify our directors and officers to the fullest extent permitted by Delaware law. In addition, we have entered into indemnification agreements with certain of our directors, and we intend to enter into indemnification agreements with all of our directors and executive officers. See “Executive Compensation—Limitation of Liability and Indemnification.”

Although directors designated for election to our board of directors by investment funds and entities affiliated with either Warburg Pincus or Goldman Sachs may have certain rights to indemnification, advancement of expenses or insurance provided or obtained by investment funds and entities affiliated with either Warburg Pincus or Goldman Sachs, respectively, we have agreed in our stockholders agreement that we will be the indemnitor of first resort, will advance the full amount of expenses incurred by each such director and, to the extent that investment funds and entities affiliated with either Warburg Pincus or Goldman Sachs or their insurers make any payment to, or advance any expenses to, any such director, we will reimburse those investment funds and entities and their insurers for such amounts.

Arrangements with Executive Officers and Directors

For a description of the compensation arrangements we have with our executive officers and directors, see “Executive Compensation—Employment Agreements, Severance and Change in Control Arrangements” and “Executive Compensation—Director Compensation.”

Sydness, who was one of our directors from 1999 until June 2013, our executive chairman from March 2011 until December 2011, our chief executive officer from 1999 until March 2011 and our president periodically between 1999 and 2009, was employed by us on a part-time basis as an executive advisor. In 2012 and the six months ended June 30, 2013, we paid Mr. Sydness $120,000 and $60,000, respectively, as compensation for his employment in this capacity. In his role as executive advisor, Mr. Sydness advised senior management on business operations, strategic planning and industry trends. He resigned from this position effective September 1, 2013.

Policies and Procedures for Related Person Transactions

Our board of directors has adopted written policies and procedures, which will become effective upon the closing of this offering, for the review of any transaction, arrangement or relationship in which our company is a participant, the amount involved exceeds $120,000, and one of our executive officers, directors, director nominees or 5% stockholders (or their immediate family members), each of whom we refer to as a “related person,” has a direct or indirect material interest.

If a related person proposes to enter into such a transaction, arrangement or relationship, which we refer to as a “related person transaction,” the related person must report the proposed related person transaction to our chief legal officer. The policy calls for the proposed related person to report the proposed related person transaction to our chief legal officer.
transaction to be reviewed and, if deemed appropriate, approved by the audit committee. Whenever practicable, the reporting, review and approval will occur prior to entry into the transaction. If advance review and approval is not practicable, the audit committee will review, and, in its discretion, may ratify the related person transaction. The policy also permits the chairman of the audit committee to review and, if deemed appropriate, approve proposed related person transactions that arise between committee meetings, subject to ratification by the audit committee at its next meeting. Any related person transactions that are ongoing in nature will be reviewed annually.

A related person transaction reviewed under the policy will be considered approved or ratified if it is authorized by the audit committee after full disclosure of the related person’s interest in the transaction. As appropriate for the circumstances, the audit committee will review and consider:

- the related person’s interest in the related person transaction;
- the approximate dollar value of the amount involved in the related person transaction;
- the approximate dollar value of the amount of the related person’s interest in the transaction without regard to the amount of any profit or loss;
- whether the transaction was undertaken in the ordinary course of our business;
- whether the terms of the transaction are no less favorable to us than terms that could have been reached with an unrelated third party;
- the purpose of, and the potential benefits to us of, the transaction; and
- any other information regarding the related person transaction or the related person in the context of the proposed transaction that would be material to investors in light of the circumstances of the particular transaction.

The audit committee may approve or ratify the transaction only if it determines that, under all of the circumstances, the transaction is in or is not inconsistent with our company’s best interests. The audit committee may impose any conditions on the related person transaction that it deems appropriate.

In addition to the transactions that are excluded by the instructions to the SEC’s related person transaction disclosure rule, our board of directors has determined that transactions that are specifically contemplated by provisions of our restated certificate of incorporation and amended and restated bylaws do not create a material direct or indirect interest on behalf of related persons and, therefore, are not related person transactions for purposes of this policy.

The policy provides that transactions involving compensation of executive officers shall be reviewed and approved by the compensation committee in the manner specified in its charter.

The rights, preferences and privileges of holders of common stock are subject to and may be adversely affected by the rights of the holders of shares of any series of preferred stock that we may designate and issue in the future.

Preferred Stock
Under the terms of our restated certificate of incorporation that will become effective upon the closing of this offering, our board of directors is authorized to direct us to issue shares of preferred stock in one or more series without stockholder approval. Our board of directors has the discretion to determine the rights, preferences, privileges and restrictions, including voting rights, dividend rights, conversion rights, redemption privileges and liquidation preferences, of each series of preferred stock.

The purpose of authorizing our board of directors to issue preferred stock and determine its rights and preferences is to eliminate delays associated with a stockholder vote on specific issuances. The issuance of preferred stock, while providing flexibility in connection with possible acquisitions, future financings and other corporate purposes, could have the effect of making it more difficult for a third party to acquire, or could discourage a third party from seeking to acquire, a majority of our outstanding voting stock. Upon the closing of this offering, there will be no shares of preferred stock outstanding, and we have no present plans to issue any shares of preferred stock.

Stock Options
As of June 30, 2013, we had no outstanding options to purchase shares of common stock.
Registration Rights

For a description of the registration rights agreement that we have entered into with certain holders of our common stock, including investment funds and entities affiliated with either Warburg Pincus or Goldman Sachs, see “Related Person Transactions—Registration Rights Agreement.”

Stockholders Agreement

For a description of the stockholders agreement that we have entered into with certain holders of our common stock, including investment funds and entities affiliated with either Warburg Pincus or Goldman Sachs, see “Related Person Transactions—Stockholders Agreement.”

Anti-Takeover Provisions

We are subject to Section 203 of the Delaware General Corporation Law. Subject to certain exceptions, Section 203 prevents a publicly held Delaware corporation from engaging in a “business combination” with any “interested stockholder” for three years following the date that the person became an interested stockholder, unless the interested stockholder attained such status with the approval of our board of directors or unless the business combination is approved in a prescribed manner. A “business combination” includes, among other things, a merger or consolidation involving us and the “interested stockholder” and the sale of more than 10% of our assets. In general, an “interested stockholder” is any entity or person beneficially owning 15% or more of our outstanding voting stock and any entity or person affiliated with or controlling or controlled by such entity or person.

Since the investment funds and entities affiliated with either Warburg Pincus or Goldman Sachs became holders of more than 15% of our outstanding common stock in a transaction that was approved by our Board of Directors, the restrictions of Section 203 of the Delaware General Corporation law would not apply to a business combination transaction with any investment funds or entities affiliated with either Warburg Pincus or Goldman Sachs. In addition, our restated certificate of incorporation expressly exempts investment funds and entities affiliated with either Warburg Pincus or Goldman Sachs from the applicability of Section 203 of the Delaware General Corporation Law.

Staggered Board; Removal of Directors

Our restated certificate of incorporation and our amended and restated bylaws divide our board of directors into three classes with staggered three-year terms. In addition, a director may be removed by stockholders only for cause by the affirmative vote of the holders of at least 75% of the votes that all of our stockholders would be entitled to cast in an annual election of directors; provided that any director designated by investment funds and entities affiliated with either Warburg Pincus or Goldman Sachs may be removed with or without cause only by investment funds and entities affiliated with either Warburg Pincus or Goldman Sachs respectively, and for so long as investment funds and entities affiliated with either Warburg Pincus or Goldman Sachs, collectively, hold at least a majority of our outstanding capital stock, our directors, other than a director designated by investment funds and entities affiliated with either Warburg Pincus or Goldman Sachs, respectively, may be removed with or without cause by the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of our outstanding capital stock. Any vacancy on our board of directors, including a vacancy resulting from an enlargement of our board of directors, may be filled only by vote of a majority of our directors then in office; provided that for so long as investment funds and entities affiliated with either Warburg Pincus or Goldman Sachs have the right to designate at least one director for election to our board of directors, any vacancies will be filled in accordance with the designation provisions set forth in our stockholders agreement.

The classification of our board of directors and the limitations on the removal of directors and filling of vacancies could make it more difficult for a third party to acquire, or discourage a third party from seeking to acquire, control of our company.
Supermajority Voting

The Delaware General Corporation Law provides generally that the affirmative vote of a majority of the shares entitled to vote on any matter is required to amend a corporation's certificate of incorporation or bylaws, unless a corporation's certificate of incorporation or bylaws, as the case may be, requires a greater percentage. For so long as investment funds and entities affiliated with Warburg Pincus have the right to designate at least three directors for election to our board of directors, the affirmative vote of 75% of our board of directors is required to amend our restated certificate of incorporation and our amended and restated bylaws or enter into certain specified corporate transactions, in addition to any other vote required by applicable law.

Stockholder Action

Our restated certificate of incorporation provides that any action required or permitted to be taken by our stockholders must be taken at a duly called annual or special meeting of such stockholders and may not be taken by any consent in writing by such stockholders. For so long as investment funds and entities affiliated with either Warburg Pincus or Goldman Sachs, collectively, hold a majority of our outstanding capital stock, however, a meeting and vote of stockholders may be dispensed with, and the action may be taken without prior notice and without such meeting and vote if a written consent is signed by the holders of outstanding stock having not less than the minimum number of votes that would be necessary to authorize or take such action at the meeting of stockholders.

Special Meeting of Stockholders

Our restated certificate of incorporation and amended and restated bylaws provide that, except as otherwise required by law, special meetings of our stockholders can only be called by our chairman of the board, our chief executive officer or our board of directors. For so long as investment funds and entities affiliated with either Warburg Pincus or Goldman Sachs, collectively, hold a majority of our outstanding capital stock, however, special meetings of our stockholders may be called by the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of our outstanding voting stock.

Authorized But Unissued Shares

The authorized but unissued shares of common stock and preferred stock are available for future issuance without stockholder approval, subject to any limitations imposed by NASDAQ Listing Rules. These additional shares may be used for a variety of corporate finance transactions, acquisitions and employee benefit plans. The existence of authorized but unissued and unreserved common stock and preferred stock could make more difficult or discourage an attempt to obtain control of us by means of a proxy contest, tender offer, merger or otherwise.

Corporate Opportunities

To the fullest extent permitted by law, we have, on behalf of ourselves, our subsidiaries and our and their respective stockholders, renounced any interest or expectancy in, or in being offered an opportunity to participate in, any business opportunity that may be presented to Warburg Pincus, Goldman Sachs or any of their respective affiliates, partners, principals, directors, officers, members, managers, employees or other representatives, and no such person has any duty to communicate or offer such business opportunity to us or any of our subsidiaries or shall be liable to us or any of our subsidiaries or any of our or its stockholders for breach of any duty, as a director or officer or otherwise, by reason of the fact that such person pursues or acquires such business opportunity, directs such business opportunity to another person or fails to present such business opportunity, or information regarding such business opportunity, to us or our subsidiaries, unless, in the case of any such person who is a director or officer of ours, such business opportunity is expressly offered to such director or officer in writing solely in his or her capacity as a director or officer of ours.
Choice of Forum

Our restated certificate of incorporation provides that the Court of Chancery of the State of Delaware shall, to the fullest extent permitted by law, be the sole and exclusive forum for any derivative action or proceeding brought on our behalf, any action asserting a claim of breach of a fiduciary duty owed by any of our directors, officers or other employees to us or our stockholders, any action asserting a claim against us arising pursuant to any provision of the Delaware General Corporation Law, our restated certificate of incorporation or our amended and restated bylaws, or any action asserting a claim against us that is governed by the internal affairs doctrine. The enforceability of choice of forum provisions has been challenged in legal proceedings, and it is possible that a court could find these types of provisions to be inapplicable or unenforceable.

Transfer Agent and Registrar

The transfer agent and registrar for our common stock will be American Stock Transfer & Trust Company.

NASDAQ Global Market

We have applied to have our common stock listed on The NASDAQ Global Market under the symbol "EIGI."
On November 9, 2012, we completed a refinancing and upsizing of our previous first lien secured credit facilities and second lien secured term loan facility. As part of this refinancing, EIG Investors, our wholly owned direct subsidiary, entered into a second amended and restated credit agreement and a second lien credit agreement, each with Credit Suisse AG, as administrative agent. EIG Investors used the proceeds of the term loans made under the new first lien credit facilities and the proceeds of the second lien term loan facility to repay the term loans under our previous credit facilities and to finance a portion of a special dividend paid to our stockholders in November 2012. See “Related Person Transactions.” On August 9, 2013, we completed a further upsizing of the new first lien credit facilities in the form of $90.0 million of incremental term loans. The material terms of the first lien credit facilities and the second lien term loan facility are described below, and copies of the credit agreements have been filed as exhibits to this registration statement of which this prospectus forms a part.

Our first lien credit facilities provide for (a) a seven-year senior secured first lien term loan facility in the aggregate amount of $886.0 million and (b) a five-year senior secured first lien revolving credit facility in the amount of $85.0 million.

The first lien term loan facility was initially borrowed on the refinancing closing date, and outstanding borrowings under the first lien term loan facility were $796.0 million at June 30, 2013. We borrowed an additional $90.0 million of incremental term loans under the first lien term loan facility on August 9, 2013 and repaid $37.0 million, which was the amount then outstanding, under our revolving credit facility. As of August 31, 2013, there were no amounts outstanding under our $85.0 million revolving credit facility. The first lien term loans amortize in an amount equal to approximately $8.9 million per annum, payable in equal quarterly installments, with the next such payment commencing on September 30, 2013. Any remaining amounts are payable in full on the final maturity date.

The first lien revolving credit facility includes sub-facilities for letters of credit and for same-day borrowings, referred to as swing line loans. On June 30, 2013, we had outstanding borrowings of $23.0 million under the first lien revolving credit facility for working capital purposes.

Our second lien term loan facility provides for a seven-and-a-half year senior secured second lien term loan facility in the aggregate amount of $315.0 million, which was borrowed in full on the refinancing closing date. Outstanding borrowings under the second lien term loan facility were $315.0 million at June 30, 2013. The second lien term loans do not amortize, and the principal amount is payable in full on the final maturity date.

Interest and Fees

The borrowings under our first lien credit facilities and second lien term loan facility bear interest at a rate per annum equal to an applicable credit spread plus, at our option, (a) adjusted LIBOR or (b) an alternate base rate determined by reference to the greater of (i) the prime rate, (ii) the federal funds effective rate plus one-half of 1.00% and (iii) one-month adjusted LIBOR plus 1.00%.

Under our first lien credit facilities, the LIBOR reference rate is subject to a floor of 1.50% per annum for revolving credit loans and 1.25% per annum for term loans. For term loans and revolving credit loans bearing interest based on adjusted LIBOR, the applicable credit spread is 5.00% and 6.25%, respectively. We are also required to pay a commitment fee of 0.50% per annum to the lenders under the revolving credit facility, based on the average daily unused amount of the revolving commitments.
Under our second lien term loan facility, the LIBOR reference rate is subject to a floor of 1.25% per annum. For term loans bearing interest based on adjusted LIBOR, the applicable credit spread is 9.00%.

Guarantees and Security

All obligations under our first lien credit facilities and second lien term loan facility are unconditionally guaranteed jointly and severally by us and, subject to certain exceptions, each of the existing and future wholly owned domestic subsidiaries of EIG Investors. The obligations and the respective guarantees of such obligations are also secured by substantially all of our assets and the assets of EIG Investors and each guarantor, subject to certain customary exceptions and exclusions. The obligations under our second lien term loan facility and the guarantees of such obligations are secured on a junior basis to the liens securing the obligations and the guarantees under our first lien credit facilities.

Covenant Restrictions and Compliance

The credit agreements governing our first lien credit facilities and our second lien term loan facility contain a number of covenants that, among other things, restrict the ability of EIG Investors and its restricted subsidiaries to incur additional indebtedness, pay dividends on our capital stock or redeem, repurchase or retire our capital stock or indebtedness, make investments, loans, advances or acquisitions, create restrictions on the payment of dividends or other amounts to us from the restricted subsidiaries, engage in transactions with our affiliates, sell assets (including capital stock of our subsidiaries), consolidate or merge, create liens, amend subordinated indebtedness and enter into sale and lease-back transactions. They also contain certain customary affirmative covenants and events of default.

The credit agreement governing the first lien credit facilities also contains a financial covenant requiring EIG Investors to maintain a maximum ratio of Consolidated Senior Secured Indebtedness to Consolidated EBITDA (both as defined in the credit agreement) as of the last day of each fiscal quarter, commencing with the three months ended March 31, 2013. The applicable maximum ratio is 5.50 to 1.00 for any fiscal quarter that ends in 2013 or 2014; 5.25 to 1.00 for any fiscal quarter that ends in 2015; 5.00 to 1.00 for any fiscal quarter that ends in 2016; 4.75 to 1.00 for any fiscal quarter that ends in 2017; and 4.50 to 1.00 for each fiscal quarter thereafter.

In addition, upon the occurrence of certain change of control events, the indebtedness under the first lien credit facilities could be accelerated, such that it becomes immediately due and payable, and we could be required to repay or refinance our indebtedness under the second lien term loan facility.

We were in compliance with all applicable covenants as of June 30, 2013.

Prepayments

The credit agreements governing our first lien credit facilities and second lien term loan facility require us to prepay outstanding term loans in the following amounts:

1. Commencing for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2013, 50.0% (or lower if EIG Investors’ senior secured net leverage ratio is less than certain specified thresholds) of the prior year’s annual excess cash flow (in the case of our second lien term loan facility, to the extent any amount remaining after making any mandatory prepayments required under the first lien credit facilities);
100.0% of the net cash proceeds of certain non-ordinary course asset sales and casualty and condemnation events, if we do not reinvest those proceeds in assets to be used in our business or toward certain other permitted investments (in the case of our second lien term loan facility, to the extent any amount remaining after making any mandatory prepayments required under the first lien credit facilities);

100.0% of the net cash proceeds of an incurrence of debt other than debt permitted under the respective credit facilities (plus, in the case of our second lien term loan facility, a prepayment premium); and in the case of our second lien term loan facility, 100.0% of the outstanding term loans plus a prepayment premium upon the occurrence of a change of control.

We may voluntarily prepay in whole or in part outstanding loans under our credit facilities at any time, subject to customary “breakage” costs with respect to adjusted LIBOR loans and, in the case of our second lien term loan facility, a prepayment premium for any prepayments made on or before November 9, 2015.

In addition, if on or prior to November 9, 2013, we prepay or refinance the term loans under our first lien credit facilities with long-term bank debt financing for the primary purpose of reducing the effective interest or weighted average yield, we will pay a repricing premium of 1.00% of the principal amount that is refinanced.

We have not made any mandatory or voluntary prepayments of term loans under either our current first lien credit facilities or second lien term loan facility to date.
SHARES ELIGIBLE FOR FUTURE SALE

Prior to this offering, there was no public market for our common stock. Future sales of substantial amounts of common stock in the public market, or the perception that such sales may occur, could adversely affect the market price of our common stock. Although we have applied to have our common stock listed on The NASDAQ Global Market, we cannot assure you that there will be an active public market for our common stock.

Upon the closing of this offering, we will have outstanding an aggregate of 128,577,363 shares of common stock, assuming the issuance of shares of common stock offered by us in this offering and no exercise of options. Of these shares, all shares sold in this offering will be freely tradable without restriction or further registration under the Securities Act, except for any shares purchased by our “affiliates,” as that term is defined in Rule 144 under the Securities Act, whose sales would be subject to the Rule 144 resale restrictions described below, other than the holding period requirement.

The remaining 105,187,363 shares of common stock will be “restricted securities,” as that term is defined in Rule 144 under the Securities Act. These restricted securities are eligible for public sale only if they are registered under the Securities Act or if they qualify for an exemption from registration under Rules 144 or 701 under the Securities Act, which are summarized below.

Subject to the lock-up agreements described below and the provisions of Rules 144 and 701 under the Securities Act, these restricted securities will be available for sale in the public market as follows:

Lock-Up Agreements

We, our officers, directors, the seller of Directi (to whom we may issue shares of our common stock in connection with the Directi acquisition) and holders of 100% of our outstanding capital stock have agreed that, without the prior written consent of Goldman Sachs, or in the case of Goldman Sachs and its affiliates, without the prior written consent of Credit Suisse Securities (USA) LLC, in each case, on behalf of the underwriters, we and they will not, subject to limited exceptions, during the period ending 180 days after the date of this prospectus:

- offer, sell, contract to sell, pledge, grant any option to purchase, make any short sale or otherwise dispose of any shares of our common stock, any options or warrants to purchase any shares of our common stock or any securities convertible into, exchangeable for or that represent the right to receive shares of our common stock; or
- engage in any hedging or other transaction which is designed to or which reasonably could be expected to lead to or result in a sale or disposition of shares of our common stock.

These agreements are subject to certain exceptions, as described in the section of this prospectus entitled “Underwriting (Conflicts of Interest).”

Upon the expiration of the applicable lock-up periods and any additional contractual lock-up period, substantially all of the shares subject to such lock-up restrictions will become eligible for sale, subject to the limitations discussed above.
Rule 144

Affiliate Resales of Restricted Securities

In general, beginning 90 days after the effective date of the registration statement of which this prospectus is a part, a person who is an affiliate of ours, or who was an affiliate at any time during the 90 days before a sale, who has beneficially owned shares of our common stock for at least six months would be entitled to sell in "broker's transactions" or certain "riskless principal transactions" or to market makers, a number of shares within any three-month period that does not exceed the greater of:

1. 1% of the number of shares of our common stock then outstanding, which will equal approximately shares immediately after this offering; or
2. the average weekly trading volume in our common stock on The NASDAQ Global Market during the four calendar weeks preceding the filing of a notice on Form 144 with respect to such sale.

Affiliate resales under Rule 144 are also subject to the availability of current public information about us. In addition, if the number of shares being sold under Rule 144 by an affiliate during any three-month period exceeds 5,000 shares or has an aggregate sale price in excess of $50,000, the seller must file a notice on Form 144 with the SEC and The NASDAQ Global Market concurrently with either the placing of a sale order with the broker or the execution directly with a market maker.

Non-Affiliate Resales of Restricted Securities

In general, beginning 90 days after the effective date of the registration statement of which this prospectus is a part, a person who is not an affiliate of ours at the time of sale, and has not been an affiliate at any time during the three months preceding a sale, and who has beneficially owned shares of our common stock for at least six months but less than a year, is entitled to sell such shares subject only to the availability of current public information about us. If such person has held our shares for at least one year, such person can resell under Rule 144(b)(1) without regard to any Rule 144 restrictions, including the 90-day public company requirement and the current public information requirement.

Non-affiliate resales are not subject to the manner of sale, volume limitation or notice filing provisions of Rule 144.

In general, under Rule 701, any of an issuer's employees, directors, officers, consultants or advisors who purchases shares from the issuer in connection with a compensatory stock or option plan or other written agreement before the effective date of a registration statement under the Securities Act is entitled to sell such shares subject only to the availability of current public information about us. If such person has held our shares for at least one year, such person can resell in reliance on Rule 144 without having to comply with the holding period requirement, and non-affiliates of the issuer can resell in reliance on Rule 144 without having to comply with the current public information and holding period requirements.

The SEC has indicated that Rule 701 will apply to typical stock options granted by an issuer before it becomes subject to the reporting requirements of the Exchange Act, along with the shares acquired upon exercise of such options, including exercises after an issuer becomes subject to the reporting requirements of the Exchange Act.
Equity Plans

We intend to file one or more registration statements on Form S-8 under the Securities Act to register all shares of common stock issued or issuable under our 2013 Plan. We expect to file the registration statement covering shares offered pursuant to our 2013 Plan shortly after the date of this prospectus, permitting the resale of such shares by nonaffiliates in the public market without restriction under the Securities Act and the sale by affiliates in the public market, subject to compliance with the resale provisions of Rule 144.

MATERIAL U.S. TAX CONSIDERATIONS FOR NON-U.S. HOLDERS OF COMMON STOCK

The following is a general discussion of material U.S. federal income and estate tax considerations relating to ownership and disposition of our common stock by a non-U.S. holder. For purposes of this discussion, the term "non-U.S. holder" means a beneficial owner of our common stock that is not, for U.S. federal income tax purposes:

- an individual who is a citizen or resident of the United States;
- a corporation, or other entity treated as a corporation for U.S. federal income tax purposes, created or organized in or under the laws of the United States or of any political subdivision of the United States;
- an estate the income of which is subject to U.S. federal income taxation regardless of its source; or
- a trust, if a U.S. court is able to exercise primary supervision over the administration of the trust and one or more U.S. persons have authority to control all substantial decisions of the trust or if the trust has a valid election to be treated as a U.S. person under applicable U.S. Treasury regulations.

An individual may be treated as a resident instead of a nonresident of the United States in any calendar year for U.S. federal income tax purposes if the individual was present in the United States for at least 31 days in that calendar year and for an aggregate of at least 183 days during the three-year period ending with the current calendar year. For purposes of this calculation, all of the days present in the current year, one-third of the days present in the immediately preceding year and one-sixth of the days present in the second preceding year are counted. Residents are taxed for U.S. federal income tax purposes as if they were U.S. citizens.

This discussion is based on current provisions of the Code, existing and proposed U.S. Treasury Regulations promulgated thereunder, current administrative rulings and judicial decisions, all as in effect as of the date of this prospectus and all of which are subject to change or to differing interpretation, possibly with retroactive effect. Any change could alter the tax consequences to non-U.S. holders described in this prospectus. In addition, the Internal Revenue Service, or the IRS, could challenge one or more of the tax consequences described in this prospectus.

We assume in this discussion that each non-U.S. holder holds shares of our common stock as a capital asset (generally, property held for investment). This discussion does not address all aspects of U.S. federal income and estate taxation that may be relevant to a particular non-U.S. holder in light of that non-U.S. holder's individual circumstances nor does it address any aspects of U.S. state, local or non-U.S. taxes. This discussion also does not consider any specific facts or circumstances that may apply to a non-U.S. holder and does not address the special tax rules applicable to particular non-U.S. holders, such as:

- insurance companies;
- tax-exempt organizations;
- financial institutions;
- brokers or dealers in securities;
- regulated investment companies;
- pension plans;
- controlled foreign corporations;
passive foreign investment companies; owners that hold our common stock as part of a straddle, hedge, conversion transaction, synthetic security or other integrated investment; and certain U.S. expatriates.

In addition, this discussion does not address the tax treatment of partnerships or persons who hold their common stock through partnerships or other entities which are pass-through entities for U.S. federal income tax purposes. A partner in a partnership or other pass-through entity that will hold our common stock should consult his, her or its own tax advisor regarding the tax consequences of the ownership and disposition of our common stock through a partnership or other pass-through entity, as applicable.

Prospective investors should consult their own tax advisors regarding the U.S. federal, state, local and non-U.S. income and other tax considerations of acquiring, holding and disposing of our common stock.

Dividends

If we pay distributions on our common stock, those distributions generally will constitute dividends for U.S. federal income tax purposes to the extent paid from our current or accumulated earnings and profits, as determined under U.S. federal income tax principles. If a distribution exceeds our current and accumulated earnings and profits, the excess will be treated as a tax-free return of the non-U.S. holder’s investment, up to such holder’s tax basis in the common stock. Any remaining excess will be treated as capital gain, subject to the tax treatment described below under the heading “Gain on Disposition of Common Stock.”

Dividends paid to a non-U.S. holder generally will be subject to withholding of U.S. federal income tax at a 30% rate or such lower rate as may be specified by an applicable income tax treaty between the United States and such holder’s country of residence.

Dividends that are treated as effectively connected with a trade or business conducted by a non-U.S. holder within the United States, and, if an applicable income tax treaty so provides, that are attributable to a permanent establishment or a fixed base maintained by the non-U.S. holder within the United States, are generally exempt from the 30% withholding tax if the non-U.S. holder satisfies applicable certification and disclosure requirements. However, such U.S. effectively connected income, net of specified deductions and credits, is taxed at the same graduated U.S. federal income tax rates applicable to U.S. persons (as defined in the Code). Any U.S. effectively connected income received by a non-U.S. holder that is a corporation may also, under certain circumstances, be subject to an additional “branch profits tax” at a 30% rate or such lower rate as may be specified by an applicable income tax treaty between the United States and such holder’s country of residence.

A non-U.S. holder of our common stock who claims the benefit of an applicable income tax treaty between the United States and such holder’s country of residence generally will be required to provide a properly executed IRS Form W-8BEN (or successor form) and satisfy applicable certification and other requirements. Non-U.S. holders are urged to consult their own tax advisors regarding their entitlement to benefits under a relevant income tax treaty.

A non-U.S. holder that is eligible for a reduced rate of U.S. withholding tax under an income tax treaty may obtain a refund or credit of any excess amounts withheld by timely filing an appropriate claim with the IRS.
Gain on Disposition of Common Stock

A non-U.S. holder generally will not be subject to U.S. federal income tax on gain recognized on a disposition of our common stock unless:

Ÿ the gain is effectively connected with the non-U.S. holder’s conduct of a trade or business in the United States, and, if an applicable income tax treaty so provides, the gain is attributable to a permanent establishment or fixed base maintained by the non-U.S. holder in the United States; in these cases, the non-U.S. holder will be taxed on a net income basis at the regular graduated rates and in the manner applicable to U.S. persons, and if the non-U.S. holder is a foreign corporation, an additional branch profits tax at a rate of 30%, or a lower rate as may be specified by an applicable income tax treaty, may also apply;

Ÿ the non-U.S. holder is a non-resident alien present in the United States for 183 days or more in the taxable year of the disposition and certain other requirements are met, in which case the non-U.S. holder will be subject to a 30% tax (or such lower rate as may be specified by an applicable income tax treaty) on the net gain derived from the disposition, which may be offset by U.S.-source capital losses of the non-U.S. holder, if any; or Ÿ we are or have been, at any time during the five-year period preceding such disposition (or the non-U.S. holder’s holding period, if shorter) a “U.S. real property holding corporation” unless our common stock is regularly traded on an established securities market and the non-U.S. holder held no more than 5% of our outstanding common stock, directly or indirectly, during the shorter of the 5-year period ending on the date of the disposition or the period that the non-U.S. holder held our common stock. Generally, a corporation is a “U.S. real property holding corporation” if the fair market value of its “U.S. real property interests” equals or exceeds 50% of the sum of the fair market value of its worldwide real property interests plus its other assets used or held for use in a trade or business. Although there can be no assurance, we believe that we are not currently, and we do not anticipate becoming, a “U.S. real property holding corporation” for U.S. federal income tax purposes. No assurance can be provided that our common stock will be regularly traded on an established securities market for purposes of the rule described above.

Information Reporting and Backup Withholding Tax

We must report annually to the IRS and to each non-U.S. holder the gross amount of the distributions on our common stock paid to such holder and the tax withheld, if any, with respect to such distributions. Non-U.S. holders may have to comply with specific certification procedures to establish that the holder is not a U.S. person (as defined in the Code) in order to avoid backup withholding at the applicable rate, currently 28%, with respect to dividends on our common stock. Generally, a holder will comply with such procedures if it provides a properly executed IRS Form W-8BEN (or other applicable Form W-8) or otherwise meets documentary evidence requirements for establishing that it is a non-U.S. holder, or otherwise establishes an exemption. Dividends paid to non-U.S. holders subject to withholding of U.S. federal income tax, as described above under “Dividends”, will generally be exempt from U.S. backup withholding.

Information reporting and backup withholding generally will apply to the proceeds of a disposition of our common stock by a non-U.S. holder effected by or through the U.S. office of any broker, U.S. or foreign, unless the holder certifies its status as a non-U.S. holder and satisfies certain other requirements, or otherwise establishes an exemption. Generally, information reporting and backup withholding will not apply to a payment of disposition proceeds to a non-U.S. holder where the transaction is effected outside the United States through a non-U.S. office of a broker. However, for information reporting purposes, dispositions effected through a non-U.S. office of a broker with substantial U.S. ownership or operations generally will be treated in a manner similar to dispositions effected through a U.S. office of a broker. Non-U.S. holders should consult their own tax advisors regarding the application of the information reporting and backup withholding rules to them.

Copies of information returns may be made available to the tax authorities of the country in which the non-U.S. holder resides or is incorporated under the provisions of a specific treaty or agreement.

Backup withholding is not an additional tax. Any amounts withheld under the backup withholding rules from a payment to a non-U.S. holder can be refunded or credited against the non-U.S. holder’s U.S. federal income tax liability, if any, provided that an appropriate claim is timely filed with the IRS.

Federal Estate Tax

Common stock owned or treated as owned by an individual who is a non-U.S. holder (as specially defined for U.S. federal estate tax purposes) at the time of death will be included in the individual’s gross estate for U.S. federal estate tax purposes and, therefore, may be subject to U.S. federal estate tax, unless an applicable estate tax or other treaty provides otherwise.

Legislation Relating to Foreign Accounts

The Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act, or FATCA, was enacted in March 2010. Generally, FATCA imposes a 30% withholding tax on dividends of, and gross proceeds from the sale or disposition, of our common stock if paid to a foreign entity unless (i) if the foreign entity is a “foreign financial institution,” the foreign entity undertakes certain due diligence, reporting, withholding, and certification obligations, (ii) if the foreign entity is not a “foreign financial institution,” the foreign entity identifies certain of its U.S. investors, or (iii) the foreign entity is otherwise exempt under FATCA.

Although this legislation is effective with regards to amounts paid after December 31, 2012, under final regulations issued by the U.S. Department of Treasury on January 17, 2013, withholding under FATCA will only apply (1) to payments of dividends on our common stock made after December 31, 2013 and (2) to payments of gross proceeds from a sale or other disposition of our common stock made after December 31, 2016. Under certain circumstances, a non-U.S. holder may be eligible for refunds or credits of the tax. Non-U.S. holders should consult their own tax advisors regarding the possible implications of this legislation on their investment in our common stock.

THE PRECEDING DISCUSSION OF MATERIAL U.S. FEDERAL TAX CONSIDERATIONS IS FOR GENERAL INFORMATION ONLY. IT IS NOT TAX ADVICE. PROSPECTIVE INVESTORS SHOULD CONSULT THEIR OWN TAX ADVISORS REGARDING THE PARTICULAR U.S. FEDERAL, STATE, LOCAL AND NON-U.S. TAX CONSEQUENCES OF PURCHASING, HOLDING AND DISPOSING OF OUR COMMON STOCK, INCLUDING THE CONSEQUENCES OF ANY PROPOSED CHANGES IN APPLICABLE LAWS.

The underwriters are committed to take and pay for all of the shares being offered, if any are taken, other than the shares covered by the option described below unless and until this option is exercised.

The underwriters have an option to buy up to an additional 3,508,500 shares to cover sales by the underwriters of a greater number of shares than the total number set forth in the table above. They may exercise that option for 30 days. If any shares are purchased pursuant to this option, the underwriters will severally purchase shares in approximately the same proportion as set forth in the table above.

The following tables show the per share and total underwriting discounts and commissions to be paid to the underwriters by us. Such amounts are shown assuming both no exercise and full exercise of the underwriters’ option to purchase additional 3,508,500 shares of our common stock.

Shares sold by the underwriters to the public will initially be offered at the initial public offering price set forth on the cover of this prospectus. Any shares sold by the underwriters to securities dealers may be sold at a discount of up to $ per share from the initial public offering price. After the initial offering of the shares, the representatives may change the offering price and the other selling terms. The offering of the shares by the underwriters is subject to receipt and acceptance and subject to the underwriters’ right to reject any order in whole or in part.

We, our officers, directors, the seller of Directi (to whom we may issue shares of our common stock in connection with the Directi acquisition) and holders of 100% of our outstanding capital stock have agreed with the underwriters, subject to certain exceptions, not to dispose of or hedge any of their common stock or securities convertible into or exchangeable for shares of common stock during the period from the date of this prospectus continuing through the date 180 days after the date of this prospectus, except with the prior written consent of Goldman, Sachs & Co., or in the case of Goldman, Sachs & Co. and its affiliates, with the prior written consent of Credit Suisse Securities (USA) LLC. See “Shares Eligible for Future Sale—Lock-Up Agreements” for a discussion of certain transfer restrictions. The transfer restrictions, with certain exceptions, do not apply to:

(a) the transfer of shares of our common stock (i) as a bona fide gift or gifts, (ii) to any immediate family members of a stockholder or any trust for the direct or indirect benefit of a stockholder or the immediate family of a stockholder, or any limited partnership the partners of which are such stockholder and/or immediate family members of such stockholder, (iii) by will or intestacy, or (iv) to limited or general partners, members, stockholders or affiliates (as defined under Rule 12b-2 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, or the Exchange Act) of a stockholder or, in the case of a corporation, to a wholly owned subsidiary of a stockholder; provided that, in the case of any transfer or distribution pursuant to this bullet point, each donee, trustee, legatee, heir, distributee or other transferee, as the case may be, must agree in writing to be bound by the transfer restrictions set forth in the lock-up agreement, such transfer or distribution must be a disposition for no value, and no filing under Section 16(a) of the Exchange Act during the 180 days after the date of this prospectus shall be required or voluntarily made in connection with such transfer, distribution, exercise or disposition;

(b) the exercise of a stockholder’s option to purchase shares of our common stock granted prior to the date of this prospectus under a stock incentive plan or stock purchase plan described in this prospectus, or the disposition to us of such stockholder’s shares of common stock pursuant to any contractual relationship in effect on the date of the underwriting agreement to be entered into by us and the underwriters that provides for such disposition; provided that no filing under Section 16(a) of the Exchange Act during the 180 days after the date of this prospectus shall be required or voluntarily made in connection with such exercise or disposition;

(c) the transfer of a stockholder’s shares of our common stock acquired on the open market following the date that is 180 days after the date of this prospectus; provided that no filing under Section 16(a) of the Exchange Act during the 180 days after the date of this prospectus shall be required or voluntarily made in connection with such transfer;

(d) the establishment of a trading plan pursuant to Rule 10b5-1 under the Exchange Act for the transfer of shares of our common stock; provided that (A) such plan does not provide for the transfer of shares of our common stock during the 180 days after the date of this prospectus and (B) any public announcement regarding the establishment of such plan specifies that no transfer of shares of our common stock is permitted during the 180 days after the date of this prospectus; or

(e) the sale of a stockholder’s shares of our common stock to the underwriters as part of this offering.

Prior to the offering, there has been no public market for the shares. The initial public offering price has been negotiated among us and the representatives. Among the factors to be considered in determining the initial public offering price of the shares, in addition to prevailing market conditions, will be our historical performance, estimates of our business potential and earnings prospects, an assessment of our management and the consideration of the above factors in relation to market valuation of companies in related businesses.

We have applied to list our common stock on The NASDAQ Global Market under the symbol “EIGI.”

In connection with the offering, the underwriters may purchase and sell shares of common stock in the open market. These transactions may include short sales, stabilizing transactions and purchases to cover positions created by short sales. Short sales involve the sale by the underwriters of a greater number of shares than they are required to purchase in the offering, and a short position represents the amount of such sales that have not been covered by subsequent purchases. A “covered short position” is a short position that is not greater than the amount of additional shares for which the underwriters’ option described above may be exercised. The underwriters may cover any covered short position by either exercising their option to purchase additional shares or purchasing shares in the open market. In determining the source of shares to cover the covered short position, the underwriters will consider, among other things, the price of shares available for purchase in the open market as compared to the price at which they may purchase additional shares pursuant to the option described above. “Naked” short sales are any short sales that create a short position greater than the amount of additional shares for which the option described above may be exercised. The underwriters must cover any such naked short position by purchasing shares in the open market. A naked short position is more likely to be created if the underwriters are concerned that there may be downward pressure on the price of the common stock in the open market after pricing that could adversely affect investors who purchase in the offering. Stabilizing transactions consist of various bids for or purchases of common stock made by the underwriters in the open market prior to the completion of the offering.

The underwriters may also impose a penalty bid. This occurs when a particular underwriter repays to the underwriters a portion of the underwriting discount received by it because the representatives have repurchased shares sold by or for the account of such underwriter in stabilizing or short covering transactions.

Purchases to cover a short position and stabilizing transactions, as well as other purchases by the underwriters for their own accounts, may have the effect of preventing or retarding a decline in the market price of our stock, and together with the imposition of the penalty bid, may stabilize, maintain or otherwise affect the market price of our common stock. As a result, the price of our common stock may be higher than the price that otherwise might exist in the open market. The underwriters are not required to engage in these activities and may end any of these activities at any time. These transactions may be effected on The NASDAQ Global Market, in the over-the-counter market or otherwise.

The underwriters do not expect sales to discretionary accounts to exceed five percent of the total number of shares offered.

We estimate that the total expenses of the offering, excluding underwriting discounts and commissions, will be approximately $7.1 million.

We have agreed to pay the filing fees incident to, and the fees and disbursements of counsel for the underwriters in connection with, any required review by FINRA in connection with this offering.

Lazard Frères & Co. LLC referred this transaction to Lazard Capital Markets LLC and will receive a referral fee from Lazard Capital Markets LLC in connection therewith.

We have agreed to indemnify the several underwriters against certain liabilities, including liabilities under the Securities Act.

Relationships

The underwriters and their respective affiliates are full service financial institutions engaged in various activities, which may include sales and trading, commercial and investment banking, advisory, investment management, investment research, principal investment, hedging, market making, brokerage and other financial and non-financial activities and services. Certain of the underwriters and their respective affiliates have provided, and may in the future provide, a variety of these services to the issuer and to persons and entities with relationships with the issuer, for which they received or will receive customary fees and expenses.

In the ordinary course of their various business activities, the underwriters and their respective affiliates, officers, directors and employees may purchase, sell or hold a broad array of investments. and actively trade securities, derivatives, loans, commodities, currencies, credit default swaps and other financial instruments for their own account and for the accounts of their customers, and such investment and trading activities may involve or relate to our assets, securities and/or instruments (directly, as collateral securing other obligations or otherwise) and/or persons and entities with relationships with us. The underwriters and their respective affiliates may also communicate independent investment recommendations, market color or trading ideas and/or publish or express independent research views in respect of such assets, securities or instruments and may at any time hold, or recommend to clients that they should acquire, long and/or short positions in such assets, securities and instruments.

Directed Share Program

At our request, the underwriters have reserved 56,666 shares (based on the midpoint of the price range set forth on the cover page of this prospectus) for distribution to substantially all of our U.S. employees who are not expected to participate in our 2013 Stock Incentive Plan (a total of approximately 2,000 employees). These shares will be allocated among eligible employees in amounts determined by us. Employees will not be required to pay for these shares, and we will make payments to employees in amounts sufficient to pay the income and payroll taxes arising from the receipt of the shares (valued at the initial public offering price) and the associated taxes on such payments. These shares will not be subject to lock-up agreements with the underwriters and may be resold in the public market immediately after this offering. These shares will be distributed through a directed share program on the LOYAL3 platform administered by LOYAL3 Securities, Inc., or LOYAL3, which is a U.S.-registered broker-dealer unaffiliated with our company. The LOYAL3 platform and information on the LOYAL3 website do not form a part of this prospectus. We will pay LOYAL3 a fee of $50,000 for administering the directed share program.

Selling Restrictions

European Economic Area

In relation to each Member State of the European Economic Area which has implemented the Prospectus Directive (each, a Relevant Member State), each underwriter has represented and agreed that with effect from and including the date on which the Prospectus Directive is implemented in that Relevant Member State (the Relevant Implementation Date) it has not made and will not make an offer of shares to the public in that Relevant Member State prior to the publication of a prospectus in relation to the shares which has been approved by the competent authority in that Relevant Member State or, where appropriate, approved in another Relevant Member State and notified to the competent authority in that Relevant Member State, all in accordance with the Prospectus Directive, except that it may, with effect from and including the Relevant Implementation Date, make an offer of shares to the public in that Relevant Member State at any time:

(a) to legal entities which are authorised or regulated to operate in the financial markets or, if not so authorised or regulated, whose corporate purpose is solely to invest in securities;

(b) to any legal entity which has two or more of (1) an average of at least 250 employees during the last financial year; (2) a total balance sheet of more than €43,000,000 and (3) an annual net turnover of more than €50,000,000, as shown in its last annual or consolidated accounts;

(c) to fewer than 100 natural or legal persons (other than qualified investors as defined in the Prospectus Directive) subject to obtaining the prior consent of the representatives for any such offer; or

(d) in any other circumstances which do not require the publication by the Issuer of a prospectus pursuant to Article 3 of the Prospectus Directive.
For the purposes of this provision, the expression an “offer of shares to the public” in relation to any shares in any Relevant Member State means the communication in any form and by any means of sufficient information on the terms of the offer and the shares to be offered so as to enable an investor to decide to purchase or subscribe for the shares, as the same may be varied in that Relevant Member State by any measure implementing the Prospectus Directive in that Relevant Member State, and the expression Prospectus Directive means Directive 2003/71/EC and includes any relevant implementing measure in each Relevant Member State.

United Kingdom

Each underwriter has represented and agreed that:

(a) it has only communicated or caused to be communicated and will only communicate or cause to be communicated an invitation or inducement to engage in investment activity (within the meaning of Section 21 of the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 (the FSMA)) received by it in connection with the issue or sale of the shares in circumstances in which Section 21(1) of the FSMA does not apply to us; and

(b) it has complied and will comply with all applicable provisions of the FSMA with respect to anything done by it in relation to the shares in, from or otherwise involving the United Kingdom.

Hong Kong

The shares may not be offered or sold by means of any document other than (i) in circumstances which do not constitute an offer to the public within the meaning of the Companies Ordinance (Cap.32, Laws of Hong Kong), (ii) to “professional investors” within the meaning of the Securities and Futures Ordinance (Cap.571, Laws of Hong Kong) and any rules made thereunder, or (iii) in other circumstances which do not result in the document being a “prospectus” within the meaning of the Companies Ordinance (Cap.32, Laws of Hong Kong), and no advertisement, invitation or document relating to the shares may be issued or may be in the possession of any person for the purpose of issue (in each case whether in Hong Kong or elsewhere), which is directed at, or the contents of which are likely to be accessed or read by, the public in Hong Kong (except if permitted to do so under the laws of Hong Kong) other than with respect to shares which are or are intended to be disposed of only to persons outside Hong Kong or only to “professional investors” within the meaning of the Securities and Futures Ordinance (Cap. 571, Laws of Hong Kong) and any rules made thereunder.

Singapore

This prospectus has not been registered as a prospectus with the Monetary Authority of Singapore. Accordingly, this prospectus and any other document or material in connection with the offer or sale, or invitation for subscription or purchase, of the shares may not be circulated or distributed, nor may the shares be offered or sold, or be the subject of an invitation for subscription or purchase, whether directly or indirectly, to persons in Singapore other than (i) to an institutional investor under Section 274 of the Securities and Futures Act, Chapter 289 of Singapore (the SFA), (ii) to a relevant person, or any person pursuant to Section 275(1A), and in accordance with the conditions, specified in Section 275 of the SFA or (iii) otherwise pursuant to, and in accordance with the conditions of, any other applicable provision of the SFA.

Where the shares are subscribed or purchased under Section 275 by a relevant person which is: (a) a corporation (which is not an accredited investor) the sole business of which is to hold investments and the entire share capital of which is owned by one or more individuals, each of whom is an accredited investor; or (b) a trust (where the trustee is not an accredited investor) whose sole purpose is to hold investments and each beneficiary is an accredited investor, shares, debentures and units of shares and debentures of that corporation or the beneficiaries’ rights and interest in that trust shall not be transferable for six months after that corporation or that trust has acquired the shares under Section 275 except: (1) to an institutional investor under Section 274 of the SFA or to a relevant person, or any person pursuant to Section 275(1A), and in accordance with the conditions, specified in Section 275 of the SFA; (2) where no consideration is given for the transfer; or (3) by operation of law.

Japan

The securities have not been and will not be registered under the Financial Instruments and Exchange Law of Japan (the Financial Instruments and Exchange Law) and each underwriter has agreed that it will not offer or sell any securities, directly or indirectly, in Japan or to, or for the benefit of, any resident of Japan (which term as used herein means any person resident in Japan, including any corporation or other entity organized under the laws of Japan), or to others for re-offering or resale, directly or indirectly, in Japan or to a resident of Japan, except pursuant to an exemption from the registration requirements of, and otherwise in compliance with, the Financial Instruments and Exchange Law and any other applicable laws, regulations and ministerial guidelines of Japan.

Conflicts of Interest

Goldman, Sachs & Co. is an underwriter in this offering. Since Goldman, Sachs & Co. and its affiliated funds beneficially own more than 10% of our outstanding common stock, a “conflict of interest” is deemed to exist under the applicable provisions of Rule 5121 of the Conduct Rules of FINRA. In addition, we expect that more than 5% of the net proceeds of this offering may be received by certain other underwriters in this offering or their affiliates that are lenders under our credit facilities as the result of the use of a portion of our net proceeds to repay indebtedness under such credit facilities. Accordingly, this offering will be made in compliance with the applicable provisions of Rule 5121. Rule 5121 currently requires that a “qualified independent underwriter,” as defined by the FINRA rules, participate in the preparation of the registration statement and the prospectus and exercise the usual standards of due diligence in respect thereto. Credit Suisse Securities (USA) LLC has agreed to act as qualified independent underwriter for the offering and to participate in the preparation of this prospectus and exercise the usual standards of due diligence with respect thereto. Credit Suisse Securities (USA) LLC will not receive any additional compensation for acting as a qualified independent underwriter. We have agreed to indemnify Credit Suisse Securities (USA) LLC against certain liabilities in connection with acting as a qualified independent underwriter, including liabilities under the Securities Act. In addition, in accordance with Rule 5121, Goldman, Sachs & Co.
 will not make sales to discretionary accounts without the prior written consent of the customer.

Entities affiliated with Credit Suisse Securities (USA) LLC beneficially own, on an indirect basis through an investment fund affiliated with Warburg Pincus, less than 1% of our outstanding common stock. In addition, entities affiliated with Credit Suisse Securities (USA) LLC hold an aggregate of $33 million of our outstanding indebtedness under our revolving credit facility. Such entities affiliated with Credit Suisse Securities (USA) LLC, however, will not receive more than 5% of the net proceeds from this offering.
LEGAL MATTERS

The validity of the shares of common stock offered hereby will be passed upon for us by Wilmer Cutler Pickering Hale and Dorr LLP. Goodwin Procter LLP has acted as counsel for the underwriters in connection with certain legal matters related to this offering.

REPORT OF INDEPENDENT REGISTERED PUBLIC ACCOUNTING FIRM

Board of Directors and Stockholders
Endurance International Group Holdings, Inc.
Burlington, Massachusetts

We have audited the accompanying consolidated balance sheets of Endurance International Group Holdings, Inc. and its subsidiaries as of December 31, 2011 and 2012 and the related consolidated statements of operations, stockholders’ equity and cash flows for the year ended December 31, 2010 (Predecessor Company), and the period from January 1, 2011 through December 21, 2011 (Predecessor Company) and the period from December 22, 2011 through December 31, 2011 (Successor Company) and the year ended December 31, 2012 (Successor Company). These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. The Company is not required to have, nor were we engaged to perform, an audit of its internal controls over financial reporting. Our audits included consideration of internal control over financial reporting as a basis for designing audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control over financial reporting. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements, assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Endurance International Group Holdings, Inc. and its subsidiaries as of December 31, 2011 and 2012, and the results of their operations and their cash flows for the year ended December 31, 2010 (Predecessor Company), and the period from January 1, 2011 through December 21, 2011 (Predecessor Company) and the period from December 22, 2011 through December 31, 2011 (Successor Company) and the year ended December 31, 2012 (Successor Company) in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

1. Nature of Business

Endurance International Group Holdings, Inc., is a Delaware corporation (the "Company") which together with its wholly owned subsidiary company, EIG Investors Corp., ("EIG Investors"), its primary operating subsidiary company, The Endurance International Group, Inc. ("EIG") and other subsidiary companies of EIG, collectively form the "Group". The Group is a leading provider of cloud-based solutions designed to help small- and medium-sized businesses establish, manage and grow their businesses. EIG and EIG Investors were incorporated in April 1997 and May 2007, respectively.

Sponsor Acquisition—December 22, 2011

WP Expedition Holdings LLC, a Delaware limited liability company ("Holdings LLC"), was formed and organized on October 28, 2011 pursuant to an Agreement and Plan of Merger, dated November 2, 2011 (the "Agreement") (see Note 3). On December 22, 2011, Holdings LLC acquired EIG Investors, EIG and its subsidiary companies (the “Sponsor Acquisition”). On November 7, 2012, Holdings LLC was reorganized as WP Expedition Holdings L.P., a Delaware limited partnership ("Holdings LP"). On June 25, 2013, Holdings LP converted into a Delaware C-corporation and changed its name to Endurance International Group Holdings, Inc., which, as noted above, is the reporting entity. The June 25, 2013 conversion of the Company has been applied to the Group’s financial statements retroactively to December 22, 2011, as if the conversion was effective December 22, 2011. Therefore, for comparative reporting purposes, the Company reports its financial results, as presented in the Predecessor periods, at the EIG Investors company level, which was the primary holding company until the Sponsor Acquisition on December 22, 2011. Because there was no activity in the Company prior to the Sponsor Acquisition, nor was there any change in the number of shares issued or the par value of the shares of EIG Investors, it was determined that the Company is essentially the same as EIG Investors. Therefore, the retroactive presentation of the conversion includes equity activity of EIG Investors for the successor period and the conversion has not been applied to the predecessor period.

In connection with the Sponsor Acquisition, Holdings LLC issued 100% of its membership interests (which converted into 1,000 shares of the Company’s common stock as a result of the reorganization of Holdings LLC into a Delaware partnership and subsequent conversion into a Delaware C-corporation, as discussed above) to WP Expedition Midco LLC (currently WP Expedition Midco L.P.) ("Midco"), a wholly owned subsidiary of WP Expedition Topco LLC (currently WP Expedition Topco L.P.) ("Topco") and 150,000 shares of its series E preferred stock to an entity owned by Accel-KKR, the prior private equity sponsor, as a component of the purchase price of the Sponsor Acquisition. In addition, EIG Investors entered into a $350.0 million term loan facility (the “December 2011 Term Loan”), the proceeds of which were used to repay existing indebtedness (see Note 8).

Significant Events—2012

On April 20, 2012, EIG Investors entered into a six-year $535.0 million term loan facility (the “April 2012 Term Loan”). EIG Investors used the proceeds of the April 2012 Term Loan to repay $349.1 million outstanding under the December 2011 Term Loan (see Note 8) and to redeem all of its outstanding series E preferred stock for $150.0 million, plus accrued dividends of $6.0 million (see Note 9).

On July 13, 2012, EIG acquired all of the outstanding membership units of HostGator.com LLC ("HostGator"), a privately-held leading provider of shared, virtual private server ("VPS") and dedicated web hosting services to small- and medium-sized businesses. On September 17, 2012, EIG acquired the assets and assumed the liabilities of Homestead Technologies, Inc. (see Note 3). In connection with these acquisitions, on July 13, 2012, EIG Investors entered into new term loan facilities with aggregate principal amount of $810.0 million (the “July 2012 Term Loans”) (see Note 8).

On November 9, 2012, EIG distributed $300.0 million to Holdings LP which was ultimately paid to holders of class A and class B units of Topco, (see Note 11). In connection with the distribution, EIG Investors entered into new term loan facilities with aggregate principal amount of $1,115.0 million and a revolving credit facility of $85.0 million (the “November 2012 Term Loans”) (see Note 8).

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Basis of Preparation

The accompanying consolidated financial statements, which include the accounts of the Company and its wholly-owned subsidiaries and reflect the Sponsor Acquisition, have been prepared using accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. All intercompany transactions have been eliminated on consolidation.

The Sponsor Acquisition was accounted for as a purchase in accordance with the Financial Accounting Standards Board (“FASB”) Accounting Standards Codification (“ASC”) 805, Business Combinations (“ASC 805”), and the purchase price was recorded in the Company’s consolidated financial statements. The acquired company’s financial statements reflect the new accounting basis recorded by the acquiring company. Accordingly, the Company’s purchase accounting adjustments have been reflected in the Company’s financial statements for the period commencing December 22, 2011. The new basis of accounting reflects the estimated fair value of the Company’s assets and liabilities as of December 22, 2011, the date of the Sponsor Acquisition.

As a result of the Sponsor Acquisition, the year ended December 31, 2010 and the period from January 1, 2011 to December 21, 2011, for which the Company’s results of operations and cash flows are presented, are reported as the “Predecessor” period. The period from December 22, 2011 through December 31, 2011 and the year ended December 31, 2012, for which the Company’s results of operations and cash flows are presented, are reported as the “Successor” period, as well as the Company’s financial position as of December 31, 2011 and 2012 and for the six months ended June 30, 2012 and 2013.

Use of Estimates

The consolidated financial statements are prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. These accounting principles require management to make certain estimates, judgments and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets, liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the consolidated financial statements and the reported amounts of revenue and expenses during the reporting period. These estimates, judgments and assumptions used in preparing the accompanying consolidated financial statements are based on the relevant facts and circumstances as of the date of the consolidated financial statements. Although the Group regularly assesses these estimates, judgments and assumptions used in preparing the consolidated financial statements, actual results could differ from those estimates. Changes in estimates are recorded in the period in which they become known. The more significant estimates reflected in these consolidated financial statements include estimates of fair value of assets acquired and liabilities assumed under purchase accounting and asset acquisitions and when evaluating goodwill and long-lived assets for potential impairment, the estimated useful lives of intangible and depreciable assets, stock-based compensation, certain accruals, reserves and deferred taxes.

Unaudited Interim Financial Information

The accompanying interim consolidated balance sheet as of June 30, 2013, and the related statements of operations, changes in stockholders' equity, cash flows and the notes to consolidated financial statements for the six months ended June 30, 2012 and 2013 are unaudited. These unaudited consolidated financial statements have been prepared on the same basis as the audited consolidated financial statements. The unaudited consolidated financial statements includes, in the opinion of management, all adjustments, consisting only of normal recurring adjustments that are necessary for a fair presentation of the Company's financial position at June 30, 2013, and results of operations and cash flows for the six months ended June 30, 2012 and 2013. The consolidated results of operations are not necessarily indicative of the results of operations to be expected for the full fiscal year ending December 31, 2013.

Cash Equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents include all highly liquid investments with remaining maturities of three months or less at the date of purchase.

Restricted Cash

Restricted cash is composed of certificates of deposits and cash held by merchant banks and payment processors, which provide collateral against any charge-backs, fees, or other items that may be charged back to the Group by credit card companies and other merchants. In addition, at December 31, 2011, there was a cash deposit of $3.5 million with a bank that had been pledged as collateral against a promissory note to the bank obliging the Company to reimburse the bank for any draw-downs against letters of credit issued in favor of domain registries. This was repaid in October 2012 after alternative arrangements with the domain registries were put in place.

Accounts Receivable

Accounts receivable is primarily composed of cash due from credit card companies for unsettled transactions charged to subscribers' credit cards. As these amounts reflect authenticated transactions that are fully collectible, the Group does not maintain an allowance for doubtful accounts. The Company also accrues for earned referral fees and commissions, which are governed by reseller or affiliate agreements when the amount is reasonably estimable.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments

The carrying amounts of the Group's financial instruments, which include cash equivalents, accounts receivable, accounts payable and certain accrued expenses, approximate their fair values due to their short maturities. The fair value of the Group's notes payable are based on the borrowing rates currently available to the Group for debt with similar terms and average maturities and approximate their carrying value.
Concentrations of Credit and Other Risks

Financial instruments which potentially subject the Group to concentrations of credit risk consist principally of cash and cash equivalents and accounts receivables. Cash and cash equivalents are maintained at accredited financial institutions and PayPal and at times, balances exceed U.S. federally insured limits. The Group has never experienced any losses related to these balances. All of the Group’s non-interest bearing cash balances held at accredited financial institutions were fully insured at December 31, 2012 due to a temporary U.S. federal program in effect from December 31, 2010 through December 31, 2012. Under the program, there was no limit to the amount of insurance for eligible accounts. Interest-bearing amounts on deposit in excess of U.S. federally insured limits and in ineligible non-interest bearing accounts at December 31, 2011 and 2012 approximated $1.1 million and $1.9 million. Beginning in 2013, insurance coverage reverted to $250,000 per depositor at each financial institution.

For the year ended December 31, 2010, the Predecessor and Successor periods in 2011, the year ended December 31, 2012, and the six months ended June 30, 2012 and 2013, no subscriber represented 10% or more of the Company’s total revenue.

Property and Equipment

Property and equipment is recorded at cost or fair value if acquired in an acquisition. The Group also capitalizes the direct costs of constructing additional computer equipment for internal use, as well as upgrades to existing computer equipment which extend the useful life, capacity or operating efficiency of the equipment. Capitalized costs include the cost of materials, shipping and taxes. Materials used for repairs and maintenance of computer equipment are expensed and recorded as a cost of revenue. Materials on hand and construction-in-process are recorded as property and equipment. Depreciation is computed using the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the related assets as follows:

- Purchased software: Two years
- Computers and office equipment: Three years
- Furniture and fixtures: Five years
- Leasehold improvements: Shorter of useful life or remaining term of the lease

Software Development Costs

The Group accounts for software development costs for internal use software under the provisions of ASC 350-40, “Internal-Use Software” ("ASC 350"). Accordingly, certain costs to develop internal-use computer software would be capitalized, provided these costs are expected to be recoverable. There have been no such costs capitalized during the year ended December 31, 2010, the Predecessor and Successor periods in 2011, the year ended December 31, 2012, or the six months ended June 30, 2012 and 2013.

Investments

In 2012, the Company made two minority investments in privately-held companies. The Company’s voting interest in each of these companies is between 25% and 50%. The Company accounts for these investments under the equity method of accounting. Under this method, the investment balance, originally recorded at cost, is adjusted to recognize the Company’s share of net earnings or losses of the investee company as they occur, limited to the extent of the Company’s investment in, advances to and commitments for the investee. The Company's share of net earnings or losses of the investee are reflected in equity losses of unconsolidated entities, net of tax, in the Company's accompanying consolidated statements of operations.

In 2013, the Company made one minority investment in a privately-held company. The Company's voting interest in this company is 17.5%, and the Company has determined that it does not exercise significant influence over the investee. The Company accounts for this investment under the cost method of accounting. Under this method, the investment balance is recorded at cost and is not subsequently adjusted to recognize the Company's share of net earnings or losses of the investee company.

The Company assesses the need to record impairment losses on its investments and records such losses when the impairment of an investment is determined to be other than temporary in nature.

Goodwill

Goodwill relates to amounts that arose in connection with the Group's various business combinations and represents the difference between the purchase price and the fair value of the identifiable intangible and tangible net assets when accounted for using the acquisition method of accounting. Goodwill is not amortized, but is subject to periodic review for impairment. Events that would indicate impairment and trigger an interim impairment assessment include, but are not limited to, current economic and market conditions, including a decline in value, a significant adverse change in legal factors, business climate or operational performance of the business and an adverse action or assessment by a regulator.

In accordance with ASC 350, the Company is required to review goodwill by reporting unit for impairment at least annually or more often if there are indicators of impairment present. The Company has determined its entire business represents one reporting unit. Historically, the Company has performed its annual impairment analysis during the fourth quarter of each year. The provisions of ASC 350 require that a two-step impairment test be performed for goodwill. In the first step, the Company compares the fair value of each reporting unit to which goodwill has been allocated to its carrying value. If the fair value of the reporting unit exceeds the carrying value of the net assets assigned to that reporting unit, goodwill is considered not impaired and the Company is not required to perform further testing. If the carrying value of the net assets assigned to the reporting unit exceeds the fair value of the reporting unit, then the Company must perform the second step of the impairment test in order to determine the implied fair value of the reporting unit's goodwill. If the carrying value of a reporting unit's goodwill exceeds its implied fair value, then the Company would record an impairment loss equal to the difference. As of December 31, 2011 and 2012, and June 30, 2013, the fair value of the Company's reporting unit exceeded the carrying value of the reporting unit's net assets and therefore no impairment existed as of those dates.

Determining the fair value of a reporting unit, if applicable, requires the Company to make judgments and involves the use of significant estimates and assumptions. These estimates and assumptions include revenue growth rates and operating margins used to calculate projected future cash flows, risk-adjusted discount rates, future economic and market conditions and determination of appropriate market comparables. The Company bases its fair value estimates on assumptions it believes to be reasonable but that are unpredictable and inherently uncertain. Actual future results may differ from those estimates.
Endurance International Group Holdings, Inc.
Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

The Group had goodwill of $936.7 million and $941.4 million as of December 31, 2012 and June 30, 2013, respectively, and no impairment charges have been recorded.

Long-Lived Assets

The Company's long-lived assets consist primarily of acquired subscriber relationships, trade names, intellectual property, developed technology, in-process research and development (“IPR&D”) and property and equipment. The majority of the Company's intangibles are recorded in connection with its various business combinations. The Company's intangibles are recorded at fair value at the time of their acquisition. The Company amortizes intangibles over their estimated useful lives.

Determination of the estimated useful lives of the individual categories of intangible assets is based on the nature of the applicable intangible asset and the expected future cash flows to be derived from the intangible asset. Amortization of intangible assets with finite lives is recognized in accordance with their estimated projected cash flows.

The Company evaluates long-lived intangible and tangible assets whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of an asset may not be recoverable. If indicators of impairment are present and undiscounted future cash flows are less than the carrying amount, the fair value of the assets is determined and compared to the carrying value. If the fair value is less than the carrying value, then the carrying value of the asset is reduced to the estimated fair value and an impairment loss is charged to expense in the period the impairment is identified. No such impairment losses have been identified in the year ended December 31, 2010, the Predecessor and Successor periods in 2011, the year ended December 31, 2012, or the six months ended June 30, 2012 and 2013.

Acquired In-Process Research and Development (IPR&D)

Acquired IPR&D represents the fair value assigned to research and development assets that the Company acquires that have not been completed at the date of acquisition. The acquired IPR&D is capitalized as an intangible asset and reviewed on a quarterly basis to determine future use. Any impairment loss of the acquired IPR&D is charged to expense in the period the impairment is identified. Upon commercialization, the acquired fair value of the IPR&D will be amortized over its estimated useful life. No such impairment losses have been identified in the year ended December 31, 2010, the Predecessor and Successor periods in 2011, the year ended December 31, 2012, or the six months ended June 30, 2012 and 2013.

Deferred Financing Costs

Deferred financing costs comprise fees and costs incurred by the Group in connection with obtaining notes payable. Deferred financing costs are amortized over the term of the related debt agreement.

Revenue Recognition

The Group generates revenue from selling subscriptions for cloud-based products and services ranging from initial website design and creation, to commerce solutions, to more complex services such as scalable and on demand computing, security, online marketing solutions, mobile applications and productivity tools. The subscriptions are similar across all of the Group's brands and are provided under contracts pursuant to which the Group has ongoing obligations to support the subscriber. These contracts are generally for service periods of up to 36 months and typically require payment in
The Group sells domain name registrations that provide a subscriber with the exclusive use of a domain name. These domains are obtained either by registrars within the Group on the subscriber’s behalf, or by the Group from third-party registrars on the subscriber’s behalf. Domain registration fees are non-refundable.

Revenue from the sale of a domain name registration by a registrar within the Group is recognized ratably over the subscriber’s service period as the Group has the obligation to provide support over the domain term. Revenue from the sale of a domain name registration purchased by the Group from a third-party registrar is recognized when the subscriber is billed on a gross basis as there are no remaining Group obligations once the sale to the subscriber occurs, and the Group has full discretion on the sales price and bears all credit risk.

Revenue from the sale of non-term based applications and services, such as online security products, professional technical services, website design and search engine optimization services, referral fees and commissions, is recognized when the product is purchased, the service is provided or the referral fee or commission is earned, respectively.

In 2010, the Group applied the guidance of ASC 605-25, Multiple-Element Arrangements (“ASC 605-25”). Since the Group had not established objective and reliable evidence of the fair value for all undelivered elements in an arrangement, the Group previously recorded revenue for the entire arrangement over the longest service period, which was typically the subscriber’s hosting period. On January 1, 2011, the Group adopted the new provisions of ASC 605-25. In accordance with the guidance of ASC 605-25, fair value as the measurement criteria is replaced with the term selling price and establishes a hierarchy for determining the selling price of a deliverable. ASC 605-25 also eliminates the use of the residual value method for determining the allocation of arrangement consideration. For multi-element arrangements, revenue is allocated to all deliverables based on their relative selling prices. In such circumstances, a hierarchy is used to determine the selling price to be used for allocating revenue to deliverables as follows: (i) vendor-specific objective evidence of fair value (“VSOE”), (ii) third-party evidence of selling price (“TPE”), and (iii) best estimate of the selling price (“BESP”). VSOE generally exists only when the deliverable is sold separately and is the price actually charged for that deliverable. The process for determining a BESP for deliverables without VSOE or TPE considers multiple factors including relative selling prices, competitive prices in the marketplace, and management judgment; however, these may vary depending upon the unique facts and circumstances related to each deliverable. The Company generally allocates revenue to the deliverables in the arrangement based on the BESP. Since the Group has not established objective and reliable evidence of the fair value for all undelivered elements in an arrangement, the Group records revenue using its best estimate of selling price.

Direct Costs of Revenue

The Group’s direct costs of revenue include only those costs directly incurred in connection with the provision of hosting and other services. The direct costs of registering domain names with registries are spread over the terms of the arrangement and the cost of reselling domains of other third-party registrars are expensed as incurred.

Engineering and Development Costs

Engineering and development costs incurred in the development and maintenance of the Group's technology infrastructure are expensed as incurred.

Sales and Marketing Costs

The Group engages in sales and marketing through various online marketing channels, which include affiliate and search marketing as well as online partnerships. The Group expenses sales and marketing costs as incurred. For the year ended December 31, 2010, the Predecessor and Successor periods in 2011 and the year ended December 31, 2012, the Group's sales and marketing costs were $33.4 million, $54.9 million, $1.5 million and $83.1 million, respectively, and for the six months ended June 30, 2012 and 2013 were $36.6 million and $58.3 million, respectively.

Foreign Currency

The Group has sales in a number of foreign currencies. In 2013, the Group commenced operations in foreign locations which report in the local currency. The assets and liabilities of the Group's foreign locations are translated into U.S. dollars at current exchange rates as of the balance sheet date, and revenues and expenses are translated at average monthly exchange rates. The resulting translation adjustments are recorded as a separate component of stockholders' equity and have not been material. Foreign currency transaction gains and losses relate to the settlement of assets or liabilities in another currency.

Foreign currency transaction gains (losses) were not material during the year ended December 31, 2010, the Predecessor and Successor periods in 2011, and the year ended December 31, 2012. Foreign currency transaction gains (losses) were $0.5 million during the six months ended June 30, 2013. These amounts are recorded in general and administrative expense.

Income Taxes

Income taxes are accounted for under the asset and liability method. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are recognized for the future tax consequences attributable to differences between the financial statement carrying amounts of existing assets and liabilities and their respective tax bases and operating loss and tax credit carryforwards. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured using enacted tax rates expected to apply to taxable income in the years in which those temporary differences are expected to be recovered or settled. The effect on deferred tax assets and liabilities of a change in tax rates is recognized in income in the period that includes the enactment date. Beginning with the adoption of FASB Interpretation No. 48, Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes included in ASC 740-10, Income Taxes—Overall ("ASC 740"). As of January 1, 2009, the Company recognizes the effect of income tax positions only if those positions are more likely than not of being sustained. Recognized income tax positions are measured at the largest amount that is greater than 50% likely of being realized. Changes in recognition or measurement are reflected in the period in which the change in judgment occurs. There were no unrecognized tax benefits in the year ended December 31, 2010, the Predecessor and Successor periods in 2011, the year ended December 31, 2012, or the six months ended June 30, 2012 and 2013.
Stock-Based Compensation

The Group follows the provisions of ASC Topic 718, Compensation—Stock Compensation (“ASC 718”), which requires the measurement and recognition for all stock-based payment awards made to employees, non-employee directors and consultants. The Company recognizes stock compensation expense for the grant of class B units of Topco based on the grant date fair value of the awards on a straight-line basis over the requisite service period for those awards subject to time vesting and when it is probable a performance target will be met for those awards with vesting that is subject to the achievement of performance targets.

Earnings per Share

The Company considered FASB ASC 260-10, “Earnings per Share”, which requires the presentation of both basic and diluted earnings per share on the face of the Consolidated Statements of Operations. The Company’s basic net loss per share is computed by dividing net loss by the weighted average number of shares of common stock outstanding for the period and, if there are dilutive securities, diluted income per share is computed by including common stock equivalents which includes shares issuable upon the exercise of stock options, net of shares assumed to have been purchased with the proceeds, using the treasury stock method. As a result of the Company’s limited number of shares outstanding, the presentation of earnings per share for the Successor period in 2011, fiscal 2012 and the six months ended June 30, 2012 and 2013 would not be meaningful. Accordingly, the Company has not presented the earnings per share for any periods.

Guarantees

In connection with the acquisition of subscriber relationship assets from third parties, the Group may provide indemnification or guarantees to the sellers in the event of damages for breaches or other claims covered by such agreements.

In connection with various vendor contracts, including those by which a product or service of a third party is offered to subscribers of the Group, standard guaranty of subsidiary obligations and indemnification obligations exist.

As permitted under Delaware and other applicable law, the Company’s charter and by-laws and those of its subsidiary companies provide that the Group shall indemnify its officers and directors for certain liabilities, including those incurred by reason of the fact that the officer or director is, was, or has agreed to serve as an officer or director of the Group. The maximum potential amount of future payments the Group could be required to make under these indemnification provisions is unlimited.

The Group leases office space and equipment under various operating leases. The Group has standard indemnification arrangements under these leases that require the Group to indemnify the lessor against losses, liabilities and claims incurred in connection with the premises or equipment.
Through June 30, 2013, the Group had not experienced any losses related to these indemnification obligations and no claims with respect thereto were outstanding. The Group does not expect significant claims related to these indemnification obligations and consequently concluded that the fair value of these obligations is negligible and no related liabilities were established.

Recent Accounting Pronouncements

In July 2012, the FASB issued ASU No. 2012-02, Intangibles—Goodwill and Other (Topic 350)—Testing Indefinite-lived Intangible Assets for Impairment (“ASU 2012-02”), to allow entities to use a qualitative approach to test indefinite-lived intangible assets for impairment. This guidance permits an entity to first perform a qualitative assessment to determine whether it is more likely than not that the fair value of an indefinite-lived intangible asset is less than its carrying value. If it is concluded that this is the case, it is necessary to perform the currently prescribed quantitative impairment test by comparing the fair value of the indefinite-lived intangible asset with its carrying value. Otherwise, the quantitative impairment test is not required. ASU 2012-02 is effective for fiscal years beginning after September 15, 2012. The Company does not believe that the adoption of ASU 2012-02 will have a material effect on its consolidated financial statements.

The Jumpstart Our Business Startups Act of 2012 provides that an emerging growth company can take advantage of an extended transition period for complying with new or revised accounting standards. This allows an emerging growth company to delay the adoption of certain accounting standards until those standards would otherwise apply to private companies. The Company has elected to avail itself of this exemption from new or revised accounting standards and, therefore, it will not be subject to the same new or revised accounting standards as other public companies that are not emerging growth companies.

Reclassifications

Certain 2011 expenses have been reclassified to conform to the current year presentation.

3. Acquisitions

The Company accounts for the acquisitions of businesses using the purchase method of accounting. The Company allocates the purchase price to the tangible and identifiable intangible assets and liabilities assumed based on their estimated fair values. Purchased identifiable intangible assets include subscriber relationships, trade names, developed technology and IPR&D. The methodologies used to determine the fair value assigned to subscriber relationships is typically based on the excess earnings method that considers the return received from the intangible asset and includes certain expenses and also considers an attrition rate based on the Company's internal subscriber analysis and an estimate of the average life of the subscribers. The fair value assigned to trade names is typically based on the income approach using a relief from royalty methodology that assumes that the fair value of a trade name can be measured by estimating the cost of licensing and paying a royalty fee for the trade name that the owner of the trade name avoids. The fair value assigned to developed technology typically uses the cost approach. The fair value assigned to IPR&D is based on the cost approach. If applicable, the Company estimates the fair value of contingent consideration payments in determining the purchase price. The contingent consideration is then adjusted to fair value in subsequent periods as an increase or decrease in current earnings in general and administrative expense in the consolidated statements of operations.

Business Combination—November 2010

On November 5, 2010, EIG acquired all of the outstanding capital stock of Bluehost Inc., Hostmonster Inc. and FastDomain Inc. (collectively, "Bluehost"). The aggregate purchase price of $131.9 million was funded by $111.9 million in cash (including $20.0 million subject to escrow) and an interest bearing promissory note of $20.0 million convertible into Series A of an entity owned by Accel-KKR. Acquisition costs of $0.6 million were recorded as a general and administrative expense in 2010. In October 2011, the Group used proceeds of a new $305.0 million term loan facility (the “October 2011 Term Loan”) to repay all amounts outstanding under the convertible promissory note and the Group recorded $0.4 million and $2.1 million in interest expense for the years ended December 31, 2010 and 2011, respectively.

Other Acquisitions—2010

In February 2010, the Company acquired certain assets and assumed certain liabilities of a business providing web hosting services for total consideration of $2.1 million in cash and broker fees of $0.1 million.

In May 2010, a subsidiary of EIG acquired the assets and assumed certain liabilities of a shared web hosting business for an aggregate purchase price of $23.2 million. During 2010, cash consideration payments totaling $20.9 million were made. An additional consideration payment of $2.3 million was paid in 2011. Acquisition costs of $0.5 million were recorded as a general and administrative expense in the related consolidated statements of operations in the year ended December 31, 2010.

In December 2010, the Company acquired certain assets and assumed certain liabilities of a business providing web hosting services for total cash consideration of $9.5 million. An adjustment to the fair value of purchase price of $2.5 million was made in 2011 as a measurement period adjustment and recorded as part of the purchase price. Additional consideration payments of $4.7 million and $7.2 million were made in 2011 and 2012, respectively. The remaining balance of $0.5 million related to that acquisition was paid in May 2013.

Other Acquisitions—Predecessor Years

At January 1, 2010, the Company had outstanding consideration payments for acquisitions made prior to 2010 that included outstanding installment payments for amounts agreed in the asset purchase agreements. Under the terms of the asset purchase agreements related to these acquisitions, installment payments are payable upon the resolution of certain contingencies.

During the year ended December 31, 2010 and the Predecessor period in 2011, the Group made payments of $7.2 million and $5.4 million, respectively, related to contingent consideration and transaction costs for other acquisitions made prior to 2010.

In the Predecessor period for the year ended December 31, 2011, a $0.4 million adjustment to fair value was recorded in the Company's consolidated statements of operations. There were no consideration payments made or adjustments to the fair value of purchase price in the Successor period.
Business Combinations—2011

Business Combination—Dotster, Inc.

On July 22, 2011, EIG acquired Dotster, Inc. ("Dotster"), a privately-held leading provider of shared web hosting and domain name management. Under the terms of the stock purchase agreement (the "Dotster Agreement"), EIG acquired all of the outstanding common stock of Dotster for an aggregate purchase price of $62.9 million in cash (including $5.3 million subject to escrow). Under the terms of the Dotster Agreement, within 60 days of the closing date of the acquisition, the purchase consideration was subject to a working capital adjustment, which resulted in a $0.1 million payment by the seller in October 2011.

On December 16, 2011, an indemnification amount of $0.3 million was paid to EIG out of escrow. On April 5, 2012, a further indemnification amount of $0.7 million was paid. After settlement of a final indemnification payment of $1.5 million to EIG out of escrow on July 15, 2013, the remaining cash balance, which was $4.3 million at December 31, 2012 and June 30, 2013, and $2.8 million at July 15, 2013, was paid to Dotster’s former stockholders.

In connection with the acquisition of Dotster, EIG Investors issued 38,000 shares of series D preferred stock to investors in exchange for $38.0 million cash (see Note 9), and the Group borrowed $12.0 million under the revolver loan commitment of the 2008 Financing Arrangement (see Note 8). The remainder was funded from existing cash resources.

Acquisition costs of $0.3 million were recorded as a general and administrative expense in the related consolidated statements of operations for the Predecessor period.

The Company accounted for the acquisition as a business combination using the purchase method of accounting. The Company allocated the purchase price to the tangible and identifiable intangible assets and liabilities assumed based on their estimated fair values. Developed technology, subscriber relationships and the trade names have useful lives of four, four and five years, respectively. The excess of the purchase price over the aggregate fair value of identifiable assets and assumed liabilities was recorded as goodwill. The acquisition has carryover tax deductible goodwill.

The following table summarizes the Dotster purchase price allocation on July 22, 2011, the date of acquisition, and the estimated fair values of goodwill, intangible assets and tangible assets acquired and liabilities assumed (in thousands):

The acquired intangible assets, all of which are being utilized, are composed of $0.2 million in developed technology, $3.7 million in trade names and $20.5 million in subscriber relationships.

For the Predecessor period ended December 21, 2011 and the Successor period ended December 31, 2011, $7.0 million and $0.2 million of revenue from the Company's 2011 acquisitions, respectively, was included in the Company's consolidated statements of operations.

The Company has omitted earnings information related to its acquisitions as it does not separately track earnings from each of its acquisitions that would provide meaningful disclosure. The Company considers it to be impracticable to compile such information on an acquisition-by-acquisition basis since activities of integration and use of shared costs and services across the Company's business are not allocated to each acquisition and are not managed to provide separate identifiable earnings from the dates of acquisition.

Sponsor Acquisition

On December 22, 2011, the Group was acquired pursuant to the Agreement (see Note 1) by acquiring all of the outstanding preferred and common stock of EIG Investors. The aggregate purchase price of $683.1 million, excluding $305.0 million of assumed indebtedness, consisted of $472.2 million in cash, issuance of 150,000 shares of series E preferred stock for $150.0 million, and a deemed capital contribution of $55.1 million from the ultimate parent company, Holdings LLC, related to equity issued in Topco in lieu of cash proceeds to the roll-over stockholders. Under the terms of the Agreement, within 60 days of the closing, the purchase consideration was subject to adjustment based upon net working capital as defined therein. On March 21, 2012, the Group paid an additional amount of $0.9 million, which is included in the aggregate purchase price and recorded as deferred consideration. Also under the terms of the Agreement, restricted cash at the date of the Sponsor Acquisition, which became classified as non-restricted cash and cash equivalent in the first 12 months following the date of the Sponsor Acquisition, became due to the sellers. Accordingly the balance of restricted cash of $4.8 million was recorded as deferred consideration. On December 19, 2012, a payment of $4.8 million was made to the sellers. Direct acquisition costs of $3.6 million were recorded as general and administrative expense in the related Successor period.

The Company accounted for the Sponsor Acquisition as a purchase using the purchase method of accounting for business combinations in accordance with ASC 805. The purchase price was pushed down to the Company's consolidated financial statements in accordance with SEC Staff Accounting Bulletin Topic 5J ("New Basis of Accounting Required in Certain Circumstances") as the majority stockholders of the ultimate parent company acquired approximately 89% of the class A units of the voting securities of Topco. When using the push-down basis of accounting, the acquired company's separate financial statements reflect the new accounting basis recorded by the acquiring company. The Company's consolidated financial statements reflect the equity at the Holdings LLC level and accordingly do not reflect any non-controlling interest held by stockholders in Topco. The Company allocated the purchase price to the tangible and identifiable intangible assets and liabilities assumed based on their estimated fair values. The excess of the purchase price over the aggregate fair value of identifiable assets and assumed liabilities was recorded as goodwill.

Business Combinations—2012

Business Combination—HostGator.com LLC

On July 13, 2012, EIG acquired all of the membership units of HostGator, a privately-held leading provider of shared, VPS and dedicated web hosting services to small and medium sized businesses. The aggregate purchase price was $299.8 million, of which $227.3 million was paid in cash at the closing. Acquisition costs of $2.4 million were recorded as general and administrative expense. Under the terms of the purchase agreement (the “HostGator Agreement”), within 120 days of the closing date of the acquisition, the purchase consideration was subject to a working capital adjustment, which resulted in an additional $0.8 million due and payable by EIG at December 31, 2012. This amount was paid in January 2013. The Company has filed a 338(h)(10) election which allows for goodwill and intangible assets recorded as part of the acquisition to be deductible for U.S. federal income tax purposes. Under the terms of the purchase agreement, the Company would compensate the seller for an agreed amount of incremental taxes arising from the filing of the election and recorded $0.8 million as due and payable by EIG at December 31, 2012, which resulted in a corresponding increase to the purchase price. This amount was paid in April 2013.

The Company is also obligated to pay additional purchase consideration of $49.4 million and $24.2 million, due 12 and 18 months from the acquisition date, respectively. The net present value of future cash consideration payments are $47.9 million and $23.0 million, and are recorded as an acquisition liability on the Company's consolidated balance sheet as of December 31, 2012. These amounts are included in the aggregate purchase price above. An aggregate amount of $1.2 million for the accretion of the present value of the deferred payments is included in interest expense in the year ended December 31, 2012. An aggregate amount of $1.2 million for the accretion of the present value of the deferred payments is included in interest expense in the six months ended June 30, 2013, resulting in the net present value of deferred payments at June 30, 2013 of $73.2 million. Under the terms of the HostGator Agreement, the Company is also obligated to pay amounts deemed to be future compensation for certain employees in the amounts of $2.9 million and $2.0 million, also due 12 and 18 months from the acquisition date, respectively. These future compensation amounts are accrued to compensation expense over the service term and recorded as other liability in the Company's consolidated balance sheet as of December 31, 2012 and June 30, 2013. As of August 31, 2013, the Company has paid $49.4 million as deferred consideration and $2.9 million as compensation expense for certain employees.

The Company accounted for the HostGator acquisition as a business combination using the purchase method of accounting. The Company allocated the preliminary purchase price to the tangible and identifiable intangible assets and liabilities assumed based on their estimated fair values. Developed technology has an estimated useful life of ten years and subscriber relationships and trade names have estimated useful lives of 20 years and ten years, respectively. The excess of the purchase price over the fair value of the identifiable assets and assumed liabilities was recorded as goodwill. The following table

For the period ended December 31, 2012, $75.6 million of revenue from the Company’s 2012 acquisitions was included in the Company’s consolidated statements of operations.

The Company has omitted earnings information related to its acquisitions as it does not separately track earnings from each of its acquisitions that would provide meaningful disclosure. The Company considers it to be impracticable to compile such information on an acquisition-by-acquisition basis since activities of integration and use of shared costs and services across the Company’s business are not allocated to each acquisition and are not managed to provide separate identifiable earnings from the dates of acquisition.

Under the terms of the asset acquisition purchase agreements, installment payments are payable upon the resolution of certain contingencies. Additional amounts of $1.2 million were paid in the six months ended June 30, 2013, which was included in the aggregate purchase price and recorded as deferred payments as of December 31, 2012. Goodwill recorded as part of one of the other acquisitions is deductible for U.S. federal income tax purposes.

The following table includes selected unaudited pro forma financial information from business combinations in 2011 and 2012, including Dotster, the Sponsor Acquisition, HostGator and Homestead, as if the acquisition of these entities had occurred on January 1, 2011. Pro forma results exclude adjustments for other less significant acquisitions completed during 2011 and 2012, as these acquisitions did not materially affect the Company's results of operations.

The pro forma results include amounts derived from the historical financial results of the acquired businesses for the period presented and are not necessarily indicative of the results that would have occurred had the acquisition been consummated on January 1, 2011.

Acquisition—2013

Business Combination

On February 8, 2013, EIG acquired a privately-held provider of shared web hosting in Brazil. Under the terms of the purchase agreement, EIG acquired all of the outstanding shares for an aggregate purchase price of $3.0 million in cash and contingent consideration payable in accordance with an earn-out calculation, the timing and amount of which depends on the occurrence of a liquidity event and other contingencies. The Company has estimated the fair value of the earn-out to be $2.7 million and has recorded the liability in the Company's consolidated balance sheet as of June 30, 2013. The purchase price was primarily allocated to long-lived intangible assets of $2.0 million and goodwill of $4.6 million.

4. Fair Value Measurements

The following valuation hierarchy is used for disclosure of the inputs to valuation used to measure fair value. This hierarchy prioritizes the inputs into three broad levels as follows:

- Level 1 inputs are quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.
- Level 2 inputs are quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities in active markets or inputs that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly through market corroboration, for substantially the full term of the financial instrument.
- Level 3 inputs are unobservable inputs based on our own assumptions used to measure assets and liabilities at fair value.

A financial asset or liability’s classification within the hierarchy is determined based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement.

As of December 31, 2011, the Group did not have any assets or liabilities that were required to be measured at fair value on a recurring basis.

As of December 31, 2012, the Group's only financial asset or liability required to be measured on a recurring basis is the accrued earn-out consideration payable in connection with a 2012 acquisition (see Note 3). The Group has classified its liability for earn-out consideration related to the 2012 acquisition within Level 3 of the fair value hierarchy because the fair value is determined using significant unobservable inputs, which included the probability weighted cash flows. There was no change in fair value of the earn-out consideration from the acquisition date to June 30, 2013.

F-27
As of June 30, 2013, the Group’s only financial assets or liabilities required to be measured on a recurring basis is the accrued earn-out consideration payable in connection with a 2012 acquisition and the 2013 acquisition (see Note 3) with a total liability of $4.0 million.

The estimated useful lives of the individual categories of other intangible assets are based on the nature of the applicable intangible asset and the expected future cash flows to be derived from the intangible asset. Amortization of intangible assets with finite lives is recognized over the period of time the assets are expected to contribute to future cash flows. The Company amortizes finite-lived intangible assets over the period in which the economic benefits are expected to be realized based upon their estimated projected cash flows.

The Group’s amortization expense is included in cost of revenue and general and administrative expense in the aggregate amounts of $29.6 million, $50.4 million, $1.7 million and $88.1 million, for the year ended December 31, 2010, the Predecessor and Successor periods in 2011 and the year ended December 31, 2012, respectively, and $31.6 million and $52.3 million for the six months ended June 30, 2012 and 2013, respectively. On June 6, 2013, the Company invested $8.8 million to acquire a 17.5% interest in a company based in the United Kingdom that provides online desktop backup services. For those investments in which the Company's voting interest is between 20% and 50%, the equity method of accounting is used. Under this method, the investment balance, originally recorded at cost, is adjusted to recognize the Company's share of net earnings or losses of the investee company, as they occur, limited to the extent of the Company's investment in, advances to and commitments for the investee. These adjustments are reflected in equity loss (income) of unconsolidated entities, net of tax. As of December 31, 2012 and June 30, 2013, the Company did not have an equity method investment in which the Company's proportionate share exceeded 10% of the Company's consolidated assets or income from continuing operations.

9. Stockholders’ Equity

Predecessor Period (January 1, 2010—December 21, 2011)

On January 1, 2010, EIG Investors had authorized stock of 275,000 shares of preferred stock (par value $0.01) consisting of 75,000 shares of series A preferred stock (“Series A”), 75,000 shares of series B preferred stock (“Series B”), 75,000 shares of series C preferred stock (“Series C”), 50,000 undesignated and 2,500 shares of common stock, par value $0.01. In 2010, in connection with the acquisition of Bluehost, 20,920 shares of series C were issued to investors in exchange for cash. In July 2011, an amendment to the Certificate of Incorporation authorized 75,000 additional shares of series D preferred stock (“Series D”). In connection with the acquisition of Dotster (see Note 3), 38,000 shares of Series D were issued to investors in exchange for cash.

December 21, 2011 represented the last day prior to the Sponsor Acquisition.

Voting Rights

The Board of the Company’s parent during the predecessor period of 2011, Endurance International Group Holdings, LLC (the “Prior Parent”), by virtue of the Prior Parent’s limited liability company agreement, had sole authority to exercise full control over all activities of the Company during that period. The holders of Series A, Series B, Series C and Series D had no voting rights. The holders of Series A, Series C and Series D were also holders of class A member units in the Prior Parent.
Dividends

The Series A accrued dividends at the rate of 25% per annum, compounded on the last day of each calendar quarter. The Series C and Series D accrued dividends at the rate of 25% per annum, compounded on the last day of each calendar year. The Series B was not entitled to any dividend.

Redemption

In October 2011, the Company fully redeemed the Series C and the Series D plus the accrued dividends for a total of $65.8 million. At any time, the majority holders of the Prior Parent could require the holders of the Series A to exchange their shares for the same number of class A units in the Prior Parent. Accordingly, on December 13, 2011, the outstanding balance of 5,998,500 shares of Series A was exchanged.

In 2009, the board of the Prior Parent resolved that upon a sale of the Company a discretionary bonus pool shall be established for certain employees of the Company and that the amount, distribution and participants would be determined by the board at the time of sale. Accordingly, on November 1, 2011, the board approved the allocation of certain profits interests resulting from the proposed merger and sale of the Company. An amount of $5.0 million was recorded in general and administrative expense in the Predecessor period in 2011.

Common Stock

On June 24, 2013, Holdings, LP converted into a Delaware C-corporation and changed its name to Endurance International Group Holdings, Inc., which, as noted above, is the reporting entity. The reorganization of the Company on June 24, 2013 is being applied to the Group's financial statements retroactively as if the reorganization was effective December 22, 2011. Prior to the reorganization, the Company reported its financial results at the EIG Investors company level as presented in the Predecessor periods. Due to the fact that there has been no activity in the Company and the fact that there was no change in the number of shares issued from EIG Investors, it was determined that the Company is essentially the same as EIG Investors. The Company has 1,000 shares of authorized common stock, par value $0.0001. On December 22, 2011, in connection with the Sponsor Acquisition, 1,000 shares of common stock were issued for an aggregate amount of $507.4 million, net of issuance costs, consisting of cash of $452.3 million and a deemed capital contribution of $55.1 million. All of the issued shares of common stock are held by Midco, which is a wholly owned subsidiary of Topco and were outstanding at June 30, 2013.

Voting Rights

All holders of common stock are entitled to one vote per share.

Series E Preferred Stock

EIG Investors has 150,000 authorized shares of series E preferred stock, par value $0.01 (“Series E”). On April 20, 2012, the Company redeemed the outstanding shares of Series E for $150.0 million and paid a dividend in the amount of $6.0 million.
Voting Rights

The holders of Series E had no voting rights except that an affirmative vote of the majority of Series E shares was required to (i) authorize or issue any shares of EIG Investors that would have been on par or senior to the Series E, (ii) amend the Certificate of Designation for the Series E or the Certificate of Incorporation of the EIG Investors in a way that would have adversely affected the rights of the Series E, (iii) issue dividends, repurchase shares or make other restricted payments as specified in the Certificate of Designation, (iv) commence any voluntary bankruptcy or insolvency proceedings, or (v) require any additional capital to be contributed by the holders of Series E.

Conversion

The Series E was convertible in whole but not in part at any time after 18 months after December 22, 2012, into shares of common stock at a value equal to the liquidation preference of $1,000 divided by the conversion price, which was determined by a proportionate calculation of equity held by other investors in common stock on December 22, 2012, to determine the number of shares issuable upon conversion. All accrued but unpaid dividends would have been forfeited in connection with any conversion thereof.

Dividends

Holders of the Series E were entitled to receive dividends, when, as and if dividends were declared by the board of EIG Investors and would have accumulated, whether or not dividends were declared. The Series E issued on December 22, 2011 accrued a cumulative dividend at the rate of 12% per annum, based on a 360-day year consisting of twelve 30-day months, compounded on the last day of each calendar quarter beginning December 31, 2012.

Redemption

The Series E was redeemable in whole or in part by the Company at a price equal to the Liquidation Preference amount of $1,000 per share, plus accrued dividend amounts at the date of redemption. On April 20, 2012, in connection with the financing from the April 2012 Term Loan, the Company redeemed all of the outstanding shares of Series E for $150.0 million plus accrued dividends of $6.0 million.

10. Stock-Based Compensation

The Company follows the provisions of ASC 718, which requires the measurement and recognition for all stock-based payment awards made to employees, non-employee directors and consultants.

For the year ended December 31, 2010 and the Predecessor period in 2011, certain employees participated in a restricted stock plan of the Prior Parent, which was fully extinguished as a result of the Sponsor Acquisition. The Company recorded stock-based compensation expense of $1.0 million in the Predecessor period of 2011.

The Company recognizes stock compensation expense for the class B units in Topco based on the grant date fair value of the awards on a straight-line basis over the requisite service period for those awards subject to time vesting and when it is probable a performance target will be met for those awards with vesting that is subject to the achievement of performance targets.

Unless otherwise determined by the Company’s board of directors, awards of class B units are allocated 50% to class B-1 units which generally vest over a four-year period and 50% to class B-2 units which have vesting that is dependent on the achievement of specified performance targets. The fair value of the class B units was determined as of the grant date of each award using an option-pricing model and assuming no pre-vesting forfeiture of the awards. Stock compensation expense recognized for the year ended December 31, 2012 for the class B-1 units was $2.3 million and $0.7 million for the six months ended June 30, 2013. No compensation expense was recognized in 2012 or six months ended June 30, 2013 for the class B-2 units, since in the opinion of management, it was not probable that any of the performance targets necessary for the class B-2 units to vest would be met prior to their expiration. The Company will recognize a recovery of expense if the actual forfeiture rate for the class B-1 units is higher than estimated.

The following table presents a summary of the class B unit activity for the year ended December 31, 2012 and six months ended June 30, 2013:

As of December 31, 2012, there was $4.2 million of unrecognized compensation expense with respect to the Class B-1 units that is expected to be recognized over a weighted average period of 3.2 years. All of the Class B-2 units issued as of December 31, 2012 are subject to future vesting. As of

December 31, 2012, there was unrecognized compensation expense of $1.6 million with respect to the non-vested Class B-2 units.

As of June 30, 2013, there was $4.0 million of unrecognized compensation expense with respect to the class B-1 units that is expected to be recognized over a weighted average period of 2.7 years. All of the class B-2 units issued as of June 30, 2013 are subject to future vesting. As of June 30, 2013, there was unrecognized compensation expense of $1.7 million with respect to the non-vested class B-2 units. Future recognition of the class B-2 units' unrecognized compensation expense is dependent on the probability of performance targets being met.

11. Dividend

On November 9, 2012, in connection with the dividend payment of $300.0 million to Holdings LP (see Note 1), the Company paid a $289.5 million dividend to the class A unit holders and $10.5 million to the class B-1 unit holders of Topco. At the time the dividend was paid, a special authorization was made by the board of directors of the Company to allow the class B-1 units to participate since at that date the class B-1 unit holders were not entitled to receive a dividend. The class B-1 units' participation was subject to certain aggregate payments first being made to the class A unit holders which had not yet been met. For accounting purposes the dividend paid to the class B-1 units is treated as a modification of the original class B-1 unit award resulting in the measurement of compensation expense equal to the amount of the dividend. Certain of the class B-1 unit holders were required to enter into clawback arrangements whereby if the unit holder’s employment with the Company terminated under certain defined conditions prior to the unit holder’s vesting in the class B-1 units all or a portion of the dividend would be required to be repaid to the Company. Compensation expense related to the dividend amount subject to clawback arrangements with a future service requirement are being recognized over the future service period. Generally, the amount of the dividend subject to clawback reduces over time as the class B-1 units vest. For the dividend paid to the class B-1 unit holders, $9.8 million was recorded in general and administrative expense in the year ended December 31, 2012 since this dividend amount was not attributable to a future service requirement by the class B-1 unit holders. The Group will record $0.7 million of compensation expense over the remaining service period of up to four years.

Deferred tax assets are reduced by a valuation allowance if, based on the weight of available positive and negative evidence, it is more likely than not that some portion or all of the deferred tax assets will not be realized. As a result of reversing taxable temporary differences recorded in purchase accounting due to various acquisitions, the Company has not recorded a valuation allowance on its deferred tax assets. Reversing taxable temporary difference and the recording of a deferred tax asset for the current year net operating loss is the primary reason for the benefit recorded in the income tax provision this year.

The significant components of the Company’s deferred income tax assets and liabilities as of December 31, 2011 and December 31, 2012 are as follows (in thousands):

At December 31, 2012, the Company has net operating loss carry-forwards available to offset future U.S. federal and state taxable income of approximately $145.3 million and $149.6 million, respectively. These losses expire on various dates beginning 2014 thru 2032.

Utilization of the net operating loss carry-forwards may be subject to an annual limitation due to the ownership percentage change limitations provided by Section 382 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 and similar state provisions. The annual limitation may result in the expiration of the net operating loss carry-forwards before utilization. The Company performed an Internal Revenue Code Section 382 study and determined that utilization of its annual net operating losses are limited to approximately $77.1 million per year from 2012.

The provision (benefit) for income taxes shown on the consolidated statements of operations differs from amounts that would result from applying the statutory tax rates to income before taxes primarily because of state income taxes and certain permanent expenses that were not deductible.

The Company files income tax returns in the United States for federal income taxes and in various state jurisdictions. In the normal course of business, the Company is subject to examination by tax authorities throughout the United States. Since the Company is in a loss carry-forward position, the Company is generally subject to U.S. federal and state income tax examinations by tax authorities for all years for which a loss carry-forward is available.

The Company recognizes, in its consolidated financial statements, the effect of a tax position when it is more likely than not, based on the technical merits, that the position will be sustained upon examination. The Company has no unrecognized tax positions at December 31, 2011 and December 31, 2012 that would affect its effective tax rate. The Company does not expect a significant change in the liability for unrecognized tax benefits in the next 12 months.

Income Taxes 2013

The Company regularly assesses its ability to realize its deferred tax assets. Assessing the realization of deferred tax assets requires significant management judgment. In determining whether its deferred tax assets are more likely than not realizable, the Company evaluated all available positive and negative evidence, and weighted the evidence based on its objectivity. Evidence the Company considered included net operating losses incurred from the Company's inception to June 30, 2013, expiration of various federal and state tax attributes, reversals of existing temporary differences, composition and cumulative amounts of existing temporary differences, profits before tax for 2011 and 2012, current period net loss and forecasted profit before tax. The Company has not recognized a portion of its deferred tax assets as of June 30, 2013 based upon the scheduling of the reversal of their taxable temporary differences. For the six months ended June 30, 2013, the Company has recognized a tax benefit of $2.7 million in income tax expense (benefit) in the consolidated statements of operations.
13. Commitments and Contingencies

Total rent expense incurred under non-cancellable operating leases for the year ended December 31, 2010, the Predecessor and Successor periods in 2011 and the year ended December 31, 2012, were $0.9 million, $1.5 million, $43,000 and $2.7 million, respectively.

Total rent expense incurred under non-cancellable operating leases for the six months ended June 30, 2012 and June 30, 2013 was $1.0 million and $4.4 million, respectively.

Commitments

At December 31, 2012 and June 30, 2013, the Group has a six-year license agreement for co-location space in Boston, Massachusetts which expires in 2018. At December 31, 2012 and June 30, 2013, the base fee was $87,000 per month. All recurring fees escalate by 4% on the anniversary of the lease commencement date and there is no security deposit for the leased space. The Company expenses the monthly license fee as paid for that month.

The Company’s chief executive officer has an employment agreement which provides for the payment of $5.5 million in cash, shares of common stock or a combination of cash and shares, upon the earlier completion of an initial public offering or a change in majority ownership of the Company. The Company will recognize compensation expense when either of the contingent events occurs. The employment agreement also establishes additional terms in the event of termination of his employment without cause or for good reason, which provides him the right during the 90-day period after his termination to require Topco to purchase up to $14.3 million in value of equity then held by him at a per unit price equal to the fair market value as of the date that this put right is exercised. In the event of termination without cause or if he resigns his employment for good reason the employment agreement provides him the right to severance payments based on a payment equivalent to between 12 and 24 months of base salary and annual bonus.

Contingencies

From time to time, the Company is involved in legal proceedings or subject to claims arising in the ordinary course of its business. The Company is not presently a party to any legal proceedings that in the opinion of management, if determined adversely to the Company, would have a material adverse effect on its business, financial condition, operating results or cash flow. Regardless of the outcome,
14. Employee Benefit Plan

The Group has a defined contribution plan established under Section 401(k) of the Internal Revenue Code (the "401(k) Plan"), which covers substantially all employees. Employees are eligible to participate in the 401(k) Plan upon hire or by satisfying the age requirement of 21. In connection with the Dotster acquisition in 2011, the Group assumed a defined contribution plan established under Section 401(k) of the Internal Revenue Code (the "Dotster 401(k) Plan"), in which employees are eligible to participate upon the date of hire. Under these plans, an employee may contribute up to 100% of any percentage of eligible pay on a pretax basis, subject to established tax law limitations. Prior to September 1, 2012, the Company matched 100% of each participant's annual contribution under the Dotster 401(k) Plan up to 3% of the participant's annual base salary. Effective September 1, 2012, the Company matched 125% of each participant's annual contribution up to a maximum of $10,000. Matching contributions by the Group related to the 2011 and 2012 plan years in the amounts of $62,000 and $0.2 million, respectively, were made to the Dotster 401(k) Plan. The Group did not make matching contributions to the 401(k) Plan in the year ended December 31, 2010, the Predecessor and Successor periods in 2011 or the year ended December 31, 2012.

Beginning January 1, 2013, the Group matches 100% of the first 3% of each participant's annual contribution to the 401(k) plans and 50% of the next 2% of each participant's annual contribution to the plans.

1. Nature of Operations

HostGator.com LLC (the “Company”), was organized in the State of Florida on September 2, 2004.

The Company is a leading provider of shared, reseller and dedicated web hosting serving customers ranging from individual freelancers to Fortune 500 companies in more than 170 countries.

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Basis of Preparation

The accompanying consolidated financial statements have been prepared using accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. All intercompany transactions have been eliminated on consolidation.

Variable Interest Entities

Financial accounting standards require the “primary beneficiary” of a variable interest entity (“VIE”) to include the VIE’s assets, liabilities and operating results in its consolidated financial statements. A VIE is an entity with one or more of the following characteristics: (i) the total equity investment at risk is not sufficient to permit the entity to finance its activities without additional financial support; (ii) as a group, the holders of the equity investment at risk lack the ability to direct the activities of the entity that most significantly impact its economic performance, the obligation to absorb expected losses or the right to receive expected residual returns; or (iii) an equity investor has voting rights that are disproportionate to its economic interest and substantially all of the entity’s activities are on behalf of the investor. A VIE is consolidated by the variable interest holder that is determined to have the controlling financial interest (primary beneficiary) as a result of having both the power to direct the activities of a VIE that most significantly impact the VIE’s economic performance and the obligation to absorb losses or right to receive benefits from the VIE that could potentially be significant to the VIE.

Oxley Leasing LLC (“Oxley”), a single member LLC owned by the Company's Chairman, was formed on July 31, 2006 and owns and manages commercial real estate in Houston, Texas which is occupied by the Company. Oxley Leasing of Austin LLC (“Oxley Austin”), a single member LLC owned by the Company's Chairman, was formed on January 18, 2010 and owns and manages commercial real estate in Austin, Texas which is occupied by the Company.

Based on an evaluation of its involvement in the activities of Oxley and Oxley Austin (collectively, the “VIEs”), the Company has determined that it is the primary beneficiary of these entities. Consequently, the accompanying consolidated financial statements include the accounts of the Company, Oxley and effective as of January 18, 2010, Oxley Austin. The Company determined it was the primary beneficiary based on a qualitative assessment of the purpose and design of the VIEs, the risk that the VIEs were designed and pass along to other entities, the activities of the VIEs that could be directed and which entity could direct them, and the expected relative impact of those activities on the economic performance of the VIEs.

The VIE's assets can only be used to settle obligations of that VIE. Other than contractually determined collateral, creditors and beneficial holders of the VIE have no recourse to the assets or general credit of the Company.

As more fully described in Note 3, Oxley has notes receivable from Oxley Leasing 2550 LLC ("Oxley 2550") and Oxley Properties Austin LLC ("Oxley Properties Austin"), entities related through common ownership. In addition, as more fully described in Note 12, the Company is a guarantor on Oxley 2550's mortgage note payable. The Company evaluated the criteria for consolidation of these VIEs and determined that it is not the primary beneficiary of Oxley 2550 or Oxley Properties Austin because the Company lacks the power to direct the activities of these entities that most significantly impacts their economic performance. Therefore consolidation of these entities in the Company's consolidated financial statements is not required.

Principles of Consolidation

The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of Hostgator.com LLC, Oxley and Oxley Austin. All material intra-entity accounts and transactions have been eliminated during the consolidation process.

Investment in Unconsolidated Entity

Management uses its judgment when determining if the Company is the primary beneficiary of, or has a controlling interest in, an unconsolidated entity. Factors considered in determining whether the Company has significant influence or the Company has control include risk and reward sharing, experience and financial condition of the other partners, voting rights, involvement in day-to-day capital and operating decisions and continuing involvement. The accounting policy relating to the use of the equity method of accounting is a critical accounting policy due to the judgment required in determining whether the Company is the primary beneficiary or has control or significant influence.

From time to time, the Company invests in separate entities that provide shared, reseller and dedicated web hosting services. Other investors generally are otherwise unrelated strategic partners. When the Company owns less than a controlling interest, these entities are accounted for under the equity or cost method.

World Wide Web Hosting, LLC ("Site 5") provides web hosting services and is fifty percent owned by the Company while the other fifty percent is owned by an unrelated third party corporation, Bweeb, Inc. ("Bweeb"). The Company uses the equity method of accounting for its investment in Site 5 because the Company has a significant but less than controlling interest in the entity.

The Company records its investment in Site 5 in the accompanying consolidated balance sheet and its share of Site 5's earnings or losses in the accompanying consolidated statement of operations.

Advances to and dividends received from Site 5, if any, are included in the investment balance. The equity method is discontinued if the investments carrying value by recognition of losses is reduced to zero.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Management's estimates and assumptions include, but are not limited to, the determination of revenue and related reserves, the collectability of accounts receivable, the estimated useful lives of property and equipment and the recoverability of long-lived assets. Management's estimates and assumptions are derived from and are continually evaluated based upon available information, judgment and experience. Because of inherent uncertainties, it is at least reasonably possible that the estimates used will change in the near term.

Concentrations of Credit and Other Risks

Financial instruments which potentially subject the Company to concentrations of credit risk consist principally of cash and cash equivalents and accounts receivables. Cash and cash equivalents are maintained at accredited financial institutions and at times, balances exceed federally insured limits. The Company has never experienced any losses related to these balances. All of the Company's non-interest bearing cash balances held at accredited financial institutions were fully insured at December 31, 2012 due to a temporary federal program in effect from December 31, 2010 through December 31, 2012. Under the program, there is no limit to the amount of insurance for eligible accounts. Beginning in 2013, insurance coverage will revert to $250 thousand per depositor at each financial institution and the Company's non-interest bearing cash balances may again exceed federally insured limits.

For the period ended July 12, 2012 no customer represented 10% or more of the Company's total revenue.

Revenue Recognition and Deferred Revenue

The Company provides hosting services to its customers and generally does not sell individual hardware and software products. Its customers pay for a non-refundable installation fee and a monthly recurring charge based upon the size and complexity of the IT systems the Company manages and the level of service it provides. Revenue is recognized when (i) there is persuasive evidence that an arrangement exists; (ii) the service has been provided to the customer; (iii) the amount of fees to be paid by the customer is fixed or determinable; and (iv) the collection of the fees is reasonably assured.

Hosting revenue, including installation fees, is recognized on a monthly basis, beginning on the date the customer commences use of the Company's services. Hosting revenue is recognized over the contractual term of the customer contract. Customers generally continue to utilize the Company's services beyond the initial contract term which typically ranges from one month to three years. As a result, installation fees are recognized ratably over the estimated life of the customer relationship.

Deferred revenue represents collections from customers in advance for services not yet performed and are recognized as revenue in the period service is provided. As of July 12, 2012 deferred revenue of $22,311,462 was recorded in the accompanying consolidated balance sheets.

Revenue from other professional services is recognized in the period the services are provided when deemed separable from any related hosting services. When other professional services are not separable from any related hosting services, the associated revenue is recognized over the term of the related hosting agreement. For revenue arrangements with multiple units of accounting, such as an arrangement that includes hosting services and other professional services, the total amount the customer will pay is allocated to the separate units of accounting based on their relative fair values, as determined by the price of the undelivered items when sold separately.

In determining whether the other professional services can be accounted for separately from hosting revenue, the following factors for each agreement are considered: (i) availability of the services from other vendors; (ii) whether objective and reliable evidence for fair value exists for the undelivered elements; (iii) the nature of the professional services; (iv) the timing of when the services contract was signed in comparison to the subscription service start date; and (v) the contractual dependence of the subscription service on the customer’s satisfaction with the professional services. Revenue related to other professional services has not been a significant component of revenue.

The Company’s hosting arrangements contain service level commitments with its customers. To the extent that such service levels are not achieved, or otherwise disputed due to third party power or service issues, unfavorable weather, or other service interruptions or conditions, the Company is required to issue service credits for a portion of the hosting service fees paid by its customers. At each reporting period, the amount of credits to be issued is estimated and a reduction to revenue is recorded. To estimate service credits, the Company utilizes historical data and known credits yet to be issued to its customers.

Cost of Revenue
The Company’s cost of revenue consists primarily of expenses related to a third party data center facility. These costs typically include uncapitalized infrastructure costs including software licenses, rental fees, replacement components, bandwidth and power costs.

Installation Costs
Setup and other direct installation activities are performed at the inception of a specific arrangement with each customer to enable the Company to perform under the terms of the arrangement. These setup or installation costs are expensed as incurred.

Cash and Cash Equivalents
For purposes of the statement of cash flows, the Company considers all highly liquid debt instruments purchased with a maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents.

Accounts Receivable
Trade receivables and other receivables are carried at their estimated collectible amounts. Trade credit is generally extended on a short-term basis; thus, trade receivables do not bear interest. Collectability is assessed based on a number of factors, including customer payment history and creditworthiness. Generally, collateral is not requested from customers, although in certain cases the customer may be required to prepay for services. When evaluating the adequacy of allowances for doubtful accounts receivable, current economic conditions and trends, historical bad debt write-offs, customer creditworthiness, and changes in customer payment terms are analyzed. Customer accounts receivable balances are written-off to the allowance for doubtful accounts when it becomes likely that the Company will not collect from the customer. As of July 12, 2012, there was no allowance for doubtful accounts. In addition, at the end of a given period, customer service level credits are estimated based on historical data and known credits yet to be issued. Customer credits reduce revenue and accounts receivable in the period the estimate is recorded.

Property and Equipment

Property and equipment are recorded at cost. Depreciation expense is provided using straight-line and accelerated methods over the estimated useful lives of the assets as follows:

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Asset Type</th>
<th>Useful Lives</th>
</tr>
</thead>

Long-Lived Assets

The Company evaluates its long-lived assets for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of such assets may not be recoverable. Recoverability of assets to be held and used is measured by a comparison of the carrying amount of any assets’ future net cash flows expected to be generated by the assets. If such assets are considered to be impaired, the impairment to be recognized is measured by the amount by which the carrying amount of the assets exceeds the fair value of the assets. Assets to be disposed of are reported at the lower of the carrying amount or fair value less costs to sell.

Income Taxes

The Company, Oxley and Oxley Austin are limited liability companies. Under the provisions of the Internal Revenue Code, the Company has elected to be taxed as an S-Corporation. Oxley and Oxley Austin have chosen to be taxed as single member LLCs. Accordingly, items of income, loss, deductions and credits flow through to the individual owner’s income tax return and are not taxed at the respective entity level.

The State of Texas (“Texas”) imposes state franchise taxes on statutorily defined revenues at the entity level instead of at the individual owner’s level. Consequently, payments made or amounts due to Texas are recognized by the Company as income tax expense. From January 1, 2012 through July 12, 2012, the amount of franchise taxes imposed by Texas was approximately $506,000 which is included in income tax expense in the accompanying consolidated statements of operations.

The Company, Oxley and Oxley Austin file tax returns in the U.S. federal jurisdiction, and various state jurisdictions. The Company, Oxley and Oxley Austin are no longer subject to U.S. federal, state and local tax examinations by tax authorities for years before 2008.

The Company’s management evaluates tax positions taken by the Company and recognizes a tax liability if the Company has taken an uncertain position that is more likely than not (i.e. a likelihood of more than fifty percent) would not be sustained upon examination by the Internal Revenue Service. The Company’s management has analyzed the tax positions taken by the Company and has concluded that as of July 12, 2012, there were no uncertain tax positions taken or expected to be taken that would require recognition of a liability or disclosure in the consolidated financial statements.

The Company recognizes interest accrued related to unrecognized tax benefits in interest expense and penalties in operating expenses. No such interest or penalties were recognized during the period ended July 12, 2012. The Company had no accruals for interest and penalties at July 12, 2012.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments

The fair value of financial instruments classified as current assets or liabilities including cash and cash equivalents, contract receivables, other receivables, accounts payable and accrued expenses approximate their carrying values principally because of the short maturity of those items. Long-term debt approximates fair value based on current rates available to the Company for loans with similar characteristics and maturities.

Advertising and Marketing Costs

Advertising and marketing costs are expensed as incurred. Total advertising and marketing expense for the period ended July 12, 2012 was $8,204,100.

2. Note Receivable—Bweeb, Inc.

In connection with the acquisition of its 50% interest in Site 5, the Company executed a Promissory Note (the “Note”) with Bweeb under which the Company agreed to loan Bweeb up to the principal amount of $2,000,000 over a twenty-five month period commencing in November 2008. Proceeds from the Note were utilized by Bweeb to fund a portion of its 50% investment in Site 5.

All amounts due under the Note are collateralized by a first priority security interest in 40% of Bweeb’s ownership or membership interest in Site 5.

Outstanding borrowings under the Note bear interest at 1.65% per annum and are due in successive annual payments of interest only beginning on December 1, 2008. The entire principal and accrued interest balance is due and payable in November 2017. Payments are to be applied first, to accrued interest and second, to reduce outstanding principal. Consequently, the entire outstanding principal balance of the Note, which amounted to $1,932,880 at July 12, 2012, has been classified as a long-term asset in the accompanying consolidated balance sheets.

3. Related Party Transactions

At July 12, 2012, Oxley notes receivable from its Member in the aggregate amount of approximately $1,741,000. The notes bear interest at a rate of 0.30% per annum and are due on demand.

Payments for data services during the period ended July 12, 2012 totaled approximately $382,000 and were recognized as a reduction of cost of revenues in the accompanying consolidated statement of operations.

This structure provides equal voting rights with respect to the activities of Site 5; however, final authority resides with Bweeb in the event of an impasse. The Company shares in the profits and losses of Site 5 in accordance with the Agreements, which approximates its ownership interest. As of July 12, 2012, the Company’s equity in net assets of the investment is zero.

6. Fair Value Measurements

The following valuation hierarchy is used for disclosure of the inputs to valuation used to measure fair value. This hierarchy prioritizes the inputs into three broad levels as follows:

- Level 1 inputs are quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities;
- Level 2 inputs are quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities in active markets or inputs that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly through market corroboration, for substantially the full term of the financial instrument; and
- Level 3 inputs are unobservable inputs based on our own assumptions used to measure assets and liabilities at fair value.

A financial asset or liability’s classification within the hierarchy is determined based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement.

As of July 12, 2012, the Company’s has no financial asset or liability required to be measured on a recurring basis subject to level 1, level 2 or level 3 measurements.

The Company recorded a $1,994,538 loss on the sale of foreign currency securities during the period ended July 12, 2012. This loss relates to investments purchased and sold within the period ended July 12, 2012. The Company had no investment balances at July 12, 2012.
7. Debt of Consolidated Variable Interest Entities

Oxley Austin had a mortgage note payable on the Austin, Texas office facility, payable in monthly installments of $26,698, including interest at LIBOR, as determined by the lender, plus 2.5%. The total outstanding balance as of July 12, 2012 was $3,429,228.

Interest expense on the mortgage notes payable totaled approximately $58,000 for the period ended July 12, 2012.

The mortgage note payable on the Austin, Texas office facility contains certain financial and non-financial covenants that require, among other things, a minimum ratio of debt to equity, a minimum ratio of principal and interest payments to earnings before interest and depreciation expenses, and limits additional capital and other investments and additional indebtedness.

As of July 12, 2012, Oxley Austin had not met the requirements under the covenants, resulting in a default under the terms of the mortgage note agreement. Consequently, this mortgage note payable in the amount of $3,429,228 has been classified as a current liability in the accompanying July 12, 2012 consolidated balance sheet. This amount was paid in full subsequent to year end with the proceeds from the acquisition (See Note 12).

8. Leasing Activities

Oxley Austin leases office space at its Austin, Texas facility to an unrelated third party tenant under a non-cancelable operating lease that expires in 2018. Minimum future rental payments due under this operating lease as of July 12, 2012 are as follows:

<tr>
<th>Period ended December 31, 2012</th>

</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>

<tr>
<td>Total</td>

</tr>
</tbody>

Revenue from leasing activities for the period ending July 12, 2012 was approximately $138,000.

9. Employee Benefit Plan and Transaction Bonus

During 2011, the Company adopted a retirement savings 401(k) plan in which substantially all employees may participate. The Company matches employees’ contributions at the discretion of management. Matching contributions and other plan expenses totaled $24,600 for the period ending July 12, 2012.

In connection with the acquisition of the Company (see Note 12), the Company gave a one-time transaction bonus to its employees of approximately $19,900,000, which is included in accrued expenses on the Company’s balance sheet as of July 12, 2012 and operating expenses in the statement of operations.
10. Guarantees

The Company is a guarantor on the mortgage note payable on the Austin, Texas office facility in the amount of $3,429,228 as of July 12, 2012.

The Company and its Member are also guarantors of Oxley 2550 mortgage note payable. The note is collateralized by underlying property in Houston, Texas. The principal balance of the Oxley Leasing 2550 LLC mortgage note payable was approximately $5,100,000 as of July 12, 2012.

Examples of events that would require the Company to provide cash payments pursuant to these guarantees include a loan default, which would result from Oxley Austin or Oxley 2550 failure to service their debt when due or non-compliance with financial covenants or inadequacy of asset collateral.

As discussed in Note 12, in connection with the sale of HostGator.com LLC both the Oxley Austin and the Oxley Leasing 2550 LLC mortgage notes payable were repaid in full.

11. Commitments and Contingencies

Operating Leases

Oxley leases parking facilities located at its Houston, Texas office facility from unrelated third parties under non-cancellable operating leases expiring at various dates through March 2015. The leases require the Company to pay maintenance, insurance and taxes on leased facilities. Minimum future rental payments required under these operating leases as of July 12, 2012 are as follows:

<tr>
<th>Period ended December 31, 2012</th>
<th>Amount</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>2012</td>
<td>$46,200</td>

</tr>
<tr>
<td>2015</td>
<td>18,500</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Total</td>
<td>$244,800</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Rent expense for the period ending July 12, 2012 was approximately $46,000.

Contingencies

The Company is, from time to time, involved in claims and legal actions arising in the ordinary course of business. In the opinion of management, the ultimate disposition of these matters will not have a material adverse effect on the Company’s consolidated financial position or results of operations.

12. Subsequent Events

On July 13, 2012, The Endurance International Group, Inc. (“EIG”), a provider of online products and services primarily to small and medium size businesses, acquired all of the outstanding membership units of HostGator.com LLC for an aggregate purchase price of approximately $227.3 million in cash and $73.6 million in deferred payments.
As a result of the acquisition, subsequent to July 12, 2012, Oxley and Oxley Austin no longer meet the criteria for consolidation as a VIE of the Company.

In connection with the acquisition of HostGator.com LLC by EIG, a portion of the proceeds were used to settle in full the mortgages of Oxley Austin and Oxley Leasing 2550 LLC related to certain buildings in Houston and Austin, Texas.

Management has evaluated subsequent events through June 21, 2013, the date which the consolidated financial statements were available to be issued. Except as disclosed in Notes 7 and 10 and described above, management is not aware of any events that have occurred subsequent to the balance sheet date that would require adjustment to, or disclosure in, the consolidated financial statements.
On July 13, 2012, The Endurance International Group, Inc., a wholly owned subsidiary of the Company ("EIG"), acquired all of the membership units of Hostgator.com LLC ("Hostgator"), a privately-held leading provider of shared, VPS and dedicated web hosting services to small- and medium-sized businesses. As a result, Hostgator is now a wholly-owned subsidiary of EIG. The aggregate purchase price was $299.8 million, of which $227.3 million was paid in cash at the closing. Under the terms of the purchase agreement (the "Hostgator Agreement"), within 120 days of the closing date of the acquisition, the purchase consideration was subject to a working capital adjustment, which resulted in an additional $0.8 million due and payable by EIG at December 31, 2012. The Company is also obligated to pay additional purchase consideration of $49.4 million and $24.2 million, due 12 and 18 months from the acquisition date, respectively. The net present value of the future cash consideration payments are $47.9 million and $23.0 million. These amounts are included in the aggregate purchase price above. Under the terms of the Hostgator Agreement, the Company is also obligated to pay amounts deemed to be future compensation for certain employees in the amounts of $2.9 million and $2.0 million, also due 12 and 18 months from the acquisition date, respectively.

The unaudited pro forma combined statement of operations for the year ended December 31, 2012 presented herein are based on the historical audited financial statements of EIG and Hostgator as if the acquisition was consummated on January 1, 2012, and after giving effect to the acquisition and the assumptions and adjustments described in the accompanying notes to these unaudited pro forma combined statements of operations.

The EIG statements of operations for the year ended December 31, 2012 reflected in these pro forma statements were derived from its audited consolidated financial statements included in the Registration statement for the year ended December 31, 2012. The Hostgator statement of operations for the period January 1, 2012 through July 12, 2012 were derived from its audited financial statements included in the Registration statement. The unaudited pro forma combined statements of operations, including the notes thereto, should be read in conjunction with the historical consolidated financial statements of EIG for the year ended December 31, 2012 and the historical consolidated financial statements of Hostgator for the period ended July 12, 2012.

1. Basis of Presentation

The unaudited pro forma data is presented for illustrative purposes only and is not necessarily indicative of the operating results that would have occurred had the transactions been consummated as of January 1, 2012. Pro forma adjustments reflect only those adjustments which are factually determinable. The unaudited pro forma statements of operations do not give effect to the potential impact of current financial conditions, regulatory matters, operating efficiencies or other savings or expenses that may be associated with the acquisition, and do not include any estimates of future integration costs.

The preliminary purchase consideration and purchase price allocation has been presented and does not necessarily represent the final purchase price allocation. The allocations of the purchase consideration to tangible and intangible assets acquired and liabilities assumed herein were based upon preliminary valuations and our estimates and assumptions are still subject to change.

Purchase Price:
The Company accounted for the HostGator acquisition as a business combination using the purchase method of accounting. The Company allocated the preliminary purchase price to the tangible and identifiable intangible assets and liabilities assumed based on their estimated fair values. Developed technology has an estimated useful life of ten years and subscriber relationships and trade names have estimated useful lives of 20 years and ten years, respectively. The excess of the purchase price over the fair value of the identifiable assets and assumed liabilities was recorded as goodwill. The following table summarizes the preliminary purchase price allocation on the acquisition date and the estimated fair values of goodwill, intangible assets and tangible assets acquired and liabilities assumed (in thousands):

Item 14. Indemnification of Directors and Officers.

Section 102 of the Delaware General Corporation Law permits a corporation to eliminate the personal liability of directors of a corporation to the corporation or its stockholders for monetary damages for a breach of fiduciary duty as a director, except where the director breached his duty of loyalty, failed to act in good faith, engaged in intentional misconduct or knowingly violated a law, authorized the payment of a dividend or approved a stock repurchase in violation of Delaware corporate law or obtained an improper personal benefit. Our restated certificate of incorporation provides that no director of the Registrant shall be personally liable to it or its stockholders for monetary damages for any breach of fiduciary duty as a director, notwithstanding any provision of law imposing such liability, except to the extent that the Delaware General Corporation Law prohibits the elimination or limitation of liability of directors for breaches of fiduciary duty.

Section 145 of the Delaware General Corporation Law provides that a corporation has the power to indemnify a director, officer, employee, or agent of the corporation, or a person serving at the request of the corporation for another corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise in related capacities against expenses (including attorneys’ fees), judgments, fines and amounts paid in settlement actually and reasonably incurred by the person in connection with an action, suit or proceeding to which he was or is a party or is threatened to be made a party to any threatened, pending or completed action, suit or proceeding by reason of such position, if such person acted in good faith and in a manner he reasonably believed to be in or not opposed to the best interests of the corporation, and, in any criminal action or proceeding, had no reasonable cause to believe his conduct was unlawful, except that, in the case of actions brought by or in the right of the corporation, no indemnification shall be made with respect to any claim, issue or matter as to which such person shall have been adjudged to be liable to the corporation unless and only to the extent that the Court of Chancery or other adjudicating court determines that, despite the adjudication of liability but in view of all of the circumstances of the case, such person is fairly and reasonably entitled to indemnity for such expenses which the Court of Chancery or such other court shall deem proper.
Our restated certificate of incorporation provides that we will indemnify each person who was or is a party or threatened to be made a party to any threatened, pending or completed action, suit or proceeding (other than an action by or in the right of us) by reason of the fact that he or she is or was, or has agreed to become, a director or officer, or is or was serving, or has agreed to serve, at our request as a director, officer, partner, employee or trustee of, or in a similar capacity with, another corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise (all such persons being referred to as an “Indemnitee”), or by reason of any action alleged to have been taken or omitted in such capacity, against all expenses (including attorneys’ fees), judgments, fines and amounts paid in settlement actually and reasonably incurred in connection with such action, suit or proceeding and any appeal therefrom, if such Indemnitee acted in good faith and in a manner he or she reasonably believed to be in, or not opposed to, our best interests, and, with respect to any criminal action or proceeding, he or she had no reasonable cause to believe his or her conduct was unlawful. Our restated certificate of incorporation provides that we will indemnify any Indemnitee who was or is a party to an action or suit by or in the right of us to procure a judgment in our favor by reason of the fact that the Indemnitee is or was, or has agreed to become, a director or officer, or is or was serving, or has agreed to serve, at our request as a director, officer, partner, employee or trustee of, or in a similar capacity with, another corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise, or by reason of any action alleged to have been taken or omitted in such capacity, against all expenses (including attorneys’ fees) and, to the extent permitted by law, amounts paid in settlement actually and reasonably incurred in connection with such action, suit or proceeding, and any appeal therefrom, if the Indemnitee acted in good faith and in a manner he or she reasonably believed to be in, or not opposed to, our best interests, except that no indemnification shall be made with respect to any claim, issue or matter as to which such person shall have been adjudged to be liable to us, unless a court determines that, despite such adjudication but in view of all of the circumstances, he or she is entitled to indemnification of such expenses. Notwithstanding the foregoing, to the extent that any Indemnitee has been successful, on the merits or otherwise, he or she will be indemnified by us against all expenses (including attorneys’ fees) actually and reasonably incurred in connection therewith. Expenses must be advanced to an Indemnitee under certain circumstances.

We have entered into indemnification agreements with certain of our directors, and we intend to enter into indemnification agreements with all of our directors and executive officers. These indemnification agreements may require us, among other things, to indemnify each such director for some expenses, including attorneys’ fees, judgments, fines and settlement amounts incurred by him in any action or proceeding arising out of his service as one of our directors.

Although directors designated for election to our board of directors by investment funds and entities affiliated with either Warburg Pincus or Goldman Sachs may have certain rights to indemnification, advancement of expenses or insurance provided or obtained by investment funds and entities affiliated with either Warburg Pincus or Goldman Sachs, respectively, we have agreed in our stockholders agreement that we will be the indemnitor of first resort, will advance the full amount of expenses incurred by each such director and, to the extent that investment funds and entities affiliated with either Warburg Pincus or Goldman Sachs or their insurers make any payment to, or advance any expenses to, any such director, we will reimburse those investment funds and entities and their insurers for such amounts.

We maintain a general liability insurance policy that covers certain liabilities of directors and officers of our corporation arising out of claims based on acts or omissions in their capacities as directors or officers.

In any underwriting agreement we enter into in connection with the sale of common stock being registered hereby, the underwriters will agree to indemnify, under certain conditions, us, our directors, our officers and persons who control us within the meaning of the Securities Act, against certain liabilities.
Item 15. Recent Sales of Unregistered Securities.

In the three years preceding the filing of this registration statement, we have issued the following securities that were not registered under the Securities Act:

In connection with our acquisition of Bluehost Inc., Hostmonster Inc. and FastDomain Inc. in November and December 2010, EIG Investors Corp., our wholly owned subsidiary, issued 20,920 shares of series C preferred stock to certain investors for an aggregate purchase price of $20.9 million, and Endurance International Group Holdings, LLC issued 4,557 class B units that were issued to certain investors. In addition, EIG Investors Corp. issued to the sellers in these acquisitions a promissory note in aggregate principal amount of $20.0 million, which was convertible into class A units of our prior parent, Endurance International Group Holdings, LLC.

In connection with our acquisition of Dotster, Inc. in July 2011, EIG Investors Corp. issued 38,000 shares of series D preferred stock to an investor for an aggregate purchase price of $38.0 million.

In December 2011, approximately 5,999 shares of series A preferred stock in EIG Investors Corp. were exchanged by certain holders of EIG Investor Corp.‘s outstanding series A preferred stock for class A units of Endurance International Group Holdings, LLC. In December 2011, investment funds and entities affiliated with either Warburg Pincus or Goldman Sachs acquired a controlling interest in our company. We refer to this transaction as the Sponsor Acquisition. In connection with the Sponsor Acquisition, in December 2011, WP Expedition Topco L.P., issued 508,359,791 class A units to entities and investment funds affiliated with Warburg Pincus and Goldman Sachs and certain other entities and individuals for an aggregate purchase price of $508.4 million. Prior to June 2013, we were a Delaware limited partnership named WP Expedition Holdings L.P. In June 2013, WP Expedition Holdings L.P. was converted to a Delaware corporation, and we issued 1,000 shares of our common stock to WP Expedition Midco L.P., the sole limited partner of WP Expedition Holdings L.P., in exchange for prior contributions by WP Expedition Midco L.P. to WP Expedition Holdings L.P.

Item 17. Undertakings.

The undersigned registrant hereby undertakes to provide to the underwriters, at the closing specified in the underwriting agreement, certificates in such denominations and registered in such names as required by the underwriters to permit prompt delivery to each purchaser.

Insofar as indemnification for liabilities arising under the Securities Act may be permitted to directors, officers and controlling persons of the registrant pursuant to the foregoing provisions, or otherwise, the registrant has been advised that in the opinion of the SEC such indemnification is against public policy as expressed in the Securities Act and is, therefore, unenforceable. In the event that a claim for indemnification against such liabilities (other than the payment by the registrant of expenses incurred or paid by a director, officer or controlling person of the registrant in the successful defense of any action, suit or proceeding) is asserted by such director, officer or controlling person in connection with the securities being registered, the registrant will, unless in the opinion of its counsel the matter has been settled by controlling precedent, submit to a court of appropriate jurisdiction the question whether such indemnification by it is against public policy as expressed in the Securities Act and will be governed by the final adjudication of such issue.

The undersigned hereby undertakes that:

(1) For purposes of determining any liability under the Securities Act, the information omitted from the form of prospectus filed as part of this registration statement in reliance upon Rule 430A and contained in a form of prospectus filed by the registrant pursuant to Rule 424(b)(1) or (4) or 497(h) under the Securities Act shall be deemed to be part of this registration statement as of the time it was declared effective.

(2) For the purpose of determining any liability under the Securities Act, each post-effective amendment that contains a form of prospectus shall be deemed to be a new registration statement relating to the securities offered therein, and the offering of such securities at that time shall be deemed to be the initial bona fide offering thereof.

(ii) If Goldman, Sachs & Co., in its sole discretion, agrees to release or waive the restrictions in any Lock-Up Agreement for an officer or director of the Company and provides the Company with notice of the impending release or waiver at least three business days before the effective date of the release or waiver, the Company agrees to announce the impending release or waiver by a press release substantially in the form of Annex III hereto through a major news service at least two business days before the effective date of the release or waiver; that no such additional information shall be required if the disclosure of additional information would result in a violation of Regulation FD; and provided, further, that the Company may satisfy the requirements of this subsection by making any such report, communication or information generally available on its website under the “[Investors]” section thereof;

(l) Upon the reasonable request of any Underwriter, to furnish, or cause to be furnished, to such Underwriter an electronic version of the Company’s trademarks, servicemarks and corporate logo for use on the website, if any, operated by such Underwriter for the purpose of facilitating the on-line offering of the Shares (the “License”); provided, however, that the License shall be used solely for the purpose described above, is granted without any fee and may not be assigned or transferred.

7. (a) The Company represents and agrees that, without the prior consent of Goldman, Sachs & Co., it has not made and will not make any offer relating to the Shares that would constitute a “free writing prospectus” as defined in Rule 405 under the Act; and each Underwriter represents and agrees that, without the prior consent of the Company and Goldman, Sachs & Co., it has not made and will not make any offer relating to the Shares that would constitute a free writing prospectus; any such free writing prospectus the use of which has been consented to by the Company and Goldman, Sachs & Co. is listed on Schedule II(a) hereto;

(b) The Company represents and agrees that (i) it has not engaged in, or authorized any other person to engage in, any Section 5(d) Communications, other than Section 5(d) Communications with the prior consent of Goldman, Sachs & Co. with entities that are qualified institutional buyers as defined in Rule 144A under the Act or institutions that are accredited investors as defined in Rule 501(a) under the Act; and (ii) it has not distributed, or authorized any other person to distribute, any Section 5(d) Writings, other than those distributed with the prior consent of the Representatives that are listed on Schedule II(d) hereto; and the Company reconfirms that the Underwriters have been authorized to act on its behalf in engaging in Section 5(d) Communications;
(c) The Company has complied and will comply with the requirements of Rule 433 under the Act applicable to any Issuer Free Writing Prospectus, including timely filing with the Commission or retention where required and legending; and the Company represents that it has satisfied and agrees that it will satisfy the conditions under Rule 433 under the Act to avoid a requirement to file with the Commission any electronic road show;

(d) The Company will promptly notify the Representatives if the Company ceases to be an Emerging Growth Company at any time prior to the later of (i) completion of the distribution of the Shares within the meaning of the Act and (ii) completion of the Company Lock-Up Period;

(e) Each Underwriter represents and agrees that any Section 5(d) Communications undertaken by it were with entities that are qualified institutional buyers as defined in Rule 144A under the Act or institutions that are accredited investors as defined in Rule 501(a) under the Act; and

(f) The Company agrees that if at any time following issuance of an Issuer Free Writing Prospectus or Section 5(d) Writing any event occurred or occurs as a result of which such Issuer Free Writing Prospectus or Section 5(d) Writing would conflict with the information in the Registration Statement, the Pricing Prospectus or the Prospectus or would include an untrue statement of a material fact or omit to state any material fact necessary in order to make the statements therein, in the light of the circumstances then prevailing, not misleading, the Company will give prompt notice thereof to Goldman, Sachs & Co. and, if requested by Goldman, Sachs & Co., will prepare and furnish without charge to each Underwriter an Issuer Free Writing Prospectus, Section 5(d) Writing or other document which will correct such conflict, statement or omission; provided, however, that this covenant shall not apply to any statements or omissions in an Issuer Free Writing Prospectus or Section 5(d) Writing made in reliance upon and in conformity with Underwriter Information.

8. The Company covenants and agrees with the several Underwriters that the Company will pay or cause to be paid the following: (i) the fees, disbursements and expenses of the Company’s counsel and accountants in connection with the registration of the Shares under the Act and all other expenses in connection with the preparation, printing, reproduction and filing of the Registration Statement, any Preliminary Prospectus, any Issuer Free Writing Prospectus and the Prospectus and amendments and supplements thereto and the mailing and delivering of copies thereof to the Underwriters and dealers; (ii) the cost of printing or producing any Agreement among Underwriters, this Agreement, the Blue Sky Memorandum, closing documents (including any compilations thereof) and any other documents in connection with the offering, purchase, sale and delivery of the Shares; (iii) all expenses in connection with the qualification of the Shares for offering and sale under state securities laws as provided in Section 6(b) hereof, including the fees and disbursements of counsel for the Underwriters in connection with such qualification and in connection with the Blue Sky survey; (iv) all fees and expenses in connection with listing the Shares on the Exchange; (v) the filing fees incident to, and the reasonable fees and disbursements of one counsel for the Underwriters in connection with, any required review by FINRA of the terms of the sale of the Shares; (vi) the cost of preparing stock certificates, if applicable; (vii) the cost and charges of any transfer agent or registrar; (viii) the preparation, printing and distribution of one or more versions of the

It is understood, however, that except as provided in this Section 8, and Sections 10 and 13 hereof, the Underwriters will pay all of their own costs and expenses, including the fees of their counsel, stock transfer taxes on resale of any of the Shares by them, and any advertising expenses connected with any offers they may make.

9. The obligations of the Underwriters hereunder, as to the Shares to be delivered at each Time of Delivery, shall be subject, in their discretion, to the condition that all representations and warranties and other statements of the Company herein are, at and as of such Time of Delivery, true and correct, the condition that the Company shall have performed all of its obligations hereunder theretofore to be performed, and the following additional conditions:

(l) The Company shall have furnished or caused to be furnished to you at such Time of Delivery certificates of officers of the Company satisfactory to you as to the accuracy of the representations and warranties of the Company herein at and as of such Time of Delivery, as to the performance by the Company of all of its obligations hereunder to be performed at or prior to such Time of Delivery, as to such other matters as you may reasonably request, and the Company shall have furnished or caused to be furnished certificates as to the matters set forth in subsections (a) and (f) of this Section 9;

(m) At each Time of Delivery, the Chief Executive Officer and the Chief Financial Officer of the Company, in their capacities as such, shall have furnished to the Representatives a certificate, dated the respective dates of delivery thereof, to the effect that each such officer has carefully examined the Registration Statement, the Pricing Prospectus, the Prospectus and any amendment or supplement thereto, as well as each electronic road show used in connection with the offering of the Shares, and this Agreement and that:

(i) the representations and warranties of the Company in this Agreement are true and correct on and at such Time of Delivery with the same effect as if made on such Time of Delivery and the Company has complied with all the agreements and satisfied all the conditions on its part to be performed or satisfied at or prior to such Time of Delivery;

(n) At each Time of Delivery, the Representatives shall have received a certificate of the Secretary of the Company, as to such matters as the Representatives may reasonably request; and
10. (a) The Company will indemnify and hold harmless each Underwriter against any losses, claims, damages or liabilities, joint or several, to which such Underwriter may become subject, under the Act or otherwise, insofar as such losses, claims, damages or liabilities (or actions in respect thereof) arise out of or are based upon an untrue statement or alleged untrue statement of a material fact contained in (x) the Registration Statement, any Preliminary Prospectus, the Pricing Prospectus or the Prospectus, or any amendment or supplement thereto, any Issuer Free Writing Prospectus or any “issuer information” filed or required to be filed pursuant to Rule 433(d) under the Act, or any Section 5(d) Writing, or (y) any materials or information provided to investors by, or with the approval of, the Company in connection with the marketing of the offering of the Shares (“Marketing Materials”), including any roadshow or investor presentations made to investors by the Company (whether in person or electronically), or (ii) arise out of or are based upon the omission or alleged omission to state therein a material fact required to be stated therein or necessary to make the statements therein not misleading, and will reimburse each Underwriter for any legal or other expenses reasonably incurred by such Underwriter in connection with investigating or defending any such action or claim as such expenses are incurred; provided, however, that the Company shall not be liable in any such case to the extent that any such loss, claim, damage or liability arises out of or is based upon an untrue statement or alleged untrue statement or omission or alleged omission made in the Registration Statement, any Preliminary Prospectus, the Pricing Prospectus, the Prospectus or any Marketing Materials, or any amendment or supplement thereto, or any Issuer Free Writing Prospectus, or any Section 5(d) Writing, in reliance upon and in conformity with Underwriter Information.

(b) Each Underwriter will indemnify and hold harmless the Company against any losses, claims, damages or liabilities to which the Company may become subject, under the Act or otherwise, insofar as such losses, claims, damages or liabilities (or actions in respect thereof) arise out of or are based upon an untrue statement or alleged untrue statement of a material fact contained in the Registration Statement, any Preliminary Prospectus, the Pricing Prospectus or the Prospectus, or any amendment or supplement thereto, or any Issuer Free Writing Prospectus, any Section 5(d) Writing [or any Marketing Materials], or arise out of or are based upon the omission or alleged omission to state therein a material fact required to be stated therein or necessary to make the statements therein not misleading, in each case to the extent, but only to the extent, that such untrue statement or alleged untrue statement or omission or alleged omission was made in the Registration Statement, any Preliminary Prospectus, the Pricing Prospectus or the Prospectus, or any amendment or supplement thereto, or any Issuer Free Writing Prospectus, any Section 5(d) Writing [or any Marketing Materials], in reliance upon and in conformity with Underwriter Information; and will reimburse the Company for any legal or other expenses reasonably incurred by the Company in connection with investigating or defending any such action or claim as such expenses are incurred.

(c) Promptly after receipt by an indemnified party under subsection (a) or (b) of this Section 10 of notice of the commencement of any action, such indemnified party shall, if a claim in respect thereof is to be made against the indemnifying party under such subsection, notify the indemnifying party in writing of the commencement thereof; but the omission so to notify the indemnifying party shall not relieve it from any liability which it may have to any indemnified party otherwise than under such subsection. In case any such action shall be brought against any indemnified party and it shall notify the indemnifying party of the commencement thereof, the indemnifying party shall be entitled to participate therein and, to the extent that it shall wish, jointly with any other indemnifying party similarly notified, to assume the defense thereof, with counsel reasonably satisfactory to such indemnified party (who shall not, except with the consent of the indemnified party, be counsel to the indemnifying party), and, after notice from the indemnifying party to such indemnified party of its election so to assume the defense thereof, the indemnifying party shall not be liable to such indemnified party under such subsection for any legal expenses of other counsel or any other expenses, in each case subsequently incurred by such indemnified party, in connection with the defense thereof other than reasonable costs of investigation. No indemnifying party shall, without the written consent of the indemnified party, effect the settlement or compromise of, or consent to the entry of any judgment with respect to, any pending or threatened action or claim in respect of which indemnification or contribution may be sought hereunder (whether or not the indemnified party is an actual or potential party to such action or claim) unless such settlement, compromise or judgment (i) includes an unconditional release of the indemnified party from all liability arising out of such action or claim and (ii) does not include a statement as to or an admission of fault, culpability or a failure to act, by or on behalf of any indemnified party.

(d) If the indemnification provided for in this Section 10 is unavailable to or insufficient to hold harmless an indemnified party under subsection (a) or (b) above in respect of any losses, claims, damages or liabilities (or actions in respect thereof) referred to therein, then each indemnifying party shall contribute to the amount paid or payable by such indemnified party as a result of such losses, claims, damages or liabilities (or actions in respect thereof) in such proportion as is appropriate to reflect the relative benefits received by the Company and by the Underwriters from the offering of the Shares. If, however, the allocation provided by the immediately preceding sentence is not permitted by applicable law or if the indemnified party failed to give the notice required under subsection (c) above, then each indemnifying party shall contribute to such amount paid or payable by such indemnified party in such proportion as is appropriate to reflect not only such relative benefits but also the relative fault of the Company and of the Underwriters in connection with the statements or omissions which resulted in such losses, claims, damages or liabilities (or actions in respect thereof), as well as any other relevant equitable considerations. The benefits received by the Company as a result of the offering (before deducting expenses) received by the Company, and benefits received by the Underwriters shall be deemed to be the total proceeds from the offering of the Shares. If, however, the allocation provided by the immediately preceding sentence is not permitted by applicable law or if the indemnified party failed to give the notice required under subsection (c) above, then each indemnifying party shall contribute to such amount paid or payable by such indemnified party in such proportion as is appropriate to reflect not only such relative benefits but also the relative fault of the Company and of the Underwriters in connection with the statements or omissions which resulted in such losses, claims, damages or liabilities (or actions in respect thereof), as well as any other relevant equitable considerations. The benefits received by the Company as a result of the losses, claims, damages or liabilities (or actions in respect thereof) referred to above in this subsection (d) shall be deemed to include any legal or other expenses reasonably incurred by such indemnified party in connection with investigating or defending any such action or claim. Notwithstanding the provisions of this subsection (d), no Underwriter shall be required to contribute any amount in excess of the amount by which the total price at which the Shares underwritten by it and distributed to the public were offered to the public exceeds the amount of any damages which such Underwriter has otherwise been required to pay by reason of such untrue or alleged untrue statement or omission or alleged omission. No person guilty of fraudulent misrepresentation (within the meaning of Section 11(f) of the Act) shall be entitled to contribution from any person who was not guilty of such fraudulent misrepresentation. The Underwriters’ obligations in this subsection (d) to contribute are several in proportion to their respective underwriting obligations and not joint.

(e) The obligations of the Company under this Section 10 shall be in addition to any liability which the Company may otherwise have and shall extend, upon the same terms and conditions, to each officer and director of each Underwriter and each person, if any, who controls any Underwriter within the meaning of the Act and each broker-dealer affiliate of any Underwriter; and the obligations of the Underwriters under this Section 10 shall be in addition to any liability which the respective Underwriters may otherwise have and shall extend, upon the same terms and conditions, to each officer and director of the Company (including any person who, with his or her consent, is named in the Registration Statement as about to become a director of the Company) and to each person, if any, who controls the Company within the meaning of the Act.

(f) Without limitation of and in addition to its obligations under the other paragraphs of this Section 10, the Company agrees to indemnify and hold harmless the QIU, its directors, officers, employees and agents and each person who controls the QIU (within the meaning of either the Act or the Exchange Act) in connection with the offering of the Shares, against any and all losses, claims, damages or liabilities, joint or several, to which they or any of them may become subject, insofar as such losses, claims, damages or liabilities (or action in respect thereof) arise out of or are based upon the QIU’s acting as a “qualified independent underwriter” (within the meaning of Rule 5121) in connection with the offering of the Shares contemplated by this Agreement, and agrees to reimburse each such indemnified party, as incurred, for any legal or other expenses reasonably incurred by them in connection with investigating or defending any such loss, claim, damage, liability or action; provided, however, that the Company will not be liable in any such case to the extent that any such loss, claim, damage or liability results from the gross negligence or willful misconduct of the QIU.

11. (a) If any Underwriter shall default in its obligation to purchase the Shares that it has agreed to purchase hereunder at a Time of Delivery, you may in your discretion arrange for you or another party or other parties to purchase such Shares on the terms contained herein. If within thirty-six hours after such default by any Underwriter you do not arrange for the purchase of such Shares, then the Company shall be entitled to a further period of thirty-six hours within which to procure another party or other parties satisfactory to you to purchase such Shares on such terms. In the event that, within the respective prescribed periods, you notify the Company that you have so arranged for the purchase of such Shares, or the Company notifies you that it has so arranged for the purchase of such Shares, you or the Company shall have the right to postpone such Time of Delivery for a period of not more than seven days, in order to effect whatever changes may thereby be made necessary in the Registration Statement or the Prospectus, or in any other documents or arrangements, and the Company agrees to file promptly any amendments or supplements to the Registration Statement or the Prospectus which in your opinion may thereby be made necessary. The term “Underwriter” as used in this Agreement shall include any person substituted under this Section with like effect as if such person had originally been a party to this Agreement with respect to such Shares.

(b) If, after giving effect to any arrangements for the purchase of the Shares of a defaulting Underwriter or Underwriters by you and the Company as provided in subsection (a) above, the aggregate number of such Shares which remains unpurchased does not exceed one-eleventh of the aggregate number of all the Shares to be purchased at such Time of Delivery, then the Company shall have the right to require each non-defaulting Underwriter to purchase the number of Shares which such Underwriter agreed to purchase hereunder at such Time of Delivery and, in addition, to require each non-defaulting Underwriter to purchase its pro rata share (based on the number of Shares which such Underwriter agreed to purchase hereunder) of the Shares of such defaulting Underwriter or Underwriters for which such arrangements have not been made; but nothing herein shall relieve a defaulting Underwriter from liability for its default.

(c) If, after giving effect to any arrangements for the purchase of the Shares of a defaulting Underwriter or Underwriters by you and the Company as provided in subsection (a) above, the aggregate number of such Shares which remains unpurchased exceeds one-eleventh of the aggregate number of all of the Shares to be purchased at such Time of Delivery, or if the Company shall not exercise the right described in subsection (b) above to require non-defaulting Underwriters to purchase Shares of a defaulting Underwriter or Underwriters, then this Agreement (or, with respect to the Second Time of Delivery, the obligations of the Underwriters to purchase and of the Company to sell the Optional Shares) shall thereupon terminate, without liability on the part of any non-defaulting Underwriter or the Company, except for the expenses to be borne by the Company and the Underwriters as provided in Section 8 hereof and the indemnity and contribution agreements in Section 10 hereof; but nothing herein shall relieve a defaulting Underwriter from liability for its default.

12. The respective indemnities, agreements, representations, warranties and other statements of the Company and the several Underwriters, as set forth in this Agreement or made by or on behalf of them, respectively, pursuant to this Agreement, shall remain in full force and effect, regardless of any investigation (or any statement as to the results thereof) made by or on behalf of any Underwriter or any controlling person of any Underwriter, or the Company, or any officer or director or controlling person of the Company, and shall survive delivery of and payment for the Shares.

13. If this Agreement shall be terminated pursuant to Section 11 hereof, the Company shall not then be under any liability to any Underwriter except as provided in Sections 8 and 10 hereof; but, if for any other reason any Shares are not delivered by or on behalf of the Company as provided herein, the Company will reimburse the Underwriters through you for all out-of-pocket expenses approved in writing by you, including fees and disbursements of counsel, reasonably incurred by the Underwriters in making preparations for the purchase, sale and delivery of the Shares not so delivered, but the Company shall then be under no further liability to any Underwriter except as provided in Sections 8 and 10 hereof.
14. In all dealings hereunder, you shall act on behalf of each of the Underwriters, and the parties hereto shall be entitled to act and rely upon any statement, request, notice or agreement on behalf of any Underwriter made or given by you jointly or by Goldman, Sachs & Co. on behalf of you as the representatives.

In accordance with the requirements of the USA Patriot Act (Title III of Pub. L. 107-56 (signed into law October 26, 2001)), the Underwriters are required to obtain, verify and record information that identifies their respective clients, including the Company, which information may include the name and address of their respective clients, as well as other information that will allow the Underwriters to properly identify their respective clients.

Ladies and Gentlemen:

This opinion is furnished to you in connection with a Registration Statement on Form S-1 (File No. 333-191061) (the “Registration Statement”) filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the “Commission”) under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the “Securities Act”), for the registration of 23,390,000 shares of Common Stock, $0.0001 par value per share (the “Shares”), of Endurance International Group Holdings, Inc., a Delaware corporation (the “Company”), including 3,508,500 Shares issuable upon exercise of an over-allotment option granted by the Company.

The Shares are to be sold by the Company pursuant to an underwriting agreement (the “Underwriting Agreement”) to be entered into by and among the Company and Goldman, Sachs & Co., Credit Suisse Securities (USA) LLC and Morgan Stanley & Co. LLC, as representatives of the several underwriters named in the Underwriting Agreement, the form of which has been filed as Exhibit 1.1 to the Registration Statement.

We are acting as counsel for the Company in connection with the issue and sale by the Company of the Shares. We have examined signed copies of the Registration Statement as filed with the Commission. We have also examined and relied upon the Underwriting Agreement, minutes of meetings of the stockholders and the Board of Directors of the Company as provided to us by the Company, stock record books of the Company as provided to us by the Company, the Certificate of Incorporation and By-Laws of the Company, each as restated and/or amended to date, and such other documents as we have deemed necessary for purposes of rendering the opinions hereinafter set forth.

In our examination of the foregoing documents, we have assumed the genuineness of all signatures, the authenticity of all documents submitted to us as originals, the conformity to original documents of all documents submitted to us as copies, the authenticity of the originals of such latter documents and the legal competence of all signatories to such documents.

Based upon and subject to the foregoing, we are of the opinion that the Shares have been duly authorized for issuance and, when the Shares are issued and paid for in accordance with the terms and conditions of the Underwriting Agreement, the Shares will be validly issued, fully paid and nonassessable.

1. Purpose

The purpose of this 2013 Stock Incentive Plan (the “Plan”) of Endurance International Group Holdings, Inc., a Delaware corporation (the “Company”), is to advance the interests of the Company’s stockholders by enhancing the Company’s ability to attract, retain and motivate persons who are expected to make important contributions to the Company and by providing such persons with equity ownership opportunities and performance-based incentives that are intended to better align the interests of such persons with those of the Company’s stockholders. Except where the context otherwise requires, the term “Company” shall include any of the Company’s present or future parent or subsidiary corporations as defined in Sections 424(e) or (f) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, and any regulations thereunder (the “Code”) and any other business venture (including, without limitation, joint venture or limited liability company) in which the Company has a controlling interest, as determined by the Board of Directors of the Company (the “Board”).

2. Eligibility

All of the Company’s employees, officers and directors, as well as consultants and advisors to the Company (as such terms are defined and interpreted for purposes of Form S-8 under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the “Securities Act”), or any successor form) are eligible to be granted Awards under the Plan. Each person who is granted an Award under the Plan is deemed a “Participant.” “Award” means Options (as defined in Section 5), SARs (as defined in Section 6), Restricted Stock (as defined in Section 7), Restricted Stock Units (as defined in Section 7) and Other Stock-Based Awards (as defined in Section 8).

3. Administration and Delegation

(a) Administration by Board of Directors. The Plan will be administered by the Board. The Board shall have authority to grant Awards and to adopt, amend and repeal such administrative rules, guidelines and practices relating to the Plan as it shall deem advisable. The Board may construe and interpret the terms of the Plan and any Award agreements entered into under the Plan. The Board may correct any defect, supply any omission or reconcile any inconsistency in the Plan or any Award in the manner and to the extent it shall deem expedient and it shall be the sole and final judge of such expediency. All decisions by the Board shall be made in the Board’s sole discretion and shall be final and binding on all persons having or claiming any interest in the Plan or in any Award.

(b) Appointment of Committees. To the extent permitted by applicable law, the Board may delegate any or all of its powers under the Plan to one or more committees or subcommittees of the Board (a “Committee”). All references in the Plan to the “Board” shall mean the Board or a Committee of the Board or the officers referred to in Section 3(c) to the extent that the Board’s powers or authority under the Plan have been delegated to such Committee or officers.
Delegation to Officers. To the extent permitted by applicable law, the Board may delegate to one or more officers of the Company the power to grant Options and other Awards that constitute rights under Delaware law (subject to any limitations under the Plan) to employees or officers of the Company and to exercise such other powers under the Plan as the Board may determine, provided that the Board shall fix the terms of such Awards to be granted by such officers (including the exercise price of such Awards, which may include a formula by which the exercise price will be determined) and the maximum number of shares subject to such Awards that the officers may grant; provided further, however, that no officer shall be authorized to grant such Awards to any “executive officer” of the Company (as defined by Rule 3b-7 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the “Exchange Act”)) or to any “officer” of the Company (as defined by Rule 16a-1 under the Exchange Act). The Board may not delegate authority under this Section 3(c) to grant Restricted Stock, unless Delaware law then permits such delegation.

4. Stock Available for Awards

(a) Number of Shares: Share Counting.

(1) Authorized Number of Shares. Subject to adjustment under Section 9, Awards may be made under the Plan (any or all of which Awards may be in the form of Incentive Stock Options, as defined in Section 5(b)) for 18,000,000 shares of common stock, $0.0001 par value per share, of the Company (the “Common Stock”). Shares issued under the Plan may consist in whole or in part of authorized but unissued shares or treasury shares.

(2) Share Counting. For purposes of counting the number of shares available for the grant of Awards under the Plan:

(A) all shares of Common Stock covered by SARs shall be counted against the number of shares available for the grant of Awards under the Plan; provided, however, that (i) SARs that may be settled only in cash shall not be so counted and (ii) if the Company grants an SAR in tandem with an Option for the same number of shares of Common Stock and provides that only one such Award may be exercised (a “Tandem SAR”), only the shares covered by the Option, and not the shares covered by the Tandem SAR, shall be so counted, and the expiration of one in connection with the other’s exercise will not restore shares to the Plan;

(B) if any Award (i) expires or is terminated, surrendered or canceled without having been fully exercised or is forfeited in whole or in part (including as the result of shares of Common Stock subject to such Award being repurchased by the Company at the original issuance price pursuant to a contractual repurchase right) or (ii) results in any Common Stock not being issued (including as a result of an SAR that was settleable either in cash or in stock actually being settled in cash), the unused Common Stock covered by such Award shall again be available for the grant of Awards; provided, however, that (1) in the case of Incentive Stock Options, the foregoing shall be subject to any limitations under the Code, (2) in the case of the exercise of an SAR, the number of shares counted against the shares available under the Plan and against the sublimits listed in the first clause of this Section 4(a)(2) shall be the full number of shares subject to the SAR multiplied by the percentage of the SAR actually exercised, regardless of the number of shares actually used to settle such SAR upon exercise and (3) the shares covered by a Tandem SAR shall not again become available for grant upon the expiration or termination of such Tandem SAR; and
(C) shares of Common Stock delivered (either by actual delivery, attestation, or net exercise) to the Company by a Participant to (i) purchase shares of Common Stock upon the exercise of an Award or (ii) satisfy tax withholding obligations (including shares retained from the Award creating the tax obligation) shall be added back to the number of shares available for the future grant of Awards.

(b) Substitute Awards. In connection with a merger or consolidation of an entity with the Company or the acquisition by the Company of property or stock of an entity, the Board may grant Awards in substitution for any options or other stock or stock-based awards granted by such entity or an affiliate thereof. Substitute Awards may be granted on such terms as the Board deems appropriate in the circumstances, notwithstanding any limitations on Awards contained in the Plan. Substitute Awards shall not count against the overall share limit set forth in Section 4(a)(1) or any sublimit contained in the Plan, except as may be required by reason of Section 422 and related provisions of the Code.

5. Stock Options

(a) General. The Board may grant options to purchase Common Stock (each, an “Option”) and determine the number of shares of Common Stock to be covered by each Option, the exercise price of each Option and the conditions and limitations applicable to the exercise of each Option, including conditions relating to applicable federal or state securities laws, as it considers necessary or advisable.

(b) Incentive Stock Options. An Option that the Board intends to be an “incentive stock option” as defined in Section 422 of the Code (an “Incentive Stock Option”) shall only be granted to employees of Endurance International Group Holdings, Inc., any of Endurance International Group Holdings, Inc.’s present or future parent or subsidiary corporations as defined in Sections 424(e) or (f) of the Code, and any other entities the employees of which are eligible to receive Incentive Stock Options under the Code, and shall be subject to and shall be construed consistently with the requirements of Section 422 of the Code. An Option that is not intended to be an Incentive Stock Option shall be designated a “Nonstatutory Stock Option.” The Company shall have no liability to a Participant, or any other party, if an Option (or any part thereof) that is intended to be an Incentive Stock Option is not an Incentive Stock Option or if the Company converts an Incentive Stock Option to a Nonstatutory Stock Option.

(c) Exercise Price. The Board shall establish the exercise price of each Option and specify the exercise price in the applicable Option agreement. The exercise price shall be not less than 100% of the fair market value per share of Common Stock as determined by (or in a manner approved by) the Board (“Fair Market Value”) on the date the Option is granted; provided that if the Board approves the grant of an Option with an exercise price to be determined on a future date, the exercise price shall be not less than 100% of the Fair Market Value on such future date.
(d) Duration of Options. Each Option shall be exercisable at such times and subject to such terms and conditions as the Board may specify in the applicable option agreement; provided, however, that no Option will be granted with a term in excess of 10 years.

(e) Exercise of Options. Options may be exercised by delivery to the Company of a notice of exercise in a form (which may be electronic) approved by the Company, together with payment in full (in the manner specified in Section 5(f)) of the exercise price for the number of shares for which the Option is exercised. Shares of Common Stock subject to the Option will be delivered by the Company as soon as practicable following exercise.

(f) Payment Upon Exercise. Common Stock purchased upon the exercise of an Option granted under the Plan shall be paid for as follows:

1. in cash or by check, payable to the order of the Company;

2. except as may otherwise be provided in the applicable Option agreement or approved by the Board, in its sole discretion, by (i) delivery of an irrevocable and unconditional undertaking by a creditworthy broker to deliver promptly to the Company sufficient funds to pay the exercise price and any required tax withholding or (ii) delivery by the Participant to the Company of a copy of irrevocable and unconditional instructions to a creditworthy broker to deliver promptly to the Company cash or a check sufficient to pay the exercise price and any required tax withholding;

3. to the extent provided for in the applicable Option agreement or approved by the Board, in its sole discretion, by delivery (either by actual delivery or attestation) of shares of Common Stock owned by the Participant valued at their Fair Market Value, provided (i) such method of payment is then permitted under applicable law, (ii) such Common Stock, if acquired directly from the Company, was owned by the Participant for such minimum period of time, if any, as may be established by the Board in its discretion and (iii) such Common Stock is not subject to any repurchase, forfeiture, unfulfilled vesting or other similar requirements;

4. to the extent provided for in the applicable Nonstatutory Stock Option agreement or approved by the Board in its sole discretion, by delivery of a notice of “net exercise” to the Company, as a result of which the Participant would receive (i) the number of shares underlying the portion of the Option being exercised, less (ii) such number of shares as is equal to (A) the aggregate exercise price for the portion of the Option being exercised divided by (B) the Fair Market Value on the date of exercise;

5. to the extent permitted by applicable law and provided for in the applicable Option agreement or approved by the Board, in its sole discretion, by payment of such other lawful consideration as the Board may determine; or

6. by any combination of the above permitted forms of payment.

(g) Limitation on Repricing. Unless such action is approved by the Company’s stockholders, the Company may not (except as provided for under Section 9): (1) amend any outstanding Option granted under the Plan to provide an exercise price per share that is lower than the then-current exercise price per share of such outstanding Option, (2) cancel any outstanding option (whether or not granted under the Plan) and grant in substitution therefor new Awards under the Plan (other than Awards granted pursuant to Section 4(c)) covering the same or a different number of shares of Common Stock and having an exercise price per share lower than the then-current exercise price per share of the cancelled option, (3) cancel in exchange for a cash payment any outstanding Option with an exercise price per share above the then-current Fair Market Value, or (4) take any other action under the Plan that constitutes a “repricing” within the meaning of the rules of the NASDAQ Stock Market.

6. Stock Appreciation Rights

(a) General. The Board may grant Awards consisting of stock appreciation rights (“SARs”) entitling the holder, upon exercise, to receive an amount of Common Stock or cash or a combination thereof (such form to be determined by the Board) determined by reference to appreciation, from and after the date of grant, in the Fair Market Value of a share of Common Stock over the measurement price established pursuant to Section 6(b). The date as of which such appreciation is determined shall be the exercise date.

(b) Measurement Price. The Board shall establish the measurement price of each SAR and specify it in the applicable SAR agreement. The measurement price shall not be less than 100% of the Fair Market Value on the date the SAR is granted; provided that if the Board approves the grant of an SAR effective as of a future date, the measurement price shall be at least 100% of the Fair Market Value on such future date.

(c) Duration of SARs. Each SAR shall be exercisable at such times and subject to such terms and conditions as the Board may specify in the applicable SAR agreement; provided, however, that no SAR will be granted with a term in excess of 10 years.

(d) Exercise of SARs. SARs may be exercised by delivery to the Company of a notice of exercise in a form (which may be electronic) approved by the Company, together with any other documents required by the Board.

(e) Limitation on Repricing. Unless such action is approved by the Company’s stockholders, the Company may not (except as provided for under Section 9): (1) amend any outstanding SAR granted under the Plan to provide a measurement price per share that is lower than the then-current measurement price per share of such outstanding SAR, (2) cancel any outstanding stock appreciation right (whether or not granted under the Plan) and grant in substitution therefor new Awards under the Plan (other than Awards granted pursuant to Section 4(c)) covering the same or a different number of shares of Common Stock and having a measurement price per share lower than the then-current measurement price per share of the cancelled stock appreciation right, (3) cancel in exchange for a cash payment any outstanding SAR with a measurement price per share above the then-current Fair Market Value, or (4) take any other action under the Plan that constitutes a “repricing” within the meaning of the rules of the NASDAQ Stock Market.
7. Restricted Stock: Restricted Stock Units

(a) General. The Board may grant Awards entitling recipients to acquire shares of Common Stock (“Restricted Stock”), subject to the right of the Company to repurchase all or part of such shares at their issue price or other stated or formula price (or to require forfeiture of such shares if issued at no cost) from the recipient in the event that conditions specified by the Board in the applicable Award are not satisfied prior to the end of the applicable restriction period or periods established by the Board for such Award. The Board may also grant Awards entitling the recipient to receive shares of Common Stock or cash to be delivered at the time such Award vests (“Restricted Stock Units”) (Restricted Stock and Restricted Stock Units are each referred to herein as a “Restricted Stock Award”).

(b) Terms and Conditions for All Restricted Stock Awards. The Board shall determine the terms and conditions of a Restricted Stock Award, including the conditions for vesting and repurchase (or forfeiture) and the issue price, if any.

(c) Additional Provisions Relating to Restricted Stock.

1. Dividends. Unless otherwise provided in the applicable Award agreement, any dividends (whether paid in cash, stock or property) declared and paid by the Company with respect to shares of Restricted Stock (“Accrued Dividends”) shall be paid to the Participant only if and when such shares become free from the restrictions on transferability and forfeitability that apply to such shares. Each payment of Accrued Dividends will be made no later than the end of the calendar year in which the dividends are paid to stockholders of that class of stock or, if later, the 15th day of the third month following the lapsing of the restrictions on transferability and the forfeitability provisions applicable to the underlying shares of Restricted Stock.

2. Stock Certificates. The Company may require that any stock certificates issued in respect of shares of Restricted Stock, as well as dividends or distributions paid on such Restricted Stock, shall be deposited in escrow by the Participant, together with a stock power endorsed in blank, with the Company (or its designee). At the expiration of the applicable restriction periods, the Company (or such designee) shall deliver the certificates no longer subject to such restrictions to the Participant or if the Participant has died, to his or her Designated Beneficiary. “Designated Beneficiary” means (i) the beneficiary designated, in a manner determined by the Board, by a Participant to receive amounts due or exercise rights of the Participant in the event of the Participant’s death or (ii) in the absence of an effective designation by a Participant, the Participant’s estate.

(d) Additional Provisions Relating to Restricted Stock Units.

1. Settlement. Upon the vesting of and/or lapsing of any other restrictions (i.e., settlement) with respect to each Restricted Stock Unit, the Participant shall be entitled to receive from the Company one share of Common Stock or (if so provided in the applicable Award agreement) an amount of cash equal to the Fair Market Value of one share of Common Stock. The Board may, in its discretion, provide that settlement of Restricted Stock Units shall be deferred, on a mandatory basis or at the election of the Participant in a manner that complies with Section 409A of the Code.

2. Voting Rights. A Participant shall have no voting rights with respect to any Restricted Stock Units.
(3) Dividend Equivalents. The Award agreement for Restricted Stock Units may provide Participants with the right to receive an amount equal to any dividends or other distributions declared and paid on an equal number of outstanding shares of Common Stock (“Dividend Equivalents”). Dividend Equivalents may be paid currently or credited to an account for the Participant, may be settled in cash and/or shares of Common Stock and may be subject to the same restrictions on transfer and forfeitability as the Restricted Stock Units with respect to which paid, in each case to the extent provided in the Award agreement.

8. Other Stock-Based Awards

   (a) General. Other Awards of shares of Common Stock, and other Awards that are valued in whole or in part by reference to, or are otherwise based on, shares of Common Stock or other property, may be granted hereunder to Participants (“Other Stock-Based Awards”). Such Other Stock-Based Awards shall also be available as a form of payment in the settlement of other Awards granted under the Plan or as payment in lieu of compensation to which a Participant is otherwise entitled. Other Stock-Based Awards may be paid in shares of Common Stock or cash, as the Board shall determine.

   (b) Terms and Conditions. Subject to the provisions of the Plan, the Board shall determine the terms and conditions of each Other Stock-Based Award, including any purchase price applicable thereto.

9. Adjustments for Changes in Common Stock and Certain Other Events

   (a) Changes in Capitalization. In the event of any stock split, reverse stock split, stock dividend, recapitalization, combination of shares, reclassification of shares, spin-off or other similar change in capitalization or event, or any dividend or distribution to holders of Common Stock other than an ordinary cash dividend, (i) the number and class of securities available under the Plan, (ii) the share counting rules and sublimit set forth in Sections 4(a) and 4(b), (iii) the number and class of securities and exercise price per share of each outstanding Option, (iv) the share and per-share provisions and the measurement price of each outstanding SAR, (v) the number of shares subject to and the repurchase price per share subject to each outstanding Restricted Stock Award and (vi) the share and per-share-related provisions and the purchase price, if any, of each outstanding Other Stock-Based Award, shall be equitably adjusted by the Company (or substituted Awards may be made, if applicable) in the manner determined by the Board. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, in the event the Company effects a split of the Common Stock by means of a stock dividend and the exercise price of and the number of shares subject to an outstanding Option are adjusted as of the date of the distribution of the dividend (rather than as of the record date for such dividend), then an optionee who exercises an Option between the record date and the distribution date for such stock dividend shall be entitled to receive, on the distribution date, the stock dividend with respect to the shares of Common Stock acquired upon such Option exercise, notwithstanding the fact that such shares were not outstanding as of the close of business on the record date for such stock dividend.
Reorganization Events.

1. Definition. A "Reorganization Event" shall mean: (a) any merger or consolidation of the Company with or into another entity as a result of which all of the Common Stock of the Company is converted into or exchanged for the right to receive cash, securities or other property or is cancelled, (b) any transfer or disposition of all of the Common Stock of the Company for cash, securities or other property pursuant to a share exchange or other transaction or (c) any liquidation or dissolution of the Company.

2. Consequences of a Reorganization Event on Awards Other than Restricted Stock.

   A) In connection with a Reorganization Event, the Board may take any one or more of the following actions as to all or any (or any portion of) outstanding Awards other than Restricted Stock on such terms as the Board determines (except to the extent specifically provided otherwise in an applicable Award agreement or another agreement between the Company and the Participant): (i) provide that such Awards shall be assumed, or substantially equivalent Awards shall be substituted, by the acquiring or succeeding corporation (or an affiliate thereof), (ii) upon written notice to a Participant, provide that all of the Participant’s unexercised Awards will terminate immediately prior to the consummation of such Reorganization Event unless exercised by the Participant (to the extent then exercisable) within a specified period following the date of such notice, (iii) provide that outstanding Awards shall become exercisable, realizable, or deliverable, or restrictions applicable to an Award shall lapse, in whole or in part prior to or upon such Reorganization Event, (iv) in the event of a Reorganization Event under the terms of which holders of Common Stock will receive upon consummation thereof a cash payment for each share surrendered in the Reorganization Event (the “Acquisition Price”), make or provide for a cash payment to Participants with respect to each Award held by a Participant equal to (A) the number of shares of Common Stock subject to the vested portion of the Award (after giving effect to any acceleration of vesting that occurs upon or immediately prior to such Reorganization Event) multiplied by (B) the excess, if any, of (I) the Acquisition Price over (II) the exercise, measurement or purchase price of such Award and any applicable tax withholdings, in exchange for the termination of such Award, (v) provide that, in connection with a liquidation or dissolution of the Company, Awards shall convert into the right to receive liquidation proceeds (if applicable, net of the exercise, measurement or purchase price thereof and any applicable tax withholdings) and (vi) any combination of the foregoing. In taking any of the actions permitted under this Section 9(b)(2), the Board shall not be obligated by the Plan to treat all Awards, all Awards held by a Participant, or all Awards of the same type, identically.

B) Notwithstanding the terms of Section 9(b)(2)(A), in the case of outstanding Restricted Stock Units that are subject to Section 409A of the Code: (i) if the applicable Restricted Stock Unit agreement provides that the Restricted Stock Units shall be settled upon a “change in control event” within the meaning of Treasury Regulation Section 1.409A-3(i)(5)(i), and the Reorganization Event constitutes such a “change in control event”, then no assumption or substitution shall be permitted pursuant to Section 9(b)(2)(A)(i) and the Restricted Stock Units shall instead be settled in accordance with the terms of the applicable Restricted Stock Unit agreement; and (ii) the Board may only undertake the actions set forth in clauses (iii), (iv) or (v) of Section 9(b)(2)(A) if the Reorganization Event constitutes a “change in control event” as defined under Treasury Regulation Section 1.409A-3(i)(5)(i) and such action is permitted or required by Section 409A of the Code; if the Reorganization Event is not a “change in control event” as so defined or such action is not permitted or required by Section 409A of the Code, and the acquiring or succeeding corporation does not assume or substitute the Restricted Stock Units pursuant to clause (i) of Section 9(b)(2)(A), then the unvested Restricted Stock Units shall terminate immediately prior to the consummation of the Reorganization Event without any payment in exchange therefor.

(C) For purposes of Section 9(b)(2)(A)(i), an Award (other than Restricted Stock) shall be considered assumed if, following consummation of the Reorganization Event, such Award confers the right to purchase or receive pursuant to the terms of such Award, for each share of Common Stock subject to the Award immediately prior to the consummation of the Reorganization Event, the consideration (whether cash, securities or other property) received as a result of the Reorganization Event by holders of Common Stock for each share of Common Stock held immediately prior to the consummation of the Reorganization Event (and if holders were offered a choice of consideration, the type of consideration chosen by the holders of a majority of the outstanding shares of Common Stock); provided, however, that if the consideration received as a result of the Reorganization Event is not solely common stock of the acquiring or succeeding corporation (or an affiliate thereof), the Company may, with the consent of the acquiring or succeeding corporation, provide for the consideration to be received upon the exercise or settlement of the Award to consist solely of such number of shares of common stock of the acquiring or succeeding corporation (or an affiliate thereof) that the Board determined to be equivalent in value (as of the date of such determination or another date specified by the Board) to the per share consideration received by holders of outstanding shares of Common Stock as a result of the Reorganization Event.

(3) Consequences of a Reorganization Event on Restricted Stock. Upon the occurrence of a Reorganization Event other than a liquidation or dissolution of the Company, the repurchase and other rights of the Company with respect to outstanding Restricted Stock shall inure to the benefit of the Company’s successor and shall, unless the Board determines otherwise, apply to the cash, securities or other property which the Common Stock was converted into or exchanged for pursuant to such Reorganization Event in the same manner and to the same extent as they applied to such Restricted Stock; provided, however, that the Board may provide for termination or deemed satisfaction of such repurchase or other rights under the instrument evidencing any Restricted Stock or any other agreement between a Participant and the Company, either initially or by amendment. Upon the occurrence of a Reorganization Event involving the liquidation or dissolution of the Company, except to the extent specifically provided to the contrary in the instrument evidencing any Restricted Stock or any other agreement between a Participant and the Company, all restrictions and conditions on all Restricted Stock then outstanding shall automatically be deemed terminated or satisfied.

10. General Provisions Applicable to Awards

(a) Transferability of Awards. Awards shall not be sold, assigned, transferred, pledged or otherwise encumbered by the person to whom they are granted, either voluntarily or by operation of law, except by will or the laws of descent and distribution or, other than in the case of an Incentive Stock Option, pursuant to a qualified domestic relations order, and, during the life of the Participant, shall be exercisable only by the Participant; provided, however, that the Board may permit or provide in an Award for the gratuitous transfer of the Award by the Participant to or for the benefit of any immediate family member, family trust or other entity established for the benefit of the Participant and/or an immediate family member thereof if the Company would be eligible to use a Form S-8 under the Securities Act for the registration of the sale of the Common Stock subject to such Award to such proposed transferee; provided further, that the Company shall not be required to recognize any such permitted transfer until such time as such permitted transferee shall, as a condition to such transfer, deliver to the Company a written instrument in form and substance satisfactory to the Company confirming that such transferee shall be bound by all of the terms and conditions of the Award. References to a Participant, to the extent relevant in the context, shall include references to authorized transferees. For the avoidance of doubt, nothing contained in this Section 10(a) shall be deemed to restrict a transfer to the Company.

(b) Documentation. Each Award shall be evidenced in such form (written, electronic or otherwise) as the Board shall determine. Each Award may contain terms and conditions in addition to those set forth in the Plan.

(c) Board Discretion. Except as otherwise provided by the Plan, each Award may be made alone or in addition or in relation to any other Award. The terms of each Award need not be identical, and the Board need not treat Participants uniformly.

(d) Termination of Status. The Board shall determine the effect on an Award of the disability, death, termination or other cessation of employment, authorized leave of absence or other change in the employment or other status of a Participant and the extent to which, and the period during which, the Participant, or the Participant’s legal representative, conservator, guardian or Designated Beneficiary, may exercise rights under the Award.

(e) Withholding. The Participant must satisfy all applicable federal, state, and local or other income and employment tax withholding obligations before the Company will deliver stock certificates or otherwise recognize ownership of Common Stock under an Award. The Company may decide to satisfy the withholding obligations through additional withholding on salary or wages. If the Company elects not to or cannot withhold from other compensation, the Participant must pay the Company the full amount, if any, required for withholding or have a broker tender to the Company cash equal to the withholding obligations. Payment of withholding obligations is due before the Company will issue any shares on exercise, vesting or release from forfeiture of an Award or at the same time as payment of the exercise or purchase price, unless the Company determines otherwise. If provided for in an Award or approved by the Board in its sole discretion, a Participant may satisfy such tax obligations in whole or in part by delivery (either by actual delivery or attestation) of shares of Common Stock, including shares retained from the Award creating the tax obligation, valued at their Fair Market Value; provided, however, except as otherwise provided by the Board, that the total tax withholding where stock is being used to satisfy such tax obligations cannot exceed the Company’s minimum statutory withholding obligations (based on minimum statutory withholding rates for federal and state tax purposes, including payroll taxes, that are applicable to such supplemental taxable income). Shares used to satisfy tax withholding requirements cannot be subject to any repurchase, forfeiture, unfulfilled vesting or other similar requirements.
(f) Amendment of Award. Except as provided in Sections 5(g) and 6(e) with respect to repricings or Section 11(d) with respect to actions requiring stockholder approval, the Board may amend, modify or terminate any outstanding Award, including but not limited to, substituting therefor another Award of the same or a different type, changing the date of exercise or realization, and converting an Incentive Stock Option to a Nonstatutory Stock Option. The Participant’s consent to such action shall be required unless (i) the Board determines that the action, taking into account any related action, does not materially and adversely affect the Participant’s rights under the Plan or (ii) the change is permitted under Section 9.

(g) Conditions on Delivery of Stock. The Company will not be obligated to deliver any shares of Common Stock pursuant to the Plan or to remove restrictions from shares previously issued or delivered under the Plan until (i) all conditions of the Award have been met or removed to the satisfaction of the Company, (ii) in the opinion of the Company’s counsel, all other legal matters in connection with the issuance and delivery of such shares have been satisfied, including any applicable securities laws and regulations and any applicable stock exchange or stock market rules and regulations, and (iii) the Participant has executed and delivered to the Company such representations or agreements as the Company may consider appropriate to satisfy the requirements of any applicable laws, rules or regulations.

(h) Acceleration. The Board may at any time provide that any Award shall become immediately exercisable in whole or in part, free of some or all restrictions or conditions, or otherwise realizable in whole or in part, as the case may be.

11. Miscellaneous

(a) No Right To Employment or Other Status. No person shall have any claim or right to be granted an Award by virtue of the adoption of the Plan, and the grant of an Award shall not be construed as giving a Participant the right to continued employment or any other relationship with the Company. The Company expressly reserves the right at any time to dismiss or otherwise terminate its relationship with a Participant free from any liability or claim under the Plan, except as expressly provided in the applicable Award.

(b) No Rights As Stockholder. Subject to the provisions of the applicable Award, no Participant or Designated Beneficiary shall have any rights as a stockholder with respect to any shares of Common Stock to be distributed with respect to an Award until becoming the record holder of such shares.

(c) Effective Date and Term of Plan. The Plan shall become effective on the date the Plan is approved by the Company’s stockholders (the “Effective Date”). No Awards shall be granted under the Plan after the expiration of 10 years from the Effective Date, but Awards previously granted may extend beyond that date.

(d) Amendment of Plan. The Board may amend, suspend or terminate the Plan or any portion thereof at any time provided that (i) to the extent required by Section 162(m), no Award granted to a Participant that is intended to comply with Section 162(m) after the date of such amendment shall become exercisable, realizable or vested, as applicable to such Award, unless and until the Company’s stockholders approve such amendment in the manner required by Section 162(m); and (ii) no amendment that would require stockholder approval under the rules of the NASDAQ Stock Market may be made effective unless and until the Company’s stockholders approve such amendment; In addition, if at any time the approval of the Company’s stockholders is required as to any other modification or amendment under Section 422 of the Code or any successor provision with respect to Incentive Stock Options, the Board may not effect such modification or amendment without such approval. Unless otherwise specified in the amendment, any amendment to the Plan adopted in accordance with this Section 11(d) shall apply to, and be binding on the holders of, all Awards outstanding under the Plan at the time the amendment is adopted, provided the Board determines that such amendment, taking into account any related action, does not materially and adversely affect the rights of Participants under the Plan. No Award shall be made that is conditioned upon stockholder approval of any amendment to the Plan unless the Award provides that (i) it will terminate or be forfeited if stockholder approval of such amendment is not obtained within no more than 12 months from the date of grant and (2) it may not be exercised or settled (or otherwise result in the issuance of Common Stock) prior to such stockholder approval.

(e) Authorization of Sub-Plans (including for Grants to non-U.S. Employees). The Board may from time to time establish one or more sub-plans under the Plan for purposes of satisfying applicable securities, tax or other laws of various jurisdictions. The Board shall establish such sub-plans by adopting supplements to the Plan containing (i) such limitations on the Board’s discretion under the Plan as the Board deems necessary or desirable or (ii) such additional terms and conditions not otherwise inconsistent with the Plan as the Board shall deem necessary or desirable. All supplements adopted by the Board shall be deemed to be part of the Plan, but each supplement shall apply only to Participants within the affected jurisdiction and the Company shall not be required to provide copies of any supplement to Participants in any jurisdiction which is not the subject of such supplement.

(f) Compliance with Section 409A of the Code. Except as provided in individual Award agreements initially or by amendment, if and to the extent (i) any portion of any payment, compensation or other benefit provided to a Participant pursuant to the Plan in connection with his or her employment termination constitutes “nonqualified deferred compensation” within the meaning of Section 409A of the Code and (ii) the Participant is a specified employee as defined in Section 409A(a)(2)(B)(i) of the Code, in each case as determined by the Company in accordance with its procedures, by which determinations the Participant (through accepting the Award) agrees that he or she is bound, such portion of the payment, compensation or other benefit shall not be paid before the day that is six months plus one day after the date of “separation from service” (as determined under Section 409A of the Code) (the “New Payment Date”), except as Section 409A of the Code may then permit. The aggregate of any payments that otherwise would have been paid to the Participant during the period between the date of separation from service and the New Payment Date shall be paid to the Participant in a lump sum on such New Payment Date, and any remaining payments will be paid on their original schedule.

The Company makes no representations or warranty and shall have no liability to the Participant or any other person if any provisions of or payments, compensation or other benefits under the Plan are determined to constitute nonqualified deferred compensation subject to Section 409A of the Code but do not to satisfy the conditions of that section.
(g) Limitations on Liability. Notwithstanding any other provisions of the Plan, no individual acting as a director, officer, employee or agent of the Company will be liable to any Participant, former Participant, spouse, beneficiary, or any other person for any claim, loss, liability, or expense incurred in connection with the Plan, nor will such individual be personally liable with respect to the Plan because of any contract or other instrument he or she executes in his or her capacity as a director, officer, employee or agent of the Company. The Company will indemnify and hold harmless each director, officer, employee or agent of the Company to whom any duty or power relating to the administration or interpretation of the Plan has been or will be delegated, against any cost or expense (including attorneys’ fees) or liability (including any sum paid in settlement of a claim with the Board’s approval) arising out of any act or omission to act concerning the Plan unless arising out of such person’s own fraud or bad faith.

(h) Governing Law. The provisions of the Plan and all Awards made hereunder shall be governed by and interpreted in accordance with the laws of the State of Delaware, excluding choice-of-law principles of the law of such state that would require the application of the laws of a jurisdiction other than the State of Delaware.

If a Non-Renewal Notice is provided by either Party, then the Executive’s employment with the Company shall cease as of the end of the then-current Term of Employment. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Term of Employment may be earlier terminated by either Party in accordance with the provisions of Section 9 of this Agreement, and in such event the Term of Employment shall end on the Termination Date.

3. POSITION, DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES.

(a) During the Term of Employment, the Executive shall be employed as the President and Chief Executive Officer of the Company and shall have such duties, responsibilities and authority as shall be reasonably determined from time to time by the Board. The target amount of the Annual Bonus (the “Target Annual Bonus Opportunity”) shall be 100% of the Executive’s Base Salary. Any Annual Bonus shall only be payable upon achievement of certain individual and/or Company annual performance goals to be established in respect of each fiscal year by the Board (or a committee thereof) in its sole discretion; provided that the Executive may receive an Annual Bonus amount that is greater or lesser than the Target Annual Bonus Opportunity, as determined by the Board in accordance with achievement of such performance goals and provided, further, that the Company acknowledges that the Executive shall have the opportunity to earn an Annual Bonus of up to, but in no event more than, 200% of the Executive’s Base Salary, based upon the achievement of the applicable performance goals. The Annual Bonus shall be paid to the Executive at the same time as bonuses are paid to other employees of the Company, but no later than two and one-half (2 1/2) months following the end of the fiscal year to which such Annual Bonus relates.

6. PROVISIONS REGARDING EQUITY INTERESTS.

(a) Make Whole Grant. Topco shall grant Executive, as of immediately prior to the commencement of trading of the Company’s common stock following the effectiveness of its Initial Public Offering (such commencement, “the IPO Commencement”), the right to receive 3,742,946 B units in Topco (the “Make-Whole Grant”) subject to the terms and conditions set forth in Exhibit A to this Agreement. In the event that there is a liquidation of Topco, the Company shall issue the Executive restricted stock units (“RSUs”) to replace the Make Whole Grant using the form of agreement attached hereto as Exhibit B, with the number of RSUs to be determined as described in Exhibit A.

(b) Accelerated Vesting of Existing Class B Units. All of the Class B Units held by the Executive as of the Effective Date shall vest in full upon the IPO Commencement.

(c) IPO Stock Option Grant. The Company shall, effective prior to, but conditioned upon, the IPO Commencement, grant the Executive stock options to purchase 1,742,035 shares of its common stock with an exercise price equal to the offering price upon the IPO Commencement. Such option shall be granted under the Company’s Stock Incentive Plan. The stock options shall be granted using the form of agreement attached hereto as Exhibit C.
(d) IPO RSU Grant. The Company shall, effective prior to, but conditioned upon, the IPO Commencement, grant the Executive a restricted stock unit award with respect to 307,419 shares of its common stock. Such restricted stock units shall be granted under the Company’s Stock Incentive Plan. The restricted stock units shall be granted using the form of agreement attached hereto as Exhibit D.

(e) Additional Equity Grants. The Executive shall be eligible to receive additional equity awards under the Stock Incentive Plan, in the sole discretion of the Board (or a committee thereof), on terms customarily used by the Company for such grants subject to modifications to comply with the terms of this Agreement regarding equity award vesting and exercise of stock options.

7. EMPLOYEE BENEFIT PROGRAMS.

During the Term of Employment, the Executive shall be entitled to participate in any employee pension, welfare and fringe benefit plans and programs made available to the Company’s senior executive officer level employees generally, as such plans or programs may be in effect from time to time.

8. REIMBURSEMENT OF BUSINESS AND OTHER EXPENSES; PERQUISITES; VACATIONS.

(a) Business Expenses. The Executive is authorized to incur reasonable expenses in carrying out his duties and responsibilities under this Agreement and the Company shall promptly reimburse him for all reasonable business expenses incurred in connection with the performance of his duties hereunder, subject to the Executive’s provision of reasonable documentation of such expenses in accordance with the Company’s business expense reimbursement policy as may be in effect from time to time.

(b) Perquisites. During the Term of Employment, the Executive shall be entitled to any perquisites that are generally offered to other senior executive officers of the Company, on terms and conditions as determined by the Company from time to time.

(c) Vacation. During the Term of Employment, the Executive shall be entitled to four (4) weeks of paid vacation, to be taken at such time(s) as the Executive and the Board reasonably agree is appropriate and subject to the Company’s vacation policies as in effect from time to time.

(d) Filings. The Company shall pay all filing fees and expenses in connection with (i) any notification and report required to be filed under the Hart-Scott-Rodino Antitrust Improvements Act of 1976, as amended, by the Executive in connection with the acquisition of the Company’s common stock pursuant to this Agreement or otherwise and (ii) filing by the Executive of any Schedule 13D or 13G filing, and will reimburse the Executive, on a fully grossed-up basis, for any taxes incurred by the Executive by reason of such payments.
9. TERMINATION OF EMPLOYMENT.

(a) Death. The Executive shall terminate employment with the Company, and the Term of Employment shall terminate, upon the Executive’s death.

(b) Disability. The Company shall be entitled to terminate the Executive’s employment for Disability if the Executive has experienced a permanent disability as defined in the Company’s long-term disability plans (a “Disability”). The termination of the Executive’s employment by the Company for Disability shall not be considered a termination without Cause for purposes of this Agreement.

(c) For or Without Cause or Voluntarily (Other Than for Good Reason). The Company may terminate the Executive’s employment for Cause or without Cause. The Executive may voluntarily terminate his employment, other than for Good Reason (“Voluntary Resignation”), provided that the Executive provides the Company with notice of his intent to terminate his employment at least thirty (30) days in advance of the Termination Date.

(d) Good Reason. The Executive may terminate his employment with the Company for Good Reason. For purposes of this Agreement, “Good Reason” shall mean, in connection with the Executive’s termination of employment, the occurrence of any of the following events without his consent:

(i) a material diminution in the Executive’s duties and responsibilities other than a change in the Executive’s duties and responsibilities that results from becoming part of a larger organization following a Change in Control Event;

(ii) a material decrease in the Executive’s Base Salary or Target Annual Bonus Opportunity; or

(iii) a relocation of the Executive’s primary work location after the Effective Date such that his daily commute is increased by more than 75 miles; provided that, within 30 days following the occurrence of any of the events set forth in clauses (i) through (iii), the Executive shall have delivered written notice to the Company of his intention to terminate his employment for Good Reason, which notice specifies in reasonable detail the circumstances claimed to give rise to the Executive’s right to terminate employment for Good Reason, and the Company shall not have cured such circumstances within 60 days following the Company’s receipt of such notice.

10. PROCEDURE FOR TERMINATION OF EMPLOYMENT.

(a) Notice of Termination of Employment. Any termination of the Executive’s employment with the Company (other than a termination of employment on account of the death of the Executive) shall be communicated by written “Notice of Termination” to the other party hereto in accordance with Section 26 hereof.

(b) Termination Date. The Termination Date shall mean: (i) if the Executive’s termination of employment occurs due to the Executive’s death, the date of the Executive’s death; (ii) if the Executive’s termination of employment occurs due to the Executive’s Disability, the date on which the Executive receives a Notice of Termination from the Company; (iii) if the Executive’s termination of employment occurs due to the Executive’s voluntary resignation without Good Reason, the date specified in the notice given pursuant to Section 9(c) hereof, which shall not be less than thirty (30) days after Company’s receipt of the Notice of Termination; (iv) if the Executive’s termination of employment occurs due to the Executive’s termination for Good Reason, the date of his termination in accordance with Section 9(d) hereof; (v) if the Executive’s termination of employment occurs pursuant to a non-renewal of the Term of Employment by either Party, the end of the then-current Term of Employment; and (vi) if the Executive’s termination of employment occurs for any other reason, the date on which a Notice of Termination is given or any later date (within thirty (30) days, or any alternative time period agreed upon by the Parties, after the giving of such Notice of Termination) set forth in such Notice of Termination. Effective as of the Termination Date, unless otherwise determined by the Board, the Executive shall be deemed to have resigned from any and all positions he then holds with the Company and its Affiliates, including but not limited to his position on the Board and the board of directors of any Affiliate.

11. PAYMENTS UPON TERMINATION OF EMPLOYMENT.

(a) Termination Due to Death or Disability. In the event that the Executive’s employment hereunder is terminated due to his death or Disability, the Executive (or his estate or his beneficiaries, in the event of his death), shall be entitled to receive:

(i) Payment in respect of (A) his accrued but unpaid Base Salary through the Termination Date, (B) any unpaid business expense reimbursements due to the Executive under Section 8 of this Agreement, (C) notwithstanding anything to the contrary in Section 5 of this Agreement, in the event that the Termination Date occurs after the end of a calendar year, but prior to the date on which the applicable Annual Bonus earned by the Executive is paid to the Executive, payment of such Annual Bonus, and (D) the Executive’s accrued but unused vacation days, if any, for the year in which the Termination Date occurs ((A), (B), (C) and (D) together, the “Accrued Amounts”). The Accrued Amounts shall be paid as soon as reasonably practicable, but no later than thirty (30) days, following the Termination Date;

(ii) payment of vested benefits, if any, in accordance with the applicable benefit plans and programs of the Company as in effect from time to time;

(iii) payment of a prorated Annual Bonus in respect of the year in which the Termination Date occurs, determined based on the number of days worked by the Executive in the year in which the Termination Date occurs and actual achievement of the performance goals established in respect of such year for the full year, payable at the same time as bonuses are paid to other employees of the Company, but no later than two and one-half (2 1/2) months following the end of the year in which the Termination Date occurs; and

(iv) the Executive (or his estate or beneficiaries) shall be entitled to exercise any vested but unexercised stock options until the earlier of (x) three (3) years following the Termination Date or (y) the final date such options are exercisable by their terms.
(b) Termination by the Company for Cause, Voluntary Resignation or Termination Due to Non-Renewal.

(i) In the event the Company terminates the Executive’s employment hereunder for Cause or in the event of a Voluntary Resignation, or the Executive’s employment hereunder is terminated as a result of the delivery of a Non-Renewal Notice, the Executive shall be entitled to receive:

(A) payment of the Accrued Amounts as soon as reasonably practicable, but no later than thirty (30) days, following the Termination Date; and

(B) payment of vested benefits, if any, in accordance with the applicable benefit plans and programs of the Company as in effect from time to time.

(c) Termination by the Company without Cause or by the Executive for Good Reason.

(i) In the event that the Executive’s employment hereunder is (x) terminated by the Company without Cause, other than due to Disability or death or (y) the Executive resigns for Good Reason, the Executive shall be entitled to receive:

(A) payment of the Accrued Amounts as soon as reasonably practicable, but no later than thirty (30) days, following the Termination Date;

(B) payment of vested benefits, if any, in accordance with the applicable benefit plans and programs of the Company as in effect from time to time; and

(C) subject to (x) the Executive’s satisfaction of the Release Requirements and (y) the Executive’s continued compliance with the Restrictive Covenants:

1. (1) continued payment of Base Salary at the annualized rate in effect on the Termination Date for a period of twenty-four (24) months following the Termination Date, payable in accordance with the Company’s usual and customary payroll practices; provided, however, that if the Executive terminates employment for Good Reason as a result of a reduction of his Base Salary, the amount paid under this Section 11(c)(i)(C)(1) shall be determined as if such reduction had not occurred;

2. payment of two (2) times the prior year’s Annual Bonus or, if the Termination Date occurs during the Change in Control Period, the greater of the prior year’s Annual Bonus or his target Annual Bonus, in each case payable over a period of twenty-four (24) months following the Termination Date in accordance with the Company’s usual and customary payroll practices; provided, however that if the Executive terminates employment for Good Reason as a result of a reduction of his Annual Bonus opportunity and such reduction affected the prior year’s Annual Bonus, the amount paid under this Section 11(c)(i)(C)(2) shall be determined as if such reduction had not occurred;
(3) a lump sum payment upon the Termination Date in an amount that, after applicable income and employment taxes calculated at the applicable maximum rate, is equal to the monthly COBRA premium the Executive would be required to pay to continue the group health coverage in effect on the Termination Date (which amount will be based on the premium for the first month of COBRA coverage) for a period of eighteen (18) months following the Termination Date, which payment will be made thirty (30) days after employment termination regardless of whether the Executive elects COBRA continuation coverage; and

(4) solely to the extent the Termination Date occurs during the Change in Control Period, any then unvested equity awards shall immediately become vested in full as of the Termination Date.

(ii) Payments to be made and benefits to be provided under Section 11(c)(i)(C) (together, the “Severance Payments”) shall be provided or shall commence on the 60th day after the Termination Date (the “Release Date”), provided that, as of the 50th day after the Termination Date, the Release Requirements are satisfied. If the Release Requirements are not satisfied as of the 50th day after the Termination Date, then the Executive shall not be entitled to any payments or benefits under the foregoing subsections and the Company and its Affiliates shall have no further obligations in connection therewith. If the Release Requirements are satisfied, then the portion of the Severance Payments which would otherwise have been paid during the period between the Termination Date and the Release Date shall instead be paid as soon as reasonably practicable following the Release Date. For purposes of this Agreement, the “Release Requirements” shall be satisfied if, as of the applicable date, the Executive has executed a general release of claims against the Company and its Affiliates in substantially the form attached hereto as Exhibit E and the revocation period required by applicable law has expired without the Executive’s revocation of such release.

(d) No Mitigation Requirement or Offset. In the event of any termination of employment under this Section 11, the Executive shall be under no obligation to seek other employment and there shall be no offset against amounts due the Executive under this Agreement on account of any remuneration attributable to any subsequent employment that he may obtain.

(e) No Other Severance Benefits. Except as specifically set forth in this Agreement, the Executive covenants and agrees that the Executive shall not be entitled to any other form of severance or termination payments or benefits from the Company, including, without limitation, payments or benefits otherwise payable under any of the Company’s regular severance policies.
12. RESTRICTIVE COVENANTS.

(a) Non-Competition.

(i) The Executive acknowledges and recognizes the highly competitive nature of the businesses of the Company and its Affiliates and accordingly agrees that during the Term of Employment and the Restricted Period, the Executive will not directly or indirectly become an employee, director, or independent contractor of, or a consultant to, or perform any services for, or acquire any financial interest in, any Person engaging in a Competing Business.

(ii) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement, the Executive may:

(A) directly or indirectly own, solely as an investment, securities of any Person engaged in a Competing Business which are publicly traded on a national or regional stock exchange or on the over-the-counter market if the Executive (1) is not a controlling person of, or a member of a group which controls, such person and (2) does not, directly or indirectly, own one percent (1%) or more of any class of securities of such Person (excluding any interest the Executive owns through a mutual fund, private equity fund or other pooled account); and

(B) provide services for a subsidiary or division of a Person that is engaged in a Competing Business as long as such subsidiary or division (1) is not itself engaged in a Competing Business and (2) does not, and the Executive does not, provide any services to the Person that is engaged in a Competing Business that relate (directly or indirectly) to such Competing Business.

(b) Non-Solicitation.

(i) During the Term of Employment and the Restricted Period, the Executive will not, whether on the Executive’s own behalf or on behalf of or in conjunction with any person, company, business entity or other organization whatsoever, solicit or hire, or attempt to solicit or hire:

(A) any customer or supplier of the Company or any of its Affiliates in connection with any business activity that then competes with the Company or such Affiliate(s) or to terminate or alter in a manner adverse to the Company or such Affiliate(s) such customer’s or supplier’s relationship with the Company or such Affiliate(s); or

(B) any Company Employee or individual who was a Company Employee within the six-month period immediately prior thereto to terminate or otherwise alter his or her employment with, and/or provision of services for, the Company or its Affiliates.
(c) Confidentiality.

(i) The Executive hereby agrees that, during the Term of Employment and thereafter, other than in the proper performance of his duties for the Company and its Affiliates, he will hold in strict confidence any proprietary information or Confidential Information related to the Company or any of its Affiliates. For purposes of this Agreement, the term “Confidential Information” shall mean all information of the Company or any of its Affiliates (in whatever form) which is not generally known to the public, including without limitation any inventions, processes, methods of distribution, customer lists or customers’ or trade secrets, provided that Confidential Information shall not include (A) information the Executive is required to disclose by applicable law, regulation or legal process so long as the Executive notifies the Company promptly (it being understood that “promptly” shall mean “prior to” unless prior notice is not possible, in which case “promptly” shall mean as soon as practicable following) of the Executive’s obligation to disclose Confidential Information by applicable law, regulation or legal process and cooperates with the Company to limit the extent of such disclosure, or (B) any information that is or becomes publicly known through no fault of the Executive.

(ii) The Executive agrees that at the time of the termination of his employment with the Company, whether at the insistence of the Executive or the Company, and regardless of the reasons therefor, he will deliver to the Company, and not keep or deliver to anyone else, any and all notes, files, memoranda, papers and, in general, any and all physical and electronic matter containing Confidential Information, including any and all documents significant to the conduct of the business of the Company or any subsidiary or Affiliate of the Company which are in his possession, except for any documents for which the Company or any subsidiary or Affiliate of the Company has given written consent to removal at the time of the termination of the Executive’s employment.

(d) Non-Disparagement. The Executive agrees that he will not, any time during the Term of Employment and on or after the time of the termination of his employment with the Company for any reason, directly or indirectly, disparage (i) the Company or its Affiliates, (ii) the business, property or assets of the Company or its Affiliates, or (iii) any of the former, current or future officers, directors, employees or shareholders of the Company or its Affiliates. The Company shall use its reasonable best efforts to cause its officers and members of the Board (in their individual capacities or on behalf of the Company) not to, at any time during the Term of Employment and on or after the time of the termination of Executive’s employment with the Company for any reason, directly or indirectly, make or publish any disparaging statements or remarks about the Executive. Nothing in this Section shall be construed to limit the ability of Executive or the Company’s officers or members of the Board (in their individual capacities or on behalf of the Company) to give truthful testimony pursuant to valid legal process, including but not limited to, a subpoena, court order or a government investigative matter.
Injunctive Relief. It is impossible to measure in money the damages that will accrue to the Company or any of its Affiliates in the event that the Executive breaches any of the Restrictive Covenants. In the event that the Executive breaches any such Restrictive Covenant, the Company or any of its Affiliates shall be entitled to an injunction restraining the Executive from violating such Restrictive Covenant (without posting any bond). If the Company or any of its Affiliates shall institute any action or proceeding to enforce any such Restrictive Covenant, the Executive hereby waives the claim or defense that the Company or any of its Affiliates has an adequate remedy at law and agrees not to assert in any such action or proceeding the claim or defense that the Company or any of its Affiliates has an adequate remedy at law. The foregoing shall not prejudice the Company's or any of its Affiliates' other rights or remedies under applicable law or equity. In addition, the Company and the Executive agree that if the Executive violates any Restrictive Covenant, the Company may cease payment of the Severance Payments and shall also be entitled to recoup any portion of the Severance Payments that were previously paid to the Executive.

13. WORK PRODUCT.

(a) In consideration of the Company’s promises and undertakings in this Agreement, the Executive agrees that all Work Product will be disclosed promptly by the Executive to the Company, shall be the sole and exclusive property of the Company, and is hereby assigned to the Company, regardless of whether (i) such Work Product was conceived, made, developed or worked on during regular hours of his employment or his time away from his employment, (ii) the Work Product was made at the suggestion of the Company; or (iii) the Work Product was reduced to drawing, written description, documentation, models or other tangible form. Without limiting the foregoing, the Executive acknowledges that all original works of authorship that are made by the Executive, solely or jointly with others, within the scope of his employment and that are protectable by copyright are “works made for hire,” as that term is defined in the United States Copyright Act (17 U.S.C., Section 101), and are therefore owned by the Company from the time of creation.

(b) The Executive agrees to assign, transfer, and set over, and the Executive does hereby assign, transfer, and set over to the Company, all of his right, title and interest in and to all Work Product, without the necessity of any further compensation, and agrees that the Company is entitled to obtain and hold in its own name all patents, copyrights, and other rights in respect of all Work Product. The Executive agrees to (i) cooperate with the Company during and after his employment with the Company in obtaining patents or copyrights or other intellectual-property protection for all Work Product; (ii) execute, acknowledge, seal and deliver all documents tendered by the Company to evidence its ownership thereof throughout the world; and (iii) cooperate with the Company in obtaining, defending and enforcing its rights therein.

(c) The Executive represents that there are no other contracts to assign inventions or other intellectual property that are now in existence between the Executive and any other Person. The Executive further represents that he has no other employment or undertakings that might restrict or impair his performance of this Agreement. The Executive will not in connection with his employment by the Company, use or disclose to the Company any confidential, trade secret, or other proprietary information of any previous employer or other Person that the Executive is not lawfully entitled to disclose.
14. POST-TERMINATION OBLIGATIONS.

Following the Term of Employment the Executive shall, upon reasonable notice, use his reasonable best efforts to assist and cooperate with the Company and its counsel by providing such information and assistance to the Company as may reasonably be required by the Company at the Company’s expense in connection with any existing or threatened claim, arbitral hearing, litigation, action or governmental or other investigation involving the conduct of business of the Company or its Affiliates not commenced by or involving the Executive. The Executive’s obligation to cooperate shall be reasonably limited so as not to unreasonably interfere with his other business obligations, and shall not exceed one hundred (100) hours.

15. ARBITRATION.

(a) Any dispute, claim or controversy arising under or in connection with this Agreement or the Executive’s employment hereunder or the termination thereof, other than injunctive relief under Section 12 hereof, shall be settled exclusively by arbitration administered by the American Arbitration Association (the “AAA”) and carried out in the State of Massachusetts. The arbitration shall be conducted in accordance with the AAA rules governing commercial arbitration in effect at the time of the arbitration, except as modified herein. There shall be one arbitrator, mutually selected by the Company and the Executive from a list of arbitrators provided by the AAA within thirty (30) days of receipt by respondent of the demand for arbitration. If the Company and Executive cannot mutually agree on an arbitrator within thirty (30) days, then the Parties shall request that the AAA appoint the arbitrator and the arbitrator shall be appointed by the AAA within fifteen (15) days of receiving such request.

(b) The arbitration shall commence within forty-five (45) days after the appointment of the arbitrator; the arbitration shall be completed within sixty (60) days of commencement; and the arbitrator’s award shall be made within thirty (30) days following such completion. The parties may agree to extend the time limits specified in the foregoing sentence.

(c) The arbitrator may award any form of relief permitted under this Agreement and applicable law, including damages and temporary or permanent injunctive relief, except that the arbitral tribunal is not empowered to award damages in excess of compensatory damages, and each party hereby irrevocably waives any right to recover punitive, exemplary or similar damages with respect to any dispute. The arbitrator may award attorney’s fees. The award shall be in writing and shall state the reasons for the award.

(d) The decision rendered by the arbitral tribunal shall be final and binding on the parties to this Agreement. Judgment may be entered in any court of competent jurisdiction. The parties hereto waive, to the fullest extent permitted by law, any rights to appeal to, or to seek review of such award by, any court. The parties hereto further agree to obtain the arbitral tribunal’s agreement to preserve the confidentiality of the arbitration.

16. LEGAL FEES AND INDEMNIFICATION.

During the Term of Employment and for six years thereafter, the Executive shall be entitled to the same directors’ and officers’ liability insurance coverage that the Company provides generally to its other directors and officers, as may be amended from time to time for such directors and officers. The Executive shall be entitled to indemnification from the Company under terms and conditions that are no less favorable as those provided to members of the Board of Directors. Contemporaneously with execution and delivery of this Agreement, the Company will pay the fees and expenses incurred by the Executive in connection with the liquidation of Topco and the negotiation of this Agreement, including without limitation, the attorneys’ fees and expenses incurred by Executive, not to exceed [insert: applicable amount]

17. ASSIGNABILITY; BINDING NATURE.

This Agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the Parties and their respective successors, heirs (in the case of the Executive) and assigns. Rights or obligations of the Company under this Agreement may be, and may only be, assigned or transferred by the Company pursuant to a merger or consolidation in which the Company is the continuing entity, or the sale or liquidation of all or substantially all of the assets of the Company, provided that the assignee or transferee is the successor to all or substantially all of the assets of the Company and such assignee or transferee assumes the liabilities, obligations and duties of the Company, as contained in this Agreement, either contractually or as a matter of law. No rights or obligations of the Executive under this Agreement may be assigned or transferred by the Executive other than his rights to compensation and benefits, which may be transferred only by will or operation of law, provided that any amount due hereunder to the Executive at the time of his death shall instead be paid to his estate or his designated beneficiary.

18. AMENDMENT OR WAIVER.

No provision in this Agreement may be amended unless such amendment is agreed to in writing and signed by the Executive and an authorized officer of the Company. No waiver by either Party of any breach by the other Party of any condition or provision contained in this Agreement to be performed by such other Party shall be deemed a waiver of a similar or dissimilar condition or provision at the same or any prior or subsequent time. Any waiver must be in writing and signed by the Executive or an authorized officer of the Company, as the case may be.

19. SECTION 409A.

(a) To the extent applicable, this Agreement will be construed to comply, and administered in compliance, with Section 409A of the Code.

(b) Notwithstanding anything in this Agreement to the contrary, if as of the Termination Date the Executive is a “specified employee” as defined in Section 409A of the Code and the deferral of the commencement of any payments or benefits otherwise payable hereunder as a result of such termination of employment is necessary in order to prevent any accelerated or additional tax under Section 409A of the Code, then:

(i) the Company will defer the commencement of the payment of any such payments or benefits hereunder (without any reduction in such payments or benefits ultimately paid or provided to Executive) until the first business day of the seventh month following Termination Date (or the earliest date as is permitted under Section 409A of the Code), or
(ii) (A) with respect to the provision of in-kind benefits hereunder which are otherwise not exempt from the six (6) month delay requirements, during the period beginning on the Termination Date, and ending on the six (6) month anniversary of such date, Executive may be permitted to commence use of such benefits so long as Executive reimburses the Company, on the last business day of each month, all or part of which occurs during such period, for the amount of any income imputed to Executive under applicable tax rules as a result of any benefits provided to Executive during such month, and (B) in such event, on the 1st business day of seventh month following the Termination Date, the Company shall make a one-time, lump sum cash payment to Executive in an amount equal to the payments made by Executive in accordance with Section 19(b)(ii)(A) above, together with interest thereon accruing at the applicable federal rate for instruments of less than one year, and

(iii) if any other payments of money or other benefits due to Executive hereunder could cause the application of an accelerated or additional tax under Section 409A of the Code, such payments or other benefits shall be deferred to the extent that such deferral will make such payment or other benefits compliant under Section 409A of the Code, or otherwise such payment or other benefits shall be restructured, to the extent possible, in a manner, determined by the Board, that does not cause such an accelerated or additional tax.

(c) For purposes of Section 409A of the Code, (i) references herein to the Executive’s Termination Date, “termination of employment” or like reference shall refer to the Executive’s separation from service with the Company within the meaning of Section 409A of the Code and (ii) the right to a series of installment payments under this Agreement shall be treated as a right to a series of separate payments.

(d) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein, except to the extent any expense, reimbursement or in-kind benefit provided pursuant to this Agreement does not constitute a “deferral of compensation” within the meaning of Section 409A of the Code: (x) the amount of expenses eligible for reimbursement or in-kind benefits provided to the Executive during any calendar year will not affect the amount of expenses eligible for reimbursement or in-kind benefits provided to the Executive in any other calendar year, (y) the Company shall reimburse the Executive for expenses for which he is entitled to be reimbursed on or before the last day of the calendar year following the calendar year in which the applicable expense is incurred, and (z) the right to payment or reimbursement or in-kind benefits hereunder may not be liquidated or exchanged for any other benefit.

(e) The Company shall consult with Executive in good faith regarding the implementation of the provisions of this Section 19; provided that, notwithstanding anything in this Agreement to the contrary, neither the Company nor any of its Affiliates, employees or representatives shall have any liability to Executive with respect to any tax liabilities imposed on Executive under Section 409A of the Code. In the event that any changes are made to Section 409A of the Code, this Section 19 shall be deemed amended to the extent necessary to cause this Agreement to comply with such changes to such law.
20. PARACHUTE PAYMENTS.

(a) The Executive shall bear all expense of, and be solely responsible for, any excise tax imposed by Section 4999 of the Code (the “Excise Tax”); provided, however, that any payment or benefit received or to be received by the Executive (whether payable under the terms of this Agreement or any other plan, arrangement or agreement with the Company or an Affiliate (collectively, the “Payments”) that would constitute a “parachute payment” within the meaning of Section 280G of the Code, shall be reduced to the extent necessary so that no portion thereof shall be subject to the Excise Tax but only if, by reason of such reduction, the net after-tax benefit received by the Executive shall exceed the net after-tax benefit that would be received by the Executive if no such reduction was made.

(b) The “net after-tax benefit” shall mean (i) the Payments which Executive receives or is then entitled to receive from the Company that would constitute “parachute payments” within the meaning of Section 280G of the Code, less (ii) the amount of all federal, state and local income and employment taxes payable by Executive with respect to the foregoing calculated at the highest marginal income tax rate for each year in which the foregoing shall be paid to Executive (based on the rate in effect for such year as set forth in the Code as in effect at the time of the first payment of the foregoing), less (iii) the amount of Excise Tax imposed with respect to the payments and benefits described in (b)(i) above.

(c) All determinations under this Section 20 will be made by an accounting firm or law firm (the “280G Firm”) that is mutually agreed to by the Executive and the Company prior to a change in ownership or control of a corporation (within the meaning of Treasury regulations under Section 280G of the Code). The 280G Firm shall be required to evaluate the extent to which payments are exempt from Section 280G as reasonable compensation for services rendered before or after the Change in Control Event. All fees and expenses of the 280G Firm shall be paid solely by the Company. The Company will direct the 280G Firm to submit any determination it makes under this Section 20 and detailed supporting calculations to both the Executive and the Company as soon as reasonably practicable.

(d) If the 280G Firm determines that one or more reductions are required under this Section 20, the 280G Firm shall also determine which Payments shall be reduced (first from cash payments and then from non-cash benefits, in each such case first from amounts not subject to Section 409A of the Code and then from amounts subject to Section 409A of the Code, with the Payments that otherwise would be made last in time reduced first) to the extent necessary so that no portion thereof shall be subject to the Excise Tax, and the Company shall pay such reduced amount to the Executive.

(e) As a result of the uncertainty in the application of Section 280G at the time that the 280G Firm makes its determinations under this Section 20, it is possible that amounts will have been paid or distributed to the Executive that should not have been paid or distributed (collectively, the “Overpayments”), or that additional amounts should be paid or distributed to the Executive (collectively, the “Underpayments”). If the 280G Firm determines, based on either the assertion of a deficiency by the Internal Revenue Service against the Company or the Executive, which assertion the 280G Firm believes has a high probability of success or is otherwise based on controlling precedent or substantial authority, that an Overpayment has been made, the Executive must repay the Overpayment to the Company, without interest; provided, however, that no loan will be deemed to have been made and no amount will be payable by the Executive to the Company unless, and then only to the extent that, the deemed loan and payment would either reduce the amount on which the Executive is subject to tax under Section 4999 of the Code or generate a refund of tax imposed under Section 4999 of the Code. If the 280G Firm determines, based upon controlling precedent or substantial authority, that an Underpayment has occurred, the 280G Firm will notify the Executive and the Company of that determination, and the Company will promptly pay the amount of that Underpayment to the Executive without interest.

(f) The parties will provide the 280G Firm access to and copies of any books, records, and documents in their possession as reasonably requested by the 280G Firm, and otherwise cooperate with the 280G Firm in connection with the preparation and issuance of the determinations and calculations contemplated by this Section 20. For purposes of making the calculations required by this Section 20, the 280G Firm may rely on reasonable, good faith interpretations concerning the application of Sections 280G and 4999 of the Code.

21. SEVERABILITY.

Title:
Restricted Stock Unit Agreement

GENERAL TERMS AND CONDITIONS

The terms and conditions of the award of the right to receive shares of common stock, $0.0001 par value per share, of the Company (the “Common Stock”) made to the Recipient (the “Restricted Stock Units”), as set forth on the cover page of this Agreement, are as follows. This Restricted Stock Unit Agreement shall be subject to, and shall incorporate the terms and conditions of the 2013 Stock Incentive Plan (the “Plan”) as if the Restricted Stock Units were granted pursuant thereto, provided that, to the extent that there is an inconsistency between the Plan and this Agreement, this Agreement shall prevail.

1. Issuance of Restricted Stock Units.

(a) The Restricted Stock Units are granted to the Recipient, effective as of the Agreement Date (as set forth on the Notice of Grant), in consideration of employment and other services rendered and to be rendered by the Recipient to the Company. Each Restricted Stock Unit represents the right to receive one share of Common Stock, subject to the terms and conditions set forth in the cover page of this Agreement, these terms and conditions and the Plan.

(b) The Recipient agrees that the Restricted Stock Units shall be subject to the forfeiture provisions set forth in Section 3 of this Agreement and the restrictions on transfer set forth in Section 4 of this Agreement.

2. Vesting Schedule; Delivery. The Restricted Stock Units shall vest in accordance with Vesting Table set forth in the Notice of Grant (the “Vesting Table”). Any fractional number of Restricted Stock Units resulting from the application of the percentages in the Vesting Table shall be rounded down to the nearest whole number of Restricted Stock Units. For the avoidance of doubt, % of the Restricted Stock Units are vested as of the Agreement Date.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, if within the one-year period following a Change in Control Event, the Recipient’s employment with the Company is terminated by the Company without Cause or by the Recipient for Good Reason, then all remaining unvested Restricted Stock Units shall become fully vested and free from all forfeiture restrictions as of the date of such termination. “Change in Control Event”, “Cause” and “Good Reason” are defined in Exhibit B.

The Common Stock represented by vested Restricted Stock Units shall be delivered to the Recipient upon the earliest to occur of: (i) [insert date three years following IPO closing]; (ii) 30 days following the death of the Recipient; (iii) 30 days following the Recipient becoming disabled within the meaning of Section 409A of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended and the guidance issued thereunder (“Section 409A”); (iv) upon the closing of a “change in control event” within the meaning of Section 409A and (v) three days following the Recipient’s “separation from service” within the meaning of Section 409A; provided that, solely to the extent that the Common Stock is delivered to the Recipient upon the Recipient’s separation from... service, the shares of Common Stock shall not be delivered until the date that is six months plus one day following such separation from service to the extent required to avoid adverse taxation under Section 409A. Except as set forth in the preceding sentence, neither the Company nor the Recipient may accelerate or defer delivery of the Common Stock unless specifically permitted or required by Section 409A. When delivered, the Common Stock will initially be issued by the Company in book entry form only, in the name of the Recipient. Following such delivery, the Company shall, if requested by the Recipient, issue and deliver to the Recipient a certificate representing the vested Common Stock.

3. Forfeiture of Unvested Restricted Stock Units Upon Service Termination.

In the event that the Recipient ceases to be an employee of the Company or such other entity the service providers of which are eligible to receive an award under the Plan (each such entity, a "Participating Entity") for any reason or no reason, with or without cause, all of the Restricted Stock Units that are unvested as of the time of such service termination shall be forfeited immediately and automatically to the Company, without the payment of any consideration to the Recipient, effective as of such termination of service. The Recipient shall have no further rights with respect to any Restricted Stock Units that are so forfeited. If the Recipient is providing service to a Participating Entity, any references in this Agreement to service with the Company shall instead be deemed to refer to service with such Participating Entity.

4. Restrictions on Transfer. The Recipient shall not sell, assign, transfer, pledge, hypothecate or otherwise encumber, by operation of law or otherwise (collectively "transfer") any Restricted Stock Units, or any interest therein, until such Restricted Stock Units have vested and the Common Stock represented by such Units has been delivered pursuant to Section 2 hereof.

5. Rights as a Shareholder.

The Recipient shall have no rights as a shareholder with respect to the Restricted Stock Units until the Common Stock represented by such Units is delivered to the Recipient, except that to the extent that any dividends are paid with respect to the Common Stock represented by such Restricted Stock Units, whether vested or unvested, prior to delivery of the Common Stock pursuant to Section 2 hereof, such dividends shall accrue for the benefit of the Recipient and shall be paid to the Recipient at the time that the Common Stock is delivered to the Recipient pursuant to Section 2 hereof.

(a) Acknowledgments; No Section 83(b) Election. The Recipient acknowledges that he or she is responsible for obtaining the advice of the Recipient’s own tax advisors with respect to the grant of the Restricted Stock Units and the Recipient is relying solely on such advisors and not on any statements or representations of the Company or any of its agents with respect to the tax consequences relating to the Restricted Stock Units. The Recipient understands that the Recipient (and not the Company) shall be responsible for the Recipient’s tax liability that may arise in connection with the acquisition, vesting and/or disposition of the Restricted Stock Units and the Common Stock represented thereby. The Recipient understands that no election under Section 83(b) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 (the “Code”) is available with respect to the Restricted Stock Units.

(b) Withholding. The Recipient acknowledges and agrees that the Company has the right to deduct from payments of any kind otherwise due to the Recipient the amount of any withholding taxes required to be withheld with respect to the actions contemplated by this Agreement in any manner permitted by the Plan. The Recipient agrees and acknowledges that the following automatic sale provisions shall apply:

(i) Upon the delivery of the Common Stock pursuant to Section 2 hereof, the Company shall sell, or arrange for the sale of, such number of the shares as is sufficient to generate net proceeds sufficient to satisfy the Company’s minimum statutory withholding obligations with respect to the income recognized by the Recipient upon the delivery of the Common Stock (based on minimum statutory withholding rates for federal and state tax purposes, including payroll taxes, that are applicable to such income), and the Company shall retain such net proceeds in satisfaction of such tax withholding obligations.

(ii) The Recipient hereby appoints the Chief Legal Officer and the Secretary of the Company, and each of them acting singly, his or her attorney in fact, to sell the Recipient’s shares in accordance with this Section 6. The Recipient agrees to execute and deliver such documents, instruments and certificates as may reasonably be required in connection with the sale of the shares pursuant to this Section 6.

(iii) The Recipient represents to the Company that, as of the date hereof, he or she is not aware of any material nonpublic information about the Company or the Common Stock. The Recipient and the Company have structured this Agreement to constitute a “binding contract” relating to the sale of Common Stock pursuant to this Section 6, consistent with the affirmative defense to liability under Section 10(b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 under Rule 10b5-1(c) promulgated under such Act.

7. Agreement in Connection with Initial Public Offering. The Recipient agrees, in connection with the initial underwritten public offering of the Common Stock pursuant to a registration statement under the Securities Act, (i) not to (a) offer, pledge, announce the intention to sell, sell, contract to sell, sell any option or contract to purchase, purchase any option or contract to sell, grant any option, right or warrant to purchase, or otherwise transfer or dispose of, directly or indirectly, any shares of Common Stock or any other securities of the Company convertible into or exercisable or exchangeable for shares of Common Stock or (b) enter into any swap or other agreement that transfers, in whole or in part, any of the economic consequences of ownership of shares of Common Stock or other securities of the Company, whether any transaction described in clause (a) or (b) is to be settled by delivery of securities, in cash or otherwise, during the period beginning on the date of the filing of such registration statement with the Securities and Exchange Commission and ending 180 days after the date of the final prospectus relating to the offering (plus up to an additional 34 days to the extent requested by the managing underwriters for such offering in order to address Rule 2711(f) of the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc. or any similar successor provision), and (ii) to execute any agreement reflecting clause (i) above as may be requested by the Company or the managing underwriters at the time of such offering. The Company may impose stop-transfer instructions with respect to the shares of Common Stock or other securities subject to the foregoing restriction until the end of the “lock-up” period.

8. Miscellaneous.

   (a) Authority of Board. In making any decisions or taking any actions with respect to the matters covered by this Agreement, the Company’s Board of Directors (the “Board”) or any one or more of the committees or subcommittees of the Board to which the Board delegates its powers in accordance with the terms of the Plan shall have all of the authority and discretion, and shall be subject to all of the protections, provided for in the Plan. All decisions and actions by the Board or any one or more of its committees or subcommittees to which its powers have been delegated with respect to this Agreement shall be made in its discretion and shall be final and binding on the Recipient.

   (b) No Right to Continued Service. The Recipient acknowledges and agrees that, notwithstanding the fact that the vesting of the Restricted Stock Units is contingent upon his or her continued service with the Company, this Agreement does not constitute an express or implied promise of continued service or confer upon the Recipient any rights with respect to continued service by the Company.

   (c) Governing Law. This Agreement shall be construed, interpreted and enforced in accordance with the internal laws of the State of Delaware, without regard to any applicable conflicts of law provisions.

   (d) Recipient’s Acknowledgments. The Recipient acknowledges that he or she has read this Agreement, has received and read the Plan, and understands the terms and conditions of this Agreement and the Plan.
“Change in Control Event” shall mean the occurrence of one or more of the following events:

1. the acquisition by an individual, entity or group (within the meaning of Section 13(d)(3) or 14(d)(2) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the “Exchange Act”)) (a “Person”) of beneficial ownership of any capital stock of the Company if, after such acquisition, such Person beneficially owns (within the meaning of Rule 13d-3 under the Exchange Act) 50% or more of either (x) the then-outstanding shares of common stock of the Company (the “Outstanding Company Common Stock”) or (y) the combined voting power of the then-outstanding securities of the Company entitled to vote generally in the election of directors (the “Outstanding Company Voting Securities”); provided, however, that for purposes of this subsection (1), the following acquisitions shall not constitute a Change in Control Event: (I) any acquisition directly from the Company (excluding an acquisition pursuant to the exercise, conversion or exchange of any security exercisable for, convertible into or exchangeable for common stock or voting securities of the Company, unless the Person exercising, converting or exchanging such security acquired such security directly from the Company or an underwriter or agent of the Company) or (II) any acquisition by any corporation pursuant to a Business Combination (as defined below) which complies with clauses (x) and (y) of subsection (3) of this definition; or

2. a change in the composition of the Board that results in the Continuing Directors (as defined below) no longer constituting a majority of the Board (or, if applicable, the Board of Directors of a successor corporation to the Company), where the term “Continuing Director” means at any date a member of the Board (x) who was a member of the Board on the date of the initial adoption of the Plan by the Board or (y) who was nominated or elected subsequent to such date by at least a majority of the directors who were Continuing Directors at the time of such nomination or election or whose election to the Board was recommended or endorsed by at least a majority of the directors who were Continuing Directors at the time of such nomination or election; provided, however, that there shall be excluded from this clause (y) any individual whose initial assumption of office occurred as a result of an actual or threatened election contest with respect to the election or removal of directors or other actual or threatened solicitation of proxies or consents, by or on behalf of a person other than the Board; or

3. the consummation of a merger, consolidation, reorganization, recapitalization or share exchange involving the Company or a sale or other disposition of all or substantially all of the assets of the Company (a “Business Combination”), unless, immediately following such Business Combination, each of the following two conditions is satisfied: (x) all or substantially all of the individuals and entities who were the beneficial owners of the Outstanding Company Common Stock and Outstanding Company Voting Securities immediately prior to such Business Combination beneficially own, directly or indirectly, more than 50% of the then-outstanding shares of common stock and the combined voting power of the then-outstanding securities entitled to vote generally in the election of directors, respectively, of the resulting or acquiring corporation in such Business Combination (which shall include, without limitation, a corporation which as a result of such transaction owns the Company or substantially all of the Company’s assets either directly or through one or more subsidiaries) (such resulting or acquiring corporation is referred to herein as the “Acquiring Corporation”) in substantially the same proportions as their ownership of the Outstanding Company Common Stock and Outstanding Company Voting Securities, respectively, immediately prior to such Business Combination and (y) no Person (excluding any employee benefit plan (or related trust) maintained or sponsored by the Company or by the Acquiring Corporation) beneficially owns, directly or indirectly, 50% or more of the then-outstanding shares of common stock of the Acquiring Corporation, or of the combined voting power of the then-outstanding securities of such corporation entitled to vote generally in the election of directors (except to the extent that such ownership existed prior to the Business Combination); or

4. the liquidation or dissolution of the Company.

“Cause” shall have the meaning set forth in the employment agreement between the Recipient and the Company.

“Good Reason” shall have the meaning set forth in the employment agreement between the Recipient and the Company.

1. Grant of Option. This Agreement evidences the grant by the Company, on the grant date (the “Grant Date”) set forth in the Notice of Grant that forms part of this Agreement (the “Notice of Grant”), to the Participant of an option to purchase, in whole or in part, on the terms provided herein and in the Company’s 2013 Stock Incentive Plan (the “Plan”), the number of shares set forth in the Notice of Grant (the “Shares”) of common stock, $0.00001 par value per share, of the Company (“Common Stock”) at the exercise price per Share set forth in the Notice of Grant (the “Exercise Price”). Unless earlier terminated, this option shall expire at the time set forth in the Notice of Grant (the “Final Exercise Date”).

   It is intended that the option evidenced by this Agreement shall not be an incentive stock option as defined in Section 422 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, and any regulations promulgated thereunder (the “Code”). Except as otherwise indicated by the context, the term “Participant”, as used in this option, shall be deemed to include any person who acquires the right to exercise this option validly under its terms.

2. Vesting Schedule.

   This option will become exercisable (“vest”) in accordance with the Vesting Table set forth in the Notice of Grant.

   The right of exercise shall be cumulative so that to the extent the option is not exercised in any period to the maximum extent permissible it shall continue to be exercisable, in whole or in part, with respect to all Shares for which it is vested until the earlier of the Final Exercise Date or the termination of this option under Section 3 hereof or the Plan.

   Notwithstanding the foregoing, if within the one-year period following a Change in Control Event, the Participant’s employment with the Company is terminated by the Company without Cause or by the Participant for Good Reason, then the remaining unvested portion of the option shall become fully vested and exercisable as of the date of such termination. “Change In Control Event”, “Cause” and “Good Reason” are defined in Exhibit B.

3. Exercise of Option.

   (a) Form of Exercise. Each election to exercise this option shall be accompanied by a notice of exercise in the form designated by the Company or its designee, or by such other notification, including electronic notification, as may be permitted by the Company or its designee and in all cases accompanied by payment in full in the manner provided in the Plan, which for purposes of this Agreement shall include a “net exercise” pursuant to Section 5(f)(4) of the Plan. The Participant may purchase less than the number of Shares covered hereby, provided that no partial exercise of this option may be for any fractional share.
Continuous Relationship with the Company Required. Except as otherwise provided in this Section 3, this option may not be exercised unless the Participant, at the time he or she exercises this option, is, and has been at all times since the Grant Date, an employee of the Company or any other entity (a “Participating Entity”) the service providers of which are eligible to receive an award under the Plan (an “Eligible Participant”). If the Participant provides services to a Participating Entity, any references in this Agreement to service with the Company shall instead be deemed to refer to service with such Participating Entity.

Termination of Relationship with the Company. If the Participant ceases to be an Eligible Participant for any reason, then, except as provided in paragraphs (d), (e) and (f) below or expressly set forth in another agreement between the Participant and the Company, the right to exercise this option shall terminate one year after such cessation (but in no event after the Final Exercise Date), provided that this option shall be exercisable only to the extent that the Participant was entitled to exercise this option on the date of such cessation. Notwithstanding the foregoing, if the Participant, prior to the Final Exercise Date, violates the non-competition or confidentiality provisions of any employment contract, confidentiality and nondisclosure agreement or other agreement between the Participant and the Company, the right to exercise this option shall terminate immediately upon such violation.

Exercise Period Upon Disability. If the Participant ceases to be an Eligible Participant by reason of becoming disabled (within the meaning of Section 22(e)(3) of the Code) prior to the Final Exercise Date and the Company has not terminated such relationship for Cause, then, except as expressly set forth in another agreement between the Participant and the Company, this option shall be exercisable, within the period of three years following such cessation (but in no event after the Final Exercise Date), by the Participant, provided that this option shall be exercisable only to the extent that this option was exercisable by the Participant on the date of such cessation.

Exercise Period Upon Death. If the Participant ceases to be an Eligible Participant by reason of his or her death prior to the Final Exercise Date and the Company has not terminated such relationship for Cause, or the Participant dies within the ninety (90)-day period following cessation of service with the Company other than for Cause, then, except as expressly set forth in another agreement between the Participant and the Company, this option shall be exercisable, within the period of three years following the date of death of the Participant (but in no event after the Final Exercise Date), by the Participant’s authorized transferee, provided that this option shall be exercisable only to the extent that this option was exercisable by the Participant on the date of his or her death.

Termination for Cause. If, prior to the Final Exercise Date, the Participant’s service is terminated by the Company for Cause, then, except as expressly set forth in another agreement between the Participant and the Company, the right to exercise this option shall terminate immediately upon the effective date of such termination of service. The Participant’s service shall be considered to have been terminated for Cause if the Company determines, within 30 days after the Participant’s resignation, that termination for Cause was warranted.
4. Tax Matters. No Shares will be issued pursuant to the exercise of this option unless and until the Participant pays to the Company, or makes provision satisfactory to the Company for payment of, any federal, state or local withholding taxes required by law to be withheld in respect of this option.

5. Transfer Restrictions. This option may not be sold, assigned, transferred, pledged or otherwise encumbered by the Participant, either voluntarily or by operation of law, except by will or the laws of descent and distribution, and, during the lifetime of the Participant, this option shall be exercisable only by the Participant. The terms of this Agreement shall be binding upon the executors, administrators, heirs, successors and assigns of the Participant.

6. Agreement in Connection with Initial Public Offering. The Participant agrees, in connection with the initial underwritten public offering of the Common Stock pursuant to a registration statement under the Securities Act, (i) not to (a) offer, pledge, announce the intention to sell, sell, contract to sell, sell any option or contract to purchase, purchase any option or contract to sell, grant any option, right or warrant to purchase, or otherwise transfer or dispose of, directly or indirectly, any shares of Common Stock or any other securities of the Company or (b) enter into any swap or other agreement that transfers, in whole or in part, any of the economic consequences of ownership of shares of Common Stock or other securities of the Company, whether any transaction described in clause (a) or (b) is to be settled by delivery of securities, in cash or otherwise, during the period beginning on the date of the filing of such registration statement with the Securities and Exchange Commission and ending 180 days after the date of the final prospectus relating to the offering (plus up to an additional 34 days to the extent requested by the managing underwriters for such offering in order to address Rule 2711(f) of the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc. or any similar successor provision), and (ii) to execute any agreement reflecting clause (i) above as may be requested by the Company or the managing underwriters at the time of such offering. The Company may impose stop-transfer instructions with respect to the shares of Common Stock or other securities subject to the foregoing restriction until the end of the “lock-up” period.

7. Miscellaneous.

   (a) No Rights to Service. The Participant acknowledges and agrees that the grant of the this option and its vesting pursuant to Section 2 do not constitute an express or implied promise of continued service with the Company for the vesting period of the option, or for any period.

   (b) Entire Agreement. This Agreement and the Plan constitute the entire agreement between the parties, and supersede all prior agreements and understandings, relating to the subject matter of this Agreement; provided that any separate employment or severance agreement between the Company and the Participant that includes terms relating to the acceleration of vesting of equity awards shall not be superseded by this Agreement. In the event of a conflict between the terms and provisions of the Plan and the terms and provisions of this Agreement, the Plan terms and provisions shall prevail.
(c) Governing Law. This Agreement shall be construed, interpreted and enforced in accordance with the internal laws of the State of Delaware, without regard to any applicable conflict of law principles.
“Change in Control Event” shall mean the occurrence of one or more of the following events:

(1) the acquisition by an individual, entity or group (within the meaning of Section 13(d)(3) or 14(d)(2) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, and amended (the “Exchange Act”)) (a “Person”) of beneficial ownership of any capital stock of the Company if, after such acquisition, such Person beneficially owns (within the meaning of Rule 13d-3 under the Exchange Act) 50% or more of either (x) the then-outstanding shares of common stock of the Company (the “Outstanding Company Common Stock”) or (y) the combined voting power of the then-outstanding securities of the Company entitled to vote generally in the election of directors (the “Outstanding Company Voting Securities”); provided, however, that for purposes of this subsection (1), the following acquisitions shall not constitute a Change in Control Event: (I) any acquisition directly from the Company (excluding an acquisition pursuant to the exercise, conversion or exchange of any security exercisable for, convertible into or exchangeable for common stock or voting securities of the Company, unless the Person exercising, converting or exchanging such security acquired such security directly from the Company or an underwriter or agent of the Company) or (II) any acquisition by any corporation pursuant to a Business Combination (as defined below) which complies with clauses (x) and (y) of subsection (3) of this definition; or

(2) a change in the composition of the Board that results in the Continuing Directors (as defined below) no longer constituting a majority of the Board (or, if applicable, the Board of Directors of a successor corporation to the Company), where the term “Continuing Director” means at any date a member of the Board (x) who was a member of the Board on the date of the initial adoption of the Plan by the Board or (y) who was nominated or elected subsequent to such date by at least a majority of the directors who were Continuing Directors at the time of such nomination or election or whose election to the Board was recommended or endorsed by at least a majority of the directors who were Continuing Directors at the time of such nomination or election; provided, however, that there shall be excluded from this clause (y) any individual whose initial assumption of office occurred as a result of an actual or threatened election contest with respect to the election or removal of directors or other actual or threatened solicitation of proxies or consents, by or on behalf of a person other than the Board; or

(3) the consummation of a merger, consolidation, reorganization, recapitalization or share exchange involving the Company or a sale or other disposition of all or substantially all of the assets of the Company (a “Business Combination”), unless, immediately following such Business Combination, each of the following two conditions is satisfied: (x) all or substantially all of the individuals and entities who were the beneficial owners of the Outstanding Company Common Stock and Outstanding Company Voting Securities immediately prior to such Business Combination beneficially own, directly or indirectly, more than 50% of the then-outstanding shares of common stock and the combined voting power of the then-outstanding securities entitled to vote generally in the election of directors, respectively, of the resulting or acquiring corporation in such Business Combination (which shall include, without limitation, a corporation which as a result of such transaction owns the Company or substantially all of the Company’s assets either directly or through one or more subsidiaries) (such resulting or acquiring corporation is referred to herein as the “Acquiring Corporation”) in substantially the same proportions as their ownership of the Outstanding Company Common Stock and Outstanding Company Voting Securities, respectively, immediately prior to such Business Combination and (y) no Person (excluding any employee benefit plan (or related trust) maintained or sponsored by the Company or by the Acquiring Corporation) beneficially owns, directly or indirectly, 50% or more of the then-outstanding shares of common stock of the Acquiring Corporation, or of the combined voting power of the then-outstanding securities of such corporation entitled to vote generally in the election of directors (except to the extent that such ownership existed prior to the Business Combination); or

(4) the liquidation or dissolution of the Company.

“Cause” shall have the meaning set forth in the employment agreement between the Participant and the Company.

“Good Reason” shall have the meaning set forth in the employment agreement between the Participant and the Company.

Title:
Restricted Stock Unit Agreement
2013 Stock Incentive Plan

GENERAL TERMS AND CONDITIONS

The terms and conditions of the award of the right to receive shares of common stock, $0.0001 par value per share, of the Company (the “Common Stock”) made to the Recipient (the “Restricted Stock Units”), as set forth on the cover page of this Agreement, and subject to the terms and conditions set forth in the 2013 Stock Incentive Plan (the “Plan”), are as follows:

1. Issuance of Restricted Stock Units.

   (a) The Restricted Stock Units are granted to the Recipient, effective as of the Agreement Date (as set forth on the Notice of Grant), in consideration of employment and other services rendered and to be rendered by the Recipient to the Company. Each Restricted Stock Unit represents the right to receive one share of Common Stock, subject to the terms and conditions set forth in the cover page of this Agreement, these terms and conditions and the Plan.

   (b) The Recipient agrees that the Restricted Stock Units shall be subject to the forfeiture provisions set forth in Section 3 of this Agreement and the restrictions on transfer set forth in Section 4 of this Agreement.

2. Vesting Schedule; Delivery. The Restricted Stock Units shall vest in accordance with Vesting Table set forth in the Notice of Grant (the “Vesting Table”). Any fractional number of Restricted Stock Units resulting from the application of the percentages in the Vesting Table shall be rounded down to the nearest whole number of Restricted Stock Units.

   Notwithstanding the foregoing, if within the one-year period following a Change in Control Event, the Recipient’s employment with the Company is terminated by the Company without Cause or by the Recipient for Good Reason, then all remaining unvested Restricted Stock Units shall become fully vested and free from all forfeiture restrictions as of the date of such termination. “Change In Control Event”, “Cause” and “Good Reason” are defined in Exhibit B.

   The Common Stock represented by vested Restricted Stock Units shall be delivered to the Recipient upon the earliest to occur of: (i) 30 days following the fourth anniversary of the Agreement Date; (ii) 30 days following the death of the Recipient; (iii) 30 days following the Recipient becoming disabled within the meaning of Section 409A of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended and the guidance issued thereunder (“Section 409A”); (iv) upon the closing of a “change in control event” within the meaning of Section 409A and (v) three days following the Recipient’s “separation from service” within the meaning of Section 409A; provided that, solely to the extent that the Common Stock is delivered to the Recipient upon the Recipient’s separation from service, the shares of Common Stock shall not be delivered until the date that is six months plus one day following such separation from service to the extent required to avoid adverse taxation under Section 409A. Except as set forth in the preceding sentence, neither the Company nor the Recipient may accelerate or defer delivery of the Common Stock unless specifically permitted or required by Section 409A. When delivered, the Common Stock will initially be issued by the Company in book entry form only, in the name of the Recipient. Following such delivery, the Company shall, if requested by the Recipient, issue and deliver to the Recipient a certificate representing the vested Common Stock.

3. Forfeiture of Unvested Restricted Stock Units Upon Service Termination.

In the event that the Recipient ceases to be an employee of the Company or such other entity the service providers of which are eligible to receive an award under the Plan (each such entity, a “Participating Entity”) for any reason or no reason, with or without cause, all of the Restricted Stock Units that are unvested as of the time of such service termination shall be forfeited immediately and automatically to the Company, without the payment of any consideration to the Recipient, effective as of such termination of service. The Recipient shall have no further rights with respect to any Restricted Stock Units that are so forfeited. If the Recipient is providing service to a Participating Entity, any references in this Agreement to service with the Company shall instead be deemed to refer to service with such Participating Entity.

4. Restrictions on Transfer. The Recipient shall not sell, assign, transfer, pledge, hypothecate or otherwise encumber, by operation of law or otherwise (collectively “transfer”) any Restricted Stock Units, or any interest therein, until such Restricted Stock Units have vested and the Common Stock represented by such Units has been delivered pursuant to Section 2 hereof.

5. Rights as a Shareholder.

The Recipient shall have no rights as a shareholder with respect to the Restricted Stock Units until the Common Stock represented by such Units is delivered to the Recipient, except that to the extent that any dividends are paid with respect to the Common Stock represented by such Restricted Stock Units, whether vested or unvested, prior to delivery of the Common Stock pursuant to Section 2 hereof, such dividends shall accrue for the benefit of the Recipient and shall be paid to the Recipient at the time that the Common Stock is delivered to the Recipient pursuant to Section 2 hereof.

(a) Acknowledgments; No Section 83(b) Election. The Recipient acknowledges that he or she is responsible for obtaining the advice of the Recipient’s own tax advisors with respect to the grant of the Restricted Stock Units and the Recipient is relying solely on such advisors and not on any statements or representations of the Company or any of its agents with respect to the tax consequences relating to the Restricted Stock Units. The Recipient understands that the Recipient (and not the Company) shall be responsible for the Recipient’s tax liability that may arise in connection with the acquisition, vesting and/or disposition of the Restricted Stock Units and the Common Stock represented thereby. The Recipient understands that no election under Section 83(b) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 (the “Code”) is available with respect to the Restricted Stock Units.
(b) Withholding. The Recipient acknowledges and agrees that the Company has the right to deduct from payments of any kind otherwise due to the Recipient the amount of any withholding taxes required to be withheld with respect to the actions contemplated by this Agreement in any manner permitted by the Plan. The Recipient agrees and acknowledges that the following automatic sale provisions shall apply:

(i) Upon the delivery of the Common Stock pursuant to Section 2 hereof, the Company shall sell, or arrange for the sale of, such number of the shares as is sufficient to generate net proceeds sufficient to satisfy the Company’s minimum statutory withholding obligations with respect to the income recognized by the Recipient upon the delivery of the Common Stock (based on minimum statutory withholding rates for federal and state tax purposes, including payroll taxes, that are applicable to such income), and the Company shall retain such net proceeds in satisfaction of such tax withholding obligations.

(ii) The Recipient hereby appoints the Chief Legal Officer and the Secretary of the Company, and each of them acting singly, his or her attorney in fact, to sell the Recipient’s shares in accordance with this Section 6. The Recipient agrees to execute and deliver such documents, instruments and certificates as may reasonably be required in connection with the sale of the shares pursuant to this Section 6.

(iii) The Recipient represents to the Company that, as of the date hereof, he or she is not aware of any material nonpublic information about the Company or the Common Stock. The Recipient and the Company have structured this Agreement to constitute a “binding contract” relating to the sale of Common Stock pursuant to this Section 6, consistent with the affirmative defense to liability under Section 10(b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 under Rule 10b5-1(c) promulgated under such Act.

7. Agreement in Connection with Initial Public Offering. The Recipient agrees, in connection with the initial underwritten public offering of the Common Stock pursuant to a registration statement under the Securities Act, (i) not to (a) offer, pledge, announce the intention to sell, sell, contract to sell, sell any option or contract to purchase, purchase any option or contract to sell, grant any option, right or warrant to purchase, or otherwise transfer or dispose of, directly or indirectly, any shares of Common Stock or any other securities of the Company convertible into or exercisable or exchangeable for shares of Common Stock or (b) enter into any swap or other agreement that transfers, in whole or in part, any of the economic consequences of ownership of shares of Common Stock or other securities of the Company, whether any transaction described in clause (a) or (b) is to be settled by delivery of securities, in cash or otherwise, during the period beginning on the date of the filing of such registration statement with the Securities and Exchange Commission and ending 180 days after the date of the final prospectus relating to the offering (plus up to an additional 34 days to the extent requested by the managing underwriters for such offering in order to address Rule 2711(f) of the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc. or any similar successor provision), and (ii) to execute any agreement reflecting clause (i) above as may be requested by the Company or the managing underwriters at the time of such offering. The Company may impose stop-transfer instructions with respect to the shares of Common Stock or other securities subject to the foregoing restriction until the end of the “lock-up” period.
8. Miscellaneous.

(a) Authority of Board. In making any decisions or taking any actions with respect to the matters covered by this Agreement, the Company’s Board of Directors (the “Board”) or any one or more of the committees or subcommittees of the Board to which the Board delegates its powers in accordance with the terms of the Plan shall have all of the authority and discretion, and shall be subject to all of the protections, provided for in the Plan. All decisions and actions by the Board or any one or more of its committees or subcommittees to which its powers have been delegated with respect to this Agreement shall be made in its discretion and shall be final and binding on the Recipient.

(b) No Right to Continued Service. The Recipient acknowledges and agrees that, notwithstanding the fact that the vesting of the Restricted Stock Units is contingent upon his or her continued service with the Company, this Agreement does not constitute an express or implied promise of continued service or confer upon the Recipient any rights with respect to continued service by the Company.

(c) Governing Law. This Agreement shall be construed, interpreted and enforced in accordance with the internal laws of the State of Delaware, without regard to any applicable conflicts of law provisions.

(d) Recipient’s Acknowledgments. The Recipient acknowledges that he or she has read this Agreement, has received and read the Plan, and understands the terms and conditions of this Agreement and the Plan.
“Change in Control Event” shall mean the occurrence of one or more of the following events:

1. the acquisition by an individual, entity or group (within the meaning of Section 13(d)(3) or 14(d)(2) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the “Exchange Act”)) (a “Person”) of beneficial ownership of any capital stock of the Company if, after such acquisition, such Person beneficially owns (within the meaning of Rule 13d-3 under the Exchange Act) 50% or more of either (x) the then-outstanding shares of common stock of the Company (the “Outstanding Company Common Stock”) or (y) the combined voting power of the then-outstanding securities of the Company entitled to vote generally in the election of directors (the “Outstanding Company Voting Securities”); provided, however, that for purposes of this subsection (1), the following acquisitions shall not constitute a Change in Control Event: (I) any acquisition directly from the Company (excluding an acquisition pursuant to the exercise, conversion or exchange of any security exercisable for, convertible into or exchangeable for common stock or voting securities of the Company, unless the Person exercising, converting or exchanging such security acquired such security directly from the Company or an underwriter or agent of the Company) or (II) any acquisition by any corporation pursuant to a Business Combination (as defined below) which complies with clauses (x) and (y) of subsection (3) of this definition; or

2. a change in the composition of the Board that results in the Continuing Directors (as defined below) no longer constituting a majority of the Board (or, if applicable, the Board of Directors of a successor corporation to the Company), where the term “Continuing Director” means at any date a member of the Board (x) who was a member of the Board on the date of the initial adoption of the Plan by the Board or (y) who was nominated or elected subsequent to such date by at least a majority of the directors who were Continuing Directors at the time of such nomination or election, unless the Board was recommended or endorsed by at least a majority of the directors who were Continuing Directors at the time of such nomination or election; provided, however, that there shall be excluded from this clause (y) any individual whose initial assumption of office occurred as a result of an actual or threatened election contest with respect to the election or removal of directors or other actual or threatened solicitation of proxies or consents, by or on behalf of a Person other than the Board; or

3. the consummation of a merger, consolidation, reorganization, recapitalization or share exchange involving the Company or a sale or other disposition of all or substantially all of the assets of the Company (a “Business Combination”), unless, immediately following such Business Combination, each of the following two conditions is satisfied: (x) all or substantially all of the individuals and entities who were the beneficial owners of the Outstanding Company Common Stock and Outstanding Company Voting Securities immediately prior to such Business Combination beneficially own, directly or indirectly, more than 50% of the then-outstanding shares of common stock and the combined voting power of the then-outstanding securities entitled to vote generally in the election of directors, respectively, of the resulting or acquiring corporation in such Business Combination (which shall include, without limitation, a corporation which as a result of such transaction owns the Company or substantially all of the Company’s assets either directly or through one or more subsidiaries) (such resulting or acquiring corporation is referred to herein as the “Acquiring Corporation”) in substantially the same proportions as their ownership of the Outstanding Company Common Stock and Outstanding Company Voting Securities, respectively, immediately prior to such Business Combination and (y) no Person (excluding any employee benefit plan (or related trust) maintained or sponsored by the Company or by the Acquiring Corporation) beneficially owns, directly or indirectly, 50% or more of the then-outstanding shares of common stock of the Acquiring Corporation, or of the combined voting power of the then-outstanding securities of such corporation entitled to vote generally in the election of directors (except to the extent that such ownership existed prior to the Business Combination); or

4. the liquidation or dissolution of the Company.

“Cause” shall have the meaning set forth in the employment agreement between the Recipient and the Company.

“Good Reason” shall have the meaning set forth in the employment agreement between the Recipient and the Company.
RELEASE AGREEMENT

This Release Agreement ("Release") is hereby made between Hari Ravichandran ("Executive") and Endurance International Group Holdings, Inc., a Delaware corporation (the "Company"),

I. RECITALS

WHEREAS, Executive and the Company have entered into an Employment Agreement dated [•], 2013 (the "Employment Agreement"), pursuant to which Executive is eligible to receive severance and certain benefits (the "Severance Benefits") in the event of certain specified terminations of employment, subject to and conditioned upon his execution of a general release.

WHEREAS, Executive and the Company desire to enter into this Release, in satisfaction of such condition under the Employment Agreement.

II. TERMS AND CONDITIONS

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the mutual covenants and other good and valuable consideration contained herein, the parties hereby agree as follows:

1. Separation. Executive’s employment with the Company and all of its subsidiaries and Affiliates ended effective __________, __________. The Company and Executive agree that such separation is [without Cause] [for Good Reason] (as defined in the Employment Agreement), resulting in Executive’s rights to receive the Severance Benefits subject to his execution of this Release, as provided under the Employment Agreement.

2. General Release and Covenant Not to Sue. In consideration for the Severance Benefits and other good and valuable consideration, Executive for himself, his assigns, agents, heirs, executors, administrators, personal representatives and legal representatives (the "Releasing Parties") fully and unconditionally waives, releases and forever discharges any and all liability, claims, demands, actions or causes of action, in law or in equity, suits, debts, liens, contracts, agreements, promises, liability, claims, demands, damages, loss, cost or expense of any kind or character (collectively, "Claims") relating to Executive’s employment with the Company and its subsidiaries and/or the termination of such employment, whether known or unknown, suspected or unsuspected action of any kind or nature whatsoever they have or may have against the Company and/or its parent, subsidiaries, affiliates, and related entities, and all of their predecessors, successors, assigns, trustees, officers, directors, shareholders, partners, insurers, fiduciaries, agents, counsel and current and former employees (the "Released Parties") from the beginning of time through and including the date Executive signs this Agreement, including without limitation, any Claims arising out of, or relating to Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964; the Civil Rights Act of 1866; the Equal Pay Act; the Americans with Disabilities Act; the Age Discrimination in Employment Act of 1967 as amended by the Older Workers Benefit Protection Act ("ADEA"); the Fair Labor Standards Act; the Employee Retirement Income Security Act; the Family Medical Leave Act; and the Massachusetts Fair Employment Rights Act; but not including any Claim (a) to enforce the terms of this Release or the Employment Agreement, (b) to bring to the attention of the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission or the Massachusetts Commission Against Discrimination claims of discrimination; provided, however, that Executive does release his or her right to secure any damages for alleged discriminatory treatment, (c) any claims relating to accrued benefits earned and vested as of the Termination Date (as defined in the Employment Agreement) under an employee benefit plan maintained by any Released Party, whether or not governed by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act, including any claim to continued health coverage under COBRA, (d) to receive the Accrued Amounts (as defined in the Employment Agreement), (e) for any Releasing Party’s rights to indemnification under the Company’s by-laws or certificate of incorporation or under any agreement or policy of insurance carried by any Released Party or existing under applicable law, (f) rights as a shareholder under a stockholders agreement, statutory law or otherwise, or (g) that cannot be released as a matter of law. In addition, this Release is not intended to interfere with Executive’s right to challenge that his waiver of any and all ADEA claims pursuant to this Release is a knowing and voluntary waiver, although Executive, by signing below, specifically represents to the Company that he has entered into this Release knowingly and voluntarily.

3. Covenant Not to Sue. Additionally, Executive agrees not sue, commence, assert, bring or file in any court or other tribunal, in any jurisdiction, any suit, action, litigation, complaint, cross-complaint, counterclaim, third-party complaint, petition or other pleading or proceeding, or otherwise seek affirmative relief against any Released Party on account of any Claim released pursuant to Section 2 hereof.

4. Voluntary Agreement. Executive understands and acknowledges the significance and consequences of this Release, that it is voluntary, that it has not been given as a result of any coercion, and expressly confirms that it is to be given full force and effect according to all of its terms, including those relating to unknown Claims. Executive was hereby advised of Executive’s right to seek the advice of an attorney prior to signing this Release. Executive and Company each acknowledge that they have signed this Release only after full reflection and analysis, that they understand it and are entering into it voluntarily.

5. Period for Consideration of Agreement and Other Matters. Executive acknowledges that, before signing this Release, Executive was given a period of at least [twenty-one (21)] days to consider this Release. Executive also understands that he has the right to change his mind and cancel this Release by providing written notice to the Company no later than seven (7) days following the date that Executive has signed it. This Release will not be effective until the end of this seven (7) day period. Executive acknowledges that Executive was advised to consult with legal counsel prior to executing a copy of this Release. [Executive acknowledges that Executive was provided with a list of the ages and job descriptions of the individuals who are eligible to receive similar Severance Benefits conditioned upon the signing of a similar agreement.]^{1}

6. Non-Admission. Executive and the Company agree that this Agreement does not constitute and shall not be construed, interpreted, or treated in any respect as an admission of any liability or wrongdoing by Executive or the Release Parties. Executive and the Company further agree that this Release shall not be admissible in any proceeding without Executive’s and the Company’s written consent, except for a proceeding instituted by Executive or the Company challenging the validity of this Release, a proceeding by Executive or the Company alleging a breach of this Release or the Employment Agreement, any proceeding in which a defense is asserted based on any provisions of this Release, or as otherwise required by law.

7. Choice of Law, Interpretation and Severability. Executive and the Company agree that this Agreement shall be governed by Massachusetts law. Executive and the Company agree that this Agreement shall not be construed against any party on account of authorship and, if a court finds any part of this Agreement to be illegal or invalid, the illegal or invalid portion of the Agreement shall be severed and the rest of the Agreement will be enforceable. Moreover, if any one or more of the provisions contained in this Agreement is held to be excessively broad as to duration, scope, activity or subject, such provisions will be construed by limiting and reducing them so as to be enforceable to the maximum extent compatible with applicable law.

8. Execution. This Agreement may be executed in two or more facsimiled counterparts, each of which shall be equivalent to an original, but which collectively shall constitute one Agreement.

9. Entire Agreement. Except as otherwise set forth herein, the terms contained in this Agreement constitute the entire agreement between the parties with respect to the subject matter hereof and supersede all prior agreements relating thereto whether written or oral.
